Senator Pittman's Plan To Be Amended Before Conference Accepts It

India Objects to Export Quota and Spain Also Takes Exception to Restrictions—Drastic Change Needed to Reach Accord

LONDON, July 18: (Canadian Press)—Negotiations regarding the use of silver received a setback today when the world economic conference silver committee, slated to convene after a recess of several days, was unable to reassemble until tomorrow. It was reported that India objected to an export quota such as the United States had suggested while Spain had raised objections to a restrictive agreement on its monetary silver. It was reported in informed quarters that drastic revision of Senator Key Pittman's later silver agreement draft is necessary before there can be any hope of accord. The Nevada senator remained hopeful, however, of action being taken on his suggestion to increase the use of silver.

BOMBING IN VANCOUVER

Premises on Seymour Street Used As Chinese Lottery Blown Up Early Today

No One Hurt

Believed to Have Been Work of Rival Gamblers or of Some Disgruntled Loser

VANCOUVER, July 18: (Canadian Press)—Premises at 1015 Seymour Street which the police state had been occupied by a Chinese lottery were demolished early today by bomb and fire which followed. No one was present in the building at the time and there were no injuries. Residents of adjoining houses, which were shaken by the crash and roar, ran into the street in night attire. The fire was put out only after adjoining buildings had been damaged, firemen and police officers forcing their way through the flames in search of possible injured. The police suggest that the bomb may have been placed by rival gamblers or a disgruntled loser. The premises were raided on June 19 and a lottery conviction obtained. The present tenants, the police state, had been closing each night at 11 o'clock.

REPAIRING STREETS

Many favorable comments are heard at the action of the commissioner in having the streets repaired. The downtown roads have been renovated and the outside points are now receiving attention whenever the weather is fit for work. The result is that the shops are getting less work replacing broken springs. Let us be thankful for small mercies.

SOVIET TIMBER

Most persistent reports come from Russia in regard to the conditions under which the timber is being produced which is sent to Britain to compete with the Canadian timber from British Columbia. It is stated on the authority of the men and women who produce it that the most appalling conditions obtain. The work is done by men, women and children who are underfed, are allotted impossible tasks, are without proper clothing and footwear and are so badly housed that it has become a scandal. The British government is being asked to investigate the conditions and to prevent competition of that kind which is bound to drag down the Canadian worker.

BANKS OPTIMISTIC

Banks are not usually optimistic. Canadian banks particularly are known to be careful of their statements. Bank managers have had to cultivate a pessimistic attitude in refusing loans to clients and this has affected their whole careers. The result is that the average citizen is apt to discount their pessimism and when just now and then they become optimistic they know there is good reason for it. Just now the banks are seeing improvement in Canadian conditions. They admit that the improved tone is contagious and that very soon will reflect itself in all lines of industry. Evidently the future must be glowing.

NEW BOATS ARE BUILT

Hull Firm is Spending Over Half a Million Dollars in Construction of Up-to-Date Trawlers

Several Craft

English Fishing Industry Stabilized As Result of Legislation—Many Companies Active

HULL, E. g., July 18.—Orders for new trawlers to a value of between £128,000 and £160,000 have already been placed by Hull firms during the present year, and the building of still further boats is contemplated by various other local firms. So far the orders have been to a large extent simply replacements of trawlers which have been either sold or lost during one of the most tragic winters on record, but the local trawler building program will be pushed forward with even greater intensity if the industry is stabilized as a result of proposed legislation.

Since the building of the Lady Lillian for the Jutland Amalgamated Trawlers, Ltd., in the early part of the year, seven further local orders have been placed with Yorkshire shipbuilders.

The St. Arcadius, a new boat acquired by Messrs. Hamlyn, recently underwent her trials, while a third new trawler, the Bayflower, which has been ordered by the Yorkshire Steam Fishing Co., arrived at Hull from the Selby shipyards the same day.

The Yorkshire Steam Fishing Co. has a further boat on order from Messrs. Cochrane of Selby, while an order for two new boats has been placed with the same firm by Messrs. Pickering and Haldane.

All Improvements

Two new boats have also been ordered from Messrs. Cochrane by Hudson Bros. One, the Cape Bathurst, was launched at Selby last Saturday, and will shortly arrive at Hull, the other being still on the stocks.

A much needed fillip for the shipbuilding industry has been given by these orders, and the prospect of further work is being eagerly awaited.

It is estimated that each of the new trawlers will cost between £16,000 and £20,000. They are the latest word in modernity, and no expense has been spared in equipping them.

De Luxe Vessel

The Bayflower, for instance, will be as long as the largest trawler in the country, and there are many special features about this particular boat.

In the past some of the local trawlers have been partially insulated, but the fish room of the new arrival will be insulated throughout the only woodwork being in the shelves.

The walls will have the hard enamel effect of a bathroom, and it is expected that fish stored in this room will be as fresh when landed at the port as it was just after catching.

The incorporation of telemotor gear will dispense with the necessity of ordinary steam steering. Worked with oil, this patent will link up the bridge with the engines on the aft deck and do away with all chains, channel bars, springs, and buffers which generally appear on a ship's side. It is worked direct from the engines to the quadrant, and its incorporation will be an experiment in which great interest will be taken.

Liver Barrels No More

Gone are the liver barrels which have been such a common sight on the decks of local trawlers in the past, and in their place the Bayflower will be equipped with a special plant for reducing livers to oil. There will be special storage tanks for this oil, the oil being pumped ashore from the receiving tanks on arrival in port.

Another unique feature will be the provision of steel lifeboats fitted with air tanks. Even if the boats leak the air tanks will keep them afloat, and for buoyancy and safety this innovation should be a great boon.

Fitted with a cruiser stern and patent Oetze rudder, the trawler will also be equipped with direction finders, electric light, wireless and patent sounding gear.

Hot-Water Supply

There will be a bathroom, etc., in the officers' quarters, a hot-

Optimistic Report of Royal Bank Shows Revival of Activity in Many Lines of Business in Canada Today

Tide of Business Has Turned and Will Quickly Flow to Areas Not Yet Affected—Optimism Helps Towards Greater Improvement

The monthly report of the Royal Bank of Canada just issued is very optimistic. It says in part:

With a rise in the prices of agricultural and mineral products, increased carloadings, a more than seasonal improvement in employment and an increase in both the volume and unit value of exports, the evidence seems to show that the tide of business has turned and that its flow will quickly spread to those parched areas which have not yet felt the improvement. The increase in activity of business, together with the influence of the much greater improvement in the United States, has tended to generate an optimism which of itself helps to produce further improvement.

In its early stages business improvement shows itself in rather isolated bits of intangible information. It is not until the movement is well under way that general statistics reflect this improvement which by that time will have made itself felt in the plans and policies of a great many companies.

Newsprint production has increased nearly 40%, automobile production has almost tripled, construction contracts have doubled and carloadings have greatly increased. A large part of this improvement is seasonal, but it is the fact that the improvement shown is greater than seasonal which tends to substantiate the new optimism which is general among the farmers of the west, who are receiving a better price for their wheat, in the mining industry, which is rapidly increasing its output, and in the manufacturing areas of Canada, where orders are being received in better volume than for the past two years.

Nothing that has been said should lead to the conclusion that revival has reached a point where there is a general increase in activity in all branches of industry. Most lines of manufacturing are still much depressed, but a summary shows numerous instances where improvement is quite pronounced. Agricultural implement plants have increased operations. The output of new automobile models was restricted early in the season but has been expanding rapidly. Production in May was the largest in any month since May, 1931. The iron and steel industry has continued to lag behind the progress being made in the United States, but a recent government order for 50,000 tons of rails has enabled the Dominion Steel plants to increase operations and recall many workers who have been idle for months. Structural steel orders are still curtailed, but some miscellaneous buying is reported. Building materials are moving slowly but some progress is being made. Foodstuffs continue in good demand and plants are busy. The textile industry is operating at nearly 90% of capacity and is on a better basis than for many months. Production of newsprint during May was the largest reported this year. The output amounted to 171,776 tons against 147,759 tons in April, 1933 and 175,887 tons in May, 1932. In spite of these encouraging gains, however, manufacturing operations as a whole continue on a very restricted basis.

water supply working from the steam appliances.

This trawler will beyond doubt be the finest equipped in the country, and it is difficult to conceive any further advance in the trawler-building industry except perhaps the replacement of coal by oil as fuel, which will no doubt be introduced at Hull in the near-future.

STEWART TOWN PUBLIC WORKS

Principal Business at Meeting of Village Commissioners—34% Of Taxes In

STEWART, July 18:—As is usual at this time of year, the semi-monthly meeting of the Board of Commissioners was mainly concerned with public works and in deciding just how much work could be done during the balance of the summer and in what places the money available could be expended to the best advantage. It was decided to carry on with the present street and sidewalk program as far as funds would permit, also to call for tenders for a new roof for the City Hall.

The Bicycle Bylaw, designed to curb the activities of cyclists who show slight regard for the welfare of other traffic, was re-considered and finally adopted.

Current accounts amounting to $620.63 and payroll amounting to $301 were passed for payment.

The collector submitted figures on tax collections for the current year, showing that 34.33% of the 1933 levy was paid by June 30.

Two Handsome Yachts Coming Here, Including Fine Sailing Vessel—Salmon Trolling Improving

Two interesting yachts which are expected to put into Prince Rupert shortly in the course of Alaska cruises will be the Infanta, with John Barrymore and his wife, Dolores Costello, both noted screen actors, and party on board, and the Nova Scotia sailing schooner Fandango, having on board a party of Southern California millionaires consisting of C. E. Hoffman of Pasadena and Mrs. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Brant of Canoga Park and Mr. and Mrs. W. Harvey of Pasadena. The Fandango is one of the finest sailing yachts ever to visit this coast. With her low, graceful lines, her rakish, towering masts and picturesque bowsprit, she makes a fine marine picture. The vessel, whose first visit it is to the British Columbia coast, was built at Lunenburg, N.S., and was originally the property of a New York millionaire, having been acquired two years ago by Mr. Hoffman. She has an overall length of 85 feet, beam of 20½ feet and draught of 12 feet. For auxiliary power she is equipped with a 120 h.p. diesel engine. Her interior appointments are very luxurious and she has several staterooms in addition to handsome dining saloon and lounge. When breezes are favorable, the vessel, which is fast, seaworthy and generally a beauty, will make a speed of fourteen knots. The crew is headed by Capt. N. E. Petersen, well known deep sea skipper, who has sailed the Seven Seas. The Fandango met John Barrymore's Infanta in Vancouver a few days ago and the two yachts will probably meet at various points along the coast as both will follow a similar itinerary and will both spend six weeks or two months in waters north of Vancouver. The Infanta left Vancouver last Thursday and was last reported at Campbell River where Mr. Barrymore was to enjoy some salmon fishing.

Forty-five thousand replies were received in a contest held in London to find a name for a colt which was born, minus a tail, to racing parents. "Dinner Jacket" was suggested by 1,000. So were "Eton Jacket," "Tale of Woe," "Unfinished Symphony," "Guinea Pig," and "Heads I Win." The managers called the contest off, and gave the prize money to a hospital.

'Cleaned Up' Card Game; Winner Set Upon By Losers

Arising out of a recent card game at Shelley in which a foreigner named Mike Prytuik "broke the bank" and "cleaned up" all the money on the table, three other foreigners named Louis Ostenek, Steve Borys and Carl Derason, having been committed for trial by Stipendiary Magistrate P. Moran on charges of robbery with violence, appeared at Prince George before Judge H. A. Robertson who reduced the charges to common assault, fining Ostenek $50, with option of ten days' imprisonment and sentencing Borys and Derason to ten days' imprisonment each. It was alleged that, after the game had broken up, the trio, not satisfied to take their loss, set upon Prytuik and relieved him of the $77 he had won.

Strawberry Crop At Terrace Has Suffered by Rain

James H. Thompson, who has been visiting his summer place at Terrace for the past week, says the strawberry crop has been adversely affected by the rain. While the hay crop is heavy no opportunity has been given so far to gather it. Sunshine is needed as badly in the interior as at the coast.

holiday motor trip to Eastern Canada and the United States.
