VANCOUVER, Aug. 17: (CP)-A heated exchange of words which finally ended with mutual assurance that no attacks of a personal nature were intended passed between Lord MacMillan, chairman, and G. G. McGeer K.C. at yesterday's sitting here of the royal commission on banking. "I have never heard such a monstrous suggestion," de-Aclared Lord MacMillan when he interpreted a remark of Mr. Mc-Geer's to mean that he might be receiving remuneration after the chairman had stated he had received none. Mr. McGeer later assured the chairman that he had not intended to make any suggestion that His Lordship was serving in any capacity other than one of absolute impartiality.

The royal commission was on its way to Calgary today after a three day sitting in British Columbia, two days here and one in Victoria.
