CANADIAN LIST OF CORONATION HONORS PUBLISHED

CAPT. HARRY KOHRT HAD RATHER NARROW ESCAPE

His Boat the Just-It Sank During the Night at the Wharf While He Was on Board—Had to Jump Ashore for Safety in His Sleeping Costume.

The spectacle of a man, clad only in his underclothes running down Centre street in the early hours of this morning, and the later spectacle of the gasoline boat Just-It, lying sunk at the float, gave rise to some exciting rumors among the waterfront today. It is all the elements of a thrilling wreck story.

Later investigation showed that the thinly clad man, Captain Harry Kohrt of the Just-It, did have an escape from a watery bed, though it robbed the story of some of its dramatic possibilities. According to the story of Kohrt told at a late hour this morning he is still unable to give a very clear account of the matter, his boat's bow was by some means driven up on the rocks at the railway grade. As the tide fell, so did the stern. Finally the stern got so far under water that she started to fill. As she filled she fell off the rocks stern first, and dived under the water. Kohrt who was sleeping on the boat just had time to make a hurried exit before the boat practically disappeared. Only a few inches of her nose is to be seen.

The Just-It and her captain are well known round the waterfront, being in frequent demand to convey prospecting and survey parties up and down the coast.

WELCOME THE HINDU AND THUS UNITE THE EMPIRE

This is the Plea Earl Crewe Made This Morning in Discussing Hindu Immigration Before Colonial Conference—Wants Better Feeling With India

(Canadian Press Despatch)
 London, June 20.—The vexed question of the admission of Hindu British subjects to the dominions occupied the attention of the Imperial Conference this morning. It was brought up by Earl Crewe, Lord of the privy Seal in the Cabinet, who suggested that it was possible for the Dominion governments, working within the limits laid down for the admission of immigrants, to make it more easy and pleasant to admit Hindu subjects of the British Crown to their countries.

He said that when it became known within those limits that loyal Indian subjects would receive a genuine welcome, and would not be looked upon with dislike or suspicion, a great deal would be done to bring about better relations between India and the overseas dominions. Until pleasanter relations were brought about between the dominions and India, the British Empire was far from being a united Empire, said the Earl.

The matter is still under discussion. It is expected that some of the colonial representatives will take up the subject.

There will be a Baptist Brotherhood Picnic to Metlakatla on Thursday.

COUNCIL DIVIDED OVER ENGINEERING MATTERS

Ald. Newton Brought in His Promised Reconstruction Scheme—Col. Davis and Mr. A. W. Agnew Are to be Dropped and Department Will Jog Along With Assistance From the Seattle Engineer—Whole Matter to be Debated on Wednesday Evening

Reorganisation of the city engineering staff to effect a saving of $9319.92 per annum in the staff pay roll, and fabulous sums in expenditure on city work is recommended by the special committee to look into the matter of the department. The committee reported last night, Alderman Newton alone signing the report as chairman.

Caused a Scrap
 From Alderman Morrissey came the motion to adopt the report. Alderman Newton posed as second. Instantly Alderman Hilditch rose to the defence of the department. Before the battle was terminated temporarily by the calling of a truce until Wednesday night, he had earned for himself honorable scars. Called "higgerunt" or "two-faced" or both, by his foes, he still smilingly returned the compliment and challenged Alderman Newton to produce a more efficient engineering department in the length and breadth of the Province of B. C.

who had come here an absolute stranger with an absolutely new staff to organise, unique problems to combat, and a new council to work with. Without wishing to blame the first council, Alderman Hilditch pointed out that the City Engineer had acted in fulfilment of his instructions. The first council went to work with the understanding that each property holder would construct his own retaining wall portion, therefore provision was not made in the estimates at first. The light plant was intended only as a temporary street lighting expedient at first. It was lighting the streets and many business premises too. Alderman Hilditch was ready to refute every single one of the accusations made against the department in the report signed by Alderman Newton with the single exception of the retaining wall item.

In the reorganised staff Colonel Davis has no place, and A. W. Agnew's name is also missing from the list of the select seven who with a stenographer are to compose the ideal engineering department for the city for the present. Sweeping allegations of blundering were made in the report.

Blamed Unjustly
 "The engineering department," he said, "has been blamed in this report for many things for which they are not guilty." He offered to prove his words with the single exception of the retaining wall allegation. As for the cost of the department he believed it was only two per cent of the cost of the works. Vancouver and Seattle he was pretty sure paid their engineering departments at least five per cent. He gave Colonel Davis credit for having prepared the Woodworth Waterworks scheme which Engineer Thompson only approved with a few suggestions afterwards, the main change being a reduction in the extent of the scheme to suit a population half that estimated by the City Engineer (which is what you might expect from a Seattle man). He showed how tremendous had been the task tackled by Colonel Davis

Morrissey Regrets
 Very courteously Alderman Morrissey "regretted to have to take exception to his friend Alderman Hilditch's remarks on this matter." He begged to point out to the Alderman certain irregular things done by the engineering department, notably the retaining wall incident. He hinted that a council of laymen had been left to wrestle with the problem without sufficient advice from the experts employed to attend to these things. He believed the retaining walls had cost already $40,000 and they

CITY GRANTS HOSPITAL FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS

Council Passed Large Grant Despite Ald. Newton's Fight to Make it as Small as Possible—City Will Get Two Members of the Hospital Board.

A grant of $5000 was voted by council last night for the hospital. Alderman Newton with protestation of regard for the cause tried hard to get the amount reduced if even only by a thousand dollars. It grieved him to see the good dollars going out lavishly to help hurt citizens and healthy citizens need so many civic improvements.

Newton Would Reduce It
 The Mayor assured him that the Hospital Board would now be on their body thus seeing the cash was properly spent, Alderman Newton said the matter of the grant had never properly brought before him, he would rather not discuss it in open council. He was sure, however, that if it had come before him in committee he would have got the grant reduced.

Hilditch Heartily Supports
 In striking contrast to this attitude was that of Alderman Hilditch who is a strong believer in the civic support of the hospital. It was too bad, he thought, that the biggest part of the burden of supporting a hospital for the sick and hurt in Prince Rupert should be borne only by the liberal minded members of the community. He expressed himself enthusiastically in support of the $5000 grant, and said if it had been $8000 he would have enthusiastically supported it. The motion to make the grant $5000 was carried, everybody except Alderman Newton in favor of it.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
 Winnipeg, June 20.—Mr. R. L. Borden opened his western tour here last night, addressing a tremendous meeting. He declared himself unalterably opposed to the reciprocity agreement. He was given a great reception and cheered to the echo. He advocated a permanent tariff commission to deal with all trade and tariff matters. He said the Conservatives if returned to power would put into effect the government ownership of a terminal elevator, and the government ownership and operation of the Hudson Bay Railway.

SIGNING OF G. T. P. AGREEMENT IS DELAYED

Authorities at Victoria Refused Signature Until Premier Has Seen Documents But Developments are to go Ahead—Chief Engineer Kelliher of G. T. P. Here

At last night's council meeting the Mayor reported that his visit to Victoria to meet the Government Authorities regarding the signing of the G. T. P. Assessment Agreement had not resulted in the immediate achievement of his desire regarding it, but that the plan and agreement had been sent to Premier McBride in London, and he would probably wire back a "yes" or "no" to it. Meantime the submission of the terms of agreement for the approval of the citizens must be delayed until about the first week in July.

Letters from Mr. Hays, and Mr.

Chamberlin were, however, read at the council board stating that the works proposed would be started as soon as possible on the assumption that the necessary sanction would be forthcoming both from the citizens and the Government. Mr. Chamberlin's letter referred to various particular matters of engineering which had been mentioned to him while he was here, and which will be looked into by Mr. Kelliher, G. T. P. chief engineer, who is now in the city.

Mr. Kelliher arrived by the Princess May yesterday, and is to consult with the City Engineer on the points raised during Mr. Chamberlin's visit. These include the question of Centre street plank-ing, certain sewer outlets through Hays Creek, the entrance to the city through G. T. P. property of the Woodworth watermain, etc. Mr. Kelliher has instructions from the president of the G. T. P. to meet the city as liberally as possible consistent with the conservation of G. T. P. interests, and to consider not only the present necessities of the community but the advantages of the city for the future.

COUNCIL MAY ERR IF IT LIKES

Declares the Mayor. Minutes Must be Adopted all the Same Record of Blunders Stands.

At the opening of the council meeting last night on the reading of the minutes Alderman Morrissey objected to the record in the minutes of the vote on the Prudhomme Appeal grant. He declared the vote was illegal according to the New Procedure By-law, because the Acting Mayor took a casting vote. He wanted the minutes corrected.

The Mayor took the position first that the council was not yet actually working under the New Procedure By-law, and second that the record in the minutes was correct as a record of what had occurred, and could not be altered.

"The council may make as many errors as it likes," he declared, "if the Clerk gives an exact record of what really took place there is nothing for the council to do but adopt the minutes."

WANTED—A LAND CLEARING SCHEME

Now that the railway has opened up the Skeena district to the settler, an excellent chance is given the Provincial Government to evolve some land clearing scheme on a large scale, to bring the lands into early settlement.

It is estimated that it will cost the settler $100 an acre to clear the land by such means as are now possible to him. With the great areas that are now opened up, it would be possible for the Government to put large gangs of men at work, properly equipped with the best machinery and methods, to clear the land by the most economical means.

The lumber thus removed might be sawn, and from it a sufficient revenue be obtained to pay for the work of clearing. With a large variety of ways in which the work could be financed, so as to fall easily on the resources of the settlers, statesmanship should not find any great difficulties in arranging the details of a land clearing scheme.

In the State of Washington where conditions are somewhat similar to British Columbia a movement is on foot to induce the government to take up this matter of land clearing, using the best attainable system, the cost of the process being made a charge upon the land, but repayable over a period of from ten to twenty years at a reasonable rate of interest.

It is pointed out by those who favor this scheme that the work if undertaken by the government on an extensive scale, could be done at a much cheaper rate than could be the case where only a small amount of clearing is required. This clearing would not only be a great advantage to the particular district where the operations are carried on, but would be an object lesson for the whole country; and as exact accounts of the expense would be kept the figures would be very instructive.

In the United States large sums of government money have been used for reclaiming arid lands with very good results. Here in British Columbia there are hundreds of thousands of acres of lands which might be cleared of timber or stumps and which would make splendid farms.

DANGER OF ALDERMEN WHO WILL TALK WILDLY

Discussion Held Over Mysterious Appointment to the Public Works Department—Ald. Hilditch Reminds Mayor Sharply to Call to Order Councillors With Awkward Enquiries.

Rather expecting that jobs are being handed out to particular people on city work without the formality of bringing the appointments tip for approval of Mayor and council, Alderman Douglas last night enquired how it had happened that a certain time-keeper had been appointed on the public works department without even the mention of the matter in committee. He suggested that Alderman Hilditch had made the appointment himself on the strict q. t.

Alderman Hilditch, however, declared most emphatically that he did not know the first thing about it, and Alderman Kerr suggested that perhaps the man was appointed by the superintendent of public works. "No, said Alderman Douglas, "I have reason to believe that the committee appointed him. And we have enough men already appointed employed, and paid who have nothing to do." Hilditch Attacks Mayor This brought Alderman Hilditch to his feet annoyed. He was not annoyed at Alderman Douglas. He was annoyed at the Mayor. "Mr. Mayor," he complained, "I want to tell you that there are some members of this council board who talk wildly. They open their mouths and talk wildly, that is all I can say about it, and you simply sit there and overlook the fact. You sit there and don't call these members to order. I must ask you to attend to this."

Kirkpatrick as Buffer There was no reply from the Mayor, but Alderman Kirkpatrick suddenly remembered vaguely having given some instruction or approval to the superintendent of works about the appointment of someone recently.

This diverted the squall from the Mayor for a moment, and gave him time to suggest suavely in reply to Alderman Hilditch that possibly Alderman Hilditch would now appreciate the need for a stringent system of rules in regard to enquiries, though they were not yet working under the New Procedure By-law that portion of which he had not approved.

had no retaining walls after all.

Alderman Smith's Contract How much should the walls have cost? How much should have been done? Alderman Morrissey believed Alderman Smith was responsible for the carrying out of a contract for the railway company for about a mile of coursed masonry right here in Rupert. He would like to know why the city couldn't have solid retaining walls too.

Alderman Hilditch interrupting exclaimed, "There aren't 500 yards of Alderman Smith's wall."

Alderman Morrissey: "I'm open to bet there's 500 yards at least and a good deal more."

Alderman Hilditch to Alderman Smith: "I fancy that wall was built by force account, wasn't it, Alderman Smith?"

Alderman Smith was silent, and Alderman Morrissey went on to point out the $9000 retrenchment included in the report on the engineering department.

The Retrenching They Didn't "On our election we were pledged to retrenchment," said Alderman Morrissey. "We have yet to show some signs of retrenching any. This is our first opportunity to retrench, and we are bound to do it. Alderman Hilditch may think this is a huge joke but it is a serious matter."

"This is far too important a question to vote on in a hurry," said Alderman Smith, "I should like to move an amendment that it lie over until Wednesday night."

"Hear, Hear," Says Hilditch "Well," said Alderman Newton resentfully. "It was suggested not long ago that if I did not get a gait on as the saying goes, I should find the matter done over my head."

"Hear, Hear!" shouted Alderman Hilditch gaily. With a scornful glare in the direction of the noise, Alderman Newton went on solemnly. He was only trying to do what he had been sent to the council to do. But if Alderman Morrissey was willing he would allow Alderman Smith's amendment to come in as a motion. He wanted the matter fully considered. He had seconded the motion simply to bring the matter before the council. Alderman Newton reproved Alderman Hilditch for his unseemly levity.

Hilditch Hits Back No sooner was Alderman Newton down than Alderman Hilditch was up. "Alderman Morrissey," he said, "says that I think this a huge joke. Alderman Newton says so too. I am only going to say that when a man comes to this council and talks about something he knows nothing whatever about, I am bound to laugh at him. It is the proper thing to do to show the whole council that these men don't know what they are trying to talk about."

Who's Two Faced? This got Alderman Newton going. "I'd just like to say this," he said. "Until just lately Alderman Hilditch has taken the attitude of objection to the engineering department. Well, I may be ignorant, and Alderman Hilditch may be ignorant, but all I can say is this, that there are some members of this council who are either ignorant or two-faced. Alderman Hilditch can take his choice, or both."

Alderman Hilditch's reply to this was to tell Alderman Newton to his face that whoever might be ignorant on the council the engineering department is certainly the best in B. C.

Douglas Gets in His In it at the finish came Alderman Douglas saying gleefully: "Well, I think Alderman Newton is the ignorant one in this case but Alderman Hilditch had his chance to show his ignorance when he couldn't read my writing the other night. (Huge mirth over council board and audience. Even Alderman Newton smiled.)"

Finally with still more perilous politeness than he had yet shown Alderman Morrissey rang down the curtain: "I have the highest opinion possible of Alderman Hilditch's intelligence," he said, "and I must really thank him for his opinion of mine."

The Reorganised Staff According to the report the reorganised staff would be made up as follows: Engineer pro tem, Lucas at $250 per month; Estimator and Inspector, Oakley $150; Assistant Inspector, Parker, $100; Local Overseer of waterworks, sewers, etc., Heward, $125; Overseer of Grading, etc., Miller, $125; Overseer of Retraining walls, culverts, etc., Newcombe, $110; Draughtsman, Simpson, $110; and Accountant and Stenographer Bratt, $100 per month. A total pay roll per month of $1070, and per annum of $12840.

Nelson Board of Trade is Uneasy at the Tedious Work of Conciliation.

Nelson, June 20.—The Nelson Board of Trade at a special meeting last night passed a resolution asking that the attention of the government be at once called to the seriousness of the situation in connection with the coal strike, with a view of preventing any further loss of time by the Board of Conciliation. They asked that should there be any further delay the government would cause the opening of the mines under a guarantee to workers, so that any loss or danger may not be incurred.

Make Position Clear Prince Rupert city council having had its attention called to the issue by "The Prince Rupert Hydro Electric Co." of advertisements in Eastern papers setting forth that they have rights to valuable water powers for the supply to Prince Rupert of electrical power, and apparently indicating that they are also sure of the street car franchises, etc., instructed the clerk last night to communicate with these papers making the position clear. The company is evidently the Tsimpsan Co. with which R. Brutinel is associated.

REAPING THE "WHIRLWIND" Alderman Newton on the Electric Light Plant—His Energy Gets the Better of His Vocabulary.

"Fifty thousand dollars of the citizens' money has been thrown into the junk heap. It is too bad to see city money squandered and city business mismanaged like this. Let us spend a little more money now and get to rock bottom, and have expert opinion on the light plant. Someone in authority on last council bungled, and now we are reaping the whirlwind," (Alderman Newton called it the "worldwind," but he meant the other kind.)

The famous sentence was uttered after Alderman Smith had tried to explain to the Editor Alderman how hard it had been to put together the temporary light plant from odd machinery bought on short notice. In reply to the said sonorous sentence Alderman Smith, explained that probably not even thirty per cent of the $50,000 would be found in material which cannot be used to good purpose in the HyPro-electric scheme.

SMALL DEBTS COURT DISTANT

No Great Encouragement Offered by Mayor to Suggestion that Attorney General Should be Approached.

Efforts on the part of Alderman Kerr, supported by Alderman Newton and backed by Alderman Douglas to have the city take steps to get the Attorney General to establish a Small Debts Court in Prince Rupert fell rather flat at last night's council owing to the discouraging attitude of the Mayor.

Mr. Manson said that he had spoken several times to the Attorney General about this, but Mr. Bowser had pointed out various difficulties in the way. The question of salary of the magistrate who would preside over the court was an obstacle. The court would require all one man's attention, and it would not be worth a lawyer's while to take the work at a salary, or words to this effect.

Alderman Douglas said the matter had been suggested by the Board of Trade two years ago, but nothing had come of it. A small debts court was badly needed in the city. To him it looked as if the Attorney General were trying to protect the legal fraternity in Prince Rupert and afraid to take work out of their hands.

"Oh no, no, it's not that," replied the Mayor hastily. The motion was allowed to stand over meantime.

The children have been preparing themselves for their Coronation Day Song Festival, and tomorrow afternoon between two and three o'clock a full dress rehearsal is to be held at the school. All parents and friends are invited, and the Mayor and members of the city council, and of the clergy will be there too.

Mr. D. G. Stewart, Chairman of the School Board, has taken a personal interest in this along with the energetic teachers who one and all have gone heart and soul into the training of the youngsters to do fitting honor to King, Canada, and credit to their own city and school. Addresses to the children explaining to the little ones the importance and significance of the Coronation ceremony will be given by the best speakers, and the rehearsal is sure to be an enjoyable gathering.
