COUNCIL DEFERS DECISION IN REGARD TO COMMISSIONER

City Fathers to Meet Again Tonight to Talk Out Financial Matters

Special Representations May be Made to Provincial Government For Permission to "Carry on"—Mill Rate of Fifty-Five is Proposed

Pending the holding of a special meeting of committee in the whole, the city council Thursday night laid over until another meeting to be held tonight consideration of a resolution by Ald. Basso-Bert opposing the appointment of a commissioner to take over administration of Prince Rupert's civic affairs. Decision to this effect was reached after a lengthy discussion in the course of which several aldermen expressed belief that special representations should be made to the provincial government appealing for permission for the city to carry on as efficiently as could a receiver.

After all, whether it was a commissioner or a city council, it would be necessary to first maintain such services as schools and hospitals and then do what was possible for the bondholders.

Ald. Wesch could not see the advisability of trying to stop a commissionership by paying the $25 interest coupon which is the basis of the application which has been filed in Supreme Court at Vancouver seeking authorization of the appointment of a commissioner for the city.

Ald. Rudderham, in order to bring it formally before the meeting for discussion, seconded the resolution.

Ald. Basso-Bert then proceeded to explain his reasons for proposing the resolution. When the slate of candidates headed by the mayor had presented themselves at the January election, their principal plank was the pledge that they would endeavor to keep a receiver out, declared Ald. Basso-Bert. Having received the endorsement of the electors at the polls, the members of the ticket had proceeded to make economies and had submitted the case of the city to the bondholders to ascertain if it would be possible to pay the interest alone on bonded indebtedness at this time, leaving the principal standing meantime.

The principal standing meantime. Expenses of the city had been reduced as far as possible and public works had been reduced almost to nothing.

In view of the retrenchments and economies which had been made, Ald. Basso-Bert felt that the city council should not permit the application for appointment of a commissioner to go unopposed. Some thought should be given to the consequences of relinquishing all civic powers to such an official. He would not work in favor of the ratepayers but he would come in with the sole object of collecting all the money he could in the interests of the creditors. Property owners, who had long striven to carve out a city here, would be the victims.

He (Ald. Basso-Bert) did not believe in the passive attitude which had been adopted by some other members of the council in letting a commissioner come in. Rather, he thought that the council should stand off a commissionership as long as possible. He challenged the statement that had been made by some that a commissioner would be able to do better than a city council because of the fact that he would have more power.

He (Ald. Basso-Bert) had been led to believe that the mayor's recent trip south would have brought results in dealing with the bondholders but the fact was that there had been no results. He thought that the city council should make a strong appeal to the bondholders and the provincial government to allow to carry on. It might be impossible in the end to keep a commissioner out but, in the meantime, he did not believe in passively permitting one to come in.

Ald. Rudderham concurred with

Ald. Basso-Bert in the desirability of keeping a receiver out if possible. He was not familiar with the exact financial position of the city but he believed it to be very serious. In forestalling receivership, Ald. Rudderham thought that it would be advisable, rather than opposing the court action unless the city were in a position to show its ability to carry on, to send a strong memorandum to the provincial government, setting forth the full facts and asking the government to give serious consideration to the possibility of the city council carrying on as efficiently as could a receiver. After all, whether it was a commissioner or a city council, it would be necessary to first maintain such services as schools and hospitals and then do what was possible for the bondholders.

SENSATION AT FINISH

Grotto Hoop Team Wins Over Premier—C. N. R. A. Drops Call to Anyox

At Premier, the Grotto team of Prince Rupert, with a sensational finish, won their basketball game last night by a score of 29 to 25. After trailing 14 to 12 at half time, the Grotto evened up the score one minute before full time 25 all. Smith for the Grotto bringing down the house with a beautiful shot from centre, following quickly with another as the whistle blew.

In the basketball game at Anyox last night between the C. N. R. A. team of this city and Anyox, the smelter town team won by a score of 27 to 24. The score at half time was 16 to 11 in favor of Anyox. It was a good, fast, clean game although the slippery floor proved bothersome for the locals. A fast last-minute spurt by Prince Rupert failed to turn the tide of battle.

CO-OPERATIVE MINING AND MILLING EXPERIMENT BEING MADE AT DUNWELL MINE

Unemployed Miners and Mechanics Have Erected Concentrating Plant—Other Activities in Portland Canal Camp

STEWART, April 15:—An interesting experiment in co-operative mining and milling is taking place at Stewart. Today it is planned to turn over for the first time a mill that has been erected at the Dunwell property. This mill has been erected without the payment of a dollar of wages by mechanics and miners who were out of work and it is designed to concentrate with it the output of number of individual mining efforts in the neighborhood, mostly on the same property.

After Dunwell shut down the mill here was sold to Bralorne and moved away. There was, however, on the Dunwell property the old Portland Canal mill for which a junkman had offered $25. This was taken down, carefully overhauled and then set up in the Dunwell concentrator building. Little by little the plant was assembled, one piece coming from one place and another from another until today it is complete, or practically so.

A group of about a dozen men, children of circumstance, are in this way trying to undertake what the big companies refuse to do. Leases have been signed with the Dunwell mine people for the working of several veins on a royalty basis. One of these is known as the Ben Ali where Jackson and Svedberg are getting out ore. Others are working at the other veins, possibly a dozen men in all being at present occupied with mining or fixing up the mill. All ore will be treated on a customs basis and in that way it is expected to carry on, ship concentrates to the smelter and prove to the world that Stewart mines can be made productive.

The men who have been planning and carrying out this scheme are also interesting themselves in securing the leasing of other properties on a similar basis. Some owners have turned down the proposals while others see in this method a good way of bringing the mineral wealth of the district to public attention.

Silverado Active
On Thursday the steamship Mongul carried south 90 tons of high grade silver ore worth approximately six thousand dollars which has been shipped by individual effort, chiefly from Silverado. This mine has shipped 150 tons in all under direction of John Haati. It runs about 260 ounces to the ton.

This combination of individual and co-operative effort is a new trend in mining. During the past winter Stewart camp has been very dull. People have turned their attention to Cariboo where the gold boom is attracting them but the small individual mining efforts and the co-operative milling scheme are bolstering up their faith in their own district and enabling them to look forward with hope to the revival which they feel sure must come soon.

sioner if at all possible but it was might advance considerable of its difficult to see how the council was taxes in order to help keep things able to carry on. Believing that a going. By using the hydro-electric funds, he believed it might be possible to carry on. He would make a strong appeal to the provincial government against the appointment of a commissioner and say an emphatic "no" to the demand of the bondholders for their pound of flesh.

Preserve Trust Funds

"As long as I sit in this chair," declared the mayor, "neither you, Ald. Basso-Bert, nor any one else will be permitted to dip into the city's trust funds. As it is, the hydro-electric fund is strictly not intact today which is a matter of great regret to me. By tampering with trust funds is a sure way of getting into trouble."

The city council, the mayor felt, should exercise the greatest care to see that taxes should not be made so high as to be confiscatory of the homes of the people and he could see no way in which the council might now obviate this.

Ald. Casey felt that the council should sit in committee of the whole before finally disposing of the Basso-Bert motion so that all the members of the board might have an intimate knowledge of the financial position.

Mayor Stephens said that members of the council had already had ample opportunity to acquaint themselves with the facts. Nothing had been held back. Even tonight, all rules of debate had been abandoned in order to give opportunity for free and full discussion.

In previous years, Ald. Rudderham stated, there had always been committee of the whole meetings on the estimates and finances generally. He thought it would be a good idea to have a meeting of this kind now.

Ald. Basso-Bert mentioned the possibility that, once the mill rate was struck, the Canadian National

INSPIRATION IN Word, Poem and Song

EASTER . . . a day on which we commemorate the resurrection of Christ, is one of the two most inspiring days in the life of man. . . . The other day is Christmas, when we observe the anniversary of the birth of the Christ child. . . . Easter is always particularly inspiring because all nature seems to be in accord as life bursts forth in every form to teach again the omnipotence of Divine Love.

. . . So come to church Sunday . . . your favorite church. . . . Be inspired by the words of truth you will hear in discourse, in poem and in song. . . . Hear again, refresh memory and instill faith within your heart of your oneness with our creator. . . . The power that rolled the stone away is eternal and is still effective today for the sons of God who rely upon Him.

Through the dark days of depression the churches of Prince Rupert have stood forth as beacon lights for the discouraged and the weary. The churches have proved anew how essential they are in the lives of man. . . . The churches of Prince Rupert will feature special Easter programs this Sunday, April 16, and through the means of these printed words cordially invite you to join them in their services. . . . Resolve now to attend church Easter Sunday.

When a recipe calls for MILK use ST. CHARLES

Whenever a recipe calls for milk follow the advice of hundreds of thousands of Canadian women and use Borden's St. Charles. You will find it is not only economical and handy but that there is rich cream in every drop which gives a new delightful improved flavor to your cooking. Borden's St. Charles milk is nothing more or less than the pure full cream milk of selected Canadian cows. Nothing is added, and nothing but 60% of the moisture is removed. Every drop of St. Charles is sterilized and hermetically sealed under the most ideal conditions and comes to you pure, sweet and wonderfully wholesome. Use it regularly for your puddings and desserts. Add creamy blandness to your soups and creamed sauces and you and your family will be delighted with the rich new flavor of your cooking.

Halibut Landings Well Ahead of Last Year—Trollers Beginning to Get Active—Basketball Party on Rocks

Actual landings of halibut at Prince Rupert for the 1933 season up to and including April 13 had reached a total of 2,790,000 pounds as compared with 2,191,950 pounds at a similar date last year. The Canadian fleet had brought in 989,700 pounds as against 950,550 pounds last year while American landings amounted to 1,800,300 pounds in comparison with 1,241,400 pounds last year at the corresponding date.

With the halibut movement eastward from Prince Rupert paralyzed since the first of the week on account of a snowslide tie-up on the line of the Canadian National Railways which it is not expected would be cleared up for another week, landings for the week of April 8-13 amounted to only 107,000 pounds of which 43,500 pounds was from Canadian boats and 63,500 pounds from American. All the fish landed, Canadian and American alike, went into cold storage at 4c and 2c.

For the present season up to and including April 13 the Prosperity A., Capt. A. O. Christiansen, had made the largest aggregate landings of halibut for any unit of the Canadian halibut fleet at Prince Rupert, bringing in 72,000 pounds in four trips. Cape Beale, Capt. Edgar Arnett, was second with 61,000 pounds in two trips and Melville, Capt. John Ivanson, third with 44,000 pounds in three trips.

The Unome, Capt. Dave Ritchie, and Alice May, had completed the greatest number of trips for the Canadian fleet, each bringing in five catches since the season opened for totals of 32,700 and 11,500 pounds respectively. The Prosperity A., with 72,000 pounds, the Tramp, Capt. Sam Hougan, 35,000 pounds, and Viking I., Capt. H. Erickson, 29,500 pounds, had each returned to port four times.

For the American fleet, as far as landings at Prince Rupert were concerned, the Radio, Capt. W. E. Haagensen, was in the lead for aggregate with 72,000 pounds in two trips. The Oceanic, with 47,000 pounds in three trips was second, and the Sherman, with 46,000 pounds in three trips, third.

The Zaremba, Capt. P. Sather, with a total of 29,000 pounds, the Visitor, with 20,000 pounds, and the Thor, Capt. E. S. Lund, had each landed four catches since the season opened at Prince Rupert for the American fleet.

Livingstone Salvaged

Despite the heavy lashing of the seas and the difficult position of the sunken vessel, the Armour Salvage Co. under the personal direction of Capt. Paul Armour, managed to salvage the local halibut boat Livingstone II early this week from the depths of the ocean off the west coast of Dundas Island where she sank over three weeks previous. This job was one of the most difficult ones that had been tried by the local company. Weeks of patient waiting at last was rewarded when the boat was successfully tackled, raised and lashed to the wrecking scow. The boat was not, however, brought entirely out of water but was secured underneath the scow and, therefore, it was necessary to wait for a high tide before bringing her through Metlakatla Passage. A peculiar looking picture she made coming in the harbor, two boats towing the bowsided scow with the salvaged boat not in appearance. "X" marks the spot is about all that can be seen of the boat as she lays at the Armour floats awaiting further instructions from the owner, Capt. Tony Martinusen, as to the making of repairs.

Skipper Lou Sears, with the Chatham Sound was in port on Thursday with another load of fresh herring from the Jap Inlet pound for the use of the local halibut fishermen.

After having had a pleasant trip across Hecate Straits towing the Union Oil scow to North Island, Capt. Jim Morrison, with the F. H. Phippen, and Captain Harris Kerr, with the M. T. 3, returned to port on Wednesday night. They report a few power boats trolling around the North Island grounds with the occasional hand troller scratching away for the odd fish.

Now that the scow with supplies and oil is in its usual place and the packers expected to start around the end of the month it is anticipated that the fleet, the majority of which are lying around the docks here, will soon be picking a good day to slip across the straits to the scene of the summer's work.

"Hansome" Jim Morrison, skipper of the good ship F. H. Phippen, had surely a heavy cargo as he slipped out of the harbor on Thursday night. It consisted of a party of young hoop stars going to Anyox to defend the laurels of Prince Rupert against an Anyox challenge. Jim was being warned that he had better look out when he got around the mouth of the Naas River that he did not pick out a rough spot for if the locals lost the games, he would be blamed for picking out all the bumps on the sea and getting the boys sick. The party is due back about mid-day tomorrow.

At 8 o'clock Thursday evening another local basketball party sailed for the north, the Grotto senior eagles leaving aboard the power cruiser Rhona, with Gunnar Anderson and Don Brown in charge, for Premier and Stewart where the tobacconists were scheduled to play games last night and tonight respectively. However, the Rhona struck a rock outside of Tugwell Island, returning and transferring the party to the halibut boat Sea Maid. Capt. Henry Doiron, on which a new start was made at 2 a.m. yesterday. This party is also due back tomorrow.
