NEW BILL FOR PORCHER ISLAND MINE

PROVINCIAL BUDGET MAKES FEW CHANGES IN TAXATION

Jones Budget Provides Increased Income and Reduced Expenditure

Public Servants, Ministers of Crown and Members of Legislature Will Have Salaries Reduced and Municipalities to be Cut

VICTORIA, March 15.—Not one dollar of new taxation will be imposed on the average taxpayer of British Columbia, said Hon. J. W. Jones in his budget speech today but on personal incomes over $5,000 a year the government will levy a new graduated surtax progressing from one percent on the first $2,500 to eighteen percent on incomes in excess of $50,000. This is in addition to all present levies and is estimated to raise $350,000.

Succession duties will be raised twenty-five percent, which, with further detailed adjustments, will bring a new revenue of $315,000.

The school tax on lands outside a school district is reduced from five to two mills.

The government will spend $22,729,595 in the next fiscal year as against $24,693,671 in the year now ending, a reduction of $1,964,076 or a total cut in departmental expenditures in the last two years of $7,420,518.

Government revenues on estimates with "padding" removed, are fixed at $20,497,591, but the expenditure total contains a provision of $2,421,620 to be set aside in sinking funds, thus, while the total revenue and expenditure estimates show a deficit of $2,232,002, in actual fact there should be no deficit at all, Mr. Jones said.

Grants to municipalities from liquor profits and parimutuel taxes will be eliminated entirely, municipalities thus losing an estimated $640,000 in the next fiscal year. In addition, Mr. Jones warned municipalities he probably would have to throw more and more of the burden of unemployment on them, and on private charity.

Public servants will be asked to take further salary reductions, ranging from four to twenty percent.

Ministers' salaries, originally $7,500, will now be $6,000. Members' indemnities, formerly $2,000 and already cut to $1,800, will be reduced to $1,600. This will take effect next session.

Virtually no new construction work of any kind, either in roads or buildings will be undertaken this year. Road maintenance will be cut to a minimum.

Manager at Present in South Arranging For New Concentrator Which is Planned to Erect This Spring on Porcher Island

The Timmins interests operating at the north end of Porcher Island shipped a scow load of lumber to the Surf Inlet mine Monday for use in the erection of new bunkhouses and the mill which is to be installed there this spring. Manager Legg is now in the south arranging for the concentrator and other machinery necessary to the operation.

The timber, amounting to 44,000 feet was supplied mostly by the Big Bay Lumber Company of this city.

The mine which was earlier known as the Patterson mine, has made several shipments of ore to Anyox with good results. It was acquired several years ago by J. B. Woodworth and Noah A. Timmins and it is understood that Mr. Timmins has since taken over the Woodworth interests. It is located about 25 miles from Prince Rupert near Welcome Harbor at Surf Point. A good deal of development work has been done there and a tramline has been built between the mine and the beach, a distance of one and a quarter miles.

As soon as the mill has been installed everything will be in readiness for steady operation of the mine on a producing basis.

Recently a quantity of mining machinery was shipped to Surf Point from the Taku where Mr. Timmins had been prospecting an option.

Ferry is Expected to Be Operated Between Rupert and Ketchikan

J. E. Berg Has Conference With C.N.R. Heads and Thinks Outcome Will be Car Ferry Connecting Them With Rail Head Here

KETCHIKAN, March 15.—"In my opinion Ketchikan will be operating a car ferry to Prince Rupert by next spring," said J. E. Berg, manager of the Marlyn Fish Company and president of the First National Bank of Ketchikan to the Ketchikan Chronicle. He bases his opinion on a conference he held with four officials of the Canadian National Railway in Montreal.

"The Marlyn Fish Company," he added, "has made arrangements to increase its output the present year. The Petersburg and Sitka stations will be maintained as usual."

Mr. Berg said that all of the industries with which he was connected, the Berg Packing Company and the sawmill at Charcoal Point, would be operated the present year.

For the Berg Packing Company, material already has been arranged for to put up at least 40,000 cases of canned salmon, and as much more as necessary will be added. Piles have been secured for a warehouse and dock at the Berg sawmill where the floating cannery will be stationed. Carsten Glosje, with the Stuart Packing Company in Alaska for a number of years, will be foreman of the cannery and will arrive here from Blaine, Wash., about May 1.

Mr. Berg said he bought additional machinery for the sawmill while in the States, and that it would begin operation just as soon as business warranted.

L. C. Berg arrived on the Northland and left for Sitka where he will have charge of the Sitka station again for the Marlyn Fish Company. A manager is soon to be named for the Petersburg plant.

Mr. Berg said that in his interview with leading fish dealers and wholesalers in the east they expressed the opinion that the fish market would improve toward fall and that next year would be a good year.

Mr. Berg said that in his interview with the officials of the Canadian National Railway in Montreal they showed an active interest in the proposed ferry from Ketchikan to Prince Rupert and promised to co-operate in every way possible. "I am satisfied from what I have learned and know," said Mr. Berg, "we shall have a ferry service in actual operation by next spring. It would have been here this summer except that re-adjustment plans are still not fully worked out. I am more than ever convinced myself that now is the time for people to expand with a view to getting on the ground floor for the better times sure to follow."

We never perceive our sins till we begin to cure them.—Fenelon.

DIVIDED ON EDUCATION AMENDMENT

Both Parties Were Split When Time Came To Vote on New Hinchcliffe Proposal

VICTORIA, March 15.—Criticism of Minister of Education Hinchcliffe's amendments to the Public School Act came from both sides of the Legislature yesterday before the bill was finally given the second reading on a divided vote.

The plan to make grants to teachers' salaries on the basis of one percent of the total assessment of the district, was the main point at issue and on the vote being taken J. W. Cornett, Conservative whip; William Dick, Conservative of Vancouver and Rutledge, Conservative of Burnaby, voted against it.

Liberals were also divided as to the wisdom of the measure. T. D. Pattullo, W. M. Manson, Dr. Wrinch and H. F. Kergin voted against it and other Liberals voted for it.

UNION GOVERNMENT

T. D. Pattullo this week set the pace for union government by backing up a Conservative member in the Legislature in a proposal to reduce interest rates. That is the kind of union that really counts, a union of ideas, ideals and action.

SIR HENRY THORNTON

A picturesque figure faded from view yesterday as Sir Henry Thornton, railwayman, passed on into the unknown. He was a big man and a great man. Physically he was an outstanding figure and as an executive he had most others faded from the picture. He was 62 years of age, younger than many ministers of state in the leading governments of today.

An American born and trained, Sir Henry went to England in 1914 to take over the management of the Great Eastern Railway, which he rehabilitated in the face of determined opposition. In Canada he unified the Canadian Government lines and put them on a profitable basis. One of the victims of the depression, he relinquished his hold on the C. N. R. under pressure.

Sir Henry was a friend to every workingman who was trying to make good but a terror to the shyster. His friendly attitude made him the hero of most of his employees.

OPERATING AT ANYOX

Monday we had word from Anyox that the mine was operating successfully and that the smelter started up Saturday and it was expected to operate continuously. Today we have a letter from the secretary of the local strike committee stating that this cannot be done. We are not planning to enter into any controversy between the management of the mine at Anyox and the members of the mine workers union in Prince Rupert as to what Anyox can or cannot do. We shall record events as they happen and any propaganda from either side will have to choose some other organ of expression than the Daily News.

Mining Man is Optimistic at Omineca Progress

R. M. Shepard Here From Vital Creek Driven Out by Spring Breaking Up

R. M. Shepard who has mining interests in the Omineca district came in to the city on the train last night. He is interested in a mineral claim on Vital Creek in the Omineca district and he states that everything in that country looks very promising, and that development this summer will be very considerable. The weather and the excess of water has hampered proceedings lately and it was found necessary to close down for a couple of months and get a fresh start in the spring. People are coming into the country slowly in twos and threes but the population of the district has grown tremendously in the last year. On his way out through Babine country by dog team Mr. Shepard encountered severe weather with heavy snow falls. The people in the Omineca district expect an early spring after the severe winter enabling them to get an early start on their claims.

Mr. Shepard is leaving for Juneau, Alaska for a couple of weeks, returning here before he goes back to his interests on Vital Creek.

Gardening for Recreation

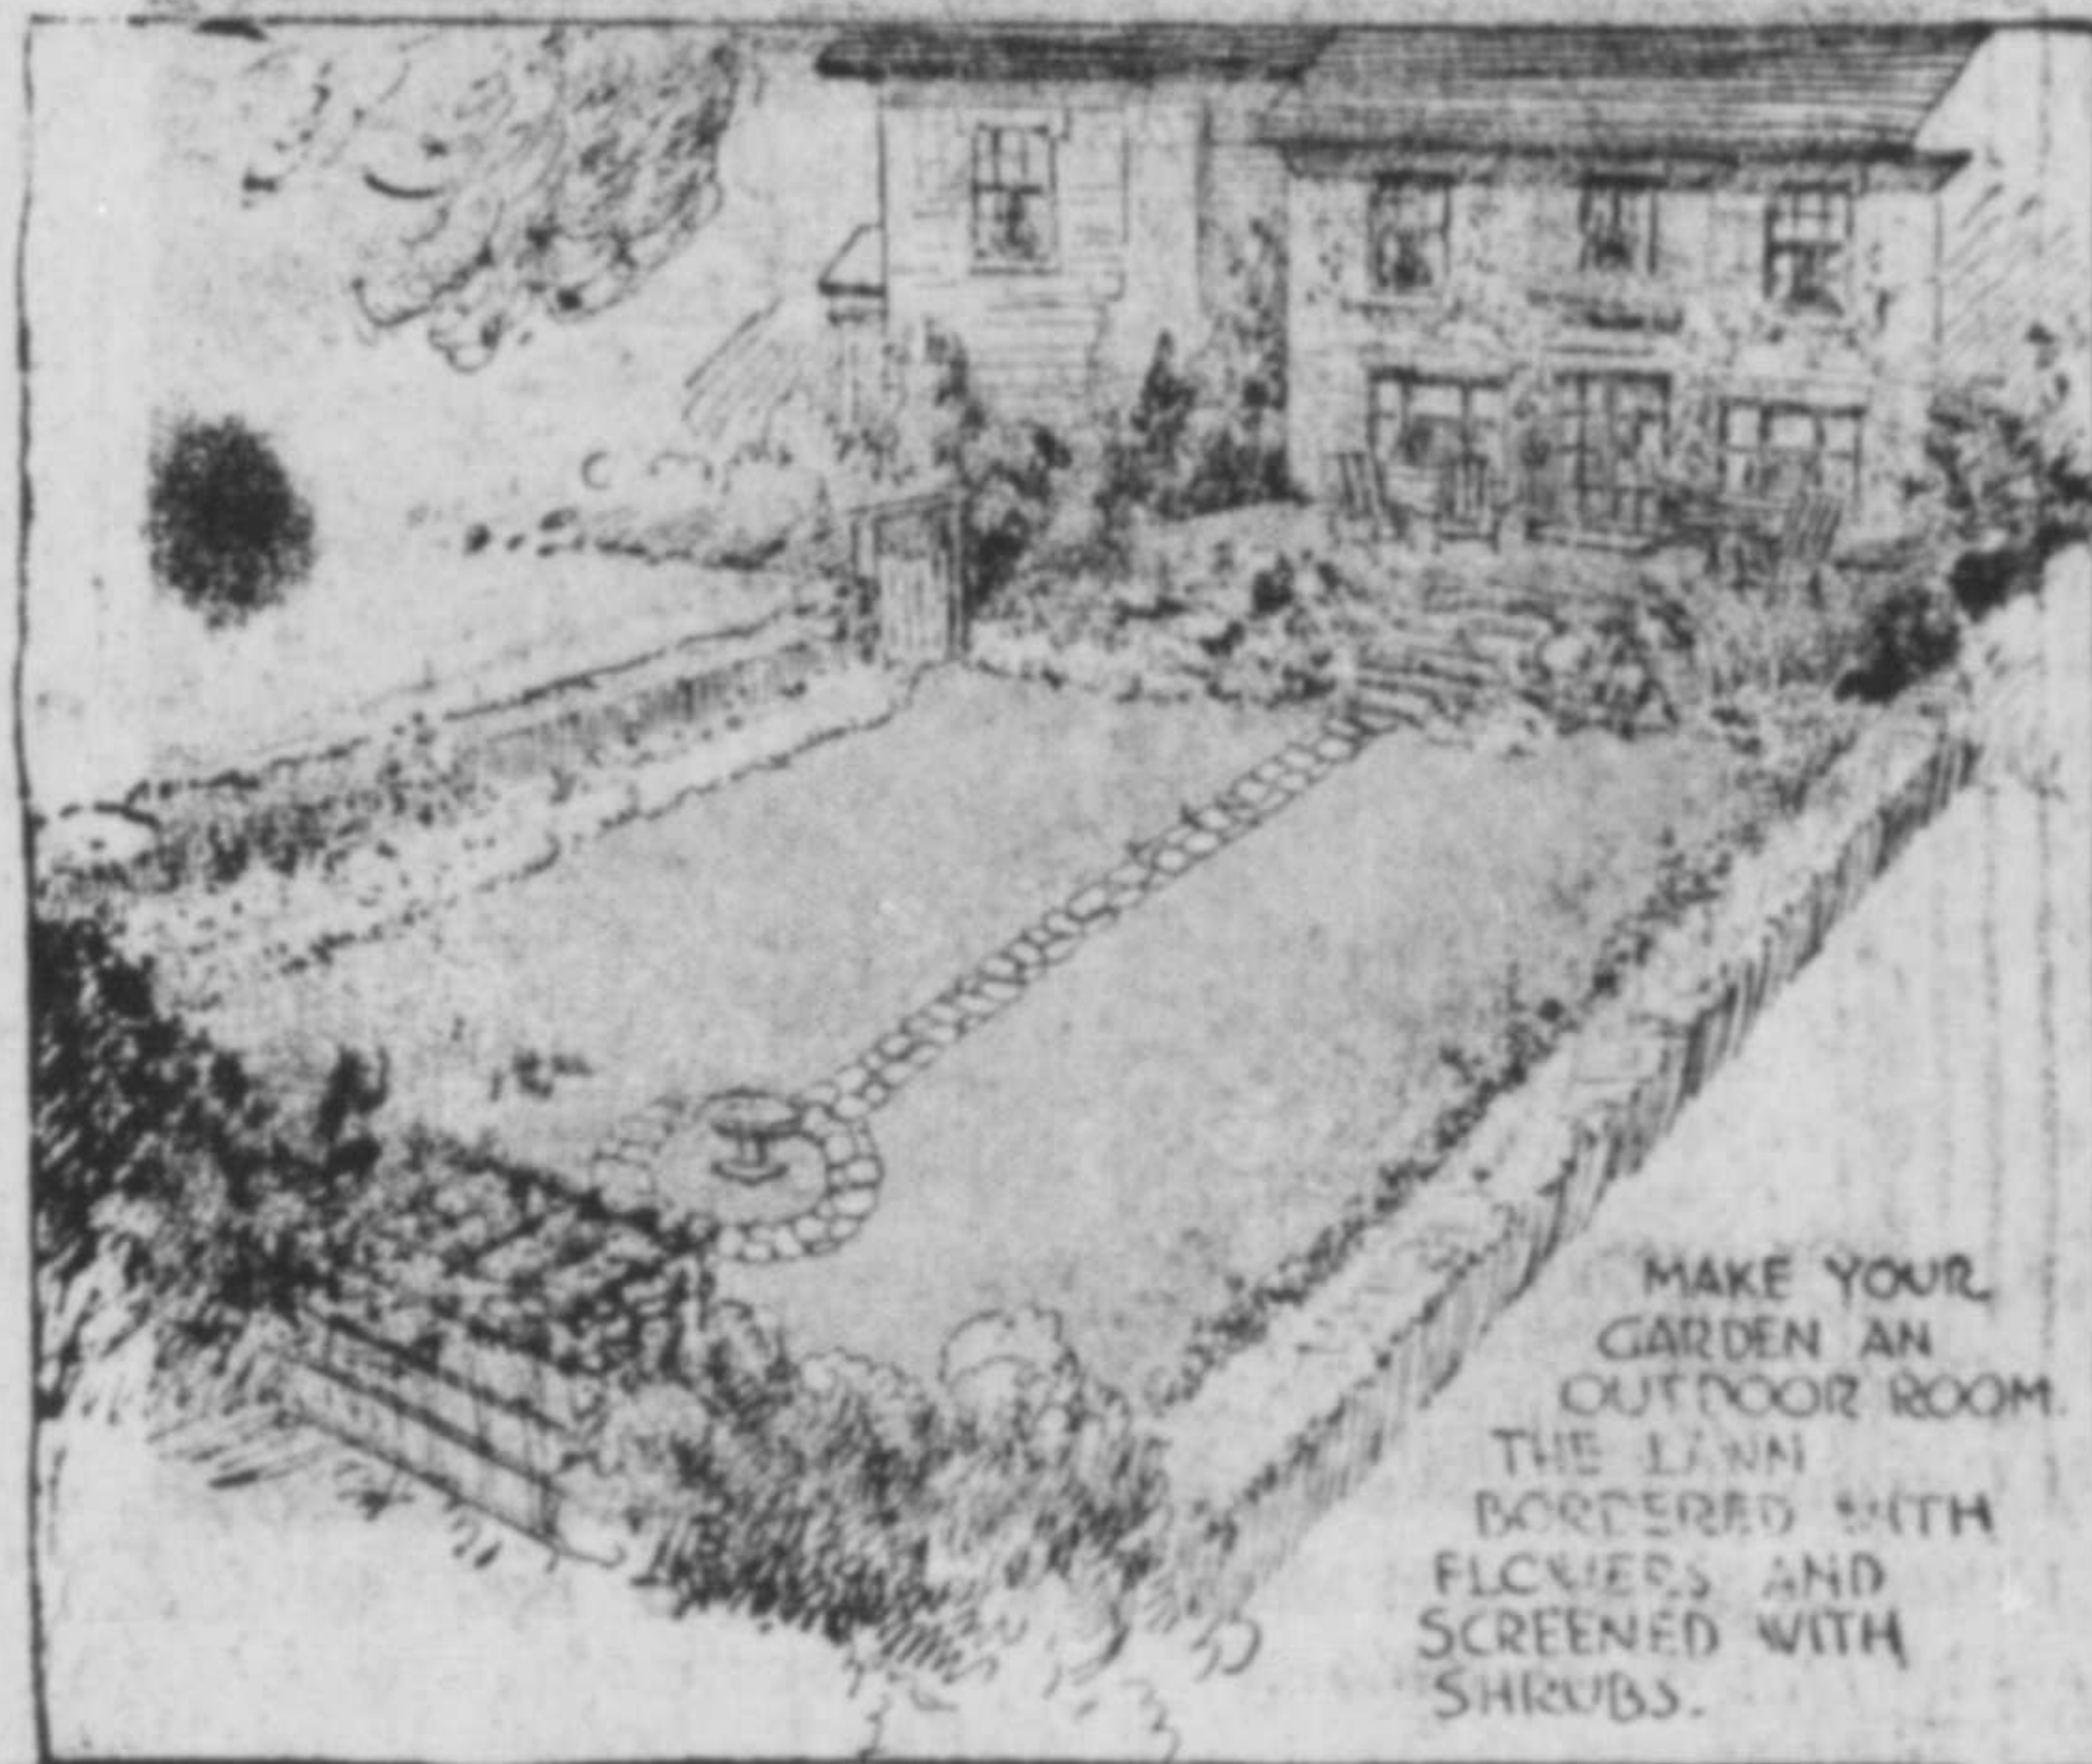

The 1933 Garden Styles

Interior decorators are established institutions. Every housewife knows about them, studies their work, goes to hear their lecture, and employs them if the household finances permit. Good taste in the home furnishing is constantly increasing with a desire for the most beautiful procurable with the material at hand. The great factor in interior decorating is the proper arrangement of the materials, their placing and grouping.

With the artistic arrangement of the materials, their placing and grouping. It must also be in scale to the size of the lot. The problem is also complicated by fixed and immovable features such as walks, fences and the position of the house. The design must be fitted to them.

On a small place, straight lines in design are far the best both for convenience, effect, and practical purposes. Curved lines merely for the sake of a curve-suggesting informality are out of place. They are an imitation of the curves of fine informal plantings on large estates.

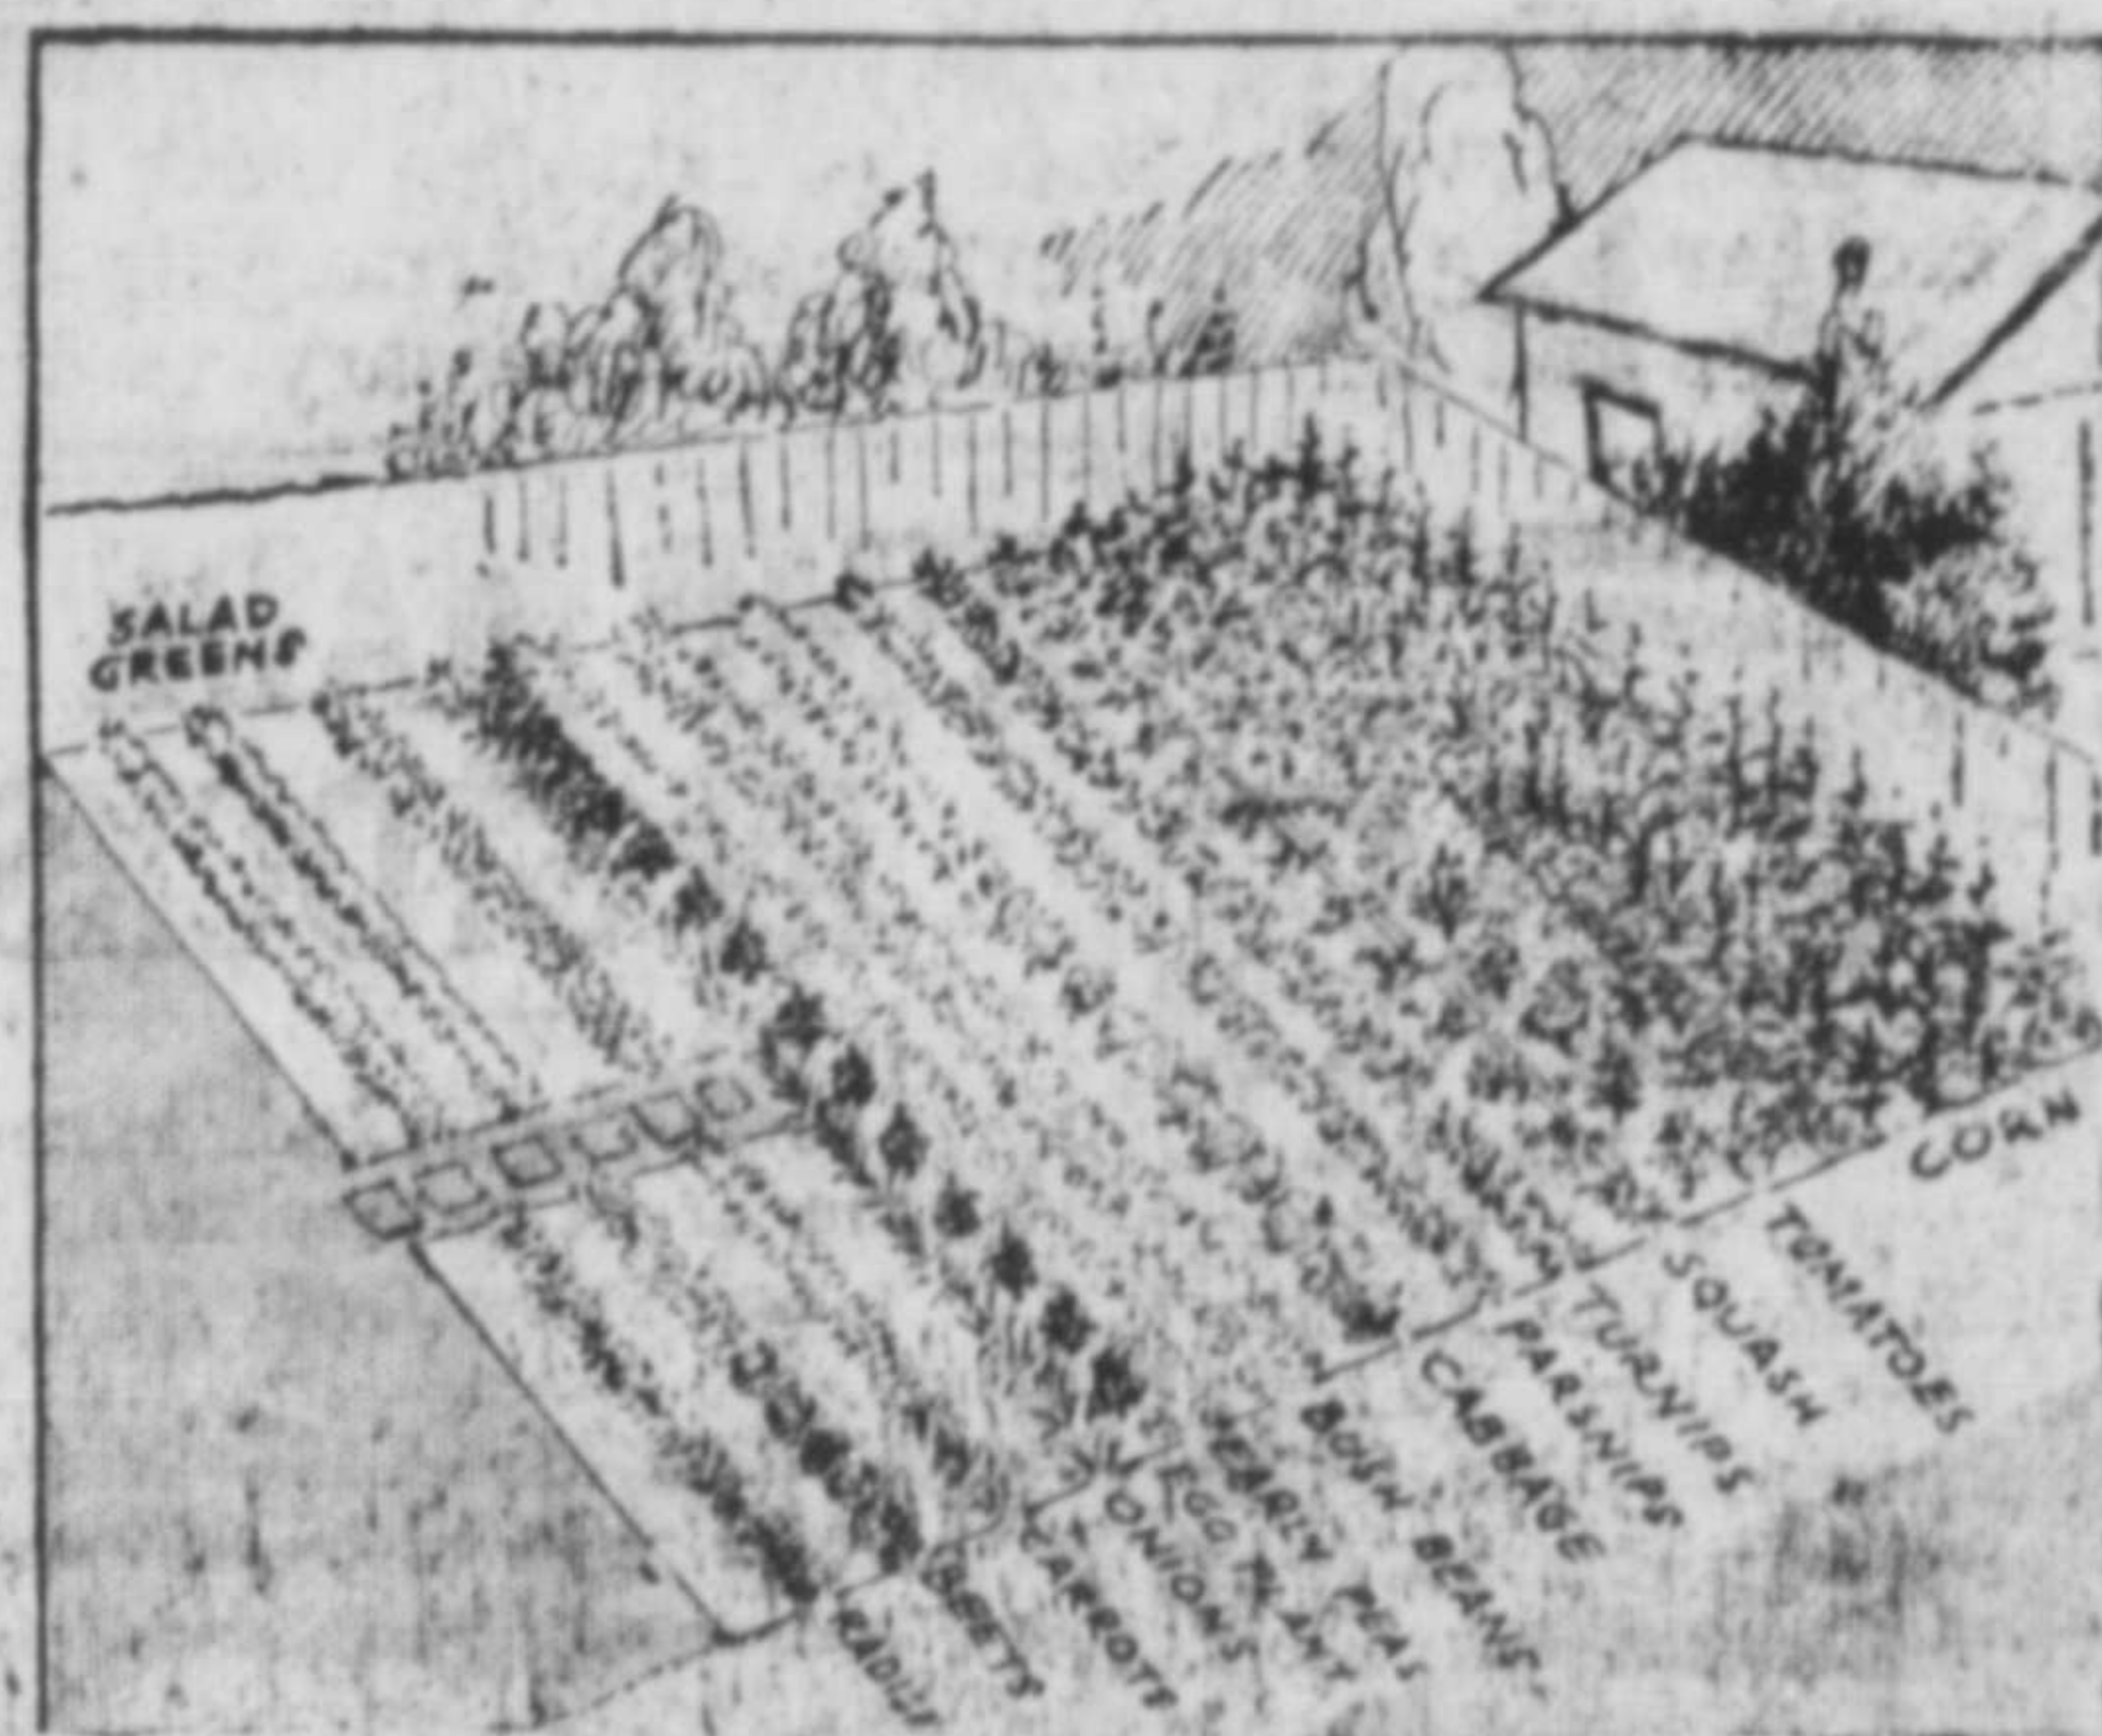

and decoration of the interior the next and most logical step, naturally, is exterior decorating, known as landscape gardening.

Planning for space in the small house is the most important problem and it is equally important in the small yard. It is useless to try to make a 30 or 50-foot back yard a miniature of a country place. First of all, in planning the small yard for most beautiful effects, it must be kept in mind that the design, to be effective, must be simple.

where long, straight lines would be inartistic. There is no relief of a curve. The proper use of straight lines will be most effective in developing the plan of the yard. Straight lines the long way of the lot increase the appearance of depth. Transverse straight lines will relieve the impression of extreme length and alley-like suggestion of unusually deep narrow lots. Stick to straight lines in small yard planning for simplest and best effects.

Home-Grown Vegetables

Thousands of Canadians were reintroduced last year to the delight of feasting on vegetables from their own gardens.

Whatever the reasons for their return to home vegetable growing, they have discovered a host of reasons why they should continue to cultivate vegetable plots. They found the tenderness and flavor of home grown vegetables, fresh picked from their gardens, to be superior beyond comparison to those obtainable in markets. In vegetables cooked immediately after harvesting they obtain a maximum content of vitamins of whose great value to health science discovers ever increasing proof.

Another advantage which home gardeners have is in the variety of vegetables which they can grow. The pleasure in gardening is greatly increased by trying new delicacies, many of which are rarely found in markets.

There is no reason why a home garden owner should fear monotony in his vegetable menu since he can supply the required amount of vitamins and minerals in so many different dishes. He may grow choice varieties of the well known vegetables, some of which are far superior to the ordinary market kinds. And he may grow vegetables which few of his friends have ever eaten. Salads can be served on his table through the season with a constant change of ingredients. Instead of being confined to spinach for children's rations of greens, he can grow in his garden half a dozen different plants which will serve the same purpose and provide a welcome change.

The care of a garden is a small part of the day's routine once it is started. And a small patch will grow a surprising quantity of vegetables properly planted for succession and companion crops. The wielding of a hoe is as valuable exercise as swinging a golf club, and there is something to show for it besides a score card and argument.

True happiness comes from giving and sharing, not from getting. Dr. Adolph Lorenz.

EDITORIAL

GARDENING IN PRINCE RUPERT

Owing to the poor season last year a good many people decided in the fall that they would not undertake much gardening this year. Some of these people have already been busy on their garden plots and most of them have forgotten their failures and are out once more to make their home grounds beautiful with flowers and shrubs.

The great thing is to plant such flowers as do well in damp weather. Zinnias, which make such a fine showing in a dry climate do not bloom well here. Chrysanthemums are often unsuccessful except in some particularly warm corner. Among the most popular flowers for the Prince Rupert climate may be mentioned the pansy, stock, aster, snapdragon, marigold, pink, forget-me-not and the tuberous begonia.

This winter there has been considerable mortality among the roses. However, those which now appear to be dead may spring to life below the surface so they should be allowed to remain in the ground until it is certain that they are not alive. After a while we shall learn what roses to plant in Prince Rupert. We cannot expect to grow all the more delicate varieties and winter them successfully.

Snowdrops are already in bloom. Crocuses will be out soon and tulips and daffodils are showing above the ground and are responding to the spring urge.

In the Prince Rupert climate it is unwise to plant too closely because the tendency is to run to foliage and if the plants are too crowded they do not get a chance to show themselves to the best advantage.

Any who wish to start a garden this year should make plans at once and dig the ground as soon as possible. The early start is worth a great deal.

Green peas and sweet corn cannot be purchased with their sweetness unimpaired. String beans never are quite so tender and well flavored as when gathered in the home garden a few moments before they go into the stew pan. Radishes are never so crisp and snappy as when fresh pulled.

Every family with a baby or young children should grow a vegetable garden to provide fresh green vegetables of the highest quality, which can be obtained fresh only from the home garden.

A Picking Garden of Flowers

Flowers for Picking May be Grown in the Vegetable Garden

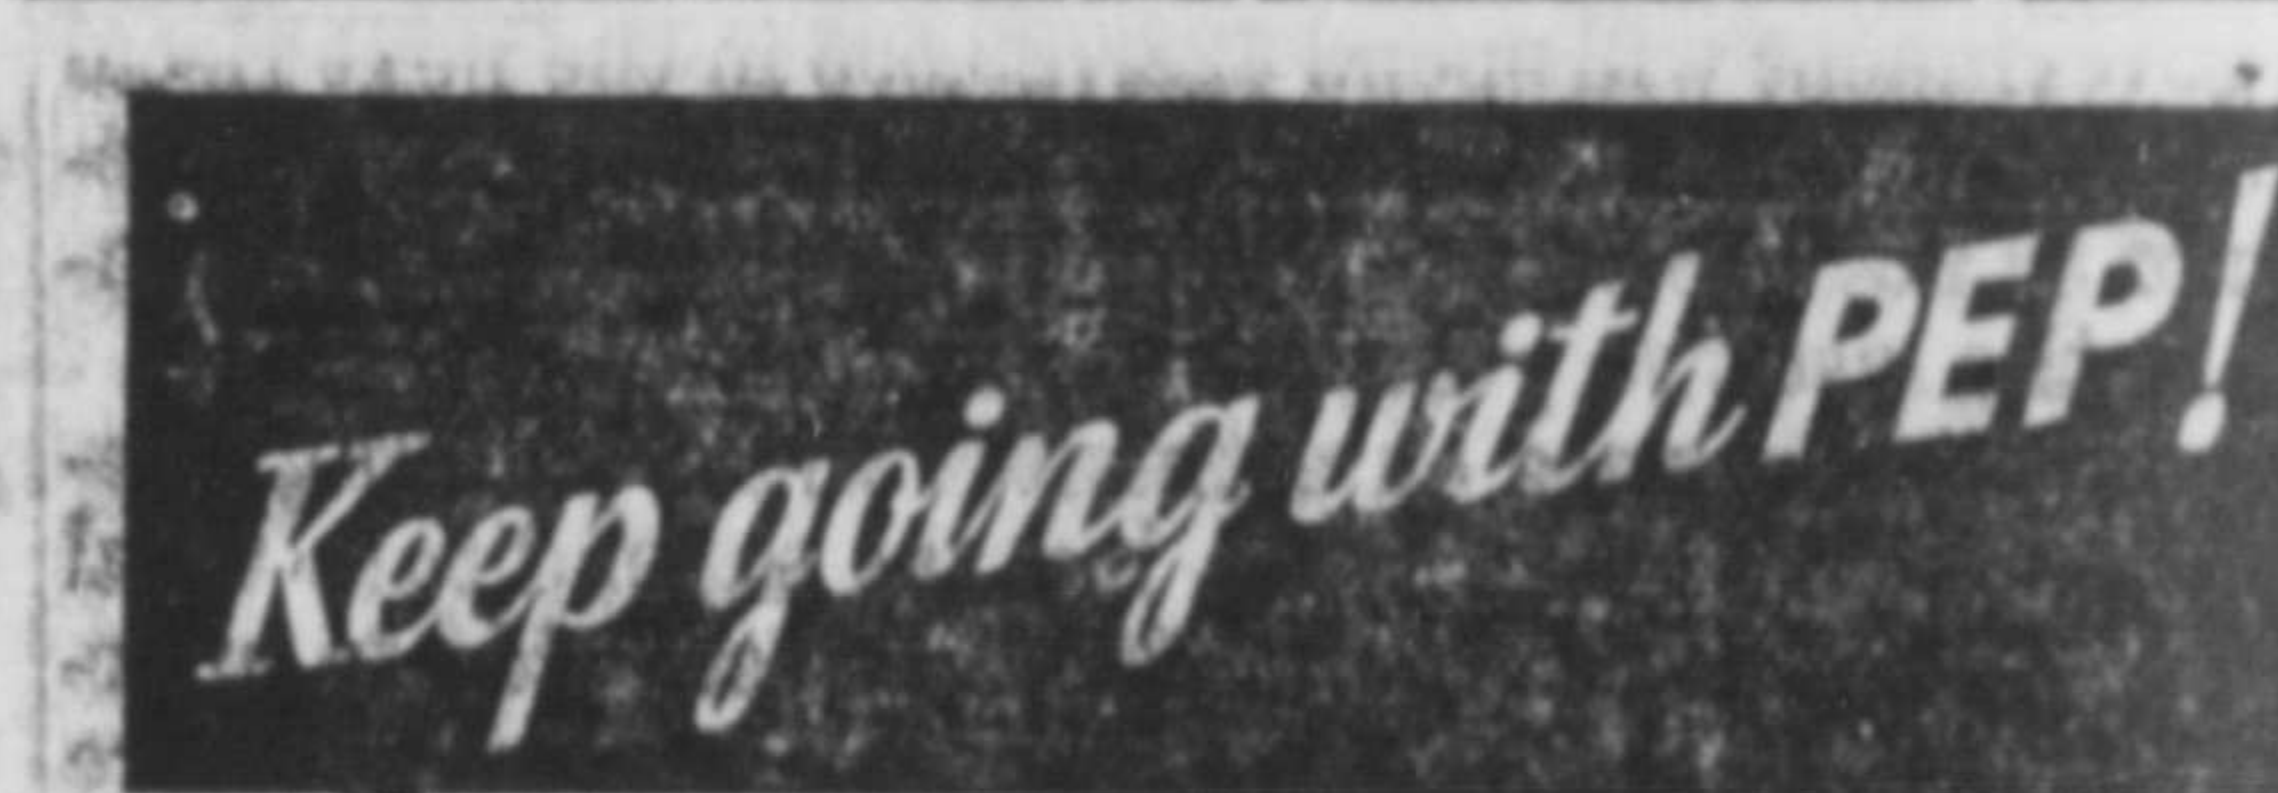

A picking garden is where flowers are grown not for outdoor decoration but to be cut for bouquets. There are many ways in which the picking garden may be laid out, but none is better than the simple method of sowing seeds in straight rows, eighteen inches apart exactly as vegetables are grown.

Annuals are on the whole best suited for the picking garden, though there are some perennials which have value; for example the delphinium, belladonna, coreopsis, feverfew, gaillardias, shasta daisies, pyrethrums, to name a few. A list of annuals which are excellent cut flowers would number hundreds.

Marigolds, particularly the tall African type, the new variety, Guinea Gold, and the tall and dwarf French varieties, especially the tall Josephine, are outstanding cut flowers. Zinnias, stocks, snapdragons, sea-blossa, nasturtiums, lupins, larkspur, pinks, cosmos, clarkias, centaurias, calendulas, carnations, calliopsis (the annual coreopsis), English daisies and asters are among the best known annuals for cut flowers.

The cutting garden may well be made a part of the vegetable garden so that it may be cultivated at the same time with the same tools. Flowers need no more care than vegetables.

Annuals thrive in ordinary garden soil, with no more water than the vegetables require. After the seedlings come up they should be thinned out reasonably, to prevent overcrowding and thereafter the only care they need is the regular cultivation such as is given the vegetables. The more flowers you cut, the more you will have, since the removal of blossoms before they fall and set seed is necessary to keep annuals blooming.

"The prettiest rag rugs I ever saw"

"I feel I should share with you a wonderful compliment I had on my new rag rugs," writes an appreciative Three Rivers woman. "A wealthy lady from the City of Quebec was visiting here and saw the rag rugs I had just finished. She was so enthusiastic—said she had never seen such artistic ones, with such rich, lovely colors. She asked me if I bought new materials to get such beautiful color effects. When I told her I had dyed my old scraps with Diamond Dyes, she simply couldn't believe it. Of course I'm very proud of my rugs. Besides being beautiful colors, they are fast and washable." In the popular new art of rug making women are finding again the real value of Diamond Dyes for permanent dark colors by boiling. No other dyes make old materials look so new and rich in color, because no other dyes contain so much of the finest aniline colors. For light dainty shades without boiling for lingerie, summer blouses and dresses, use the wonderful new Diamond Tints. All drug stores have both Diamond Dyes and Diamond Tints.

TO THE HONORABLE THE HOUSE OF COMMONS OF CANADA, IN PARLIAMENT ASSEMBLED:

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED CITIZENS of the Great Dominion of Canada, being a free and independent people, in whom resides the right of self determination, do hereby vigorously protest against the action of the Radio Commission of Canada in censoring or attempting to censor and exclude from public broadcast radio lectures on matters pertaining to the Bible and of public interest, and particularly the lectures of J. P. Rutherford, pertaining to divine prophecy. We have faith in the Bible as the Word of God, and that it was written for the instruction of man. Many sincere persons claim that the Bible prophecies apply particularly to our day and bear direct relationship to the present world distress, and disclose God's remedy for relief. We are entitled to hear these questions publicly discussed free from all censor, otherwise our freedom is taken away. Those who object, or who may be offended by such lectures, may turn their radio dials and decline to hear.

We therefore demand that the Dominion Parliament take immediate action, removing from the Radio Commission the power to censor, hinder or prevent such lectures by radio and that the people be left free to determine what they may or may not hear. Men of world-wide repute and eminently qualified to explain the Bible, such as we believe Rutherford is, can be helpful to the people and we demand that our radio stations be permitted to publicly broadcast his lectures. The question is: Shall the people continue to enjoy freedom or shall a few men deprive them of their God-given rights?

lost 450 million dollars in respect of wheat alone. The books of our governments have yet to be balanced in respect to the wheat pools. "And now, in spite of all these tragedies of government in business, there is a movement from some sections to have the government undertake the marketing of grain products.

"The reasons for such failures are manifold. First and foremost, these state plans are attempts to defy economic law. The fundamental truism of supply and demand must inevitably be considered and they who choose to ignore that simple economic fact will sooner or later have it made abundantly clear to them through sheer suffering. That is precisely what has happened and will always happen to those who are foolish enough to believe that they can ignore the rules that others must observe.

COMETS LEAD BASKETBALL

Girls' Game Last Night Was Closely Contested and Gives Winner Right to Play-Off

SENIORS' BIG SCORES

The Comets took the lead away from the Cardinals in last night's girls' game in the last quarter winning by a close margin of two points. This gives the Comets the honors in the second half and the right to meet the Amazons in the play-offs for league leadership. The game was the peppiest that the girls have played in this half. In the first half the Cardinals got away with a bang and managed to hold a four-point lead. In the second half, however, the Comets broke loose with some speed and played havoc with the Cardinal guard line. With but two minutes to go the Comets sank a long one to give them a two-point lead that they held until the last whistle blew.

In the senior game the Grotto cinched the second half of the league by taking the Kaiens into camp 54-45. The game was slow to start and the Grotto had a big lead all the way through. In the last few minutes the game was a little better, the Kaiens getting a little more pep into their plays. The Grotto were dead on the basket with their long shots and didn't give the Kaiens a chance to get near them.

In the intermediate game the Warriors took the Merchants by a score of 30-22. The game was fast and spirited the Merchants putting up a better fight than they have all the second half.

In the junior fixture the Meteors easily beat the Rovers 28-15.

Mrs. P. J. Chernoff, Shoreacres, B.C., writes: "I had been so troubled with shortness of breath I could not lie down to sleep. I couldn't do any hard work, or climb the stairs, and had nervous and smothering feelings, and became very weak. I tried all kinds of medicine, but could get no relief until after I had taken three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and since then I have felt better in every way."

"Back Street" is Showing Tonight At the Capitol

The screen play "Back Street," showing tonight and tomorrow at the Capitol is an adaptation of Fannie Hurst's most popular novel, and its cast of players is headed by Irene Dunne and John Boles, two of the screen's best-liked artists. "Back Street" tells an intensely affecting story of a woman who gave up everything in her life for love, and a man who gave nothing but love. The picture sheds new light on "the eternal triangle," and you will follow the unfolding of the plot with breathless interest. "Back Street" is Fannie Hurst's greatest novel. It first appeared in Cosmopolitan Magazine as a serial, and was followed in 1931 by a most successful novel. The race to buy it was keen, and after you have seen the picture, you will realize why. It is a great love story.
