R. F. Perry Brings Case Before County Court Asking For Setting Aside of Election

It is quite possible that the first case Judge Fisher has to hear when he returns to Prince Rupert since his appointment will be an election petition filed in the County Court by R. F. Perry, defeated candidate for mayor here.

The petition was filed last week and asks for the unseating of the present incumbent of the office alleging that he was not eligible at the time of nomination in that his taxes for 1932 had not been paid. It is alleged the taxes were paid January 19.

MONEY GOES TO ENGLAND

Flood of Capital From Many Countries Being Sent There Because Country Considered Safe

LONDON, Feb. 13.—There is a rush of foreign money being sent to this country from abroad so great that it has become an embarrassment to the financial institutions. ### SPRING

There's snow upon the trees, again
 White and still, against the sky,
 Brown branches bend beneath the strain
 Of winter passing by.

Though snow is on the lawn, again
 We see the lengthened day,
 And in our hearts there's song again
 For spring is on the way.

Skies so cold and drab today
 Tomorrow will be blue,
 There'll be silvery mist, across the bay,
 And spring a'millin' through.

MANY HEAR OF STRIKE

Conditions at Anyox Described by Speakers Including Former Mine Inspector

Bradley Present

Objection Taken to Company Town System Where Residents Were Forced to Buy From Store

Citizens, including unemployed and miners deported from Anyox, heard at first hand of experiences and conditions at Anyox last night. The Moose Hall was filled to capacity and many were turned away. Ald. G. W. Rudderham presided.

The first speaker was the secretary of the Anyox strike committee. He said wages had been reduced by three 10% cuts in 10 months, while no reduction had been made in commodities or rents. He told the audience of the movement to organize, and the fact that the existence of this movement was unsuspected by the officials for nearly nine months is eloquent testimony of the detestation in which the company is held. The scene on the eve of the declaration of the strike when mine officials were ordered to leave the hall, the clash with the police on the morning of February 1, and the subsequent importation of police and deportation of the strike leaders was graphically told.

T. J. Shenton, ex-mine inspector who was on the platform, then addressed the meeting. He described the mine as being literally on its last legs, being so honeycombed with workings that it resembled a huge cathedral on pillars, which through the action of the elements was doomed to collapse without notice. He dwelt on the blind policies of governments in pursuing the same policy of force in dealing with the workers and related his own experiences at Nanaimo in which identical tactics had been used, and stressed the theme that human life and property were of more value than property or wealth.

Company Methods
 Charles Chapman, chairman of the unemployed gave a summary of the Granby Company's operations during the last 40 years in B.C., and how their policy was ever the same. Community towns and employees were forced to deal in the company stores at extortionate prices, thus giving the management a double profit on their labor and their purchases.

Another member of the strike committee described the impossible conditions the men have to work under in the mine itself, and how accidents were not only frequent but sometimes fatal. In a lifetime's experience of mining he considered that Granby was the most dangerous.

Oscar Larson, ex-Alderman, spoke briefly of his experiences there. The management had dismissed him for representing a candidate in the polling station at an election, and on another occasion forbade him to land in order to conduct an investigation into alleged ballot box irregularities on the grounds that he was an agitator.

An organizer of the Mines Workers' Industrial Union of Canada was present and gave a resume of the recent strike troubles at Princeton and Vancouver. In the Anyox case the proof was clear that the miners had organized themselves and at the last minute sent outside for organizers, which they had a perfect right to do.

LOST LIFE IN HUNTING ACCIDENT

J. P. Hanson Killed by Own Gun Near Kitkaia on Saturday

John Peter Hanson, well known fisherman of Oona River, Porcher Island, accidentally lost his life while duck shooting on Kitkaia Arm Saturday morning. He was staying with John Letson of Kitkaia Arm for a week and on the morning of the accident left with the intention of duck shooting. A little while later John Letson heard a shot about half-a-mile from the cabin, but thinking it was the hunter shooting did not pay any more attention to it. But when Hanson did not come back he went out to search for him and found him beside the boat dead, a victim of his own gun. The body was brought in from Porcher Island yesterday and the inquest is taking place today under deputy coroner A. Lancaster.

The deceased, who was 45 years of age is survived by a widow and four of a family, two girls, 24 and 13 years old, and two boys, 19 and 17 years of age.

BEWARE OF GUARANTEES

The city of Merritt guaranteed the bonds of a power corporation that was being established in the city. The result was disastrous. The city now has to pay and the effort has put it on the rocks.

People are often asked to sign papers, to back notes or to give guarantees which they never expect to meet. They do it out of a spirit of good nature and in a good many cases they are called upon to pay. Beware of guarantees either for the government, the city or the individual.

RAYS OF LIGHT

On Saturday it was reported that bank clearings in Canada were moving up and that there was an improvement in the retail and wholesale business of the United States. This was a cheery message because these things have to happen before we can expect to see any improvement in Prince Rupert. If we hear of a series of these forward moves we can begin to think that a change is really taking place for the better.

QUEBEC SECURITIES

Quebec provincial securities sell at a better price than those of any other province in the Dominion and better even than those of the Dominion government. In a list just received from Toronto the Quebec bonds are quoted to earn 3.60%, Dominion government 3.85%, British Columbia 5.51, Manitoba 5.75, Alberta 6.00 and Saskatchewan as high as 6.29%.

Bought Slaves For $2 50 Each

TORONTO, Feb. 13.—Lecturing here Richard Halliburton, aviator and author, told of amusing incidents in his travels. In Timbuctoo he bought two slaves, Little Eva and Monkey, for $2.50 each. However, when he wanted to dispose of them he found they were a drug on the market and had to pay $5 to have them taken off his hands.

NEW HAZELTON

The Canadian Girls in Training took the services at the Hazelton Church Sunday night. Miss Essie Russell was the leader and Miss Marie Martin read the lessons. Special music was given by the girls. The collection is said to have been larger than usual.

Constable Wellen was drafted into the strike brigade to help keep order at Anyox.

The Hazelton Glee Club conducted by Rev. S. V. H. Redman, gave a fine concert recently. Miss Marjorie Sutherland and Mr. Redman were accompanists.

Made Money in Solving Puzzles

BUDAPEST, Feb. 13.—Miss Clara Balogh, known here as "The Cross-Word Puzzle Girl," has provided herself with the luxuries of life by her success in competitions. She has solved 9,000 puzzles and published 1,000 constructed by herself. Among her prizes are a week-end cottage and a motor car.

FIELD MARSHAL PASSED AWAY

Sir William Robertson Who Died
Yesterday Had Great Military Career

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Field Marshal Sir William Robertson, 75 years of age, died here suddenly on Sunday. His career in the British army is without parallel as the only man to rise from the ranks to receive a field marshal's baton. He was decorated for services in South Africa, India and the Great War.

Of poor parentage, Sir William enlisted as a private in the 16th (Queen's) Lancers at the age of 18, and closed an active career when he received the baton of a field marshal 43 years later. For three years of the Great War he was chief of the Imperial General Staff and, accordingly, one of the most important military figures among the Allied commanders. He was also an independent thinker.

Sir William became Chief of the Imperial General Staff in December, 1915. He immediately introduced great improvements in organization and during the first year and a half of his holding the appointment was successful in keeping the general control of operations on sound lines. While convinced that the Western Front represented the decisive theatre of war, and fully aware how mischievous was diversion of force in principle, he saw to it that, where circumstances unfortunately rendered operations in distant regions unavoidable, the commanders on the spot were furnished with what was deemed necessary to achieve success with the result that the position of affairs in Mesopotamia, on the Suez frontier and in East Africa was completely transformed within a very few months of his taking up his task.

He had always experienced some trouble in sufficiently impressing upon the government that the war could only be won on the Western Front and in the later months of 1917 he found it more and more difficult in view of the disappointing results obtained by Allied offensives in France and Flanders, to persuade the war cabinet that diversion of fighting resources to Alexandria, or to Palestine, or to Macedonia, or to the Austro-Italian frontier, endangered prospects of victory at the decisive point and might lead to disaster near home.

His anxieties were increased by the manner in which the problem of man-power was treated. He moreover foresaw that the plan of having a supreme war council composed of military representatives of the Allies, such as was introduced towards the end of the year, was an unworkable one. Finally in February, 1918, he resigned—just one month before the success of the great German offensive in March proved how correct had been his appreciation of the situation.

SPORT NOTES

With much comment being made both on the prizes and in the east over referees in professional hockey games not putting enough iron into their administration, the following comment of the great Ty Cobb on the power of baseball umpires throws a slightly different light on the plea for sterner hockey regulations.

"Curb the umpires and put the sparkle and fight back in baseball, not to mention the interest of the fans and the clicking of the turnstiles. Of course, there are some umpires who get out of line themselves, but most of them are gentlemen who deal out justice in accordance with their instructions. It's the men who give these instructions, the league heads, who should be curbed. They tell their arbiters, who generally have fine judicial positions, to be dictatorial and rule with an iron hand." Thus does Cobb, for twenty years the big thrill of baseball, agree with Bill McKechnie of the Pittsburgh Pirates that his majesty the "umps" lets his crown rest heavily on his head and his power too fearfully in his sceptre.

VISITORS TO MOUNTAIN

Around four hundred people invaded the mountain yesterday to enjoy the now popular sport of skiing. Crisp clear weather favored the mountain climbers in their week-end of fun and frolic. Although it is quite a struggle to reach the top it takes but a few moments to come down as you can slide nearly all the way.

The Ski Club has finished its big jump and although only a few have tried this feat the majority are practising on the smaller jump with the big one in view as soon as they get the hang of it.

About 15 people enjoyed the comforts of the cabin over the week-end, the others coming and going all day Sunday.

Weak After Flu and Pneumonia

Joseph English is Well and Strong After Taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to Rebuild Health.

"I feel we practically owe my brother's life to the benefit obtained from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," writes Doris English, of Fort Langley, B.C. "My brother took the flu and, getting a chill, contracted pneumonia, which later developed into an abscess on the lung. After an operation and a long siege of illness, he was so thin and weak he was a sight. He had no appetite for food, and we weren't given much encouragement that he would recover. However, we found Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as good as they were advertised. From the beginning of the treatment there was a marked improvement. He soon had a good appetite, and his face took on a healthy color. He gained weight from the first. Today he is well and strong, and hopes others may benefit from this wonderful remedy as he did." Whatever the cause of a run-down condition of health, use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They create new red blood, which revitalizes the whole system and builds up new energy and vigor. For that reason they are equally good for young, growing girls. ## MANY HEAR OF STRIKE

Tom Bradley Speaks

Tom Bradley, an organizer of the same union, now released on bail, addressed the meeting. Conditions at Anyox were described, and his experiences there. There were at last 80 police present at one time with rifles, machine guns and clubs. Men who were in hospital were chased out without notice to make room for police. Fascist elements went from house to house coercing miners to go to work, but without result. He described his capture and the attempts by third degree methods in the Prince Rupert cells to get him to incriminate himself. Mass protest was required to stop this insensate martyrdom of mankind. Mass protest will also be necessary to see that the strikers who have been driven out of Anyox at the point of the bayonet get relief. They were chased out for striking against intolerable conditions. A resolution was passed unanimously to be forwarded to Premier Tolmie, Victoria, as the outcome of the meeting. It recited the circumstances of the strike, which had resulted in hundreds of miners and their families being transported elsewhere against their wills, of the cause of the strike, the clash with the police and eviction of men who were placed aboard government and other vessels without a moment's notice, the main part of the resolution being:

"Resolved that we, the citizens of Prince Rupert assembled in mass meeting do hereby protest in the strongest possible terms at the manner in which the provincial police have been used at Anyox for the purpose of intimidating and coercing the strikers at Anyox. And be it further resolved that the provincial government cease to use its police force as an instrument of intimidation against workers during wage disputes."

GOLD FROM LEACH RIVER

Hydraulic Operations Being Carried Out At Old Diggings With Considerable Success

VICTORIA, Feb. 13 — Hydraulic operations have started on the site of the old Leach River operations of the early gold rush days, and it is reported that encouraging results are being obtained.

The site is not very far from Sooke Lake where the Leach River joins the Sooke River. At that point there are many acres of old gravel beds from which a good deal of gold has been taken. At various intervals hand operations have been carried out, the men usually earning wages and occasionally getting a nice sized nugget.

Schooner Was Blown Ashore

Romance of Adventurers Who Visited the Queen Charlotte Islands in Search of Gold as Early As the Year 1852

(By E. C. Stevens)

In October, 1852, the American sailing schooner Louisiana, with a crew of 27 on board, sailed into Cumshewa Inlet and anchored off Cumshewa Village, at that time the largest Hydah village on the island. The Louisiana was outfitted for a long prospecting trip and was on her way to Gold Harbor on the west coast of Moresby Island. During the night after anchoring, a heavy southeast gale sprang up and Captain Williams, commander of the schooner, ordered extra anchors out but in spite of this precaution, the Louisiana was driven ashore.

Hundreds of Hydahs collected on the shore and gave all the help they could and got the crew safely ashore. When the tide went out the Indians boarded the schooner with huge burning pitch torches which they used for lights. One of the torches accidentally caught the sails on fire and in a few minutes all the upper works of the schooner were destroyed.

The schooner was well provisioned with flour and bacon. The Indians took all the flour they wanted, threw away the rest and kept the sacks. The pork they would not eat, keeping this to feed the white crew with. A few days later the Chief of Skedance village which is situated on the south side of the entrance of Cumshewa Inlet invited Capt. Williams and all his crew to stay with him, which Capt. Williams did and was a guest with his crew of the chief until the next year when in May they were taken across to Fort Simpson and turned over to the Hudson Bay Company.

Capt. Williams was a well known pioneer along the coast of British Columbia and among his crew were a number of well known pioneer shippers of B.C. Among them were Capt. Robert Pamphlet, father of Bob Pamphlet of the Piskawa of rum-runner fame, Capt. Phil Dayton who for years after was lighthouse tender at the entrance to Victoria Harbor.

Another of this crew, a Captain Morrison years later again came to the Queen Charlottes with a 20-ton sailing sloop and a complete diving outfit which he took to Gold Harbor and endeavored to salvage some of the gold that the Hudson Bay party blasted into the inlet. It is said Capt. Morrison was not successful in this venture as his diving apparatus would not work. It is estimated by Cy Maitkie, one of the members of this stampede who visited the islands just before his death in 1909, that the Hudson Bay Company lost three-quarters of a million dollars in gold which was blown into the inlet. This huge pocket of gold was found on a small cliff overlooking Gold Harbor and when the water is quite deep today 2-inch drill holes can be seen where the Hudson Bay Company worked on this very rich ore.

Court Settles Religious Spat

Wife May Go to Church Despite Views of Husband

HALIFAX, Feb. 13.—"You cannot use force to stop your wife from going to church," ruled Magistrate J. L. Barnhill when Mr. and Mrs. John Metham appeared in court to settle a spat over religion. John was charged with assaulting his wife and forcing her to stay home from church. The evidence satisfied the magistrate that John was guilty, and he bound him over to keep the peace for one year.

Two Shows to be Seen Tonight at Capitol Theatre

Theatre goes will find variety tonight at the Capitol. There are two big films, both of which are said to be excellent in their particular field.

"Under-Cover Man" is a story of the upper crust of the underworld, of crooks who play Wall Street and the Gold Coast for single coups, of hundreds of thousands.

Raft is cast as such a crook. But when his father, a "fence" for stolen bonds, is murdered, he turns against his own kind, and sets out to have his revenge.

The other picture is "Tom Brown of Culver," which presents Tom Brown and Slim Summerville in the leading roles, and was filmed partly at the famous Culver Military Academy in Indiana. The entire story is told against the background of this well known institution, and is said to tell almost dramatic story of a boy whose father was erroneously credited with being a hero of the World War.
