The conflagration on the Paris followed the virtual destruction of the steamer

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE

Washington Shocked at Death of Congressman Kendall, for Years Pennsylvania Representative

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 9.—Washington was shocked yesterday at news of the suicide of Representative Samuel Austin Kendall, Republican congressman from Pennsylvania for fourteen years, who was found dead in his office with a revolver by his side. He left a message saying that he had been unable to get over the recent death of his wife. Representative Kendall was one of the "lame duck" members of Congress, having been defeated at the November elections, but this defeat is not believed to have influenced him in ending his own life.

Born in Somerset County, Pennsylvania, November 1, 1859, Representative Kendall was 73 years of age. He studied at Mount Union College in Alliance, Ohio, and in 1883 was married to Edith Wiley of Lipscomb, Iowa.

Engaged in the lumber business at Pittsburg since 1890, Representative Kendall was vice-president of the Kendall Lumber Co. of Pittsburg and of the Kendall Lumber Corporation of Roseburg, Ore. He was also prominently identified with the Citizens' National Bank of Myersdale, Penn., and was president of the Alexander and Eastern Railway.

Representative Kendall entered public life in 1899 when he was elected a member of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, holding his seat there for four years. In 1919 he was elected a member of the Sixty-Sixth Congress for the 23rd, Pennsylvania district, holding his seat in Congress until last November when he was defeated in the Democratic landslide which swept the country.

Representative Kendall was a member of the Lutheran Church and a Mason, Knight Templar and Shriner. He had his home at Myersdale, Penn., although his most important interests were at Pittsburg.

Chief M. G. McKay of Kitselas came in on the train Saturday night and is returning home this evening.

Antlantique in the English Channel last week and the loss of the Georges Phillipar in the Red Sea some months ago.

The fire on the Paris broke out in the first class quarters of the vessel through which it spread quickly. However, the flames were discovered soon after the outbreak and in about two hours were completely extinguished before any great damage had been done to the ship.

Since the fire aboard the Antlantique it has been learned that the atmosphere aboard that vessel had been disquieting for some time and that there had been a number of anonymous threats of the ship's destruction.

Communists were blamed by some for the fire on the Georges Phillipar.

The Letter Box

FINAL REPLY TO MR. BASSO-BERT

Editor, Daily News.— I was not so much concerned in criticizing Fascism as in pointing out an error in respect to Marxism as exhibited by Mr. Basso-Bert.

We tried to demolish Marx by twisting his theories upside down and when caught at it took refuge in additional glorification of what he calls "corporative state." "corporative state" is the correct term.

I do not believe that the three million Italian workers who two years ago were known to be in the fascist unions not by their will but by virtue of force have jumped to ten million now and are as enthusiastic about Mussolini as his Sahco-Pancho.

The Italian workers are enjoying fascist freedom insofar as semi-starvation amidst plenty being an achievement of the unpeppery depression plan would enable one to enjoy. The near a million of unemployed in a country predominantly agricultural (what makes this figure proportionately larger) having their purchasing power destroyed of necessity can't be good customers to the small merchants and professionals whose incomes therefore are equally reduced. The increase of taxation to meet the unfavorable trade balance and deficits from near past can't but cause a lot of hardship on all the middle class. So where are the wonderful achievements of Fascism?

The intellectual liberty that was enjoyed by Italians in universities and colleges together with the freedom of the press, public speech, have disappeared with the inauguration of fascist dictatorship. (See articles by Nitti—former premier and scholar of Italy. Current History, last winter). The poisoning of the children's minds by adoration of Mussolini, glorification of war, presentation of history in a manner that would almost amount to deification of fascism and its Duce, suppression of all free discussions on economics of any school not favorable to fascism and perpetual terror of imprisonment to anyone daring to speak what someone may interpret as disrespectful regarding the going regime in their totality constitute an environment of barbarism surpassed only by the inquisition of the dark ages.

Last summer there was a large strike by farm workers in Southern Italy and Sicily eventually forcing the Duce to take a hand and cause an increase in their wages. This proves the necessity of pressure in an economic way to make the Duce remember that workers can stand exploitation only to a certain limit beyond which they would rebel.

Respecting Marconi, or any other scientist, or otherwise law abiding and average type of man, why, I have no objections to offer. But it is different with Mussolini. He was a socialist one time and now is a renegade and this opinion of him is no reflection on the Italian people who are as good as any other. Heroism of Mussolini was revealed when during the march on Rome, he located himself at the northern border ready to jump in case the marchers were routed. It was the betrayal of the Italian Constitution by the regional military commandant who encouraged the marchers instead of carrying out their duty.

His nearest approach to Napoleon is bare rattlings and war speeches with which he was creating a lot of uneasiness in the old world.

Now Mr. Basso-Bert, do not try to misconstrue me. I do not advocate Bolshevism for this country, as you must understand conditions that gave birth to Bolshevism in Russia do not exist here, and, after all, and whether you like it or not, the local economic conditions would determine the destiny of Canada. An let me tell you that I hope we will not see any fascism here. But if there is a choice for me between the black or red shirts I will put on a red one and take the consequences.

Yours for Socialism. M. ANDERSON.

BENNETT IS RIGHT

We are inclined to think that Premier Bennett is right in refusing to finance a deal with Russia by which an exchange of Canadian cattle was proposed to be made for Russian oil. If the exchange is a proper one, there is no need for the state to intervene but, if Russia wishes to sell her oil for cash and get long term credit on the cattle, Mr. Bennett is correct in his refusal to have anything to do with it.

We would do well to trade with Russia or any other country as long as the trading is on a fair basis. Any other kind of trade is obnoxious.

LEADERSHIP EVERYTHING

Leadership seems to be everything in this world. The success of a cause seems to depend upon how well it is led. In Italy there was Mussolini, in Russia, Lenin; in Germany, Hitler focussed attention on the Fascists of that country, and, in Ireland, de Valera enthused a large section of the Irish people.

Thornton Purkis, writing in Saturday Night, remarks that, if Hitler had happened to lead the Communists instead of the Fascists in Germany, there would have been rebellion there.

Premier MacDonald of Britain has been the most aggressive foreign minister the country has had for ages and has given a great impetus to the peaceful settlement of international disputes. In Canada Bennett has led the country to a policy of protection and has been a strong force in bringing about an Empire agreement in regard to fiscal matters. Mackenzie King is organizing and leading a freer trade crusade. Pattullo is unquestioned leader of the groups opposed to the present provincial government and his leadership is everything. Without it Premier Tolmie would stand a good chance of being returned to power after the next election.

Just now Russia has a strong leader but China lacks one. Hindenburg is a leader and is leading in Germany. Since Turkey has had a leader at the helm the country has made wonderful progress. Almost everything depends upon one man. If he is a leader he knows how to choose his lieutenants and there is an absence of friction. May heaven grant us wise and strong leaders in this country!

Banquet, Whist and Dancing Enjoyed

Delightful Affair Staged Saturday Night in Metropole Hall by Lief Erikson Ladies' Club

A very successful banquet was held Saturday night in the Metropole Hall by the Lief Erikson Ladies' Club, friends as well as members of the club being in attendance at the affair.

After the guests had been duly welcomed by the president, Mrs. H. Eriksen, full justice was done to the supper which was served on beautifully decorated tables. An impromptu program was then rendered in the course of which a number of fitting speeches were made.

Following the banquet, a whist drive was enjoyed after which dance-

BADMINTON TOURNAMENT

Prince Rupert Club Beat C. N. R. Yesterday Afternoon

The members of the Prince Rupert Badminton Club were entertained on the courts of the Canadian National Railways Association on Sunday when a series of match games were played, the visitors taking the long end of the play by winning fifteen out of twenty-four events, leaving nine for the railway club.

In the ladies' doubles the visitors took five out of six events; in the mixed doubles they won seven out of twelve and, in the men's doubles, the score was tied, three all.

On the whole the games were keenly contested in a spirit of friendly rivalry and all participants and visiting fans thoroughly enjoyed the play which was climaxed with serving of refreshments by the railway ladies under the capable direction of Mrs. J. H. Horton and Mrs. F. M. Davis.

In order that the schedule laid down could be carried out within the time set the games were limited to fifteen points straight, the best two out of three winning the event. In a few instances, owing to the unfortunate sickness of players at the last minute, players were doubled to complete the schedule. Below are given the individual scores of the opposing teams, using railway scores first in each case:

TWO FILMS ARE SHOWN

"Roar of the Dragon" and "Divorce in the Family" at Capitol Theatre

The Capitol Theatre has booked two excellent pictures for a double-feature bill which is being presented at the first of this week. One is "Roar of the Dragon," starring the virile Richard Dix and Gwili Andre, famous Danish beauty from Copenhagen, who makes her screen debut in the film. The other is "Divorce in the Family," in which such popular stars as the youthful Jackie Cooper, Conrad Nagel, Lewis Stone and Lois Wilson are seen.

"Roar of the Dragon" is a stirring spectacle of the Far East which reflects a vivid panorama of the hazardous Russian-North China frontier. Miss Gwili is seen as a Russian noblewoman, one of the pathetic patriots who have haunted the towns of North China since the Red Revolution. The picture, which unfolds the tale of the experiences of a group of Occidental refugees in a small town, is said to be as graphic as a newsreel in its details of present chaotic conditions in China. Dix depicts a hard-boiled American riverboat captain who is involved in a romance with Miss Gwili.

"Divorce in the Family" is a vivid drama of divorce and its effect upon children of disrupted families. Jackie Cooper plays the part of a little boy who, through his mother's divorce and remarriage, is in the care of a misunderstanding stepfather. There are many pathetic and dramatic as well as comedy moments. Lois Wilson plays the part of the mother; Lewis Stone, the "real" father, and Conrad Nagel, the "new" father.

On her way from Vancouver to Prince Rupert via the Queen Charlotte Islands, C. N. R. Steamer Prince John, Capt. Dan McKinnon, passed Dead Tree Point at 11:15 this morning enroute to Massett after having made her calls in Skidegate Inlet. The vessel should arrive here by tomorrow evening.

Miss C. H. Langenhahn, Millon, Sask., writes:—"My face was covered with pimples, and I hated to be seen by anyone, as I was a dreadful sight. I got no relief until a friend, who had had the same trouble, told me to use Burdock Blood Bitters, and after I had taken two bottles I am happy to say my face is all cleared of the pimples."
