BACK FROM WALES ID.

Police Boat Found All Well at Cannery Point Although Supplies Were Running Low

Reporting all well at the Portland Canal cannery point of Wales Island whither she had been sent north last Friday after the people there had been out of communication for three weeks, it having been impossible through stress of weather for the weekly gasboat trip to be made from there to Port Simpson for supplies, the provincial police boat P. M. L. 8 returned about 4:30 Saturday afternoon from a re-lier trip north. On the way to Wales Island, the P. M. L. 8 called in at Port Simpson and picked up Christmas mail and supplies. Rough weather made it impossible for the police boat to land at Wales Island Friday night but on Saturday she was able to get in and was a welcome visitor in view of the fact that food supplies were running low and also that she brought in the Christmas mail. All the Wales Island folk were found to be in good health. The steamer Catala called at Wales Island early this morning on her way in to Prince Rupert from Stewart. It was a regularly scheduled stop, the vessel having been unable to make the call there two weeks ago on account of weather conditions and leaving the Christmas mail at Port Simpson to be picked up later by a small boat and delivered to its destination.

IS MOVING TO PRAIRIE

Harold McEwen Transferred in Service of Canadian National Railways

Announcement is made of the transfer of Harold McEwen, district freight and passenger agent for the Canadian National Railways here, to a prairie point in the capacity of district freight agent. The transfer is effective as from January 1 and Mr. McEwen will be leaving here soon after that date to assume his new duties.

Mr. McEwen came to Prince Rupert in 1919 as chief clerk to G. A. McNicholl, then assistant general freight and passenger agent here. On Mr. McNicholl going to Vancouver in 1923 as general freight and passenger agent, Mr. McEwen became divisional freight agent here and about three years ago his duties were expanded to those of divisional and later district freight and passenger agent. He has been a popular, courteous and efficient official and his departure will be a matter of general regret.

Mr. McEwen's successor here will be Peter Lakie, chief clerk to J. M. Macrae, general freight agent at Vancouver.

IMPERIAL BROADCAST

Messages of King and Dominion Premiers Heard Over Air on Christmas Morning

Many local radio listeners were up early on Christmas morning to hear the special Empire broadcast, which started from London with the pealing of the bells of Big Ben at the Houses of Parliament and culminated with a brief Christmas message to the Empire by King George who spoke from Sandringham Palace.

Christmas messages from the Premiers of the various Dominions, including Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada, were heard.

There was special choral music from Westminster Abbey, also by Welsh singers.

People residing near the Northern B. C. Power Co.'s main transmission line reported a rather annoying hum which seriously affected some parts of the broadcast, residents in the extreme ends of the city, however, reporting reception conditions quite satisfactory.

The broadcast commenced about 6 a.m. and concluded soon after 7 o'clock. It was not on as ambitious lines as a year ago.

The broadcast was repeated by electrical transcription last night.

DROWNS AT DODGE COVE

Nick Neilson, Aged 51, Victim of Christmas Eve Tragedy

Nick Neilson, 51-year old fisherman, who was a resident of Dodge Cove, Digby Island, was drowned about 10:45 Christmas Eve in the upsetting of a small boat in which he and a companion, Andy Simonsen, were attempting to row a distance of less than a quarter of a mile between cabins at the island.

A party of four men, Bernt Phinn and Hans Ludvheson in addition to Neilson and Simonsen, started out to row in one small boat and the other two men in the other. There was only about six inches of freeboard after Neilson and Simonsen got aboard and the tiny craft swamped about 150 feet from shore when a wind ruffle came up, the two men being thrown into the water, Neilson, being a good swimmer, headed for shore but it was bitterly cold and Simonsen thought better of it and clung to the upturned boat and shouted for help. Phinn and Ludvheson turned back and pulled Simonsen to shore and came out again to look for Neilson whom they found floating straight up in the water with his head out. He had been drowned, however, and could not be revived despite efforts of an hour or so with artificial respiration.

The provincial police were notified and the body brought into the city. Accidental death by drowning was the conclusion reached by the coroner today as a result of an inquiry. The remains are in charge of the B. C. Undertakers. As far as can be learned, Neilson had no relatives nearabouts.

Louis Starr, charged with drunkenness, has had his case in city police court adjourned for eight days.

While no official announcement has yet been made, it is understood that the repair job will probably be carried out at the local yard.

The Prince George, which was temporarily patched both from outside and inside the bow before leaving Anyox, was conveyed here from the smelter town by the Pacific Salvage Co.'s salvage steamer Salvage King.

THE KING, GOD BLESS HIM

A number of people were up at 6 o'clock Christmas morning in order to hear the King deliver his radio message. While it was a message to people of the British Empire it was heard by all the world and must have brought home to many people the wide extent and importance of the great commonwealth of nations to which we Canadians belong.

The King's message was heard clearly. It was delivered in simple language and in an unaffected tone of voice that was most pleasing. Thousands of people were thrilled with the idea that the king was talking to them in their own homes and when the music of the National Anthem followed there would be many thousands who would stand at attention.

THE IRISH QUESTION

There always is an Irish question. The oldest person living looking back will be unable to remember a time when there was no Irish problem to be solved. Just now the problem seems to be whether Ireland shall become a republic or remain a part of the British Empire. Nobody is worrying much about it except the Irish people, but apparently it is very much to the fore in the Free State today owing to the attitude taken by President de Valera. The president has tried to stifle opposition to his government by prohibiting the use of the blue shirt and by arresting the leader of the opposition, General Eoin O'Duffy. This sort of action might be effective anywhere except in Ireland. In that country it has the reverse effect to that desired. The Irish love a fight and are always ready to take the part of the oppressed. So General O'Duffy is gaining more adherents while in prison than he could possibly gain while parading in a blue shirt. As we sit in the bleachers we can watch the game over there with great interest but without worrying as to the outcome.

Charles H. Lake, well known mining man of Stewart, was a passenger aboard the Catala today going through for a trip to Vancouver.

Treasure Hunt - 1933 Style

Sellers and Buyers Look to Newspaper Advertising for Their "Clues"

YOU remember the "treasure hunts" that everybody was going in for, a while back. No party was complete without one. The hostess hid something somewhere, and passed out slips of paper giving "clues" as to its whereabouts. Then the players burned up the roadways and other paths, following out the clues which eventually led someone to the "treasure." At the approach of the Holiday Shopping Season of 1933-1934 business is right in the midst of a treasure hunt that is growing bigger and more interesting every day. Merchants are hunting for concealed buying power—which shows itself on almost every corner, and then pops up an alley, unless you're quick enough to grab it. Customers are looking for opportunities to buy judiciously. Some of them haven't played the game for several years. They need coaching. People are tired of holding back. They see that business is getting better. More and more they're ready to join the hunt for things they need, desire, and have the money to buy. If you want these people in your store, there is just one simple rule to follow. Give them a clue. Give it to them, where they're used to looking for it—in the pages of this newspaper.

Newspaper advertising gets to everybody every day—and gets there FIRST

TURKEYS FOR VANCOUVER

Frizzell's Shipped About a Thousand Pounds of Bulkley Valley Product South

While a good many local people buy goods in Vancouver, it is not often that Vancouver people buy in Prince Rupert except at Christmas time. Last week Frizzell's Market was busy shipping turkeys to customers in Vancouver, word having been passed around there that the birds can be bought just as cheaply and of better quality here than in the south.

Some of the orders were in the form of group orders, and others from individuals. The birds were secured by the local firm direct from ranches in the interior.

Christmas Demand Steps Up

The Christmas demand for Pacific Milk, which steps up each year, appeared as usual. Of course, there was extra cooking and baking, but Pacific is extra rich, pure and fresh. It improves food, and anyone likes that at any time.

Another Test Run

The Socony-Vacuum Corporation of New York conducted a test run of many makes of cars on a route through the Peace River Country, Alberta, touching at Edmonton, Saskatoon, Moose Jaw, Regina, North Portal and down through the United States and on into Mexico. The leading car was a Ford V-8 Fordor, owned by the Socony-Vacuum and bringing up the rear was a V-8 Cabriolet which was driven by the Secretary of the Expedition.

Included in the tour were a Chevrolet, Buick, Oldsmobile, LaSalle, Cadillac, two Pierce Arrows, G. M. C. truck, Studebaker, Pontiac, and other makes, as well as two Fords.
It is interesting to note that it was reported on the arrival of the caravan at Edmonton from the Peace River Country that the V-8's were the only units which made the round trip through mud without having to be towed. On a close check we find one of the V-8's travelled ten continuous hours in low gear, the temperature never exceeded 140 degrees and gasoline consumption was one gallon to ten miles while running in low gear. All the other cars had boiling radiators and required repeated additions of water.
