OTTAWA, Dec. 1: (CP)—The resignation of Hon. E. B. Ryckman, minister of national revenue, on account of ill-health was announced today.

Mr. Ryckman had a conference yesterday with Premier R. B. Bennett. He will retain his seat in the House.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Adelaide, Capt. S. K. Gray, arrived in port at 1:45 this afternoon from the south and will be here until 10 p.m. when she will sail on her return south. (Continued on page five.)

Although the few scant rags that cover them constitute their entire worldly possessions, these men are happy. They have won the freedom to which they said good-bye forever. The men are shown at Port-of-Spain, Trinidad, after they had reached the British possession from the French penal settlement, Devil's Island. They are only a few of the 120 fugitives who stopped over at Trinidad this year after escaping the dread "isle of Despair." Below, a refugee is shown examining the boat in which the hazardous voyage was made, and map shows the route.

ST. ANDREW IS HONORED

Local Scottish Society Comes Back Into Being as Social Organization In Prince Rupert

Inspiring Address

School Inspector T. W. Hall Principal Speaker at Banquet in Honor of Saint's Memory

Under auspices which appeared to be most favorable, the St. Andrew's Society came back into being as a social organization in Prince Rupert after a lapse of two or three years with the holding of a very successful and enjoyable banquet last night at the Commodore Cafe in celebration of the anniversary of St. Andrew, Auld Scotia's patron saint. President S. D. Macdonald was in the chair and there were about seventy-five persons present. After full justice had been done to a splendid repast, there was an interesting program which was featured by an inspiring address on St. Andrew by T. W. Hall, inspector of schools. There were also several very acceptable musical numbers.

In an opening address, the president gave a brief historical review of the activities of the St. Andrew's Society in Prince Rupert. It had been founded in September, 1909 and there were two members present at this banquet who had been in attendance at the initial organization meeting—James Dick and the president himself. For years the society had flourished and had been one of the most important social organizations in the city. Such events as the old annual balls and the farewells which had been given

Should Ensure Foundation of Industrial Future by Process Of Education Says Dr. Mandy

Intensely Interesting Address on Mining by District Engineer to Rotary Club at Its Luncheon Yesterday

Prince Rupert should lay the foundation for its industrial future. It is a wonderful city with a wonderful future as the outlet for the mineral and other products of a great northern empire, according to Dr. Joseph T. Mandy, resident mining engineer, in an address to the Prince Rupert

Dr. Mandy urged that Prince Rupert people become mining minded through education and publicity. At a means to this end he urged the establishment of a museum in which mining would be an important part but in which agriculture, fisheries, forestry and Indian lore would also be emphasized.

Speaking of education, Dr. Mandy quoted Thos. C. Blaisdell: "Education is the cleaning from men, books and labor toilers, from mountain fastnesses, field and whispering wind. Education is the implanting of good habits, the acquirement of efficiency, the development of sound character."

The present was an industrial age, the speaker said, and he strongly urged the desirability of industrial education. A knowledge of industry was vital. Mining was one of the important industries and, as such and on account of its particular interest in this locality, should be studied in Prince Rupert. Let he found that many people here did not know what a mine was.

The speaker paid a tribute to the work being done in this province by the Department of Mines, particularly in connection with the impetus given to gold mining of late.

Ghoulish Act Alleged Against Grave Digger For Prince George

John Doncaster Said by Police to Have Desecrated Remains of Human Beings by Removing Clothes From Two Men—Committed for Trial

PRINCE GEORGE, Dec. 1: (CP)—John Doncaster, employed by the city of Prince George as a general handy man, has been committed for trial by Magistrate George Milburn on a charge of offering indignity to human remains. Among other activities, Doncaster, who has been municipal gravedigger, is charged with stripping clothes from the body of Mike Zuaven, who was killed in the derailment of a freight train between Prince George and McBride in September, and expropriating them to his own use. He is also alleged to have taken the clothes from the body of Mike Cosgrave who was buried about the same time.

STIRS UP OLD LAND

Man Claiming to be Son of Duke of Clarence Charged With Attempt to Get Money From King

LONDON, Dec. 1: (CP)—England has been stirred by a case at Bow Street police court in which Clarence Guy Gordon Haddon, who claims to be the illegitimate son of the Duke of Clarence, older brother of King George, is charged with attempting to extort money from the King and other prominent personages on threats of blackmail. It is alleged that Haddon wrote several thousand such letters some of which contained certain threats.

Haddon, who is a consulting engineer with a distinguished war record for bravery, has been remanded until next week and has been refused bail. Following his arrest, Haddon is alleged to have remarked: "Why should I be hounded to death because I am the illegitimate son of the Duke of Clarence?" He may be examined as to his sanity.

The Duke of Clarence, who was the eldest son of the late King Edward VII and therefore, the direct heir to the British throne while he lived, died in 1892 at the age of twenty-eight.

No action was taken by the Grand Jury against Earl Wynekoop, husband of the dead girl and son of Dr. Wynekoop, who is being held as an accessory before the fact.

The young woman, it is alleged, had been given an overdose of chloroform and then shot.

No action was taken by the Grand Jury against Earl Wynekoop, husband of the dead girl and son of Dr. Wynekoop, who is being held as an accessory before the fact.

DAILY EDITION

GENERAL SIR ARTHUR CURRIE

Sir Arthur Currie was one of Canada's great men. He was a self-made man, most of his early manhood being spent in Victoria. As a school teacher in a country school and later in Victoria he was simply a young man with ambition. He became a militia officer, first with the Fifth Regiment and later with the Gordon Highlanders which he organized and a considerable part of which went with him to the war. In business he was not a great success. His talents lay in other directions. He was pre-eminently a military leader and as such his ability was generally recognized. Since the war he held the position of president of McGill University with dignity and, when he spoke on any subject to the public, the whole nation listened.

RADIO COMMISSION

The Canadian Radio Commission has come in for a good deal of criticism but, during its existence, it has done some useful work, especially in improving the quality of Canadian broadcasts.

On one point it has failed so far. It has not yet given British Columbia a broadcasting station. The tin-pot affair near Vancouver which it took over from the Canadian National Railway does not properly serve the province. It is seldom that it can be heard clearly without any disturbance in Prince Rupert. It has neither strength or clarity and is too near the wave of other powerful stations which often drown its feeble voice.

For brief spells Calgary provides a service which can be heard in Prince Rupert but it is unreliable and people would much rather listen to Vancouver if they could. We should continually urge that a better station be erected somewhere near the big centre of population that would give us a reliable, all-day service such as they have in the east.

BECOME MINING MINDED

We are told that never before has there been as much mining work going on at or near Stewart in December as there is today. Work is being pushed ahead on a number of properties which it is likely will be developed into mines. In addition to this there are operations on Queen Charlotte Islands, at Porcher Island and at Ush, Smithers and other interior points. There is mining development going on all around us and there will be more in the future. In view of this it is very desirable that we follow the advice of Dr. Mandy, resident mining engineer, and learn as much as we can about mines and mining. We must be in a position to discuss mining with the visitors who come here and interest them in the industry. Our future depends to a large extent on the interest we take in our natural resources.

Thanksgiving Day With President

Roosevelt Has Quite Time With Family—Conferences Off For Day

SHOULD ENSURE FOUNDATION OF INDUSTRIAL FUTURE BY PROCESS OF EDUCATION, SAYS DR. MANDY.

Importance of Mining

Dr. Mandy quoted many interesting figures to show the growing importance of mining and expressed the opinion that the industry had not only contributed to general prosperity but had probably prevented the collapse of the whole financial structure. It had a wonderful stabilizing effect at the time when it was needed. In Canada gold was being produced at the rate of about $180 per minute for 365 days of the year. It bolstered the position of Canada and mitigated the economic struggle.

In British Columbia 12,000 men were employed in the mining industry and the wage payroll this year would be about $18,000,000 while the production would be approximately $29,000,000 of which gold would be over six million dollars. The industry was next of importance to agriculture.

In concluding Dr. Mandy prophesied that the name of Prince Rupert would be definitely coupled with big industry and especially with the mining industry if the proper steps were taken to insure it. The life of the people would be the richer for this and he urged that there be general co-operation and action to bring about this desired end. "Let me leave with you the constructive thought in this old quotation:

"A fire-mist and a planet
"A crystal and a cell
"A jellyfish and a saurian
"A cave where the cavemen dwell;
Then a sense of law and beauty
"And a face turned from the clod;
"Some call it evolution
"And others call it God."

Roy Summers of the C. N. R. district freight and passenger agent's office here sailed last night on the Prince George to spend annual vacation at his home in Vancouver.

GROTTO IN HOOP LEAD

Defeated C. N. R. A. 62 to 42 Last Night—Cards Defeat Comets
In Ladies' League

Grotto took a two-point lead in the Senior basketball division last night by defeating the C. N. R. A. 62 to 42 in a free scoring game before a small crowd of die-hard fans. The first half opened with both teams playing slow, cautious basketball and waiting for openings. After three or four minutes' play R. Morrison scored for the Grotto. Stiles put the C. N. R. A. on the sheets with a free throw. From then until the interval both teams played neck and neck with the tobacco boys eking out a one-point lead. 27-26.

The railwaymen evened up the score early in the second half and then took a six-point lead without response from the nicotine men. The Grotto finally clicked, the C. N. R. A. defense crumbled and, when the full time whistle was sounded, the Grotto was on the long end of a 62-42 score.

It was undoubtedly the trainmen's night off as only in the latter part of the first half did any of their plays work and it was then that they drew up with the Grotto. Arney, Pierce and Gillis did all the damage for the tobacco lads.

Other Games

The Scouts, minus their scoring ace, Vierck, lost to the Flashes 15 to 3 in a one-sided junior game. Warriors trimmed the High School 37-24 in a fast moving intermediate game with Pierce and Christison gathering most of the Warriors' points.

Cardinals turned back the Comets 22 to 21 in a free scoring ladies' game with Boddie and Lowe starring for the former and Steen, Smith and Long for the latter.

Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.

Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.

Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

On her return to Vancouver after the present voyage, C. N. R. steamer Prince John, Capt. Neil McLean, sailing tonight for the south via the Queen Charlotte Islands, will be withdrawn from service for a week to undergo annual overhaul and, instead of sailing from Vancouver for here via the Queen Charlotte Islands on Friday night of next week, will leave there on December 15. This will bring the vessel here on her next voyage from the Islands on December 20 instead of December 13. Most of the regular officers of the Prince John are now taking their annual vacation including the skipper, Capt. Dan McKinnon, who is being relieved by Capt. Neil McLean; the chief engineer, William Ballantyne, who is being relieved by David Todd; the purser, Bert Robson, for whom Fred Coram is relieving, and the chief steward, Frank Bray, in whose place John Walker is at present acting.

to the contingents leaving for the Front during the war days would long be remembered. The society had taken a leading part in the social and athletic activities of the city. The Ladies' Auxiliary had given most valuable assistance. Of recent years, the society had lapsed in its activities but it was now planned to reorganize in a limited way with a view to perpetuating Scottish national memories and traditions and taking a part in community life. If Scotsmen and women of the city were interested in the movement with a view to reviving the society, he (the chairman) made an appeal for support of the movement.

Mr. Hall, the speaker of the evening, was in his usual pleasing and eloquent form and delivered a splendid address on St. Andrew. He gave a brief sketch of the life and work of Scotland's patron saint. He had been born in the village of Bethsida on the Sea of Galilee and had, in early life, become a disciple of John the Baptist and later, with his brother, St. Peter, of Christ. Unobtrusive, determined and courageous, he had carried the Gospel of Jesus Christ, after the Crucifixion, into Asia Minor and the Caucasus Mountains, to the mouth of the Volga, the Caspian Sea and on into Greece. He had been eventually crucified for his activities in the spreading of Christianity and his remains taken first to Constantinople and later to Mulcross at the mouth of the Tyne in Northern England where the Church of St. Andrew had been founded.

The white cross of St. Andrew with its blue field was perpetuated in the Union Jack and his spirit was not dead but was exemplified by the tenacity, loyalty, courage, integrity, fairness, zeal and determination which were attributes indicative of the Scottish nature. The blood of the martyr was the seed of the Church and the lives and sacrifices of the saints had not been in vain.

Scottish character, Mr. Hall declared, was founded firmly upon the truths of the Bible leavened with the divine spark of St. Andrew.

Alluding more specifically to present day conditions, the speaker urged his listeners to live happily today and not apprehensively of the morrow. "Do not let the bogey of tomorrow which may never come destroy the joys which you may find today," he counselled.

Scottish people living in this country should be proud of their Canadian citizenship and of their great nation. Scotland was a small but great country. Its peoples had been great in the sciences, the arts, exploration, music, literature and other fields.

The Scottish were a people of inextinguishable spirit and their heritage was a glorious one. Their qualities and attributes as exemplified in the life and work of their patron saint merited the esteem, respect and affection of the world.

Messages Read

During the evening, the president read messages of greeting from Alex Clapperton, honorary vice-president of the society and long one of its prominent members, who had left recently to reside at Cedarvale, and from societies in Winnipeg, Albany, Fredericton and Montréal.

The program of the evening included vocal solos by Dr. R. G. Large, John E. Davey, J. A. Teng and Master David Houston, violin selections by Jack Campbell and comic songs by A. R. Hunter. Mrs. J. S. Black was accompanist. The proceedings opened with the singing of "O Canada" and closed with "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the King."

J. A. Frew was chairman of the program committee. J. S. Irvine presided at the door.

Care for Tea? $200.00 in PRIZES*ENJOY IT MORE

BEST

DO YOU ENJOY A REALLY GOOD CUP OF TEA? Then you know how greatly enjoyment may be increased by care-care in selecting the right kind of tea, care in making, care in serving.

Listed at the right are fourteen points on which people differ in their care in making and serving tea. Which of these points are, in your judgment, most important?

How to Win a Prize

Be sure to follow these instructions.

1. Cross out (by drawing your pencil through it) one of the two methods described under each point, leaving the one that most closely resembles your own way of making tea. For example, if you warm the teapot before putting in the tea, cross off "I use a teapot that has not been warmed."

2. Next, mark in the squares opposite these fourteen ways of yours 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, in what you consider the order of their relative importance.

3. Sign and tear off the ENTRY FORM. Attach to it an end label bearing the word "Directions" from a MALKIN'S BEST TEA package. Mail both to "Care for Tea," The W. H. Malkin Co. Ltd., Vancouver, B.C., or Victoria, Prince Rupert, Nelson, or The Malkin-Pearson Co. Ltd., Nanaimo.

The prizes will be awarded to those entries whose rankings of the 14 points in making and serving tea, in the opinion of the judges, most closely agree with the popular choice—that is, the order of relative importance worked out by combining all the entries received.

The count of votes and prize awards will be certified by Messrs. Hellwell, MacLachlan & Co., chartered accountants.

You may send in as many entries as you like, provided that each entry is made on the end label bearing the word "Directions" from a MALKIN'S BEST Tea package. You can obtain additional Entry Forms from any good grocer.

This tea-making judgment test is open to everyone except employees of The W. H. Malkin Co. Ltd. and their families.

Closing Date December 22

Get your pen or pencil, mark your tea-making points in order of importance, and send in your entry NOW—you may win and get a cheque just when you need it—soon after Christmas.

Prince Henry and Prince David For Bahamas Service

The Canadian National Steamships liners Prince Henry and Prince David, which have been for the past few years on the Atlantic Coast and have not been running for the past year, will shortly be commissioned in a new ferry service between Nassau, Bahamas, and Miami, Fla. It is an eight-hour run between the two points and a large amount of traffic is reported to have been booked. The service will be started early in the New Year.

Fire Loss in City Last Month $350

Department Responded to Ten Alarms During Period, Most Being Chimney Fires

ded to ten alarms during the month of November. In two cases damage was done, one at the residence of H. Lund, Tenth Avenue and Bacon Street, where there was a loss of $300 covered by insurance, and the other when $50 damage was done to clothing in a cupboard at the home of R. Woods, Eighth Avenue West. The majority of the calls during the month were to chimney fires with no loss. In November last year there were five calls with no loss.

Will an interpreter explain the visitation of this plague of dogs upon us in Prince Rupert? Some of us think that the weather is punishment enough for our iniquities. Why this disturbance of our rest, the nuisance of the sidewalks, the menace of those wolf-like brutes whose numbers have increased so alarmingly?

Oh for some Pied Piper who could charm the whole pack of them, big dogs, little dogs, good dogs and bad dogs, out into the country, into the harbor, anywhere, out of the city where the canine tribe most certainly does not belong.

"DOGOMATIC"

Staff Sergeant Alex McNeill, provincial police, sailed last night on the Prince George for Victoria where he will pay a holiday visit. Mrs. McNeill left for the south last week.
