American Federation For General Strike If It Is Necessary

William Green Insists That Working Hours Must be Reduced—Either Question of Dole, Universal Strike or Legislative Action

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6: (Canadian Press)—Organized labor will favor a general strike if necessary to bring about universal adoption of a shorter working week, declared William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, today in advocating a bill of Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, to establish a five-day week and six-hour day in all manufacturing industries.

The Federation of Labor had created considerable surprise among members of the Senate judiciary sub-committee yesterday when he said it was either a question of a dole, a universal strike or legislative action to bring about shorter working time in order to provide employment for all.

CANDIDATES VERY SHY

Only Two Announcements so Far And Nominations Take Place Monday

Although nominations take place Monday there are only two definite announcements in regard to candidates for the civic elections. No one is yet definitely in the field for mayor although mention is still being made of Ald. Theo Collart, M. P. McCaffery and John Mitchell, any of whom it is claimed would be eminently suited for the position. However, there is a possibility that more than one candidate may be in the field.

Four aldermanic positions have to be filled and three school trustees.

The move on behalf of local citizens to have a commissioner appointed is now in the hands of the lawyers and it is understood will come before a supreme court judge at an early date. There is a likelihood that it will be opposed. In any event a mayor and council will be needed to function until the government makes the appointment of a commissioner, possibly a month from now.

In the event of no candidates presenting themselves the present mayor and council has the power to make appointments so that the business of the city may be carried on.

The proposed amendment, to be adopted in the constitution, must be approved by two-thirds of the House and Senate and three-quarters of the States of the Union, namely thirty-six. It would not require presidential signature.

In addition to repealing the Eighteenth Amendment, the new amendment provides for the protection of states with dry legislation, transportation of liquor through them being prohibited.

Senate leaders expect favorable action by the Senate on the new amendment.

IS KILLED AT ANYOX

William Hindmarsh, Aged 24, Loses His Life as Result of Explosion In Concentrator

Provincial police headquarters here have been advised of the death in the Anyox General Hospital at 3:45 a.m. on Tuesday of this week of William Hindmarsh, aged 24, as a result of an explosion of dynamite in the crusher plant at the smelter town on the evening of the day previous when he lost both his legs. The body passed through the city last evening on the steamer Prince Rupert enroute to Vancouver where deceased's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hindmarsh, reside and where interment will take place.

A coroner's jury at Anyox consisting of John Anderson, foreman, Sid Peters, William McArthur, Percy Levay, Walter Jones and Peter Wishart returned a verdict that young Hindmarsh's death was as a result of shock and loss of blood caused by the loss of both his legs in the explosion. According to all the evidence, Hindmarsh stumbled and dropped the dynamite which he was carrying in the plant and the explosion resulted. The jury found that both the dynamite and detonating caps were kept in a safe place at a safe distance from the concentrator and that no negligence could be attached to the company or its employees.

Hindmarsh was born in England in 1908. His parents reside at 3702 West Tenth Avenue, Vancouver.

CALVIN COOLIDGE

Calvin Coolidge was one of those men who became president by chance. He was elected vice-president and would naturally have been shelved on retirement from office had it not been for the untimely death of President Harding. That put him in the chief executive office and he made good there. He faithfully carried out the Republican policies and was usually known as a strong silent man. However, he was not so silent that after having been re-elected and served out his second term he quietly announced when approached regarding a third term: "I do not choose to run for president in 1928." Perhaps he is better known for that unusual statement than for anything that he did. He had made a place for himself and he knew it but he was wise enough to retire at the right time.

IRISH ELECTION

By dissolving the Dail Eireann on a minor question of work and wages President de Valera seems to have stolen a march on the Cosgrove party in the Irish Free State where an election is to be held January 24. In spite of this move it is expected that the chief issue between the parties will be the economic relations with Great Britain. At present a great many people are suffering because of the tariff barrier set up against Irish products imported into Britain as a means of collecting monies claimed to be due them. The Cosgrove party would settle the differences and secure a resumption of former trading conditions.

Great interest will be taken in this country in the result of the election because it has a direct bearing on the future harmony of integral parts of the Empire.

SALVATION ARMY THANKS DONORS TO XMAS FUND

Editor, Daily News:— Will you kindly permit me, through the columns of your paper, to express our gratitude to all who in any way contributed to the distribution of Christmas cheer hampers, etc. to the needy of the community.

The kindly courtesies and enthusiastic co-operation of Rev. C. D. Clarke, Col. McMordie, S. E. Parker, Verge Moore and yourself are extremely gratifying inasmuch as the beneficent service thus rendered very materially assisted in the bringing of good cheer to those who otherwise would not have enjoyed the material gladness of the festive season.

I have much pleasure in expressing the thanks of the recipients of hampers, etc. and the Salvation Army to those who so generously united in this expression of friendly and sympathetic interest and brotherliness.

Yours to serve, RUBY M. STEELE, Captain.

MR. BASSO-BERT ANSWERS MR. ANDERSON

Editor, Daily News:— After a careful perusal of what Mr. Anderson thinks to be a fair criticism of my articles on the corporative state, I am sorry to say that he did not even individualize the object of his criticism, the fact and object of the fascist revolution—the creation of a corporative state which has succeeded the old idea of socialism. He criticizes, instead, the method of the fascist revolution in achieving its aim.

Instead of losing time to revive and try to interpret the bible of Marxism and its fossilized verses, the interests of the working classes could better be served by a closer study of the corporative state and its wonderful legislation all in the interests of the masses.

The working classes of Italy enjoy the greatest freedom in the world, because Italy has enacted the most advanced social legislation. In Italy there is no freedom for the industrial feudal lords, for the exploiter of all sorts of monopolies. The monopolies of social exploitation were snatched from them by Fascism. No freedom is given the great trusts, because such trusts are operated by the state for the benefit of the nation.

To make this matter clear we must first of all concentrate our minds on the formation of the corporative state, where the classes are brought together to co-operate for their interests and the welfare of the nation, where parliament has its source together with the council of the corporations, where all the problems pertaining to labor and capital are discussed and settled or subjected to arbitration. The structure of Fascism is the corporative state. The ten millions of organized labor in Italy together with their employers are the base of the corporative structure. The trunk of the pyramid is the state and on top of it there is the pilot, the premier of the nation. No special privileges are reserved for any class. The supreme idea is to do away with and to supercede the struggle of the classes and bring about social justice and peace for all.

Fascist Italy has proclaimed and practised with marvellous success a principle of universal character—the corporative principle—thanks to which the strike was abolished ten years ago, by the introduction of compulsory arbitration. Humanity has in the corporative principle a great asset brought about by industrial civilization. It is the most up-to-date principle of administration extended to the science of government.

The working classes have in the corporative principle an instrument to solve the social problems. Fascism with its structure, the corporative state and corporative economy, is the greatest crusade against selfishness, greed, and human exploitation. Capital is chained to perform its social function in co-operation with organized labor.

Think of the ten millions of organized workers of Italy and their best intellects in forcible co-operation with their employers! Can such a government be accused of ruling on behalf of capitalism? Such a statement is ridiculous and absurd. Let us be fair. Ten millions of organized workers will stand for nothing else but justice for all.

Yes, to have framed a social structure such as the corporative state, and have maintained private initiative looks like the age-long problem of squaring the circle. Private initiative cannot and must not be abolished. It would kill progress. The individual qualities of men are essential to human progress. Bolshevism has tried to abolish it, but failed to make it work.

To try to revive Marxism is like trying to open a modern safe with the massive keys that one sees in the museums of Pompeii. As to the youth of Fascism, complained by Mr. Anderson, we can mention that Napoleon I was twenty-eight when he started his first Italian campaign 1797-8.

Marconi launched his first wireless signal across the Atlantic when he was not thirty. Mussolini captured the reigns of power when thirty-nine. The idea of the corporative state was studied and elaborated by a commission appointed by him called the eight Solons, composed of prominent jurists, economists, technicians, presided over by Prof. Giovanni Gentile, the philosopher of Fascism.

It is unfortunately true that Italy was in a state of chaos before Fascism assumed power. From 1919 to 1922, 3,700 men wearing black

Canadian Legion, Seal Cove, Grotto, Swift's and Empress were winners last night when opening games of the second half of the Fraternal Whist League season were played with results as follows: Fish Packers, 2; Canadian Legion, 7.

Two Postponed Games Holding Billiards Up

Owing to the recent illness of Owen Fisher, two postponed games remain to be played before the first half of the Junior Billiard League schedule is completed. In one game, Mr. Fisher, who plays for the Empress, is to meet Alex Strachan of Lee Canadiens, this game having been postponed from December 6. In the other, Mr. Fisher is to play S. Jurman of the Jewelers in a game postponed from December 13. Both games are expected to be played off in a day or so.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

In the senior high school basketball fixture, the Pals downed the Rockets after a ding-dong struggle yesterday by a 26 to 19 score. This marks the third straight victory for the Pals and they have yet to lose a game. The play in the first half was very even but the Rockets scored two baskets before they received a reply from the Pals. Half time score was 13-11 for the Rockets.

The Pals started a fast pace in the second half and soon overcame the lead held by their speedy opponents. Moxley, who was doing the majority of the scoring for the Rockets, was held to one basket in the second canto. The Midgets eked out an 18-16 victory after an overtime tilt in the junior division. The Aces tried hard but could not score the tying point and consequently went down before the Midgets.

shirts were slain, in order to save the country from the ravages of Bolshevism.

Castor Oil Castor oil? yes, that before 1922 was administered by order of Mussolini. In the early days of the Fascist revolution the sacrifice of human lives was taking such proportion that Mussolini ordered his black shirts to act only on self defence, giving instead plenty of castor oil to the Communists. That would purify their ideas and save their lives. For four years, 1922 to 1926, I lived in Turin and know that my statements are absolutely true.

The dictatorship? Mussolini, after the revolution was about to perform a serious historical operation. Quietness and absolute calmness was necessary, while the new social order was being prepared. The constitution was suspended. In 1926 all the Fascist laws were enforced. Since that date dictatorship in Italy is past history. Il Duce is the premier of Italy only.

The corporative state is a new unique outstanding historic fact with no points of reference.

CHAMPION TEAM

Editor, Daily News: We wish to give the following information, to elucidate a point which may not be understood by the basketball fans. The holders of N.B.C. basketball title, the Young People's Educational Ass., is a distinct organization by itself and has no connection whatever with any club or unit that might exist in Port Simpson. Their team is composed of its own members and is not an aggregation of players from this village.

This organization has won the championship of this part of the province on its own merit and has successfully defended its title in the last four consecutive years upon these merits: The Y. P. E. A. has declared that any team or teams purporting to represent Port Simpson in any game other than their organization shall not affect their status in respect to the basketball title whatsoever.

We are respectfully yours, W. E. KELLY, Sec., Young People's Educational Ass., Port Simpson, B.C.

Workless Have First Meeting

Large Attendance at Initial Gathering of New Year—Many Speakers Heard

The first meeting of the year of the National Unemployed Workers' Association was well attended, many speakers taking part in the discussion demanding a permanent increase in relief for 1933. The unemployed had been patient in the past hoping for better times but many had now given up hope of ever seeing better times again. One speaker declared that new societies were springing up the world over to mislead the workers and workless and warned the audience to be on guard against such opportunists.

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.

Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.

Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

REV. CLARKE IS SPEAKER

Universal Week of Prayer Meeting In First Presbyterian Church

First Presbyterian Church was comfortably filled last evening, the occasion being the third meeting of four being held in connection with the Universal Week of Prayer. Devotions were conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. D. Grant Hollingsworth, assisted by Rev. Dr. F. W. Daffoe.

Rev. C. D. Clarke of First United Church preached on "Christian Citizenship," stressing the responsibility of Christians in the present world order. Painting an accurate picture of prevalent conditions, the speaker emphasized the need of Christians discovering afresh the life and teachings of Jesus and applying them to present-day problems. "There is no other sure way out," he declared.

The final meeting in the series will be held tonight in First Baptist Church when Dean Gibson will preach upon "Christian Fellowship."

FUNERAL AT HOME

ing was decreed by President Hoover.

The United States capital mourned the former president today in such sorrow that it remained shaken out of its routine and slow to take up the threads of ordinary affairs.

President Herbert Hoover, his cabinet and chosen members of Congress have made preparations to go to Northampton tomorrow for Mr. Coolidge's funeral.

Countless public buildings with their half-staffed flags indicated the mourning period declared by President Hoover.

Although the death of President Coolidge removed the last surviving former president, six widows of chief executives are still living. They are the widows of Presidents Harrison, Cleveland, Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson and Coolidge.

Seattle's Tribute

SEATTLE, Jan. 6.—Flags of all Seattle public buildings were lowered to half-staff yesterday on receipt of the news of the death of former President Calvin Coolidge. A memorial meeting out of respect to the memory of the former chief executive is being arranged for next Thursday. Mr. Coolidge paid his last visit to Seattle in 1922 on his way east after attending a convention of the American Bar Association in California.

'Lozanne' Music Is Very Popular

New Song "Dark Haired Marie" is Taking Old Country by Storm; On Screen and Radio

Lozanne recently accompanied Titterton, "The Caruso of England," when he sang this song at Park Lane, London.

FISHERIES WORK DONE AT STATION

Experiments Conducted by Staff of Scientists are Beginning to Bring Good Results

By blending pilchard oil with oil from the livers of dogfish or sharks an oil has been secured containing all the vitamin potency of cod liver oil and at about half the expense. This oil has been named "Marinol" and it is expected it will be largely used for human consumption, according to H. N. Brocklesby, associate chemist at the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station, who addressed the Rotary Club yesterday on the work of the station here during the past year.

Mr. Brocklesby also told how a cooking fat equal in all respects to Crisco has been manufactured out of fish oil which it was thought would prove a valuable food product and would provide a valuable outlet for fish oils. This fat is now being demonstrated at Vancouver and good results are expected.

The station has been studying the process of decay in fish and the chemical reactions with the result that today the scientists can open a can of salmon and, by analyzing a spoonful of the oil at the top, can tell how long the fish was out of water before it was canned, what variety of fish it was and whether it was caught in the Skeena or Fraser watersheds. The breaking up of the fats has given a clue to the breaking up of the proteins. It has been found that the fish commenced to change chemically just as soon as taken out of the water, although the change is delayed by keeping the fish in ice.

Experiments have been conducted in connection with gold storage problems, particularly in connection with the drying out of fish, which is the chief cause of deterioration of frozen fish foods. Railway refrigeration and transportation is also being dealt with and a model car has been built at the station for the purpose of testing new methods of refrigeration.

One important result of tests made at the station on canned salmon has been the proof that canned salmon contains the vitamin D which is essential to growth and which makes it an excellent food for growing children. It has also been shown that there is just as much vitamin in the lower grades of salmon as in the expensive sockeye.

Mr. Brocklesby explained that a great deal of time had to be spent at first in getting basic information which was being used now in carrying out further experiments.

While the local station has suffered from cutting of government grants yet it has been found possible by stringent economy to carry on all the work laid out. The investigations have all been with a view to helping the fishing industry as in the case of the marketing of the halibut livers which brought the fishermen of Prince Rupert during the year the sum of $25,500.

At the close the speaker was thanked by Paul Armour, who presided in the absence of George Woodland, the president, who was absent from the city.

COMEDY IS PRESENTED

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey in Uproarious Football Farce at Capitol Theatre Here

An entire prison is given a collegiate air with bands, cheering sections and an enthusiastic alumni with quaint and original methods of obtaining new gridiron talent in the comedy farce "Hold 'em Jail," starring Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, which is the week-end feature offering on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here. Edna May Oliver and Roscoe Ates also have important parts in the laugh riot.

The vehicle is a happy selection for Wheeler and Woolsey. The picture is delightful nonsense of the type to which this comedy team is best suited. Wheeler and Woolsey land in Bidmore penitentiary when they boast of their imaginary football prowess in a tough dive where the scouts for Bidmore are looking for talent. The action and dialogue races through the field of slapstick. Then, of course, there is the big game scene in which the pair have ample scope for their antics.

Many famous all-American football stars appear in the picture.

The party came here to clear the customs and left early this morning for Ketchikan in the gasboat Lincoln.
