Halibut Boat is Now on Ways, Being Repaired at Scal Cove

The 56-foot halibut boat, the Kaien, belonging to Ole and Olaf Stegavig hit a rock and sank this side of Shawatlans Rapids. The party on the boat was returning from a wood chopping trip behind the island Friday night. There was a heavy current running at the time through the rapids when the boat hit a rock that resurted in its sinking.

The halibut boat Anna S. went to assist the Kaien and at low tide managed to get a rope on her an dtow he r closer to the beach and patch her up enough to bring her into port to go on the ways. The Anna S. towed the Kaien in last night and she is now on the ways at McLean's boat building needing it.

It is estimated that the damages will be in the neighborhood

170 Killed in Gas Explosion

This scene of ruin takes on an appearance of war-time desola tion after the explosion of a gas tank that crushed buildings like cardboard, obliterated an iron works and a benzol plant in this once-thriving Saar community of Neunkirchen, Germany, and left an appaling casualty list of 1,000 injured and 170 killed. Notice the Red Cross workers and laborers clearing the wreckage. A vision of horror is imparted as the Red Cross stretcher-bearers carry out the grim work of finding some of the 1,000 who were injured and recovering the bodies of some of the 170 dead. Bleak and smoldering in the background are the funnels of the iron works which was completely ruined.

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED CITIZENS of the Great Dominion of Canada, being a free and independent people, in whom resides the right of self determination, do hereby vigorously protest against the action of the Radio Commission of Canada in censoring or attempting to censor and exclude from public broadcast radio lectures on matters pertaining to the Bible and of public interest, and particularly the lectures of J. #### Uphold Reputation of Canadian Girl Athletes

Toronto Lakesides' relay team, which upheld the honor of Canada at Madison Square Garden, New York at the American women's indoor championships, is shown above. Running under the handicap of having to change their sprinters following the motor accident which occurred on the long drive to New York, the Canadian girls showed plenty of courage in securing second place to the Newark team out of a field of fourteen starters. The Newark girls were forced to break the world's record to offset the challenge of the battered girls from Canada, who ran despite their injuries and still managed to make a splendid showing. Left to right: Mildren Frizell, who was disqualified by Starter McHugh in the quarter finals of the sprint for false breaking: Dot Brookshaw, whose spine was injured when she was tossed out of the motor car; Glacys Moffitt, another member of the team who was in the car which argued with a tree (she was also thrown clear of the car and competed with badly injured legs); Myrtle Brown, the young runner put in at the last moment and who ran a splendid anchor position for the team.

Stirring Drama At the Capitol

The Woman in Room 13" Shows Miss Landi in Very Difficult

An ex-husband's cruel thirst for revenge constitutes the dramatic conflict of "The Woman in Room", 13," Elissa Landi's latest Fox emotional drama based on the aftermath of a divorce scandal, which is showing tonight and tomorrow at the Capitol.

As a brilliant, capable, modern wife of today, Miss Landi is pictured as a woman who holds the happiness of true love above the price for the Easther scheming mate is willing to pay for acclaim and glory. This husband, portrayed by Ralph Bellamy, From the Eastloses every claim upon her when he openly parades one of his many mistresses before her friends. This, to her, is cause enough for her divorce proceedings, even though they come at a critical time in the campaign through which Bellamy hopes to become mayor. She gains her freedom, but earns the undying enmity of Bellamy.

Happy in a new marriage, with Neil Hamilton, Landi becomes forgetful of the past until Bellamy cunningly gathers together various threads of her new life as evidence to be used against her in his plans for revenge. He succeeds in aligning her new father-in-law against her, and even in convincing her trusting husband that her relations with Gilbert Roland, who portrays an opera singer, are not as she pretends them to be.

The outcome keeps everyone guessing.
