Miss Betty Wright of This City Becomes Bride of Don McMaster at Ocean Falls

Miss Elizabeth Adrienne (Betty) Wright, formerly of Prince Rupert, and Henry Dalton (Don) McMaster of Ocean Falls were united in marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wright, Ocean Falls, on Friday, April 15, at 7.30 p.m.

The bride, who was given in marriage by W. H. Wright, looked charming in a fine egg shell silk lace gown, with bitter chocolate jacquette and Egyptian sandals to match jacquette. She was attended by Miss Nan McKenzie, who looked lovely in shell pink crepe back satin. The groom was supported by J. Warrender of Ocean Falls.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Ace Club rooms where the guests were received by Mrs. George Guinley who wore a becoming gown of black lace, and Mrs. Mat McClymont, who looked attractive in a canary yellow satin gown. The bride and groom received congratulations from their friends under an arch of daffodils and ferns. They were played in by a ten-piece orchestra.

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. McMaster will prove of particular interest to many friends of the contracting couple in Prince Rupert, both having formerly resided here. Some twenty years ago Mr. McMaster was associated with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in this city while the home of the bride has been here for many years, she having recently been a member of the staff of the Shirley Shoppe here. They will have the hearty congratulations and best wishes of many friends here.

This Bottle Keeps Baby's Milk Right

PARIS, April 23.—French mothers usually scorn to feed their babies with bottles. But a Frenchman, M. Chavepayre, has invented a feeding bottle which will keep the milk at exactly the right temperature—even if the mother falls asleep after switching on the current. The bottle consists of a tube of pure flint which is introduced into the bottle. The electrical current which heats the milk may be left on for any length of time, but the temperature of the milk will never rise above 100 degrees Fahrenheit—or slightly above blood-heat.

Conditions Are Excellent For Settlement in Central B.C., is Statement of C. N. R. Official

No Better Mixed Farming Country in Canada Than Bulkley and Nechaco Valleys Says Harry Bowman, Who Talks of District and Its Needs

"There is plenty of room in the central interior of British Columbia. There are plenty of good lands which can be developed into wonderful farms and the climate is excellent." Those were the words of Harry Bowman, special representative of the Canadian National Railways for colonization and agriculture, who makes his headquarters at Prince George. He spent several days in the city this week returning yesterday afternoon.

There is no better country for mixed farming in Canada than the Bulkley and Nechaco valleys, according to Mr. Bowman. Winter feeding of stock gives the farmers control of market conditions in that they can send the cattle out at a time when they are needed. Already this is being tried and the results are excellent. Stabling conditions are easy, much easier than in a wet or damp climate. A car load of calves were winter fed by W. H. R. Lowe of Telkwa and these it is expected will be shipped to Prince Rupert soon. They are in splendid condition.

During the past season, Mr. Bowman said, they had shipped in 370 breeding heifers of good grade quality, all of which had been paid for in cash, the railways assisting in giving reduced freight rates. Some of these have been beef cattle and others dual purpose short-horns. The latter are found to be very useful in Central British Columbia.

In addition to the heifers, the Dominion Government has supplied 30 true bred bulls, which have been loaned to the people, and these will have a permanent effect on the class of stock raised in the district during the next few years.

During past years the farmers of the interior have found a market for their hay and grain at the various mills and logging camps but now they have to provide some way of using their feed and they are turning to cattle feeding to provide a means to that end. Mr. Bowman thinks the only way to farm successfully is for farmers to finish their stock and thus use their own hay and grain and at the same time improve their farms. The depression is giving an impetus to this class of farming.

Aim of Government
Mr. Bowman says the aim of the provincial government department of agriculture just now is to assist the farmers to produce the varieties and qualities that people demand. It is useless for farmers to raise either stock or other produce that is not marketable. They must cater to the market. He emphasized this very particularly as being of utmost importance. Fruit growers must produce the fruit that people will buy and so stock raisers must produce the stock that people will pay their best money for. Bacon hogs are in demand and, having this in view, bacon hogs must be bred if the breeders are to succeed.

Already this year five carloads of settlers have arrived in the interior and indications are that a great many more will follow. People are looking to Central British Columbia as a location for permanent settlement, particularly just now to the neighborhood of Prince George, Vanderhoof and the Lake country south of Burns Lake.

Family Narrowly Escape Capture in Chinese War Zone

MONTREAL, April 23.—In a letter to his cousin in this city, C. M. Wong, head of the Shanghai Motor Bus Company, tells of a narrow escape from capture, if not worse, experienced by himself and family during the fighting between Japanese and Chinese troops in Shanghai. For three days they dared not leave their home situated not far from the North Station in a district caught between the opposing forces. Their supply of food gave out and several houses nearby were razed. Finally in a desperate effort to escape Mr. Wong and his wife disguised themselves as porter and maid and guided their three little girls to safety.

Mr. Wong has now to start anew as the headquarters of the motor bus business were destroyed as well as most of the buses. They at least have a home for, although it was searched a short time after the family vacated it, everything was left intact. Mr. Wong is a former Montrealer and is well-known in the Chinese colony here.

Seiji Yoshihara, young Japanese aviator, who made an unsuccessful attempt last summer to fly eastward from Tokyo to San Francisco via the Kuriles, Siberia, Aleutian Island, Alaska and the British Columbia coast, is to essay the same flight but in the reverse direction this year, according to word received in Prince Rupert from the Hochi Shimbun, Tokyo newspaper, under the auspices of which Mr. Yoshihara will make the flight. Yoshihara is expected to leave San Francisco in June and he is scheduled to make a stop at Prince Rupert in the course of his flight to Tokyo.

POPE PIUS CONFESSES

Simple Jesuit Priest Hears Innermost Thoughts of Pontiff Every Friday

VATICAN CITY, April 23.—Pope Pius tells his innermost thoughts every Friday evening to a simple Jesuit priest, Father Celebrano, his private confessor. Whatever faults of thought, word, deed or omission he may have committed he confesses humbly. He makes the acts of contrition whereby he expresses sorrow for his offenses. He recites the firm purpose of amendment, whereby he promises to strive not to commit the same sins again.

Then the absolute monarch of the Catholic Church receives absolution from a member of the rank and file of the hierarchy.

Although the Pope's own commands are supreme to the prelates and priests under him, he is obliged to fulfill the penance imposed on him by his confessor. This usually consists of a number of prayers to be said.

Each Friday night the Pontiff sends one of his automobiles to the Del Gesu Church for Father Celebrano. The automobile brings the confessor to the Vatican. He walks up two flights of stairs to the Pope's private apartments. After an introductory greeting he sits on one side of a table, the Pope on the other. The Pontiff makes the sign of the cross, leans his head in his hands and the confession begins.

As private confessor Father Celebrano is considered, by tradition, a member of the Pope's family. During important ceremonies he sits in one of the seats reserved for the Pope's relatives.

Censorship Blamed For Alleged Lack of Art in Talkies

MONTREAL, April 23.—"Silly censorship" and an absence of free and full criticism were blamed for an alleged lack of art in talkies by Professor Felix Graffe, Sorbonne lecturer and exchange professor of French drama at Columbia University, who was in Montreal recently. It was this censorship that was largely responsible for the difference in the dramatic expression of France and England he believed. French plays of the post-war epoch striving to present the truth, often dealt with subjects which British censorship completely banned, he said. The stupid part of the censorship was that it branded as salacious the presentation of social and psychological problems which in actuality would not at all be enjoyed by people with dirty minds and hence, in his opinion, it stunted the development of drama.

VISITORS TO CONFERENCE

Premier Bennett is arranging that visitors to the Empire Economic Conference in Ottawa shall make a tour of the country, traversing it from east to west and return. In view of the particular interest taken by all visitors in the voyage by the inside passage and of the rather unique position of Prince Rupert, it cannot be said that anyone has really seen Canada unless they have made the trip from Vancouver to Prince Rupert or vice versa. Prince Rupert has already officially invited the visitors and it is very greatly to be desired that they visit the city and look over the port facilities.

INVESTIGATE LOAD LINE

When Vancouver wished a change in the application of the load line to that port, there was little difficulty in securing official action with a view to extending the scope of the convention. When just as reasonable a request was sent from Prince Rupert, no action was taken. That is what comes of being a small town backed by a sparsely settled country. When Prince Rupert attains the dignity of a large city she will be in a position to command attention.

PRINCE RUPERT MARKET

Residents of the interior are much interested in the progress of Prince Rupert because they recognize it as their natural market. If Prince Rupert people have money with which to buy, the farmers of the interior will have a place to sell. Given a freight rate sufficiently low to enable them to do business and given at the same time shippers who will prepare their product for market and who will guarantee its quality all the way through, both the Prince Rupert consumers and the interior producers will benefit.

There is still a good deal of education to be done before the farmers and fruit growers realize that they must give good value for the money they receive. We are told that fruit is often badly packed, that the large berries are placed at the top of the box and that culls are to be found beneath. We are told that potatoes are irregular in size and quality and that customers are often disappointed. We know that in the past the meat sent from the interior has often been of inferior quality and badly killed.

On the other hand complaint is made by the farmers that Prince Rupert merchants have not treated them well. They have felt that they were cheated.

And yet we know that conditions are much better today than ever they have been in the past. The farmers are learning and the local merchants have in many cases stretched a point or two to try to help the farmers. The only way to get rid of the feeling of distrust is for each to do his part well and to look to the future as well as to the present.

Last year at the meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia there was a good deal of talk about the Prince Rupert market and it is to be hoped that every possible encouragement will be given to its development.

BIRDS ARE NESTING

Birds have been passing north for some time now and a few of them drop off in Prince Rupert. Mostly, however, they make their nesting grounds farther north than this.

A few robins nest in Prince Rupert and at interior points. They seem to have taken to this since the formation of the northern settlements. These birds like to be around the settlements apparently because they find it easier to get food there. Some find greater protection in the gardens than farther afield for people generally protect the birds. They like to have the robins around.

Of the other birds that nest in and around Prince Rupert, there are a few song sparrows of the darker hue and white crown sparrows that make their maternal homes in the low bushes. Not many raise their young here, just a few.

Along the streams may be found an occasional dipper or water ousel and now and then a western winter wren's nest but that is about all of the smaller birds. As the country develops the number of birds will undoubtedly increase.

ELKS' DANCE ENJOYABLE

Acceptable Novelty Program Was Feature of Proceedings Last Night

There were about sixty couples present at a delightful novelty dance which was held by the Elks' Lodge in the Elks' Home last night. Dancing commenced at 9:30 p.m. and concluded at 2 a.m., the feature of the proceedings being the presentation of a splendid program of novelty turns which proved very acceptable to all. These novelties, all vying with each other for popularity with the crowd, included song numbers by the Harmony Boys (George Mitchell, Sam Joy, Joe Scott and Alex Mitchell); tap dancing by Miss Pebbles Stone; popular songs by Miss Helen Smith of Vancouver, and song and dance numbers by Sam Joy and Joe Scott. Excellent music for dancing was dispensed by Charlie Balagno and his orchestra. At midnight delicious refreshments were served.

William Stone was master of ceremonies and James Farquhar presided at the door. The committee in charge consisted of Mike Budnich, chairman, Alvin Johnson, William Stone, Alex Mitchell and David Milne.

The Elks are now making preparations for their annual balloon dance, the date of which has not as yet been set.

Man in the Moon

It is reported that the mayor of Seal Cove is preparing for a big influx of people as soon as the first sod is turned for the new sulphite mill.

The Seal Cove council is said to be considering the possibility of imposing a bachelor tax in order to prevent all the big jobs being taken by men without wives and families and thus cheat that section of its just rights.

The Seal Cove council also has under consideration the suggestion to advertise as a health resort, the patients to take the air instead of sulphur baths.

WHAT HAS BRAN TO DO WITH BEAUTY?

THE natural beauty of sparkling eyes, a smooth, lovely skin, and an enthusiastic personality come from a healthy body. The first rule of health is regular elimination. Otherwise, constipation develops. Headaches, poor appetite, loss of energy, sallow skins are usual consequences. Beauty and health may be seriously impaired. Here's where bran is so important. It supplies two things needed to prevent ordinary constipation. Vitamin B, to tone the intestines. "Bulk," which gives them exercise. Both promote regular habits.

A safe, pleasant way to get your daily bran is with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Two tablespoonfuls daily of this delicious ready-to-eat cereal will usually prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. If you suffer from intestinal trouble not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

ALL-BRAN supplies iron for the blood. Enjoy Kellogg's ALL-BRAN either as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the package. How much better this is than taking pills and drugs. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

I tried another black dye and the results were impossible. I had to get Diamond Dyes and do the work over. Recently I have tinted my curtains a beautiful raspberry shade and dyed a rug a lovely garnet with Diamond Dyes. They are real money savers—the finest dyes money can buy—I truly believe."

"FATIGUE?"

I just postpone it!"

"No, I don't have 'nerves.' You can't have them, and hold this sort of position. My head used to throb around three o'clock, and certain days, of course, were worse than others."

"Then I learned to rely on Aspirin."

The sure cure for any headache is rest. But sometimes we must postpone it. That's when Aspirin saves the day. Two tablets, and the nagging pain is gone until you are home. And once you are comfortable the pain seldom returns!

Keep Aspirin handy. Don't put it away, or put off taking it. Fighting a headache to finish the day may be heroic, but it is also a little foolish. So is sacrificing a night's sleep because you've an annoying cold, or irritated throat, or grumbling tooth, neuralgia, neuritis. These tablets always relieve. They don't depress the heart, and may be taken freely. That is medical opinion. It is a fact established by the last twenty years of medical practice.

The only caution to be observed is when you are buying Aspirin. Don't take a substitute because it will not act the same. Aspirin is made in Canada.

NEWCASTLE CUP WINNER

LONDON, April 23.—Newcastle United won the English Football Association Cup final today by defeating Arsenal by a score of 2 to 1 before an immense crowd of spectators at Wembley Stadium.

It was a rough and tumble encounter, characteristic of cup soccer with the players on edge and tempers flaring up occasionally.

Arsenal scored first through John Newcastle equalized through Allen who added the winning goal near the end of the game.

MEETING OF TRACK CLUB

Spartan Athletic Club Gets Organization For Season Under Way

At a well attended and enthusiastic meeting in the City Hall last night, the Spartan Athletic Club got away to a good start for the coming track season. Officers elected were:

President—J. W. Plommer. Vice-president—P. H. Edgecombe. Secretary-treasurer—C. Bartlett.

After lengthy discussion, it was decided that new members may join the club by paying the ordinary membership fee of fifty cents but they will not be entitled to wear the club's crest until they have equalled or surpassed any one of the standard marks set last year by the executive.

The first meet which will include time trials for the winning of crests will be held on Thursday, May 14 from 4 to 6 p.m. The fact that several of the members are working Saturday evenings, with football and baseball taking up every other evening, works a hardship on the club in the way of holding meets, the only way out of the difficulty being to hold them immediately prior to the games—an awkward time for everyone concerned, but a condition that cannot be helped.

Relay Race Discussed

The possibilities of getting one of the local newspapers or business firms to sponsor an annual two or three mile relay race through the city, as is done in the south, was discussed and left in the hands of the executive. Also it was decided to see if someone could be approached with a view to obtaining a small trophy to be won by the highest aggregate point winner at the end of the season. The club itself will purchase and award medals.

The possibility of taking a relay team and any other members who might wish to go to Port Simpson to compete in the sports on May 24 was discussed and the secretary instructed to communicate with the Port Simpson Y. P. E. A.

All things considered, the members feel that, with a year's experience behind it, the club is in for a bigger and better season than ever and will prove a worthy addition to sporting activities in the city.

SPORT NOTES

Summer sport activities will get under way in Prince Rupert tomorrow afternoon when the newly formed Prince Rupert Intermediate Baseball League opens its season's play with Young Empress and Young Elks opposing each other. It is many years since an intermediate baseball league has been operated in the city and it looks well for the sport to see the boys taking an active interest in the game once more. There is no doubt but that the younger players have to be developed to insure senior competition and we hope to see a good turnout of fans to encourage the lads in their opening game.

With only one field in the city suitable for baseball and football games, it is becoming rather difficult for all leagues to get a share of evenings to play their games. Last year senior baseball and football took up Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, while junior soccer was played on Wednesday evenings. That only left Saturday evening open, which is a very poor night for any sport and will be unless the proposed early closing law goes into effect. It is difficult for intermediate baseball to get in more than one game a week until after the end of June when Wednesday night is again left open with junior football finished.

Another of England's cricket children has now reached its majority—India. During the coming season a team composed of Hindus will tour England and play a series of games with the counties and picked sides. The experiment has created a great deal of interest as it indicates the game has reached the same high level in India that it has in Australia, South Africa, New Zealand and the West Indies, all of whom now send teams to England and receive visits from English sides at regular intervals. One of England's cricket minors—a South American team—will also make a tour in which they will meet strong second-class teams this summer. The cricket season formally opens on April 23 when All India will meet T. G. Scott XI at Pelsham Rye. Most of the counties come into action the following day and begin their challenge for the championship, now held by Yorkshire.

The coming season will be more than ordinarily interesting as the team which will tour Australia next winter will be chosen. England failed rather dismally in 1922 when the Australians made their last tour and recaptured the "ashes," mythical emblem of the cricket championship of the world. Perhaps England's efforts were made to look rather worse than they really were by the brilliance at the wicket of young Don Bradman and the bowling of Clarence Grimmett. New blood must be recruited in England if these two redoubtable players are not again

Ruling By Judge In Gambling

Montreal Judge Dismisses Case Against Chinese

MONTREAL, April 23.—A judge dismissed a case against Chinese gamblers before completion of the trial in the premises of the Anese Social Club, 1400 St. James Street West, one night last week, when a door burst open into the room stamped by men who, flourishing a warrant, charged that the gamblers were running a gambling house. The judge dismissed the case because the gamblers had not been given a chance to be heard.

Recently the case was referred to the court when the Chinese admitted that they were playing dice and dominoes at night of the raid, but pleaded that it was only a friendly game between members of the club. The judge said, and five cents a game, and five cents a game, every dollar won by the gamblers was reserved for the banker.

If they changed the game, the banker throughout the game. Recorder G. H. Scott were not gambling in the law." And he dismissed charges against Fong Tsai.

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.

Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.

Letters should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

Backache

WHEN you have backache you can blame the kidneys. These all important filters have failed to eliminate the uric acid poisons from the blood and poisons cause pain.

You may have headache, pains in the limbs, rheumatism or lumbago. The skin becomes dry and you may lose weight.

The quickest way to sweep the poisons from the system is by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They cannot fail because they immediately arouse the action of the kidneys, the liver and the bowels, cleanse the system and bring relief from pains and aches.

For half a century, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have proven their superiority.

WATERFRONT WHIFFS

Is Building Shingle Mill at Cow Bay—Narbethong Destroyed By Fire—Trolling Fleet Almost All Out

Considerable curiosity having been aroused as to the nature and purpose of a new structure which is being erected at the corner of Third Avenue and Cow Bay road, the Whiff Man was constrained to make an investigation of same during his rounds this week and learned that our old friend, Ross Mackay, is putting the building up with a view to the establishment therein of a new industry for Prince Rupert in the form of a shingle mill which it is planned to have in operation by midsummer. Mr. Mackay already has his machinery on hand and installation of same will start as soon as the building is sufficiently advanced which should be quite soon now. For a start it will be a one-machine plant with a capacity of possibly some 25,000 or 30,000 shingles daily. Expansion of the industry will, of course, depend upon the success of the initial venture. It is Mr. Mackay's intention to truck his shinglebolts to the mill, there being plenty of available timber along the highway. He is quite optimistic as to marketing possibilities locally. While being launched in an unostentatious way, it may develop into a valuable little local industry for Prince Rupert and Mr. Mackay's enterprise is deserving of commendation. His many friends will hope that the venture may prove completely successful.

Having sprung a leak while moored at her berth at the Prince Rupert Rowing & Yacht Club's floats on Thursday afternoon, George Dawes' power cruiser Vaquero was rushed into the Yacht Club grid in the absence of the owner who was on his way to Terrace at the time. It was found that some of the caulking of the vessel had been sprung.

Narbethong Burns

The veteran Prince Rupert salmon packer Narbethong was destroyed by fire on Thursday morning of this week at Wagliapshi Island in Prince Rupert Harbor, where her owner, Bert Wearmouth, resides. Jimmy Duff had been living on board the vessel during the past winter but he as well as Mr. Wearmouth were absent from the island in town when the fire occurred. On their return, they found that the boat had disappeared and located it sunk in shallow water, completely destroyed. The only accounting for the fire is that a fire must have been left in the stove on board from which the vessel took flames. The Narbethong was 38 feet long with beam of 11 feet six inches and was equipped with a 36 h.p. Regal gas engine. She was built at Prince Rupert 16 years ago for the late Capt. Hoopes K. Freeman who used her at first for charter and passenger purposes. After Capt. Freeman's death several years ago, Mr. Wearmouth purchased the vessel and used her for several years in fish packing. There was insurance of $1500.

By the end of April between 250 and 300 trolling boats are expected to be at work on the fishing grounds of Prince Rupert district. In connection with the outfitting of the boats for the season, there has been considerable business in port just recently. It is expected that the run of fish will show considerable improvement in May.

Falling in line with similar action that has been taken by the fleet of Seattle and Alaska, the halibut fleet of Prince Rupert is being circularized with a view to reaching an agreement whereby halibut vessels would stay in port between each trip five days not including the day when any fish is taken out. Providing the agreement is decided upon 100%. W. E. Drake, manager of Edward Lipsett Co., George Anderson, secretary of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union of Prince Rupert, and G. W. Nickerson, manager of the Canadian Halibut Vessel Owners' Association, would be named a committee to see that the regulations are adhered to. Signatures are not being appended very rapidly to the proposed agreement. The purpose of proposed agreement is to control production and keep prices up.

John Dybhavn, member of the Biological Board of Canada, and H. N. Brocklesby, acting director of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station, left Prince Rupert last night on the Princess Adelaide to attend a meeting in Vancouver of the Pacific Coast sub-executive of the Biological Board of Canada. The session will last only two days and Mr. Dybhavn and Mr. Brocklesby are expected to return to Prince Rupert on Friday of next week. Mr. Brocklesby is taking his young son, Kenneth, south with him.

D. B. Finn, recently re-appointed director of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station and originally expected in Prince Rupert in April to resume the duties which he gave up about two years ago, will not now be arriving in Prince Rupert until June. Mr. Finn is still in England where he is completing a post-graduate scientific course at Cambridge University.

Interesting Report

Laymen may find it difficult to believe but science has established that some bacteria will survive as low a temperature as -347 degrees Fahrenheit! How long these organisms will live when the thermometer gets down that far has not been determined, but their survival has been shown. These are points brought out incidentally in a progress report by Robert H. Bedford, of the Pacific Fisheries Experimental Station of the Biological Board of Canada, Prince Rupert, who has been carrying on studies of the growth of various organisms at low temperatures in order to gather further information which would be useful to the Canadian fishing industry in keeping its catch in good condition.

The two points already cited from Mr. Bedford's progress report strike the layman's eye, of course, but they are only two among many facts which he notes, for in the experimentation which he did last year he tested over 80 bacteria, planting them in separate tubes containing food material and placing them in a chamber or cabinet wherein definite temperature could be maintained. Further experimentation is being continued.

"Low temperature occupies a strategic position in the fish industry," Mr. Bedford points out. "Just as soon as fish are caught, those agencies which cause fish to spoil, among them bacteria, gradually attain ascendancy over the protective factors which are an inherent part of the normal physiological structure of any marine organism. In this phenomenon temperature plays an extremely important role, for if it is gradually raised these destructive agencies become much more active. . . . By lowering the temperature it slows down their rate of action and the duration of preservation is lengthened. This is the reason why ice helps to keep fish in a fresh condition, why the proper freezing of fish inhibits the destructive agencies entirely, and why storage for long periods at certain low temperatures is feasible. But it must be borne in mind that even freezing fish at very low temperatures, much lower than are ever used in refrigeration plants, will not entirely destroy these destructive agencies. It is true enough that numerous bacteria will be killed, but many will survive. Many survive as low a temperature as -190 deg. C. (-347 deg. F.) although there is no record to show for how long. Freezing at about -5 deg. C. (23 deg. F.) will, in the course of time, destroy some of the weaker bacteria, but many remain—some dormant, others growing slowly but surely."

The significance of his experiment to the fishing industry, Mr. Bedford notes, is just this: To counter the effect of bacteria fish must be "properly stowed in ice so that this temperature is effective over the whole fish, and not stowed in such a manner that parts are left exposed to the warmer atmosphere." If proper stowage has not been practised from the first then this initial carelessness "may have so changed the physical and chemical structure of the tissues that other changes must of necessity follow; what was once a first grade product has deteriorated into a second or cull when ultimately required for market. In cold storage the temperature of the fish must be maintained below -5 deg. C. (23 deg. F.) otherwise the bacteria will gradually play their part in causing deterioration of the flesh. . . . Just by way of adding further interest to this summary of some of the results of Mr. Bedford's investigation it may be noted that some not only displayed most extraordinary vitality at low temperatures but they could grow over an extremely wide range of temperatures. Take, for example, the case of one fellow—a "rod bacterium" about 25,000th part of an inch in length. This sub-visible creature, by the way, "doesn't mind very much whether it has air to breathe or not and seems to thrive rather nicely when the air is replaced by either hydrogen or carbon dioxide gas." Normally it lives in the surface water of the North Pacific Ocean, but whatever the temperature of the North Pacific may be Mr. Bedford's experiment showed that "this particular bacterium can grow over a range of temperatures from -5 deg. C. to 37 deg. C. (-23 deg. F. to 98.6 deg. F.). . . . It grows most profusely at 20 deg. and 25 deg. C. and then gradually slows down as the range is extended on both sides of these two temperatures."

CHEVALIER FILM HERE

French Comedian and Miss Jeanette MacDonald Very Good in "One Hour With You"

With Maurice Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald teamed together again assisted by a splendid supporting cast which includes Genevieve Tobin, Charlie Ruggles and Roland Young, "One Hour With You" makes a splendid attraction for the week-end at the Capitol Theatre. The story is an interesting one with Chevalier cast in an altogether different type of role.

Musical interludes by Chevalier and Miss MacDonald, of course, feature the picture. At least two new hits are introduced in "One Hour With You" and "We Will All Be Sweethearts." Some of the other songs are also very good.

Chevalier takes the part of a wealthy young doctor and Miss MacDonald is his wife. Miss Tobin is Miss MacDonald's best friend and her adventures when she tries to become the best friend of the husband prove very amusing. The picture makes excellent entertainment and will undoubtedly prove as popular here as preceding films of Chevalier.
