SEN. GIDEON ROBERTSON SUCCUMBS RESULT OF STROKE

Noted Parliamentarian Passes Away in Ottawa Today at Age of Sixty

Former Minister of Labor Had Successful Career, Particularly as Mediator in Disputes—Had Record of Hard Work and Achievement

OTTAWA, Aug. 26: (CP)—Senator Gideon Decker Robertson, former minister of labor in the Bennett government, and also in the Borden and Meighen administrations, passed away here yesterday after having suffered a stroke recently. He was in his sixtieth year. On the formation of the Conservative government in 1930 he was summoned from the Senate, owing to his outstanding qualities as an organizer and a mediator in labor difficulties, to take charge of labor portfolio in the unemployment crisis. He continued as head of the department until about a year ago when ill-health compelled him to retire. Hon. Wesley A. Gordon being named as his successor. About three weeks ago he suffered a stroke and his condition had been critical since, death being expected imminently.

A labor man in a labor portfolio, Gideon Decker Robertson carried with him an atmosphere of strength and geniality. It was, perhaps, these two qualities which were the chief factors in a very successful career as mediator in labor disputes. Senator Robertson was kindly, friendly, democratic, but he was also big, strong and determined. These characteristics made him reliable in emergency and valuable when labor troubles loomed on the horizon.

Move Started to Bring Former President Hoover Before Grand Jury Investigating Detroit Banks

DETROIT, Aug. 26—A move has been instituted by District Attorney Hoy to bring former President Herbert Hoover before the federal grand jury here for questioning in connection with the recent collapse of Detroit banks. In the event of the former chief executive declining to come voluntarily, Hoy suggested that he might resort to deposition to enforce his attendance. Hoy's move to bring Mr. Hoover to Detroit followed statements which were made before the jury this week that enforcement of the national banking laws in 1930 might have prevented the collapse of Detroit as well as other banks in the country.

Hoover Not Going

PALO ALTO, Aug. 25.—Former President Herbert Hoover stated from his home here this week that he had no intention of accepting an invitation to appear voluntarily before the Detroit grand jury investigating the closure of banks in that city. All the necessary information required by the grand jury as to enforcement of the national banking regulations could be obtained from officers of the Federal Reserve, the former president declared.

The Letter Box

TROLLERS AT NORTH ISLAND

Editor, Daily News:— Referring to a recent article under "Waterfront Whiffs," I wish to point out a misleading statement referring to the trollers and the big money being made. The average of $20 is all a hoax. It is very discouraging to many good fishermen of years' experience who have not made an average of $5 a day.

Also in a previous issue you mentioned that if a man got in and worked he could make money. We feel that this is rubbing it in and wish to have such statements corrected. Also it may be noted that Gust Norman is not president of the Fishermen's Association but is acting as a fish buyer for Edmunds & Walker.

The true condition is that many of the trollers have not made $100 for the season, a few even less, while some of the lucky ones have got over $500. But if we figure it out on a business basis, including interest on our investment, the cost we incur getting ready in the spring, wear and tear to hull and engine, not adding insurance, we work for very poor wages.

Last year publicity by your paper of all this big money attracted a lot of boats from Vancouver and other places south which flocked here and worked a hardship on all of us.

Trusting in the future you will get your information from a more reliable source and give the fishermen a better break. Thanking you for this space.

JOHN SOLDAN, Secretary at North Island.

Note—Not only from fish packers but from fishermen themselves have reports been persistently received in Prince Rupert this season as to favorable results of troll fishing at North Island. The Daily News would be pleased at any time to publish statements from Mr. Soldan or other officials of the fishermen's association as to fishing conditions at North Island or elsewhere in the district.—Ed.

POLITICAL FOOTBALL

Editor, Daily News:— I refer you to the Vancouver Sun of August 23. On the front page you will see a map of British Columbia, showing the Peace River country and the ease with which a road could be built to connect with Prince George and so to Vancouver. Are we of this northern part of the province going to sit quietly in the background and let Vancouver take everything she wants right under our noses. A thousand nos. Well then, how about a little bit on this question from you?

As you no doubt realize at the present time there is quite a bit of election talk. How about asking all our candidates regardless of their party what they intend to do when they take office? Our Skeena highway has been a political football long enough. Let us adopt for our motto: "A highway now," not later. Yours for action, RUPERT BOOSTER.

Welcome to Canada's youngest premier, Angus Macdonald, Liberal leader in Nova Scotia.

Jake says he did not think an Irishman could have been chosen for such a prominent job in the bluenose province.

TROUT IN ROCKIES

JASPER, Alta., Aug. 26—If further proof is needed that fish can grow in Rocky Mountain waters, and grow both big and fighting, Jasper National Park can point from now on to its Amethyst Lake, a day's trail ride from here in the Tonquin Valley.

Last summer some 40,000 Kamloops trout fry were dumped into the elongated body of water which takes its color and name from the rampart mountains that wall it in. Winter comes early in the Tonquin and the baby trout lived for eight months under ice before the summer sun finally brought them freedom.

Speculation has run high, wide and handsome concerning the progress of the transplanted British Columbia fighting fish and some angling reputations had been at stake until yesterday when Warden Curran arrived at National Park headquarters with his first report on the youngsters. His observations exceeded all enthusiastic expectations. In spite of their long winter, the fish have grown to a length averaging from six to eight inches and are splashing up and down the entire lake as they strike at their fly food.

Amethyst is the second big lake in Jasper National Park to be stocked. It follows on the heels of Maligne Lake which was opened to fishing last year after being planted with eastern speckled brook trout. Maligne is well upholding the reputation it established last year as one of the world's greatest sporting fishing grounds. Five-pounders caught on the fly both in the lake and its outlet, the Maligne River, have been frequent all season.

To ensure an abundance of sport at Amethyst Lake 50,000 more Kamloops trout fry were released there early this summer when conditions were severe and examination of last year's fish impossible.

Halibut Landings Over Ten Million Pounds—Skidegate Trolling Fleet Returns Home—Salmon Canning Continues

Halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert for the 1933 season up to and including yesterday totalled 10,300,100 pounds or some two million pounds ahead of last year at a similar date. American landings have reached a total of 5,551,100 pounds while Canadian boats have brought in 4,749,000 pounds. Landings for the week ending yesterday were about average at a total of 483,500 pounds of which 248,000 pounds were from American vessels and 235,500 pounds from Canadian. Prices for the week held up to a fairly satisfactory level, particularly for second class fish. The high bid of the week for American fish was 9.5c and 5c which the Alki and Viola, were paid for catches of 12,000 and 7,000 pounds respectively while the low American price was 6.5c and 4c which a number of boats received. For Canadian fish the high price of the week was 7.3c and 4.25c received by the Ingrid H. for 15,000 pounds and the low 5.75c and 4.25c which a number were paid.

The Vancouver yacht Taconite, with its owner, W. E. Boeing, prominent Seattle aircraft and boat builder on board, was in port again for a few hours yesterday in the course of a cruise of northern waters which has been in progress for the past month or more and during which several calls have already been made here. The Taconite came in at 12 noon and left again at 5:30 last evening. The Boeing flying boat piloted by Clayton L. Scott, which is being used as a convoy for the yachting party in making trips to fishing lakes and streams and for other purposes, was also in yesterday for refuelling.

According to reports received during the week from the Queen Charlotte Islands, some of the vessels of the Skidegate trolling fleet have returned to the home port from the Langara Island trolling grounds on which they have been operating following the failure earlier in the season of the Hippo Island run. The Skidegate vessels, many of which are reported to have done quite well at North Island, will spend the fall trolling for cohoes on Skidegate bar.

Arthur Bell, who is engaged in the engraving business in Vancouver, is due to arrive in Prince Rupert about September 8 with his yacht Kuoria enroute to Kodiak Island on a grizzly bear hunting trip. Mr. Bell and party will be joined here by D. Zarelli, proprietor of the Royal Hotel, and Harry Scott, well known district hand logging operator, who was in port this week from Grenville Channel.

Fall Train Service

(Effective from August 28 to October 2)
Passenger trains leave Prince Rupert every Monday, Wednesday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m., connecting at Jasper for all points East and South.
During the Fall season trains from the East will arrive on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays at 8 p.m., making connection with steamers for southern ports which leave Prince Rupert on Thursdays and Sundays at 10 p.m.

Low Summer Fares until October 15th!
For information, write or phone CITY TICKET OFFICE 528 - 3rd Avenue, Prince Rupert with his boat Lila on a periodical visit. The party expects to spend about twenty days in the north.

Canning Continues
Seven salmon canneries are continuing packing operations in the Prince Rupert district and it is expected that the most of these will keep on working for some time putting up fall varieties. The canneries continuing operations are Inverness, Oceanic and Claxton on the Skeena River, Butedale and Lowe Inlet in the central area and Bella Coola and Namu in the southern end of the district. It is uncertain as to whether Lowe Inlet will continue working much longer. Cassiar cannery on the Skeena River closes down this week-end.

During the past week there was quite a satisfactory run of cohoes on the Skeena River, the boats averaging 25 fish per day. Canneries are paying 30c and 35c for the fish. A nice run of humps is reported from the Bella Coola and Bella Bella seining areas with a medium run in the central division. Following the run of pinks, it is expected the southern canneries will continue packing chums.

Capt. J. R. Elfert, harbor master at Prince Rupert, expects to open a school of navigation in the very near future, possibly within the coming month. The recent announcement that service on fishing vessels will henceforth be counted as sea time for those desirous of taking examinations for certificates as tugboat masters is expected to attract a much larger attendance of fishermen to the navigation classes during the coming winter.

Orville F. Denstadt of the scientific staff of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station sailed by the Princess Adelaide last night for Vancouver enroute back to Montreal where he will resume his post-graduate studies at McGill University after having spent the summer at the local station. It is uncertain as to whether or not he will be returning here next year.

M. M. Stephens and party, taking with them Fred Burgess of Vancouver, branch manager of the Canadian Insurance Company, are leaving this afternoon for a week-end fishing trip to Warke Canal on the Vera S. Frye.

Small Boy Loses Life in Fraser At Willow River

Murray Campbell, four year old boy, was drowned in the Fraser River at Willow River in the Prince George district, according to advice received at divisional headquarters of the provincial police here, the lad falling into the stream while at play. J. J. McGaghnan, called by the mother who observed her child struggling in the water, attempted to effect a rescue but escaped with difficulty himself when his boat swamped. The body was recovered but it was too late for resuscitation to prove effectual.

Taken From Train On Robbery With Violence Charges

Intercepting and search by provincial police of a passenger train at Isle Pierre in the Prince George district resulted in the placing under arrest of two men giving the names of John Macdonald Beaton alias John Macdonald and Frank Quinn alias Frank Gordon on charges of robbery with violence, the pair appearing in court later at Prince George and being remanded for eight days. The arrests followed complaint by Donald Fraser that he had been "strong armed" at Prince George and robbed of $10. The descriptions furnished by Fraser to the police aided in the arrest of the two alleged assailants.

Mrs. A. D. Gillies, who has been spending several weeks in Vancouver, returned to the city from the south on the Prince George yesterday.
