TOWER PRISONER ADMITS GETTING MONEY FROM GIRL

LONDON, March 24.—Lieut. Norman Ballie Stewart, charged with violation of the Official Secrets Act, who for several months was imprisoned in the Tower and whose case was the subject of much speculation, giving evidence yesterday in his court martial trial declared he never attempted to disclose any information prejudicial to the State. Stewart admitted, however, that he had had an affair with a girl to get money because of her infatuation for him.

AINTREE, March 24.—Winning from the pick of the world's steeplechasers today although with a small field compared with other years, Kellboro Jack carries the blue ribbon of victory in the historic Grand National. He took the whole thirty-two jumps in splendid style and finished amidst the cheers of the multitude.

Final Roundup of Books Takes Place Tomorrow and Those Who Wish Transportation Can Get It

The final roundup of books for the Prince Rupert Public Library takes place tomorrow. High School boys and girls have been busy canvassing for them and will bring them to the empty store next to the C. N. R. office tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 6, when a member of the Gyro Club will be there to receive them. Any others who have books and cannot deliver them may have them called for by ringing 260.

The depot at Ormes will still be open and books may be sent there but high school boys and girls must take theirs to the new headquarters, the empty store formerly occupied by McArthur's Shoe store.

The Library Board has been glad to receive a supply of children's books and it is hoped that more of these will be sent in.

Following were the books donated since noon yesterday making a total to date of 1572:

Miss Nelly Lawrence	41
Mrs. Steve King	4
Hemsby King	5
Alex G. Rix	10
Mrs. H. M. Harper	5
Mrs. D. Kristiansson	2

Agenda Prepared For World Conference at London Near Future

Date Not Set For Important Gathering to Be Presided Over by Premier Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain

GENEVA, March 24.—The Expert Preparatory Commission has completed the draft annotated agenda for the World Monetary and Economic Conference, which is to meet in London under the presidency of Ramsay Mac-

Donald, Prime Minister of the United Kingdom. The draft agenda has been approved by the Council of the League, which felt, however, that it could not yet fix the date of the conference. There was need for further preparation and, in any event, an interval of three months was required to enable the draft agenda to be communicated to the governments of the world. While, therefore, the conference cannot meet before the end of April, the council considered that it could not be unnecessarily delayed. The organizing committee of the council, over which Sir John Simon presides, will meet again to fix the date.

The Expert Preparatory Commission, in the report containing the agenda, which is addressed to the council and which has been published and circulated, draws attention to the extreme gravity of the world situation, and particularly to the "burden of suffering and demoralization" resulting from continued and growing unemployment. They note the profound disturbances caused by the collapse of prices, the curtailment of production, the huge accumulation of stocks. They note that international trade has been reduced to incredibly low levels."

The dislocation has, they point out, generated a "vast network of restraints" which throttle business. There is a state of virtual economic warfare which must be ended, if the social system as we know it is to survive.

In the program which the experts propose for the conference, inter-governmental debts find no place, but the experts note that, until this question is settled, debts "will remain an insuperable barrier to economic and financial reconstruction." They accordingly urge early negotiations on this problem. The main questions to be considered by the conference are summarized as follows:

1. Monetary and Credit Policy: The objective is declared to be the restoration of the gold standard as an international monetary standard. To make this possible, a great number of economic and financial conditions must be fulfilled, and safeguards must be provided against a fresh breakdown.

2. Commodity Prices: An increase in the level of world prices is highly desirable. It might be aided by a general policy of easy money designed to promote a healthy expansion of business." The regulation of exports or productions of certain primary commodities is another method to be considered. But any rise in prices can only be maintained by "a general trade improvement, such as would follow from the abolition of restrictions and the restoration of financial confidence."

3. Exchange Restrictions: The abolition of exchange restrictions is essential, and must depend upon stability of budgets and of economic systems. The objective must be to restore the confidence of leaders and to encourage a resumption of international lending. Governments must consider whether they can expedite this process.

4. International Trade: The objective should be greater freedom and the re-establishment of the "normal interchange of commodities." An effort should be made to secure the progressive abolition of the emergency restrictions imposed during the crisis. Governments should seek understandings for the moderation and stabilization of tariff prices.

THAT MANDATE

We have been asked what was the mandate given T. D. Pattullo by the Liberal convention when it met in Vancouver a few months ago. Here it is:

"We support our leader in his call to all our people, regardless of party affiliations or political beliefs, to join with him in a movement for better government."

"We extend to Mr. Pattullo a free mandate to choose for his associates in government men of character, ability and standing, having regard solely to the public interest, and we pledge our loyalty and co-operation to him and to a government of his choosing under this mandate, and our continuous support of a policy devoted solely to the public welfare."

PEARSON OUTSTANDING

George Pearson of Nanaimo is one of the outstanding lieutenants of T. D. Pattullo and it may be taken as likely that any cabinet formed by the Liberal leader will include him. He is an able speaker, a good campaigner, and will keep the cabinet in close touch with the labor situation. He will certainly not be one of those who would sit back and let nature take its course. If there is any reasonable way out of the present economic impasse he will be likely to take it.

VISITORS TROUNCED

Vancouver C.N.R.A. Had No Chance
Against Local Railway Basket-ball Team

Game Opened Well

Tally After Tally Made as Game
Progressed With Deadly
Precision

The local boys defeated the visiting C.N.R.A. hoop team in their second match in the Exhibition Hall last night 57-29. At the request of the visitors the C.N.R.A. team played and not a picked team as was announced. The first half of the game was a little peepier than the night before but if the second half the local boys put on the speed and scored baskets at will.

The game started with promise of being a good close game and for the first ten minutes the visitor had their innings. Then the local boys started that slippery combination for which they are noted and slipped the baskets in to make tally after tally so that at the end of the first half the score stood 22-13. The second half started with the home team going like a clock, working their centre play and giving Johnson and Stiles the ball under the basket which they sank at will, the local boys played circles around the Vancouverites.

The C.N.R.A. played away above the heads of the visitors all through the game and doubled their score to 57-29. For the Vancouver team M. Irving, who, although the smallest player on the floor, put up the best game for the visitors, Stiles and were sharp shooting for the local team with the rest doing most of the floor work and slipping the ball to their dead shots at opportune moments.

Brick Skinner handled the whistle in his most capable manner. Individual scoring follows: Rupert—Stiles 24; Johnson 22; Smith 5; Morrison 3; Lambie 3. Vancouver—Alfen 10; Irving 11; Wilson 3; Bourque 1; Nicholson 2; Muncey 2.

In the Intermediate fixture the Taxis took the Warriors into camp 26-15. The boys were a little lost on the big floor and consequently did not put up the showing that they usually do in the league fixtures. Alec Mitchell refereed.

The boys band under the leadership of R. Greenfield played selections during the intermission that were appreciated very much.

HISTORIC NATIONAL

Race Run Today Was Instituted in 1839 But Dropped During War Days

LAST BROOK BAD ONE

AINTRÉE, Eng., March 24.—The Grand National run here today was the ninety-second renewal of the event, which is the first major turf meet of the season. First run in 1839 but dropped during the war years, the event had very modest beginnings. A Liverpool innkeeper of a sporting nature, named Lynn, was landlord of a tavern in the Waterloo district much favored by the "horsey" gentry. Lynn secured the support of a few kindred spirits for the establishment of an annual contest to be called the "Liverpool Steeplechase." It was first run in 1837. The country of the district was ideal for the run and despite its modest inception the event attracted an enormous crowd.

The venue was transferred to Aintree two years later which was then a bleak open country intersected by many small streams and water courses. A rough and ready stand was erected and the course marked out. The race became popular rapidly and it is recorded that Lottery's win in the first Grand National in 1839 was witnessed by "an assembly at once vast and influential."

Many remarkable stories in turf history have emanated from the great Aintree steeplechase. In 1908 a horse named Rubio was supposed to have cleared Becher's Brook in front of every other competitor and to have gone on to win by 10 lengths with lots of reserve. He started at 66 to 1. Another great story is that of the biggest jump ever made in history by Chandler. In 1847 at the Leamington Hunt steeplechase at Warwick, two horses and their riders fell just in front of him at the last brook and with a terrific effort he cleared the lot, a distance variously recorded at 35, 37 and even 39 feet. The next year Chandler won the Grand National.

LOW TAXES IN MUNICIPALITY

VICTORIA, March 24.—The council of Oak Bay has approved its tax rate for the year, fixing it at twenty-six mills, instead of twenty-seven mills as last year. At the same time, this does not necessarily mean a reduction all round in taxation, owing to the fact that while the rate of last year was levied on the total value of the land, it was also collected from only 30 per cent of the value of the improvement assessment. This year the land will be taxed to the full assessed amount again, but the improvement assessment will be taxed up to 35 per cent.

In the final analysis, the taxes on residential property will remain little changed from that of last year. In some cases there will be a slight fluctuation one way or the other, dependent upon the relative value of improvements.

Man in the Moon

Spring and prosperity seem to be hiding together, just round the corner.

Courage is one of the best assets any man can have just now. Seems like our fishermen need quite a bit of it to keep on going out for halibut at four cents.

First its the Legislature, then its the banks and then its the City Council that keeps our attention. Tomorrow it'll be some other fool thing.

Often the most expensive things we get are the things that seem to cost nothing. Its a pretty good idea to look a gift horse in the mouth, the eyes, the tail and try him out for dirty tricks before accepting.

One of Irvin Cobb's best stories concerns an appraiser who was sent to a home to appraise the contents. The entries in his book halted when he came to a table on which was left a full bottle of old Scotch and then continued:

"One bottle of old Scotch whisky partly full."

The next entry was:
"One revolving Turkish rug."

ST. PATRICK'S CONCERT USK

Interesting Entertainment Followed By Dance in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien

The concert presented by the Usketeers on Friday night in Lee's Hall, Usk, was greatly enjoyed by the local citizens and many visitors from Vanarsdol, Pacific and Terrace.

Prior to the commencement of the program several minutes were humorously passed by the witty remarks of an inventor, in the person of John Tennant, who exhibited and demonstrated his most recent model of a radio. This radio later served as chairman for the concert.

The program consisted of several choruses, Irish and otherwise, by the Usketeers themselves; a dialogue in song, "The Lilac Tree," by Donald and Barbara Glover which merited much applause and commendation; a personification of Maurice Chevalier by John Post; "The Three Maids of Lee," by Dorothy Stewart, Fanny Post and Pauline Lorrie; two dialogues, "Cohen to Casey," by Edwin Williams and E. Drake, and "Between Trains," by Mr. and Mrs. Tennant; a play, "Pat's Matrimonial Venture," by Miss K. Durham, Mrs. Drake and Jim O'Brien; a "Mute Eloement," by the Junior Usketeers, and lastly, "A Shadow Play" which was dedicated to "Felix, the Cat." The program was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

The results and returns from the concert were most encouraging and gratifying to the Usketeers.

Following the St. Patrick's concert a dance was held in honor of the newlyweds of the day, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. O'Brien, (nee Miss Mary Smith of Terrace). It, too, was largely attended and a jolly affair, and amidst the congratulations and felicitations proffered the happy couple were regretful farewells to them as they were shortly to leave for Anyox where they intend to make their home.

WIPE OUT OLD PARTY

Conservative Newspaper Fears Total Destruction of Tories as Result Of Vancouver Clique

VICTORIA, March 24.—The Victoria Colonist, organ of the Conservative party here, sees in the union movements an effort to wipe out Conservatism in British Columbia, it says in part:

"The political situation in British Columbia grows more complicated and mystifying as the time approaches for a provincial election. One of the portents of particular significance is the effort being made by a Vancouver clique to wipe out the provincial Conservative party out of existence. That clique has attempted for almost a year past to dictate to Premier Tolmie what course he should pursue. There is no doubt whatever about the genuineness of Dr. Tolmie's plea for union government. In the face of refusal, steadily maintained by the Liberal opposition, he has pursued his plea. He has the support of the government caucus of Conservative members. The point where public opinion remains in a state of perplexity is with whom the followers of the government hope to unite.

"One fact standing out clearly is that, under the present alignment of parties, any prospect of union government is unavailing. With three main parties in the field the possibility exists that none of them could secure a majority of the elected representatives in a provincial election. An outcome of this character would be a coalition and not a union government."
