JAPANESE HOLD PASS IN GREAT WALL

STEPHENS TICKET HOPES TO AVOID CITY RECEIVERSHIP

"New Deal" in Regard To Municipal Bonds is Plan of Candidates

Utmost Economy in All Civic Services Will be Necessary; Group is Not Tied up to Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association

M. M. Stephens and the aldermanic candidates running with him in this week's civic election announced this morning that they hope, if elected, to be able to show the bondholders that it is no more in their interest than that of the city to impose undue hardship on the city during such a period of depression and to induce the city's creditors to agree to a "new deal," fair alike to the creditors and the city. To achieve this aim it will be necessary for every department of the city to exercise the most rigid economy and assist in every possible way to regain the former credit of the city. If economy can be shown sufficient to inspire the confidence of those bondholders now moving for a commissioner to arrange an adjustment fair to the city a commissioner will be unnecessary but all depends upon the ability to convince bondholders that it is in their interest to do so. To this policy those on the ticket are agreed.

BUSINESS IS BETTER

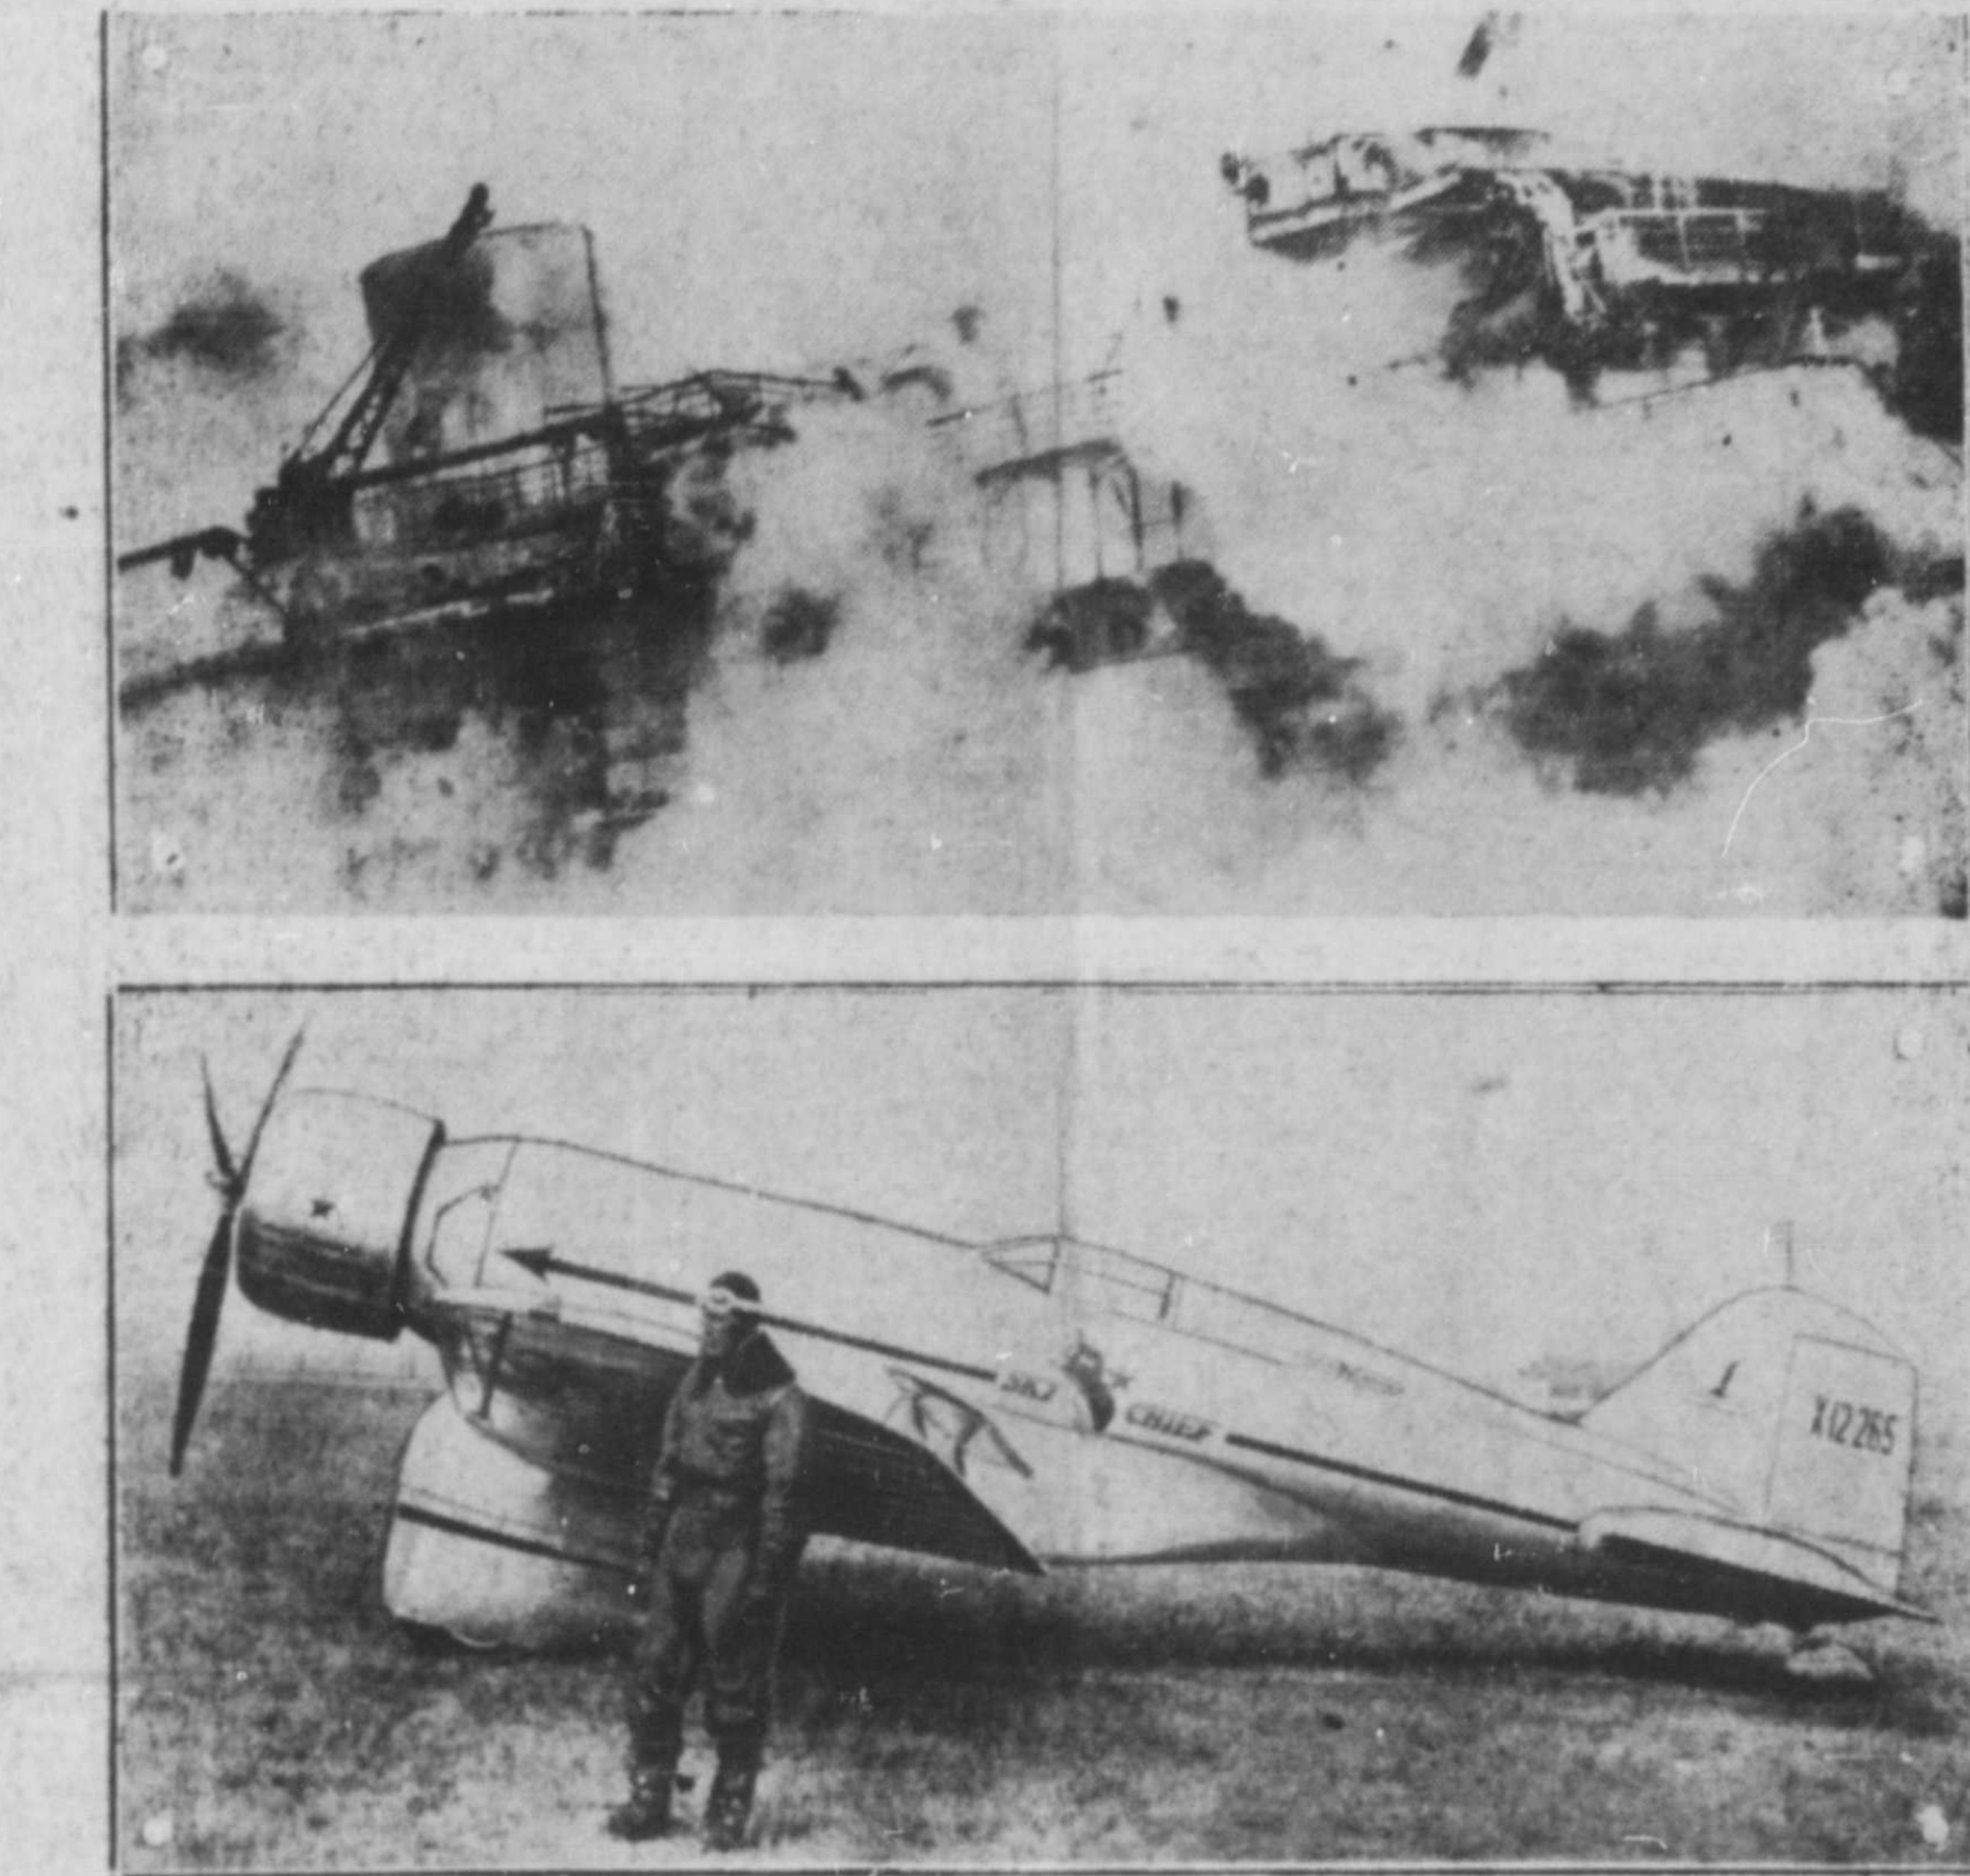

EDMONTON, Jan. 10.—A silver lining—faint, but distinguishable—is seen showing on the dark clouds now shadowing the world, by George W. Allan, K.C., of Winnipeg, chairman of the Canadian committee of the Hudson's Bay Company. The distinguished lawyer and old time westerner, who has seen more than one financial depression weathered, spoke with sincerity and honesty when he declared that the upturn had begun. "I can say this," Mr. Allan said, in summing up his conclusions at the end of the interview: "When we get along into 1933, we will be able to see signs of gradual recovery—a recovery which will be distinct in 1934. The recovery will be slow, and until some months of this year have passed, it will not be possible to make any definite predictions."

Last night an order of deportation was made against Viera by T. Fitch, local customs officer, who will deal with the other two men tonight.

Invaders Penetrate 2,000 Year-Old Barrier at Another Point And Control Mongolia Province

Two Gates Fall Before Approaching Enemy—Today's Occupation Reported to Have Been Attended by Heavy Damage and Great Confusion

TOKYO, Jan. 10: (Canadian Press)—Japanese cavalry and infantry units occupied Chiumenkow Pass in the Great Wall of China today, blocking a further pouring of Chinese troops through that famous gate into Jehol. It was the second strategic position taken by the Japanese in a week to block off China from the rich Mongolian province and frustrate Chinese attempts to defend it against impending invasion. As announced by Japanese military commanders, occupation of the Chinese city of Shanhaikwan just a week ago by the Japanese shut off the eastern gate, only a short distance from where the wall comes down to the sea. Chiumenkow is twelve miles north of Shanhaikwan and near where the 2,000-mile barrier turns westward. It was said that heavy damage was inflicted in today's occupation and that great confusion resulted from the raid.

THE CIVIC ELECTION

The Daily News does not take sides in civic elections as a rule and this year the usual policy will be carried out. All we suggest to the voters is that they consider the matter wholly in the interests of the City of Prince Rupert and not according to personal likes or dislikes. Just now the city is needing the best possible service with a view to extricating it from the perilous position in which conditions have forced it. Who would serve best is for the voters to decide.

ROBBING THE CITIES

For many years during the good times pressure was brought on the provincial governments to secure greater appropriations for the cities and municipalities. Led by the Union of B. C. Municipalities organization, pressure was brought to bear upon politicians to increase the city grants. Some increases were made.

Today the provincial government finds itself in a bad way financially and it is robbing the municipalities in order to increase its own financial strength. One by one municipal privileges are being pruned until today the cities find themselves in a position where they can no longer carry on and pay their way.

While we all realize how difficult are the times for everyone, it does not seem reasonable for the Victoria government to penalize the municipalities which are already penalized sufficiently by the cost of relief and the inability of the people to pay taxes.

THE LETTER BOX

SUGGESTS WAY TO CURE LOCAL DEPRESSION

Editor, Daily News.

In our daily and weekly newspapers and magazines we have read so much of criticism and censure that we are beginning to feel that our present condition is a hopeless one. I am moved to ask the courtesy of sufficient space in your valuable publication in which to set forth some suggestions arising from my own experience. In the sincere hope that they may bring renewed hope to at least a few of my fellow-beings and guide them towards a new way of thinking that cannot but result in a marked improvement in their outlook and welfare.

Notwithstanding the almost universal nature of the present crisis it has been my unalterable opinion that individuals or communities may rise above it by adopting a right attitude. Our greatest fault is that we are too ready to judge others of the weaknesses and failures of which we ourselves, any or have been, guilty. If a person has injured us in some way we cannot possibly improve the situation by nursing a grudge. Those of us who pray say "Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive them that trespass against us." If therefore we ask to be forgiven in the same measure as we forgive, surely we cannot complain of the progress or lack of it, resulting from our attitude.

Unemployed

In our community there is rather a bitter feeling against some of the unemployed who refuse to work for their relief. I am not going to attempt to judge the right or wrong of such behavior. To me it would be cruel to accuse those who have been deprived of the right to earn their daily bread and creature comforts by a social system that appears to have got quite beyond the control of mankind, especially when I am well provided for myself. I should feel a hypocrite. It is impossible for me to put myself in the shoes of the unemployed and actually experience what agony and conflicting emotions are theirs but I can try and in trying my heart turns to them with sympathy and forgiveness no matter what they have said or done.

Perhaps we cannot all be saints but at least we can endeavor to grasp the moral outlook of the lives of the saints. Consider Saint Stephen, who prayed to the Lord for those who stoned him to death that He would not lay it to their charge. It would have been so natural from the point of view of many among us for Stephen to have cursed his assailants and that is why, when we are confronted with seemingly base ingratitude for help extended to our fellows, it is so easy to condemn without having any knowledge of what prompted the actions of those who have disappointed us. There is only one interpretation of the Commandment, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

The power of love can not be stayed and there is no other power on earth equal to it. Confidently show a man goodwill and no matter what his character he must eventually respond. The exact opposite is true of ill-will.

Where should we begin to show this goodwill? Surely nowhere more than in our own community, among our friends and neighbors. We are none of us independent but must rely upon the collective efforts of the community for our daily needs. If we withhold from our fellow-citizens that support which makes possible their presence among us it is only a matter of time before we, too, shall find our support taken away. One of the most common fallacies is to imagine that the saving of a few dollars or cents by sending elsewhere for those things we need ultimately brings us greater well-being, for by our action we have rendered it more difficult for our fellow-citizens to lead their support to our own livelihood.

Help Ourselves

Among some of my friends in Prince Rupert the remark has been made that they "simply could not afford, on their salary, to pay city prices." Others contend that the merchants do not carry a large enough stock, or a sufficiently diversified assortment, yet they overlook the important fact that the prices, lack of stock and assortment is directly due to their failure to support the community that is supporting them. The smaller the quantity of commodities that the merchant is compelled to order at one time, the higher the price he must pay for it. Our economists, if it is possible, are not to be faulted. They cannot create foreign markets for the products of our land while their own countrymen are unemployed and starving. The solution of our problems lies right at our door, not on the horizon.

The mail order houses that are so well supported, by our daily necessities, if anything, to the welfare of such cities, I do not buy their goods because I am certain that the good work accomplished by such houses in rural settlements not served by retail stores would be far better rewarded if our people would realize the duty they owe their fellow-beings. The prosperity of one section may be spread to other sections. If the people of Prince Rupert set a good example, who shall say but that it may spread throughout the country and redeem our suffering fellow-beings from the distress into which nothing save thoughtful-ness has thrust them?

Now is the time at the beginning of a new year to create our moral code and our concept of duty to our fellow-men. My own experience has shown me that the merchants of Prince Rupert are an honest, kindly and reasonable set of people and it is possible to find anywhere in the world. They appear, as the result of us do, to kindness and consideration. This will be true not only of all communities in northern and central British Columbia but throughout the country. Kindness, goodwill and a happy disposition bring rewards undreamt of and which cannot be measured in terms of gold.

—AMOR VALENTI COENLA

REPLY TO MR. ANDERSON.

Editor, Daily News.

The Corporative State is the right name.

The corporations of industry of agriculture, of commerce, sea and air transportation, of land and inland transportation, of the professions and arts comprising all the material and spiritual forces of the nation, embracing 99% of the workers, for everyone is registered by the ministry of the corporations in order to get his political vote and share the benefits of the wonderful social organization in all its forms—industry, sickness, tuberculosis, unemployment and old age.

The corporations as a whole, are in reality the idea of the corporative state because they are co-ordinated to form one corporation only, which is Italy. There is the meaning of the corporative state, a union of corporations of production, of employers and employed, themselves mutually incorporated to form one major corporation—the state.

A perfect symbol of the corporations is represented in the rods, all of them bound together by the national colors into a compact mass—"E Pluribus Unum"—and also as a symbol of union on American times.

The unemployed? Italy is situated in the centre of Europe and has her own foreign trade which shows a decline of 43%. The depression has its logic consequences. Agriculture is for Italy a great industry of exportation, fruits, vegetables, are exported in great quantities. In normal times they constitute a trade of $250,000,000 yearly.

The great volume of public works, the reclamation of 7,000,000 acres of marsh-lands, are great stimulants to internal trade, because they absorb masses of workers and promote trade in the absorption of all kinds of materials, while they create no surplus production. The financing is done by the savings banks repayable by the state, funded in annual instalments spreading over a long time with 2% interest.

The shipbuilding industry is helping out greatly. To cite one of the many accomplishments of fascism, let us point out that two of the world's newest, largest palatial steamers entered New York Harbor during last October and November, the Rex and the Conte di Savoia, while the Neptunia, 26,900 tons, was on her maiden trip to South America, and the Oceania, her sister ship, was being launched in Trieste. One million of unemployed out of 43,000,000 last winter, 2.3% is not a great percentage.

Quote Nitti! He is the arch-enemy of fascism. Let us lose no time. Poisoning the children's minds? No! They are taken care of, as no land does, or ever did, by the wonderful organizations of the Balilla, the Avanguardisti, the mountains, at the sea shores. They are taught to obey, to love, venerate the land of their birth. Fostering the noblest sentiments, the best there is in human nature. Is that poisoning the minds?

Forgotten? There is as much freedom in Italy as anything else.

Stability in Italy? That is a dream but Italy did for strikes and lock-outs are criminal offences. That is a dream of ideal criticism was over-ruled last year ago. They are civil questions dealt with by the courts.

Mussolini, the ex-socialist, the syndicalist found that our civilization is industrially economic. He has concentrated on the social and political-economic, intensely practical, dealing with things as they are, and being theories following practice—facts.

Of course he did not act in conformity with the teaching and theories announced 25 years ago by the Prophet Marx, thus contradicting all the material of that guru.

Mussolini, the grand political alchemist of the world, will hardly be obscured even by unpalatable criticism. The candid, considerate opinion about the Italians? The Sun of Rome? They hardly need my commendation, but thank you in the name.

The object of writing the articles in the Corporative State has been, and is purely informational. Everybody knew something about it down his black shirt, the grey wigwag but his material and mentally transformed a whole nation, but nobody seemed to know anything about the very social structure—the Corporative State, the object and aim of the fascist revolution.

Yours for the truth
V. BASSO-BERT

RECOVERS LOST BROOCH

Editor, Daily News.

As a former resident and reader of your most valuable paper, I wish to take this opportunity of wishing you the staff and your readers a most successful new year. May this year be a turning point for the better to the citizens of Prince Rupert and everywhere. This I wish most sincerely. As a humble servant of our Lord, Jesus Christ, my resolution this year is to make a fresh start by obedience to the word of God which bids us to confess our sins and through the precious shed blood get forgiveness of sins and cleansing from all unrighteousness! John 1:2.

While living in Prince Rupert some years ago, my little daughter who was about 2 or 4 years at that time, found a brooch once, I had her with me down town. We were having something to eat in one of the cafes and under the same table she was sitting she found the brooch. I never took the trouble to advertise about it because, to tell the truth, I liked it so well.

Lately this brooch has caused me a great deal of worry, so I thought the only thing I could do about it was to write to your paper and send it to you, in hope that I might be able to restore it to the right owner.

Thanking you for your trouble, I remain,

A Humble Servant of
JESUS CHRIST

New Westminster, B.C.

RAMOR DENIED

Editor, Daily News.

A rumor is being industriously circulated around town by our "opposition" to the effect that M. M. Stephens applies to be made Commissioner, should one be appointed by the Government for Prince Rupert.

There is no word of truth in this statement and we brand it as a deliberate lie. We would be opposed to any local man holding that position, should it come to a showdown, and the bondholders make demand for one, but Stephens, Currie, Basso-Bert, Wesch and myself are running with just one object in view, namely, to get the city on its feet again, if possible, and try to save our property, and the property of every house-holder in Prince Rupert, before everything has been swallowed up in taxation.

Give us your support—we are working for you—and you will have no cause to regret it.

H. B. ROCHESTER.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having served you for five years in the city council I solicit your vote and influence on my behalf as mayoral candidate in the pending municipal election. Let us not abandon the old ship, but bind ourselves together in common protection, especially in times of stress, I can give my whole time and am strictly independent. I will serve for nothing.

Yours for Mayor,
R. F. FERRY

Be Sensible about the FLU

With every epidemic of influenza comes an epidemic of advice. But if you have the flu—or you even suspect its presence—there's just one thing to do. Call a doctor immediately. There are, however, some simple, sensible precautions that everyone should take at this time. Try to keep in good physical condition. Guard against colds or sore throat by avoiding contact with all coughers and sneezers. The germs of disease will often fasten upon the man or woman whose vitality has been lowered by a severe cold.

MOVING OF MUCH GOLD

Bigger Deal Than British War Debt Payment Recalled

MONTREAL, Jan. 10: (Canadian Press)—Britain's debt to the United States, $95,500,000, may seem a lot of money to change hands at one time, and it is, but there are men in this city who can remember a bigger gold movement than that, and a longer one too.

It was during the early years of the war, according to J. R. Martin, manager of the foreign department of the Canadian Express. The then Dominion Express was given an order to move $96,000,000 from Vancouver to the Royal Mint vaults at Ottawa. There were 13 cars on the bullion train, nine of them held gold and four guards each. The others were supply cars, carrying relief guards, and officials. The whole trip was made in 90 hours, with stops only to change engines.

The train was given precedence over everything else on the Canadian Pacific Railway and stops were made only to change engines. With pen riding on the cow-catcher, armed with sawed-off shot-guns and revolvers, it was probably this train that started the rumor that a Russian army corps had been transported across the Dominion.

There were succeeding heavy gold shipments, one of $68,000,000, and many ranging between $10,000,000 and $20,000,000. All told during the war something between $1,250,000,000 and $1,500,000,000, was moved, Mr. Martin said.

Mayor S. M. Newton and members of the 1932 city council will give an accounting of their stewardship at a public meeting to be held tonight in the Empress Theatre.

The Bankers' Trust Association announces that it will open a branch in Prince Rupert under the management of J. J. Sloan. The local advisory board will consist of T. D. Pattullo, J. A. Kirkpatrick, F. G. Dawson, F. H. Mobley, A. J. Morris, A. M. Manson, L. C. Macken and J. Lorne MacLaren.

Man in the Moon

Nominations are over and there's nothing now to bother with except the elections and the criticism after the elections.

Women can sometimes help their husbands. In instance there are some that cover the mortgage with their fur coats.

There once was an ambitious man. Said: "I'll elected be if I can."
But the voters said no
This darn fool I'll show—
Now he's only a sad also-ran.

I should like to congratulate the elected school trustees but feel I must congratulate the fellows who found it impossible to spare the time this year to serve the city in that capacity.
