Miss Mary Bell Robertson Becomes Bride of Lawrence Pierce at Interesting Ceremony

Ahm Cottage, Overlook Street, was the scene of a pretty and interesting fall wedding at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when Canon W. F. Rushbrook, rector of St. Peter's Anglican Church, united in marriage Miss Mary Bell Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Robertson, 415 Eleventh Avenue East, and Lawrence (Johnny) Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Pierce, 139 Market Place.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was a charming picture in her wedding dress of white satin with conventional veil and wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of pink and white roses and baby's breath. Her shoes were of white kid.

The bridesmaid was Miss Jean Robertson, sister of the bride, who wore a pretty costume of pale blue silk crepe with hat to match and white kid shoes, her bouquet being of pink and white roses and sweet pea and baby's breath.

Frank Pierce, brother of the groom, was groomsmen.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride being assisted in receiving many guests by her mother who wore light brown silk crepe. The happy couple were piped into the rooms by Alex MacDonald. An appropriate toast was proposed by the bride's father and responded to by the groom. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierce left later in the evening by train on a honeymoon trip to Cedarvale, Smithers and other interior points after which they will return to the city and make their home on Seventh Avenue West. They are a well known and popular local young couple and will have the hearty congratulations and best wishes of many friends.

The people in the Saar valley, long accustomed to German rule, are now in a state of alarm, and has kept troops constantly on the scene, ready for trouble. Now Adolph Hitler wants to secure complete control of the rich coal fields and France protests. Fire Damages Halibut Boat

Canadian Vessel Bayview Scene of Blaze Saturday Night—Loss Estimated at $200

The well known Canadian halibut boat Bayview, Capt. Dan Wedge, had its pilot house gutted and equipment therein including compass, etc. destroyed by a fire which broke out shortly after 11 o'clock Saturday night as the vessel was moored alongside the Fleet Cafe. The fire is believed to have started in the bunk. No one was on board at the time. Damage is estimated at about $200 and there was no insurance. There was a gas tank nearby which miraculously escaped explosion, in which case there would have been much more serious results.

The alarm was turned in by Alex Clapperton of the government wharf who smelt smoke before retiring.

Afternoon tea and dinner were served aboard the ship, the happy crowd returning to port at 10 p.m. There was dancing with music by Mrs. J. S. Black's Orchestra.

CHURCHILL CLOSED

Churchill, the seaport of Manitoba, located on Hudson's Bay at the terminus of a railway that cost the country millions of dollars and with harbor works and elevator that cost other millions, is closed. For the present that is the end of a dream that commenced half a century ago and gradually resolved itself into reality insofar as facilities were concerned.

The difficulty with Churchill is that it is open to navigation only a very few months of the year, that harbor works there are expensive and that it is out of the world of natural traffic. The railway has had the effect of developing a number of mines which will probably pay for its cost but it is very probable the harbor may remain closed for several years.

STRIKING CONTRAST

A striking contrast with Churchill is the port of Prince Rupert. It is on a deep natural harbor, open all the year round, and at the terminus of a railway laid down for a trunk transcontinental line with the best grade of any on the continent. It needs no artificial aid to make it a real port with direct connection, not only with its own immediate hinterland but also with the grain fields of Alberta.

Prince Rupert must insist that, if special privileges are to be given Churchill to enable it to reopen, the same or similar privileges shall be granted to Prince Rupert to enable it to develop a grain trade with the Orient and other parts of the world.

A NEW CHILD

After much labor the Conservative party has again conceived and brought forth a new child, bigger, better and stronger than the Bowser baby, the union child or the other kidlets which have come into being of recent months. There is some doubt as to the parentage of this new infant but R. W. Bruhn is strongly suspected of being the father, although the powers behind the Province newspaper are also under suspicion.

The birth has been somewhat delayed but, now that the young child has been safely brought into the world, doubtless it will grow and in a few years should reach maturity and become useful.

Dr. Helge Nelson, Professor of Geography in Swedish University, is Visitor Here

An interesting visitor in Prince Rupert is Prof. Helge Nelson Ph. D. of the department of geography at the University of Lund in Sweden who is making a tour of Canada for the purpose of studying conditions under which Swedish immigrants to Canada are living and employing themselves. Dr. Lund arrived in the city on last night's train from the interior and will be here until Thursday evening when he will sail on the steamer Prince George for Vancouver.

Before arriving here, Dr. Lund spent a few days at Prince George and Smithers. At the former point he was in conference with Harry Bowman, representative of the industrial and colonization department of the Canadian National Railways and at the latter with Olof Hanson, M.P. for Skeena and Swedish consul for Northern British Columbia.

HELP FROM CHRISTIANS

William Irvine M.P., Addresses Sunday Night Audience Here

"We propose to purify the system and we expect those who profess to stand for Christian principles to assist us in making Canada a fit place for human beings to live in. If they are true to their trust, we will be true to them and, altogether, we shall make Canada the kind of a nation we all desire." So declared William Irvine, M.P. for Wetaskiwin and member of the national council of the Canadian Commonwealth Federation, in addressing a public meeting in the Moose Hall here last night, his subject being, "What We Expect From the Christian Church Towards the Establishment of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation." George Murray occupied the chair and the hall was almost filled with attentive listeners.

In opening his address, Mr. Irvine referred to the newly declared program of the United Church of Canada which had asserted this year that the capitalistic system was "un-Christian, unjust and inhuman" and that the church should fight unremittently against the continuation of such a system and for the establishment of a Christian social order. "The United Church has realized," declared the speaker, "that religion cannot escape the challenge of changed conditions which are facing the world and the great events which are making readjustments necessary."

Mr. Irvine urged that differences of opinion on minor points in regard to religious beliefs be submerged in the fight for the common objective for which all the churches, regardless of denomination, professed to stand. After all the highest religious ideal was to become a human being in the highest and fullest sense of the word, something which the system now in vogue would not permit. Facts as they existed should be accepted by the people no matter whether or not they coincided with personal beliefs or views.

Religion and Politics

The speaker scoffed at the old platitudes that "we must keep religion out of politics." Nothing could be kept out of politics for politics today affected almost everything. Therefore, religion, far from being kept out of politics, must attend all social relationships. It was the duty of religious institutions to assist in making Canada a Christian community and to help in the extermination of such things as poverty, flagrant social injustice and war. How could any nation call itself Christian whose people condoned a Bank Act which stole from the people and tariffs which robbed everybody and who permitted the continuation of a system under which millions were starving in the face of a surplus of the world's goods? "You can't be a Christian, no, not even a sensible man, if you support such a system." (Applause).

"Why cannot we all unite to work for a purpose which places humanity in the centre and endeavors to make the happiest and fullest measure of life possible?" asked the speaker. "Why cannot we work as enthusiastically today for life as we did during the war for death, for peace as we did for war? Why not place justice ahead of injustice and make the well being of mankind our main objective?"

Mr. Irvine spoke for about an hour and sailed after the meeting aboard the steamer Prince Rupert for Ocean Falls.

The vessel was delayed in arriving from the south by calling at Lowe Inlet to discharge 4,000 cases of cans.

Inaugurating the company's fall schedule of sailings every ten days to Alaska, C.P.R. steamer Princess Louise, Capt. Arthur Slater, arrived in port at 10 o'clock this morning from Vancouver and sailed a couple of hours later for Skagway and other northern points whence she is scheduled to call here next Friday afternoon south-bound. We have many letters from mothers who have fed their babies upon Pacific Milk with very happy results.

"White Sister," Starring Helen Hayes and Clark Gable, Showing at Capitol Theatre

Bringing the action of the famous drama down to the date of the Great War and introducing scenes on the Italian front and in an Austrian prison camp, the talking picture version of the sad love story, "The White Sister," with Helen Hayes and Clark Gable in the leading roles, comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here at the first of this week. Excellently produced and acted, the story of "The White Sister," as most people probably know, concerns the ill-fated love of Angela Chiaramonte for Giovanni Severi. Giovanni goes to war and is reported killed. Angela enters a convent and has just taken her final vows when Giovanni returns. He begs her to run away with him but she remains true to her vows. Giovanni, in the talking picture as he did in the original story, stage play and silent version, dies.

Miss Hayes gives a beautiful performance in the title role. Gable is good as Giovanni and Lewis Stone gives his usual polished performance as Prince Chiaramonte. Edward Arnold is noteworthy as the understanding priest and May Robson and Louise Closser Hale portray smaller roles with sympathy.

TERRACE

G. W. Cripps, provincial assessor, Prince Rupert, was here for some days recently checking up the local properties.

Mrs. Edith R. V. Todd, president of the Rebekah Lodge of British Columbia, visited the local Mountain View Lodge recently. Besides giving the members an inspiring talk, she proved to be quite a talented singer.

The weather has been splendid during much of the past fortnight with no wind, a calm and glassy surface on Lakelse Lake, where most of the inhabitants were and later a slim, golden moon. A smoky haze for a few days imparted a copy hue to old Sol and shielded the world hereabouts to some extent from his fierce rays. A few days of cool and cloudy weather with heavy showers followed but last week it was fine again.

Terrace has had a holiday air about it lately. Beginning with the bank, George Beveridge, the manager, has been camping at Lakelse Lake with his family, his place in the counting house being filled by C. W. Dawson of Prince Rupert. The mayor of the town, J. B. Agar, with his family, was also enjoying the life of the camp. One of chief events of late was the visit to Terrace of a large number of holiday makers from Prince Rupert, about eighty of whom took advantage of the excursion rate offered by the railway company. Charlie Balagno's dance orchestra played in the Veterans' Hall two nights in succession, much to the joy of the younger set.

It was unlucky that a brief spell of stormy weather preceded the arrival of the Prince Rupert people. So severe was the gale that trees were uprooted and blown across the road between Terrace and the lake. These were, however, soon disposed of as the boys got busy with saw, axe and cant hook. The heavy rain did a lot of good to the crops though.

Oats are now being harvested and there is a good crop of roots coming on.

A good many of the holiday campers have now left Lakelse Lake with the opening of the school term.

Captain J. B. Colthrust and family have gone to the Stuart Lake district for hunting. The Von Hees have returned to Premier and the Lancasters to Prince Rupert.

The road to Kalum Lake is in good condition and quite a number of people are paying that lake a visit.

The Terrace and District Board of Trade resumed monthly meetings last Tuesday and discussed the idea of holding the marketing plan outlined by the Associated Boards of Trade at Smithers a short time ago. A delegate was appointed to represent the Board of Trade on the proposed committee which is to thresh out the details. The Farmers' Institute will hold a meeting this Tuesday when a delegate to represent it will be appointed.

BIRTHDAY OF CHURCH

Special Services at First United Yesterday to Observe 25th Anniversary of Founding

To mark the twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of First United (formerly Methodist) Church in Prince Rupert, there were special services both morning and evening yesterday. The congregation at the evening service was so large as to take up all available accommodation in the church. First Presbyterian and First Baptist Churches gave up their evening services in order to co-operate in the celebration.

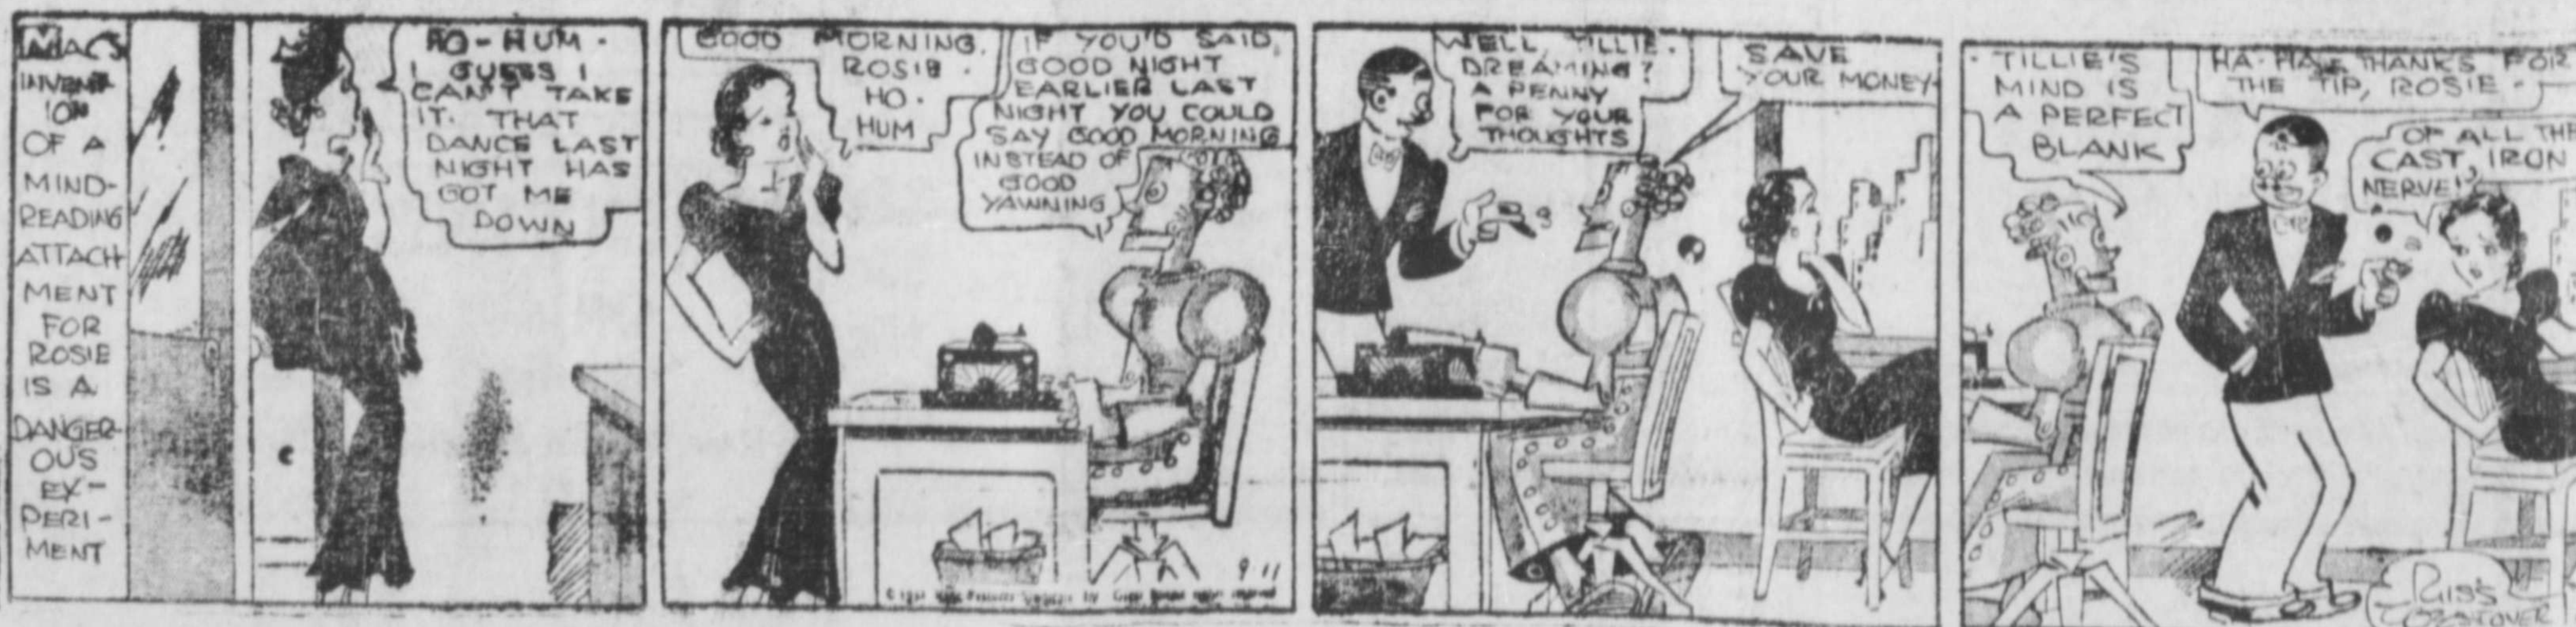

Rev. C. D. Clarke, the pastor, was in charge of the evening service and delivered the sermon, taking as his subject "The Function of the Church." Rev. W. D. Grant Hollingworth, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, read the Scripture lesson and Rev. Dr. F. W. Dafoe, pastor of First Baptist Church, led in prayer. Special music by the augmented choir, under the leadership of John S. Wilson, included the rendering of the anthem "Te Deum" while there was a solo by John E. Davey, "Nearer My God to Thee," and a quartet, "Come Unto Me," by Mrs. P. C. Miller, Mrs. R. G. Large, J. S. Wilson and Dr. R. G. Large. Prior to the opening of the service, there was a half hour recital by the organist, Miss Swanna Olafson.

At the morning service, which also had an unusually large congregation, Mr. Clarke spoke on "Building Churches."

Tonight the anniversary will be further celebrated with a congregational banquet.

Game Warden Ed Martin returned to the city on the Catala last evening from a trip to Lowe Inlet and other points down the coast on patrol duties. He left here last Wednesday on the provincial police cruiser P. M. L. 8 which continued on to Rivers Inlet.
