WASHINGTON, D.C., May 30: (Canadian Press)—The foreign affairs committee of the House of Representatives today voted to instruct American delegates to the forthcoming world economic conference to work for stabilization of international exchange and strive to secure an international agreement for gold and silver at a definite fixed ratio. The American delegation will be leaving in a few days for London where the conference will be held.

OPPOSED TO LEVY

Hotel and Restaurant Proprietors Register Vehement Protest at Meal Tax

VICTORIA, May 30: (CP)—How the public opinion, threatening to break out into a storm of protest, is growing throughout British Columbia against the British Columbia government's "meal tax," authorized under the Hospitals Aid Act passed at the last session of the Legislature.

The new levy places a five percent tax on all meals costing more than 50 cents, applied to hotels, restaurants and boarding houses. Certain exemptions are allowed in the cases of boarding house meals and meal tickets. Where paid as board, $1 per day, $7 per week or $28 per month are the exemptions.

Hotel men and boarding house proprietors have inundated the government with protests. A combined meeting of Victoria mainland hotelmen passed a resolution against absorption of the levy and appointed a delegation to protest to the government. One prominent hotel man said the new tax threatens to drive the tourist trade from the province.

Many British Columbians are said to so order their meals now that the check totals only 49 cents thus avoiding payment of the tax. Though there is nothing in the act to provide for arrest of non-payers fines can be imposed.

Situation Chaotic
Hotel men say the tax situation is chaotic and the tax plan unworkable. They say the levy will act against one section of the catering industry for the protection of another section. Announced changes in the original regulations, they continue, have not lessened their objection to the tax.

Boarding house keepers protest that single men boarding at home do not need to pay the tax while men living in a boarding house do. The method of collecting the tax is unjust and unfair, in their opinion. Meals that average a cost of 33 cents, when paid by the month, are subject to the levy when applied on the monthly rates.

It befell a Manitoban to have the doubtful honor of being the first to be convicted under the act. Refusing to pay the tax on a 75 cent meal on the Victoria-Vancouver boat, J. Sutherland, commercial traveller from Winnipeg, was fined $5 and $2 costs when brought into court.

If there were any real hostility between art and science I should certainly feel alarmed over the fate of art.—Havelock Ellis.

A POLITICAL SHADOW

Friends and opponents must be impressed with the tragedy of Mr. Bowser's last political effort. The old man is feeling the strain of the campaign and is reduced physically almost to a shadow. He never has been a leader for the only fight he entered into he lost. That was in 1916. Throughout the Tolmie regime he and a few followers kept up a continuous barrage against Premier Tolmie. It was a dull month when no newspaper suggestion was made of Tolmie retiring and giving place to Bowser as Conservative Premier.

Now Mr. Bowser is heading what he calls a "non-partisan" party while Dr. Tolmie is the sole nominated representative of a "unionist" party. The chief supporters of each are ultra-conservatives.

Vancouver supporters of Mr. Bowser are wondering if he will be able to carry on until election day. In fact, there is some doubt of his being able to make the promised northern tour.

Mr. Bowser, in his fighting days, had many estimable characteristics. With Premier McBride to give the people inspiration, he was a very useful attorney general. When he nosed McBride out of the premiership and essayed to lead the party, it was a different story. The inspiration, which fed the political party, was gone and nothing remained but the loaves and fishes. The party disintegrated and Tolmie was chosen to put life into the dry bones, which he did most effectively.

Tolmie having failed as an administrator, when he might have succeeded if Bowser had helped him instead of hindered, the ultra-Tories looked around for some tool to enable them to retain power. The Bowser filibustering was still continuing and the aged politician still had dreams of heading a British Columbia administration. No other prominent man could be persuaded to take the job of heading off the Pattullo boom. A new pedestal was carefully prepared and the grey haired, bent figure, that formerly symbolized machine politics, was properly sanctified, blessed by big business and lifted to the dais where the people were invited to fall down and worship. A few did but, while many went out to see the newly enshrined saint, few remained to worship. Even they are now beginning to take note of the feet of clay and the shoddy pedestal and are doubting the sudden conversion to political saintship.

CANADA AT BIG FAIR

an exhibit which possesses dignity and selling power. It should interest millions of people in the attractiveness of our tourist resorts and in the investment possibilities present in this northern section of the continent and in the natural resources of our country.

This was the view expressed by Alistair Fraser, acting traffic vice-president of the Canadian National Railways, on his arrival here yesterday from Chicago where he represented the National Railways at the opening of the World's Fair of 1933.

There were also present at the opening ceremonies the publicity chiefs of the two Canadian railways—J. Murray Gibbon of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and Walter S. Thompson of the Canadian National Railways, with P. Cosgrove, of the Department of Trade and Commerce, who were associated together in preparing the joint Canadian exhibit.

Vacations in Canada

"A special effort is to be made," said Mr. Fraser, "to have the visitors to the Chicago Fair continue their vacation itineraries into Canada. For that purpose an information bureau has been established at the Canadian exhibit, manned by a staff of six, where every character of information regarding Canada will be available. I am hopeful that, through the Exposition and other efforts planned in the United States, Canada will attract a very large number of people even in this very difficult season.

The Canadian exhibit occupies the southern half of the great hall in the travel and transport building of the Century of Progress. The Canadian coat of arms, flood-lighted, stands over the largest map of the Dominion ever prepared and the largest in the whole Exposition of 120 massive buildings and thousands of displays. At the reception room are the scarlet uniforms of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, a detail of this famous force consisting of a sergeant and two corporals being present at the exhibit, a magnet for visitors old and young. You may pass for half an hour in front of splendidly conceived and executed dioramas in color of Canadian scenery. Banff, Jasper, Ontario, Quebec, the Maritime Provinces, British Columbia, the prairies and the Canadian cities. The work is all of the Dominion display of Canadian artists.

"The eye travels from hunting and fishing to the minerals and fruits and even the tobacco of Canada. While Canada has not gone to the expense of erecting a building of her own, her participation with sixteen other nations and all the States will bring her handsome returns both in good will and business.

"The Century of Progress is a vast 'show case' covering more than four hundred acres, representing an exposition investment in all of thirty million dollars and it cannot be seen in a day or even two days. During the five months that the Exposition will be open, it is expected that the attendance will exceed fifty millions."

Word comes from the Skeena River that a great many fishermen are installing new engines in their fishing boats in readiness for the opening of the gillnetting season on June 20.

Vancouver Boy Takes Title By Knocking Corbett Out in First Round of Titular Bout

Long Rights and Lefts Disastrous to Defender—Fight Was Fiasco From Financial Standpoint

LOS ANGELES, May 30: (Canadian Press)—In the most spectacular upset the welterweight division has known in many years, Jimmy McLarnin of Vancouver won the world's welterweight championship at Wrigley Field here last night when he knocked out Young Corbett III of Fresno, Calif., the title-holder, in the first round of their scheduled ten round bout. Referee George Blake stopped the fight after the champion had been swept from his feet by the canvas three times, twice with terrific rights to the jaw and once with a crushing left hook to the head. Corbett had gone into the ring a ten to seven favorite to win.

The end of the fight came after the first round had elapsed but two minutes and thirty-seven seconds. After McLarnin had, apparently, been embarrassed in a brief spell of infighting, the Irish-Canadian contender jumped out of a clinch and Corbett was felled first with a right to the jaw. A few seconds later he took the count of eight as a result of another right to the jaw. Still dazed, the champion was back on his feet but went down again under a vicious left hook to the head. The referee then stopped the fight and declared McLarnin the winner and the new world's champion.

Corbett weighed in at 146 pounds and McLarnin at 145 1/2 pounds.

Financial Fiasco

The fight proved a wash-out for the promoters. There was only $39,400 in the gate and, after federal and state taxes were deducted, the promoters were $13,000 short of their guarantee for Corbett. There were no net receipts with which to pay McLarnin 22 1/2%.

Big Reception Planned

VANCOUVER, May 30: (Canadian Press)—Vancouver is already making plans for a great reception for Jimmy McLarnin when he returns in a few days to his home here from Los Angeles where he won the world's welterweight boxing championship last night from Young Corbett III. The city and the Vancouver Rotary Club, of which McLarnin is a member, are expected to take a leading part in the reception to the pugilistic hero who is intensely popular in his home town. Ever since last night, his parents, who live here, have been showered with congratulations.

High praise has also been heard for "Pop" Foster, who has been McLarnin's manager throughout his career and who has been long admitted to be largely responsible for the success which has come to his protegee until its final culmination in the world's championship.

New Anaesthetic Drug Now Used

Patients Go to Sleep and Operation Is Over Without Knowing It

SHEFFIELD, Eng., May 30: (CP)—A new anaesthetic drug which removes the fear preceding an operation has been described at the annual meeting of the Sheffield Royal Hospital. The effect of the new drug is said to be such that patients go to sleep under it and upon waking the operation is over. The process is regarded as a boon to nervous patients, and in the cases of children they are given special "sweets" which considerably reduce their pain.

At the Sheffield Royal Hospital meeting it was stated that in one case a nurse found an elderly man awake and ready to go to the bathroom. To his amazement he was told to stay in bed quietly, as his operation had been performed the previous afternoon.

RAPIDS AS ATTRACTION

Preliminary Steps Being Taken to Cut Trail to Butze From Highway

T. Ross Mackay has arranged for a small group of volunteers to begin the work on Saturday of this week of cutting a trail from the highway direct to Butze Rapids. The idea is to make a start and to try to organize for regular work on this trail until it is finished.

Mr. Mackay thinks Butze Rapids is one of the scenic attractions of the place and a road to it would be a paying investment from a tourist point of view. However, the first thing is to have a trail and also to make it possible to see the rapids from the highway.

The matter was brought up at a recent ratepayers' meeting and it is proposed to enlist public support to a greater degree as the work advances.

John Dybhavn Tells Biological Board Plans—Attended Rotary Convention

In addition to attending to private business, John Dybhavn, who returned Sunday evening from a trip south, was present at meetings in Vancouver of the Pacific advisory and Pacific sub-executive committees of the Biological Board of Canada. In spite of decrease in appropriations for the year, Mr. Dybhavn states that arrangements have been made whereby all major investigations at present in hand will be carried on but no new work of any magnitude can be undertaken at this time. D. B. Finn, director of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station, also attended these meetings but will not be returning to the city for a week or ten days.

Mr. Dybhavn was also in attendance in Victoria at the district convention of the Rotary Club as delegate from the local club of which he is president-elect. Some seven hundred persons were in attendance at this convention which was a great success. A large proportion of the visitors were from Washington and Oregon points. W. J. Dinsmore of Tacoma was elected the new district governor and intends to pay a visit here this fall. Mr. Dybhavn met O. H. Nelson, former well known local newspaper publisher, who was "covering" the Rotary convention for the Victoria newspapers.

WHIFFLETS From the Waterfront

After paying his first visit to the port this spring, Capt. Don Yelf left last night for Hippo Island from which point to Butedale he is again packing salmon on charter to the Canadian Fishing Co. with his well known packer B. and Y. The vessel had delivered its first load of 20,000 springs from Hippo to Butedale and came on here for ice and supplies before making its second trip, having arrived on Sunday evening. Skipper Yelf received a hearty welcome from many local friends. He reported that about forty boats are now engaged in trolling at Hippo Island and are doing fairly well. After the school holidays begin, Mrs. Yelf and family will be coming north from Vancouver to pay a visit at Tleil. Bob Irvine of this city joined the crew of the B. and Y. here and will serve aboard her this year as he did last.

Fifteen men, most of whom were taken on locally, are now engaged in reconitioning of the Tucks Inlet reduction plant which has been taken over by the Nelson Bros. Fisheries Ltd. of Vancouver for operation again this year in the production of fertilizer, meal, etc. from local halibut and almon offal. After a rather extensive overhaul of the plant has been completed, it will start production again. Thomas Anderson of Vancouver is in charge as manager.

SPEAKER AT GYRO CLUB

Dr. H. Carson was the speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club in the Boston Cafe today, telling some interesting incidents of his recent trip to Vienna and elsewhere in Europe on medical post-graduate work. T. W. Brown, president of the club, was in the chair and, on behalf of the members, extended a warm welcome home to Dr. Carson, who is a popular member of the club.

In addition to her regularly scheduled voyage, C.P.R. steamer Princess Adelaide, Capt. S. K. Gray, this week-end will make a special run north from here to Ketchikan to pick up a number of Ketchikan and district school teachers and take them south for the summer vacation. Due to arrive here at noon Friday from Vancouver, the Adelaide will sail at 2 p.m. for Ketchikan, leave there at 12 midnight on her return south, arrive here at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and sail an hour later for Vancouver.

FORGOTTEN BALANCES IN BANKS

Number of People Have Left Considerable Sums at Prince Rupert

"Forgotten Money" is the title of an article appearing in Maclean's

William J. Smith, Prince Rupert, $562.10 in the Bank of Commerce. Last record 1909.
 Mrs. F. R. Ewing, Kitselas, $505.60 in the Bank of Commerce, Prince Rupert. Last record 1911.

the Bank of Commerce, Prince Rupert. Last record, 1926.
