Minister of Trade and Commerce Says General Conditions Are Better

Arrives in Vancouver to Welcome Delegates to Pacific Science Congress—Will Meet Executive of British Columbia Conservative Association

VANCOUVER, June 5: (Canadian Press)—There is a definite trend toward an improvement in general conditions, Hon. H. H. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce, stated this morning on his arrival from Ottawa to welcome the Pacific Science Congress, which is now in session here, on behalf of the federal government.

SCIENTISTS IN SESSION

Representatives From All Parts of World in Attendance at Gathering in Vancouver

Many Speakers

Wide Variety of Subjects—Victoria-Nanaimo-Vancouver Cruise

VICTORIA, June 5 (Canadian Press)—With two hundred delegates present representing all parts of the world, the fifth Pacific Science Congress is now in session here and will continue for ten days. Having been officially opened by Hon. J. W. Fordham-Johnson, Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia, at Victoria, last Thursday, the convention transferred its sessions to Vancouver today. The delegates travelled from Victoria to Vancouver yesterday on a special voyage of the steamer Princess Louise via Nanaimo where a visit was paid to the Biological Station.

Dr. H. M. Tory, president of the Research Council of Canada, is presiding over the convention and was the principal speaker at the opening session.

Principal Speakers
Principal speakers at the Victoria sessions of the Congress were Dr. C. W. Howe, dean of the faculty of forestry of the University of Toronto, and Dr. E. C. Sherrard, principal chemist of the United States Department of Agriculture laboratory at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis.

Forestry research in Canada has been grifting without a clearly discerned goal, without organization and without a unified driving force, Dr. Howe charged. It was, he said, far behind other research efforts in Canada and "unless the situation is improved soon, we shall be hopelessly in the rear."

In Vancouver
Dr. H. L. Shapire of the American Museum of Natural History, New York City, told the Congress at the session here today that North American Indians and the Eskimo have a common origin. Many hundreds of years ago Bering Sea was crossed by adventure. (Continued on page three) attention is being paid to the New York stock market in judging the state of business," declared the minister. "The thing to gauge this by is commodity prices and, in this connection, things look promising." Mr. Stevens will spend the next few days on the coast and on Saturday will meet the executive of the British Columbia Conservative Association at Victoria.

Capt. and Mrs. Mollison Prepared To Take Off Today if Weather Was Suitable

Long Flight

British Flying Pair Essay Trip Which Has Never Before Been Attempted

LONDON, June 5 (Canadian Press)—Everything was in readiness for the trans-Atlantic flight of himself and Mrs. Mollison to New York, said James A. Mollison, British flying ace, today but he feared that the weather would be unsuitable for a start and that he would have to postpone the take-off from today.

"Our chances of making the flight are ten to seven," Mollison said. "If we get through it will be our last distance flight. We can't continue to gamble with our luck indefinitely."

The Mollisons are to attempt a flight which has never previously been essayed, namely from Croydon to New York, where they plan to rest one full day, then hopping off back across the Atlantic Ocean to Bagdad and back to Croydon, twelve thousand miles in all. Their original plan was to hop off at noon today.

It is planned to make the flight in the two-engined plane "Seafarer" which the flying couple tested last Wednesday in a flight during which they circled south-eastern England.

Gratifying Resumption of Activity in Prince George District Reported

Considerable resumption of activity in the sawmilling industry in the Prince George district is reported by Harold McEwen, C. N. R. district freight and passenger agent, who recently paid a visit there.

Mr. McEwen reports that sawmilling operations have been resumed at the plant of the Eagle Lake Sawmills Ltd. which has been closed down for three years. The planing mill had been run spasmodically in the meantime.

Gale & Trick have resumed cutting at Hansard in a smaller mill replacing one which was destroyed by fire some time ago.

The Fraser Lake sawmill at Fraser Lake is also cutting again after a suspension of several years.

OVERCOMING HANDICAPS

Editor, Daily News:— Allow me a brief comment on your editorial "Overcome Handicap." That line of thought is very appropriate and to the point for those who are in business and are in a position to do something, for those who are in possession of the means of production and do not go the limit of their possibility. It is in line with the thoughts expressed by our commissioner. We must capitalize and exploit all our assets. It is our first duty. But what about the great mass of our unemployed?

To expect that things will right themselves automatically is just a dream. If things are on the mend it is due to the action of Roosevelt. To expect that the little individual action is sufficient to break the vicious circle of unemployment which is our greatest problem is fallacious.

As matters stand today, only the concerted action of the Dominion and the co-operation of all the classes can bring a change. Trade with the outside world is the salvation of Canada. Inter-Dominion trade only is insufficient and also economically dangerous for Canada. The little expedients of the past are inadequate to cope with the present situation.

What is necessary is to think in terms of national co-operation. Only by the pooling of all the spiritual and material resources of the country can this situation be overcome.

The immediate requirements are:

1. An aggressive policy of public works to give employment at a decent wage, not only to single and unskilled labor, but to all labor. Public works will stimulate production and create no surplus of goods. They will restore the purchasing power of the masses that, in turn, will eventually create a consumption of goods and restore the economic balance.
2. Reduce the interest of money to suit the present conditions.
3. Immediate negotiation of a reciprocity treaty with the United States to enable Western Canada to dispose of its products on the nearest and most natural market. We in the west must realize the fact that we are exploited and sacrificed to the big interests of the east.
4. The creation of a technological advisory board to study all questions pertaining to national economy.

Mr. Editor, the duty of the government is to see that the citizens of the Dominion do not live exclusively for the benefit of a few privileged interests. It is high time that economic freedom was bestowed on a great mass of citizens that have been deprived of it for years. It is time to realize that political enfranchisement without economic security is detrimental to social and political stability. Equal duties, yes, but also equal economic rights are necessary.

SOLID MAN IN SPORTS

Late William Muldoon Important Factor in Development of Modern Boxing Rules

Fought Rickard

Responsible For Tunney Getting His Title Chance—Once Was Wrestling Champion

William Muldoon, whose death occurred on Saturday at Purchase, New York, was a link binding the earliest days of Marquis of Queensbury boxing with the present. He became known as the "solid man" of sport by his leadership of the New York State Athletic Commission, one of the most powerful regulating organizations in the boxing world.

He was appointed to the commission in 1921, when boxing became legal again in the state under the Walker law, and he served with an iron hand, several times as chairman, always a dominating factor, for more than a dozen years.

A big man, proud of his years and still almost as mighty as in the days when he ruled as world Greco-Roman wrestling champion, Muldoon was a strict disciplinarian. He wrote the rules of the commission, now copied in almost every state where boxing is legal; he forced fighters, managers and promoters to stay within the code and fought many a heated battle with the late Tex Rickard when that promoter was building a monopoly for Madison Square Garden.

He stood as a rock against Rickard's efforts to promote a match between Jack Dempsey and the negro, Harry Wills, in 1925, and was instrumental in forcing the promoter to give Gene Tunney his title chance. His friendship for Tunney, and the encouragement he gave the young fighter, prompted Gene to set up the "Muldoon-Tunney" heavyweight trophy when, in 1928, he retired as the undefeated champion.

Muldoon's remarkable health did not fail until 1931, when he was 86 years old, and then it took a fall from a horse on his 600-acre "health farm" at Purchase, N.Y., to lay him low. He never fully recovered from an arm injury that paralyzed the nerves.

In April, 1932, Muldoon, who never married, announced that he had adopted his secretary, Miss Margaret Farrell, who was 45 years old, and had named her heir to his estate, estimated then at more than $1,000,000 in value.

Aside from his outstanding work on the boxing commission, Muldoon was known as the originator of the "health farm" idea whereby business and professional men were put through hard physical routine in the open to overcome the effects of sedentary pursuits. Muldoon's establishment attracted some of the most prominent men in the country, among them two presidents—Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft.

Muldoon was a farmer's son, born at Belfast, N.Y., May 25, 1845. When Lincoln called the north to arms, Muldoon went as a drummer boy. After the war he worked at a variety of humble occupations in New York, then got an appointment to the police force.

There his wrestling talent came to the front. He became physical instructor of the force and director of its gymnasium, then branched out into professional wrestling. He disposed of all Greco-Roman aspirants in this country, one of his matches going seven hours, claimed the world championship and made the claim good by invading distant lands, including Japan, and defeating all who disputed his supremacy.

He retired as undefeated titleholder, then added to his fame by taming John L. Sullivan and training "the Boston strong boy" for the latter's victorious bout with Jake Kilrain. Out of this experience grew the health farm idea, friendship with noted men, riches and finally his place on the New York boxing commission.

HIGH WINS FROM BOOTH

King Edward High School inflicted the first defeat of the spring schedule of the Junior Football League on Saturday on Booth Memorial School when it won by four goals to one. There was very little to choose between the teams but High was better at taking advantage of its chances and, while two goals were of the lucky type, it was value for a win.

Gay was called on to save a long shot from Currie and Lindsay took a couple of corners that were cleared with difficulty. Then Booth attacked and MacDonald put the side one up with a shot from close in. In a minute Gay had to go down to stop a dangerous one and then slackness on the Booth defence gave Shrubball an easy chance to convert Currie's long centre. Play continued very interesting with Naylor and Ritchie prominent for High and Eby and Matsumoto used for Booth. Campbell got a neat goal from Lindsay's centre and, shortly after, Lindsay added a third when the ball should have been easily cleared by Nelson.

The second half was very evenly contested. McMeekin crossed two fine centres and then Lindsay had a couple of chances at the other end. Cameron's centre just missed the upright with the High defence well beaten. MacDonald went close and Annesley had to save from McMeekin. Booth was value for another goal but Alf Ritchie and Colussi were very sound at back. Gay fisted away a shot from Currie and then Campbell, with an overhead shot, found the corner to give High its last goal.

J. Johnstone refereed and G. Krause and G. Munro were linesmen.

High—Annesley; Colussi, A. Ritchie; Currie, Naylor, Edgar, Lindsay, Johnson, Campbell, Shrubball, Davies.

Booth—Gay, Nelson, Bob Ritchie; Matsumoto, Eby, McGreish; Cameron, Grinble, MacDonald, McLeod, McMeekin.

High was best served by Ritchie, Colussi, Naylor, Currie, Lindsay, Johnson and Campbell. For Booth Gay, Ritchie, Eby, Matsumoto and McMeekin were good.

The league standing so far is as follows:

	W	D	L	F	A	P
Booth	4	0	1	8	5	8
High	3	0	2	13	4	6
Borden	0	0	4	2	14	0

SOFTBALL EXCITING

Three Games Played Between Rain Showers Yesterday

Softball on Sunday proved very exciting three games being played. Luckily, Canadian National Recreation Association won the first game from the Kaiens with the close score of 2 to 1. The Grotto won the second game from the Empress 4-0, and lost the third game to the Kaiens with a score of 3 to 5, as a result of a fielding blow-up in one inning.

Antonelli, playing centre field for the Empress, turned in a good game as also did Santurbane, third baseman for the Kaiens.

BOXING FOR UNEMPLOYED

Interesting Card Staged Under Labor Defence League Auspices

A display of boxing, held in the Canadian Labor Defence League Hall last Friday evening was well patronized by devotees of the cauliflower art. Several events preceded the main bout and the talent displayed showed great promise and the trainers deserve credit.

Donald Montgomery and Robert Woods, both age 17 years, weight 80 pounds, were first on the program. Woods was the more aggressive and made it interesting for his opponent.

Charles Ormiston and Billy Remo, age 13, weight 85 pounds, put on three lively one-minute rounds, finishing up full of fight.

Shane Murray and Severend Dominato, 15 years, 100 pounds, were fairly evenly matched in a three one-minute round fight. Dominato had the advantage of height, but Murray set the pace and the bell at the end of the last marked the climax to a round of unparalleled ferocity.

Pete Chenoski and Darrow Gomez, 19 years, weight 125 pounds, mixed it up for three rounds of two minutes each. Gomez fell through the ropes in the first round but was back in the ring. Clinches were numerous and the referee was kept busy. Both parties got equal punishment and were full of pep to the finish.

A barrel fight provoked considerable amusement, Battle-Axe Murphy getting the decision over Kill-em-Dead Jones. This was more a game of chance than skill, the winner upsetting his opponent three times.

The blind-fold fight was a battle royal and the referee was kept busy eliminating the vanquished as soon as they hit the canvas. There were five contestants—Billy Rama, Chane Murray, S. Currie, Ralph Smith and C. Evans.

G. Swenson and C. Evans, from the grain ship "Sacramento Valley," staged an exhibition bout of English boxing which was a novelty to most in the audience and was highly appreciated. The fight started slow but gained in intensity towards the end. Evans was considerably over-lowered by Swenson but both were keen.

Nina Gurvich (150 pounds) and George Howe (155 pounds) went in the ring for the main bout of the evening in four two-minute rounds. Both were in good form and were about equally matched. The end of

Owing to the cold and showery weather, the opening of the baseball season has been postponed from to when Elks and Sons of Canada will tangle in the first of their nine-game series for possession of the Orme Cup, which is emblematic of city league championship.

Pete Laporte was a capable referee and A. Rushford was promoter and manager. Ring paraphernalia, gloves, etc. were contributed by Nina Gurvich, Owen Fisher and Roy Barnes of the O. K. Barber Shop. Proceeds went to the unemployed.

CROWNING OF QUEEN

Thousand Persons Attended Colorful Ceremony in Exhibition Hall Saturday Night

Highly successful and enjoyable were the dance and other festivities at the Exhibition Hall Saturday night in connection with the crowning of Miss Lydia Pettenuzo of Annapolis as Queen of the May for 1933 in Prince Rupert. No less than five hundred adults were present and as many more children. The attendance was actually a good deal larger than last year.

Of course, the feature of the proceedings was the crowning of Miss Pettenuzo as Queen of the May by last year's Queen, Miss Lillian Johnson, the ceremony being, as usual, colorful and attractive. George Mitchell, exalted ruler of the Elks Lodge, was chairman and the speakers of the evening were City Commissioner W. J. Alder and Very Rev. James B. Gibson.

Taking part in the court ceremonies, all being beautifully costumed, were the following:
May Queen—Miss Lydia Pettenuzo.

Maid of Honor—Misses Mickey Casey and Rosie Smith.
Past Queen—Miss Lillian Johnson.

Past Maid of Honor—Miss Alice Hallberg.

Flower Girls—Misses Charlotte Balagno, Pearl Menzies, Eleanor Clapp and Betty Miller.
Trainbearers—Misses Fay Ingram and Helen Balagno.

Pianist—Miss Marie Balagno.
There were dancing numbers by Misses Aileen Mair, Betty Brown, Clara Dahl, Margaret Smith, Kathleen Murray, Vera Morse, Joyce Gawthorne and Marie Boulter, pupils of Miss Eleanor Tite, with Mrs. J. S. Black acting as accompanist.
Music for the public dancing which followed was by Balagno's orchestra.

In the drawing for a round trip to Vancouver or $25 in cash the prize-winner was Copley Bennett, the lucky ticket being drawn by the May Queen.

Prior to the crowning ceremony, there was a parade from the Elks' Home to the Exhibition Hall in which the court, Boys' Band, Sea Cadets, Girl Guides, Boy Scouts, Elks' patrol team and many children participated.

The flag-raising ceremony, distribution of free peanuts and ice cream and sports program, postponed from last Saturday on account of unfavorable weather, will take place next Saturday afternoon. It is announced, with a dance in the evening in the Elks' Home when presentation of certain sports prizes will be made.

J. D. Forsythe, Vancouver auditor who is here in connection with the affairs of the Big Bay Lumber Co., which is closing up its sawmill here, arrived on Saturday from the south.

DRAMATIC FILM HERE

Emotional Conflict Featured in "Bill of Divorcement"

A conflict between the urgings of love and the call of duty is the underlying dramatic theme of "A Bill of Divorcement," first of this week picture at the Capitol Theatre.

John Barrymore, in the starring role, is supported by the beautiful Billie Burke and by an exotic newcomer to the screen, Katharine Hepburn. Other players of prominence share cast honors, among them Paul Cavanagh, one of the most popular of the younger romantic leading men. David Manners, Henry Stephenson, Elizabeth Patterson and George Evers are included in the cast.

ROAST LION IS LATEST

Parisians Find Meat Tender as Veal and Flavor Delicate as Venison

PARIS, June 5: (CP)—Roast lion was served at a banquet in Paris arranged by the managing committee of the Gingerbread Fair, which has been running for some time, and the guests at the "lion feed" included several town councillors, journalists, actors and circus performers.

The lion in question was not a victim of big game hunting in Africa. He was Sultan, the blind lion of a well known French menagerie. As the oculists who had been consulted were unable to restore the animal's sight, his owner decided to destroy him. The execution was performed gently in the presence of a member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. For two days the lion's carcass, with a piece of parsley in his royal mouth, adorned a butcher's window. One of the guests who took part in the feast declared the lion's meat was as white and tender as veal, and that it had a delicate flavor of venison.
