SKIDEGATE, April 5:-E. C. Stevens has just returned from a trip to Vancouver where he put over what is thought to be one of the largest mining deals of recent years in the north. He sold the well known Prince Rupert group of claims on the west coast of Graham Island to Basil G. Hawkins & Co. of Vancouver.

The purchasers of the claims, it# is announced, will at once install a HOLD-UP IN a larger mill later in the summer.

Mr. Hawkins and his engineer, Mr. Turner of Vancouver, will visit the Queen Charlottes by airplane the plane will be kept at the islands for the summer in connection with the mining operations.

It is understood that local men will be employed and union wages

WORK INSTEAD OF DOLE

Wednesday, April 5, 193;

Eastern people are now taking up with the Bennett government the policy that this paper has always advocated, that of providing work for the unemployed instead of the dole. With one of the provincial parties favoring a similar policy it is likely it may yet win out and the disgrace of the present system be wiped out.

AIRSHIP CATASTROPHE

It was only Monday that this paper published the picture of a new giant airship, Macon, being built at Akron, Ohio. Yesterday the big ship Akron, named after the place at which it was built fell into the sea and most of those aboard were killed. It was a terrible catastrophe.

With the heavier than air machines a great success, giving regular and efficient service in all parts of the world, it seems as if the lighter than air ships were doomed to pass out. In Britain they have been unsuccessful. Germany is the only country where they have been used with any approach to serving a useful purpose and even there. with possibly one exception, the Zeppelins have not been found commercially successful. The tragedy of the Akron is likely to be a blow at airships of that type.

OVER MOUNT EVEREST

Man is succeeding in a great many enterprises. This week an airplane flew over the highest peak of Mount Everest, the highest mountain in the world. In every line of endeavor one success succeeds another or a success follows a failure.

Possibly when the rulers of the world tackle the regulation of production and consumption and the more difficult task of distribution they will succeed. It will have to be done soon. It seems to be the unsolved problem of the present day.

He is tackling first the question of beer and other liquors with the idea of making these commodities more easily available to the public. Queer that Large Range of Subjects Covered nobody has thought of the idea of making Mr. Pooley premier of British Columbia.

Sustained Expected Defeat in First of Stanley Cup Play Last Night

NEW YORK, April 5: (CP)-The New York Rangers defeated the weary Toronto Maple Leafs five to one here last night in the first of the play-offs for the Stanley Cup, emblematic of the world's professional hockey championship. The Rangers scored two in the first period and two in the second while each team scored once in the third.

The next game will be played in Toronto Saturday night and the world champion Maple Leafs, after the rest, are expected to make a better showing. It had been hardly anticipated that they would win last night following their gruelling battle of the night before at home with the Boston Bruins in which they won the National League title.
