British Delegates Confer in Washington Over War Debt

Contentions that the loans made to England by United States before and after the World War armistice were not commercial in character but a matter of necessity for war purposes formed the argument of British envoys seeking a reduction of the war debt problem, during a session at a conference in Washington. This photo, snapped during a session on the war debt problem, shows four of the leaders in the discussion, left to right, T. K. Bewley, financial adviser to the British embassy, Sir Frederick Keith-Ross, spokesman for the British; Dean Acheson, undersecretary of the U.S. treasury, and Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador to the United States. The discussions concluded this week without any agreement being reached.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8: (CP)—Fiorello La Guardia, Independent Republican, running on a fusionist ticket, was yesterday elected mayor of New York by a large majority, breaking the traditional hold on the city's political affairs of Tammany Hall whose candidate for re-election was Mayor John O'Brien. Joseph McKee, Independent Democratic and reformer, who was acting mayor for a short time last year following the enforced resignation of Former Mayor James J. Walker, was second in the voting, his entry into the field and splitting up of the Democratic vote being the principal factors in Tammany's defeat.

TALK OF CABINET

Premier-Elect Guards Secret Well Although Meny Suggestions Made—One Line-Up

VICTORIA, Nov. 8: (CP)—As usual, the Premier-Elect is receiving plenty of suggestions from the press and otherwise in regard to cabinet building and there is no dearth of forecasts. However, Mr. Pattullo is guarding his secret well and it is not expected he will make any announcement prior to taking over the reins of government about the middle of next week when Premier Tolmie has intimated he and his cabinet will turn in their resignations.

One of the latest cabinet line-ups, according to gossip in political circles, puts Gordon Wismer, who has yet to be elected in Vancouver Centre, in as attorney-general, G. S. The Communists gained little support.

Radio Station, Construction Of Highway and Exhibition Revival Urged as Junior Chamber Objects

The establishment of a radio broadcasting station in Prince Rupert, the extension of the Skeena River Highway in the direction of the Skeena River canneries or towards Terrace, the revival of the Prince Rupert Exhibition and the equipment of the city with an airplane landing field were among objectives which were submitted by President S. J. Jabour to the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night for consideration. In the field of sports, the establishment of a golf course and a rugby field on Acropolis Hill were suggested. After considerable discussion of these various matters, the president intimated at the close of the meeting that he would appoint committees shortly to deal with the possibilities of each.

City Commissioner W. J. Alder was present and spoke briefly. He expressed gratification at the progress and enthusiasm of the new organization. There were many functions which he felt it could carry on either independently or in co-operation with the Senior Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce. He stressed the necessity of Prince Rupert having more dinner halls and urged the importance of doing everything possible to encourage small industries. DAILY EDITION Wednesday, Nov. 8, 1933

NEW DEAL IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

With the accession of the Pattullo government to office next week, British Columbia people will be looking for a new deal.

Prince Rupert people had sufficient faith in the new leader to re-elect him as their representative. While they cannot expect any special favors because he is to be premier, they will expect and get a square deal. That is what we think they have always received from him when he had the power to give it.

One thing is sure. T. D. Pattullo will be the real head of the administration and he will be an active head. When asked for an interview after the election he told the newspapermen that it was no time for talking. This was now the time for action rather than talk.

By the time the new cabinet is announced next week it is probable that the new premier will have laid out a plan of attack on the depression. He will undoubtedly have laid plans for carrying out his promise of "work and wages." It is possible that he will make some kind of announcement in the near future but, before doing so, he will probably consult with his new cabinet and enthuse them with the importance of the work they have in hand.

British Columbia will look for a new deal under the new premier and we feel sure the new deal will be forthcoming. It will take a little time, doubtless, for the financial situation is one that must be tackled immediately. The administration must carry on but it cannot do so without money. Also the new cabinet will have to prepare almost immediately to meet the new Legislature early in the new year, possibly in February. There is much to be done and time is pressing. In the meantime we shall all feel a new hope for a brighter future.

SATURDAY CLOSING

In "An Act to Amend the Armistice Day Act" being Chapter 24 of the Statutes of Canada, 1931 is the following:

"Throughout Canada in each and every year the 11th day of November, being the day in the year 1918 on which the war was formally concluded by an Armistice shall be a holiday and shall be observed as such under the name of "Remembrance Day."

The city solicitor explains that this applies only so far as the Dominion has jurisdiction such as in the case of the banks but that the closing of stores comes under provincial jurisdiction and the statutes of Canada do not apply unless a bylaw is passed by the city making it operative.

However, it seems likely that most local merchants will observe the holiday.

COLD SNAP AND SPUDS

Root Vegetable Crop Cut Down as Result of Unseasonable Interior Weather

As a result of the cold snap and blizzard of two weeks ago in the interior when a lot of the crop was damaged during harvest and the yield consequently cut down, good supplies of root vegetables from this district have become hard to get. Upriver potatoes are also scarce but prices are still fairly reasonable and the public is being advised to buy now as higher prices are expected. In view of the shortage of interior potatoes, a number of shipments of southern potatoes have been received in town but are being sold at higher prices than the upriver product.

All lines of preserving fruits are now off the market on which winter varieties of pears and apples have made their appearance. Emperor grapes are due to arrive today. Jap oranges are a little later than usual this fall and are not expected to arrive until the end of November.

Butter and eggs are advancing and housewives are being advised to lay in supplies now.

The Letter Box

ECONOMIC RECONSTRUCTION

Editor, Daily News:

The first phase, the electoral phase, of our labor in the social and economic reconstruction is over. It is now our duty as good Canadians to gather our spiritual and economic resources in a supreme effort to overcome the adverse conditions confronting us. The new government will need our active co-operation. The road to recovery will necessarily be long and laborious.

We have overcome the political chaos. The people have entrusted to the Liberal democracy the solution of the crisis. We will soon have a strong government which will have absolute control of the political factor.

The latest discovery in the political field is that the political factor dominates all the other factors: social and economic.

The contention that our social structure is operating automatically, that our economic destinies are dominated by economic laws which we cannot alter; that we cannot be the arbiter of our economic and social destinies is today all museum stuff.

Any clear thinking man of our times cannot deny that the operating activity of man, his energy, his will power, in other words, his spirituality is the absolute master of man-made social and economic structures. Except for the laws of nature, there is nothing that man cannot shape and reshape to suit his social needs.

The fallacious assumption that the machines, the tools of production (in other words pure materialism), are a dominating factor of man's social and economic destinies is also museum stuff. The Tenth Pole is not dominating the Indians but it is a manifestation of their spirituality, an expression of their activities. The tools of production are a creation of man, of his inventive ingenuity, of his activities. Man can make them and remake them at his pleasure and also operate them for his social needs.

Are we aware of the great importance of the creation of an Economic Council in B. C. as it is produced in plank one of the New production, consumption, wages Liberal policy in order to regulate and honors of labor?

project of establishing a local radio broadcasting station.

A letter was read from Harry Alder, one of the sponsors of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce movement, who is now studying law at Osgoode Hall in Toronto. He told of having attended a meeting of the Toronto Junior Chamber of Commerce before which he had been invited to speak, telling of the progress which was being made in the organization of the local junior chamber. He also transmitted a few ideas which he had picked up in Toronto and which he felt might assist the local junior chamber.

A copy of a telegram of congratulations which had been sent to Premier-elect T. D. Pattullo was read.

The constitution, as drawn up by the ways and means committee, was read and approved by the meeting. dues were set at $4 per year, payable semi-annually. Regular meetings will be held on the first Tuesday of each month. Those who join up before the end of the year will be enrolled as charter members.

The constitution providing for a second vice-president in addition to the other officers, G. P. Lyons was unanimously elected to that office.

It is proposed to hold a joint banquet in the near future with the senior chamber.

There were thirty present at last night's meeting.

Ease Pain, Headache in Few Minutes

For Quick Relief Say ASPIRIN—When You Buy
Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia... the fastest safe relief, it is said, yet discovered.
These results are due to a scientific discovery by which an Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.
The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. An Aspirin Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And thus is ready to go to work almost instantly.
When you buy, though, be on guard against substitutes. To be sure you get ASPIRIN'S quick relief, be sure the name Bayer in the form of a cross is on every tablet of Aspirin.

DETECTIVE PLAY HERE

George Raft, Clive Brook, Helen Vinson and Alison Skipworth In "Midnight Club"

Clive Brook, George Raft, Alison Skipworth and Helen Vinson are co-starred in "Midnight Club," picture of E. Phillips Oppenheim's detective story of the same title, which is the mid-week feature on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here. The story is a breathless, rapid-fire tale of London society and centers about the efforts of an American detective to break up a jewel-theft ring which has been preying with impunity on lords and commoners alike.

Raft plays the part of the detective, coming to London and posing as an American crook and finally getting himself accepted as a member of the ring. Brook is cast as the leader of the gang and Miss Vinson is the girl who works with him. Raft's plans go awry when he finds himself falling in love with the girl and the resultant developments are highly dramatic. Miss

Board Heads Report That Borrowings Are Falling Off Owing to Absence of New Books

The Library Board held its regular monthly meeting last night with George Wilkinson presiding and most of the members present.

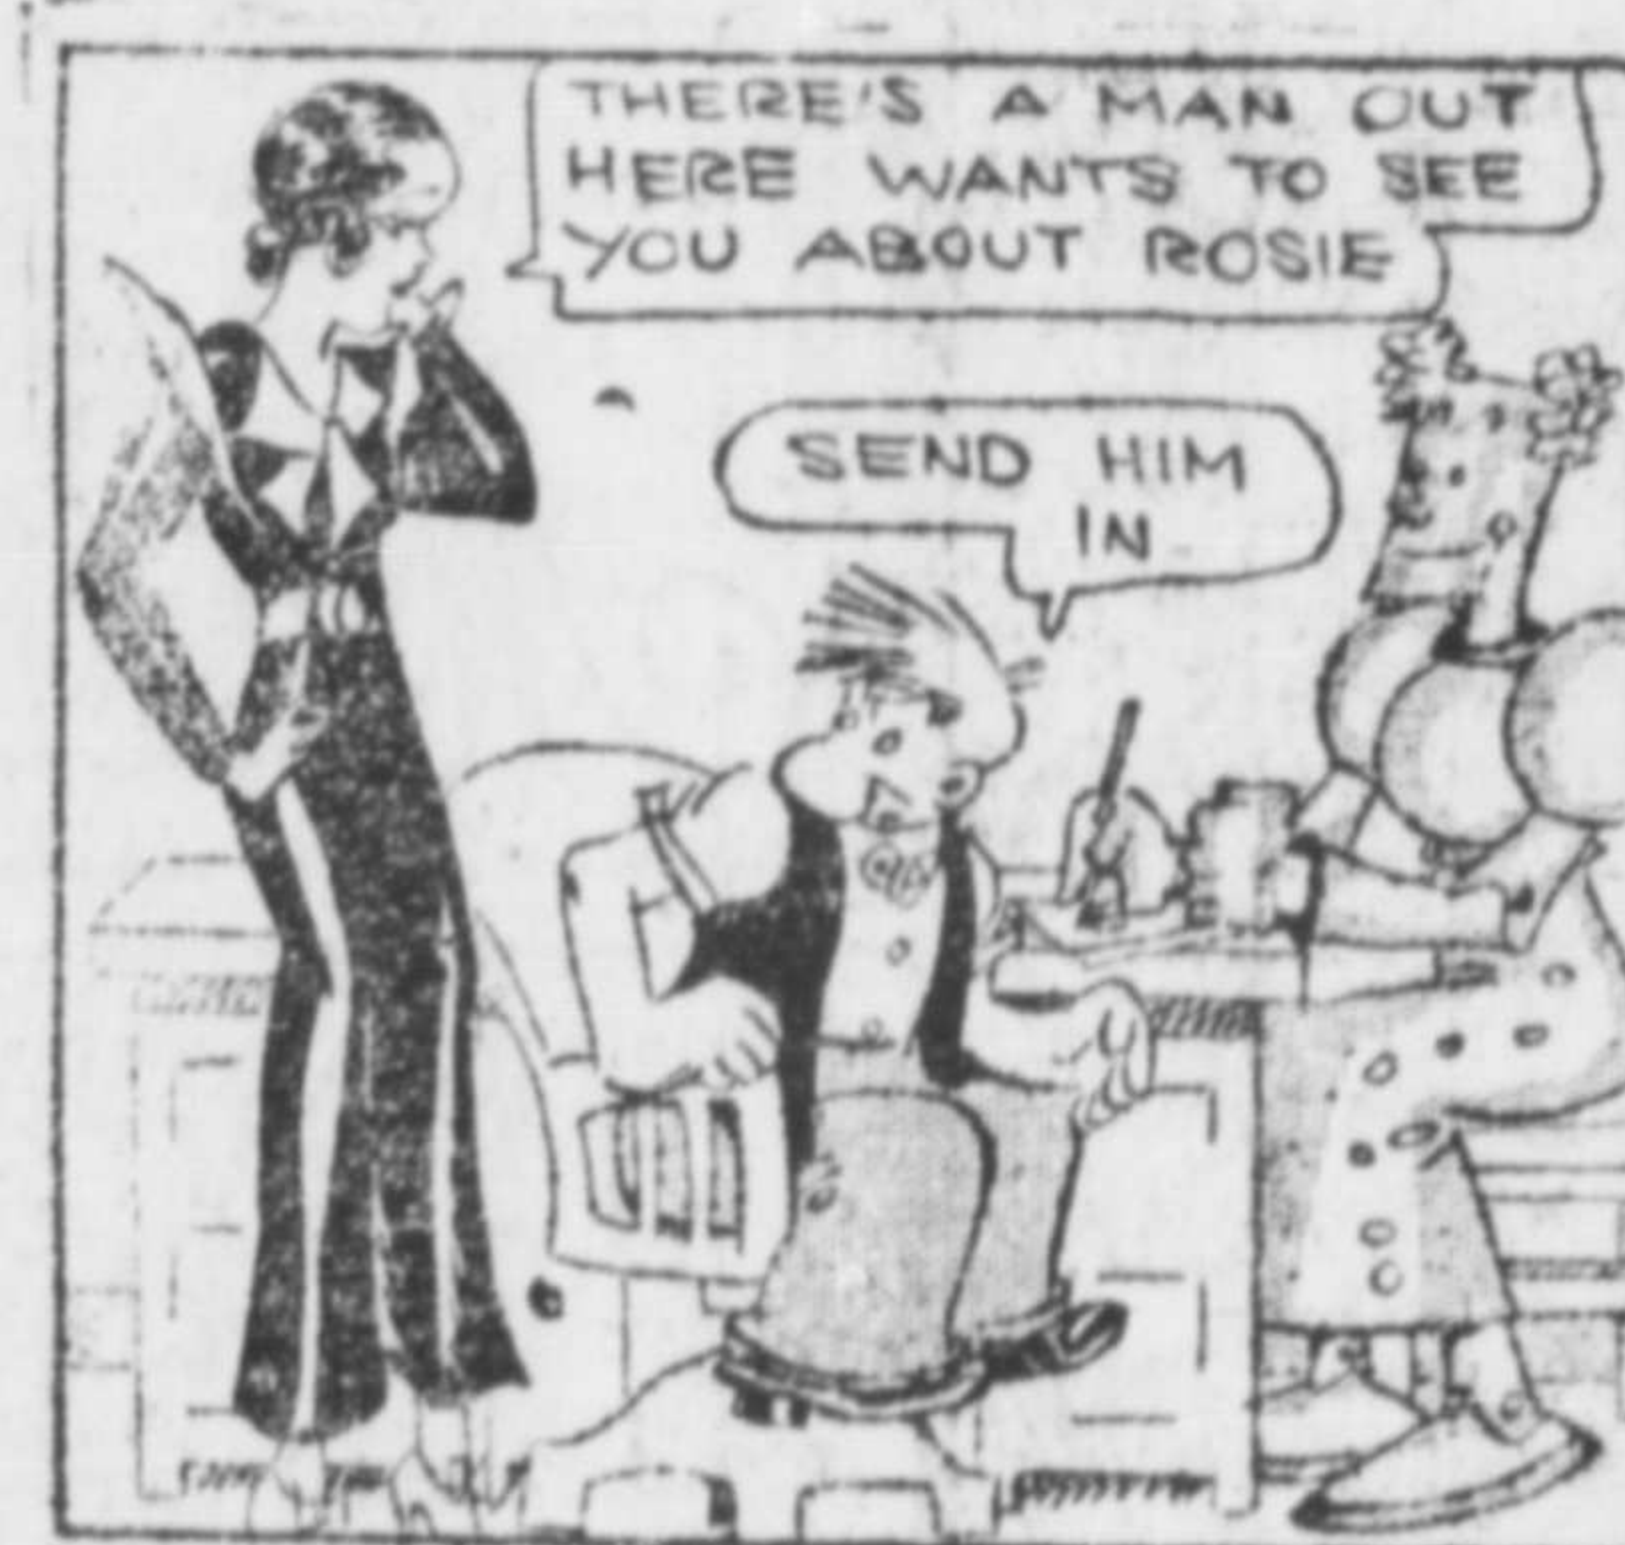

The librarian reported a falling off in the number of borrowers for this time of year. The total number of books taken out in October was 5,677, an average of 270.3 a day. There are now 3,764 borrowers registered. The drop was due to lack of the newer books.

A number of gift books were placed on the shelves during the month, 90 in all, the number in the collection now being 8,753.

The secretary was instructed to write and thank Mrs. George Rorie for a gift of an office clock which will be a valuable addition to the library furnishings.

Skipworth is amusing as a doughty duchess. Sir Guy Standing and Alan Mowbray are also important members of the cast.
