VANCOUVER'S BIG STRIKE WAS ENDED YESTERDAY

KILLED IN THE DARK HANDCAR MET ENGINE

Yilcarka Paid Heavy Penalty for a Hurried Trip to Rupert Taken Without Permission From
Section Gang Camp at Mile 21

Brought into the city badly injured about the head soon after midnight Tom Yilcarka, 40 years of age, died in the General Hospital this morning at dawn. His injuries were caused in tragic manner in the gathering darkness of last night, when a balast car coming into Rupert crashed into the hand car on which Yilcarka and two companions were riding out to their section camp at Mile 21.

Stole Trip to Town
Without permission the little party of men had planned to make a trip into the city from the place where the section gang was working. They took the handcar, and hurried into Rupert after midnight when they started on the return journey prodding the car as hard as possible in order to make good time back to camp. Last night was darker than usual at this time of year owing to a haze over the sky, and either because of this, or because they were not paying proper attention, the men failed to see or hear the approach of the ballast train. The train was not travelling particularly fast, but the hand car hard driven, met the engine full tilt.

Party Flung Headlong
With the crash the handcar was shattered and the party was flung headlong to the track. By a sheer miracle only Yilcarka was injured. He was struck heavily upon the head, his skull being fractured. Hurried at top speed into the city, he was admitted to the General Hospital at 12.40 a.m. Dr. Eggert was in attendance, and everything possible was done for him, but he died at 3.45 a.m. Messrs. Hayner Bros. inquest will be opened at 7.30 p.m. in the police court room by Government Agent McMullin.

PICNIC PARTY HAD GOOD TIME AT METLAKATLA BAR

Free Launch Loads of Young People Travelled Across the Harbor Last Night and Had Supper on the Beach—Rambled in the Bush and Arrived Home by Early Morning

Nearly a hundred young people in three launches last night had a picnic party with the Presbyterian Young Peoples' Society at Metlakatla bar, and had a good time. The advance party, composed of the more spirited among the ladies, left the wharf at 4.30. By the time the main party arrived, a number of hours behind, the tea cooking on the camp fire, and arrangements completed for supper on the beach.

After supper, when everybody had the requisite smile, photographs were taken of the party. Groups—groups of two for the part—the young people set for a scramble through the woods to visit the flowers and quietude of Metlakatla. They descended on the quiet reserve with yells and shouts like a band of Indians. Many of the ladies bore away trophies in the form of floral bouquets.

One belated group of half a dozen people, missed their boat at the wharf and spent from ten till eleven o'clock in scrambling through the bush in the near-darkness to reach the last launch at the picnic grounds. The moon was rising above the mountains early this morning, just as the last launch arrived back at the wharf. The outing over the harbor in the cool evening was a thoroughly enjoyable one.

APPOINT WATER MAN To Attend to Gates During Fire Outbreaks and Sewer Cleaning.

City Engineer Davis has appointed a man during drought to attend to the opening of the sluice gates affecting the water supply in case of fire. Colonel Davis recommends Parks for the position. He proposes to have this attendant stationed at the fire hall, to use him for a couple of days during the week to look after sewer flushing, etc. The council through the Mayor and water committees put this recommendation into effect today.

Mrs. Strange and Dagnall have been here for a long time and known and efficient contributors in this city are leaving now on an important two job at Victoria. They are leaving the city altogether and will return occasionally to their affairs here probably about Christmas for the season.

'OLD MAID' MAKES RECORD CATCH

Largest Haul of Fine Halibut Ever Brought into Rupert by a Vessel Her Size.

This morning the staunch little gasoline schooner "Old Maid" familiar as the craft which weathered very heavy seas not so long ago through masterly seamanship, has arrived in Prince Rupert with a new record to her credit.

She stole quietly into harbor loaded down to the limit of seaworthiness with magnificent halibut, the largest and luckiest catch ever yet made on the Prince Rupert halibut banks, for a boat of the "Old Maid's" size. The catch was made by the well timed exertions of the schooner's crew under Captain Dan Ross master of the vessel, and was helped to its success by the splendid weather conditions.

News of this kind augurs well for the prospects of Prince Rupert as a fishing centre, and seaport. The wealth of the halibut banks is yet to be fully realised by the citizens, and means a tremendous lot to Prince Rupert.

GEO. LEEK ARRIVES TODAY

Expected by the S.S. Princess
May this Afternoon. Wireless Message Made Certain
He was on Board.

Fresh from his great experiences at the Coronation of King George V. George Leek will return to Prince Rupert this afternoon by the Princess May. Enquiries sent by wireless from his office in the city where business awaits him, made it certain that he is amongst the May's passengers. George did not make any statement regarding the Coronation, or the appearance of the Royal sharer of his historical first name, by the medium of the Marconigram, and his coming will be eagerly awaited by those "anxious to know."

WORK TO START AT ONCE ON THE MORSE CREEK DAM

City Council's Inspection of the Sources of Water Supply Took Place Yesterday—All the Aldermen but Douglas and Kerr Stayed Away—Faithful Douglas Stayed With the Job
from Start to Finish—Work Will be Rushed on a Ten Million Gallon Dam

If downright toilsome exertion under the broiling sun means anything, then the Mayor and at least two members of the city council mean business in the matter of the proposed augmentation of the present city water supply from the dams at Morse Creek.

With the City Engineer yesterday the Mayor, Alderman Kerr and Alderman Douglas made an inspection trip from the Morse Creek dams round the whole drainage area tapped by Morse Creek, and thereby Hays Creek along the base of Mt. Oldfield to the Hays Creek dam and pumping station. A representative of each of the city newspapers accompanied the party on the invitation of the Mayor.

Cases of Cold Feet

All the members of the city council who could come were invited to join the party. The City Engineer was particularly anxious that Alderman Newton should be with them as Alderman Newton's expressions of opinion sometimes betray the fact that he gets his information at second-hand and therefore less accurately. The Mayor was particularly anxious that Alderman Hilditch should come, and indeed that all the aldermen in town should make the trip. But when the roll was called in the City Hall sad gaps were evident in the ranks.

The Delinquents

Alderman Newton sent word that he could not come, but sent a minion with a notebook; Alderman Clayton was unable to come, other aldermen are absent from town, and as for Alderman Hilditch, he reached the muster place at the City Hall all right but on hearing the direction and extent of the trip flatly refused to have anything to do with it in such hot weather. His was a bad case of cold feet.

Martyrs to Duty

The Mayor, the City Engineer, Alderman Douglas, staunch and sturdy Sancho Panza of the council, and the newspapermen only set out from the City Hall, but on Third avenue at Seventh street the stalwart form of Alderman Kerr was seen on Borden street and in answer to a stentorian hail from Alderman Douglas he descended the steep and joined the excursion.

Visited the Dams

Straight out to the Morse Creek dams the City Engineer led the party. After tramping the ties on the Morse Railway Loop, and clambering over numerous stumps, the Mayor and his two trustees reached the point just opposite the end of Second avenue where the City Engineer proposes to place the pumping station. Here only a very short length of extra pipe is required to carry the water into the city mains. Next the party visited the first dam. The City Engineer showed the party how with small outlay the dam can be put in shape to hold back ten million gallons of water. When in use before, this dam stored as much easily, and the creek was never known to go dry. A steady flow of water is coming in now in spite of the drought, and tasted by all members of the party, it was found cool and sweet.

Hard Travelling

Arduous travelling now became necessary. The City Engineer led the way to the upper dam, which may not require to be used, as the power one can be made to hold so much water. Here again the water was found good and plentiful. Right on now over muskeg, stumps, little ravines, and fallen logs went the party, outlining the whole drainage area, and heading for another abundantly flowing creek which can be turned into the dam. The party made heavy going of it now under the broiling sun. Now the Mayor would mount a huge stump and leap energetically to the next. Next the whole party would be doing a tight rope stunt along a log. Magnificently, Alderman Douglas stuck to the trail. He mounted mighty logs, and tobogganed down the other side of them. He balanced himself on airy pinnacles of pine roots, and floated in butterfly fashion from them to the soft grass patches below. The Mayor made the first tumble, but his little acrobatic turn was less spectacular than that of Alderman Douglas a moment afterwards. For an instant the redoubtable Douglas loomed chubbily on the horizon. In a second only his feet frantically gesticulating, broke the skyline. It was the Mayor who sprang to his rescue, and set him again on his way rejoicing. Alderman Kerr is husky, and in training for the bush any way. He made good time all the way.

Well Parched Party

Many a well loaded blueberry sprig tempted the mayoral procession to loiter by the way. But on pressed the party growing thirstier and thirstier till the City Engineer led them to the shadiest and coolest creek of all, right over below the far end of Park avenue, near the cemetery site which was located with interest by the Mayor. The parched party slaked its sevenfold thirst with ice cold, and ice clear water here, and the City Engineer explained to the Mayor that this creek which flows abundantly, may by an inexpensive dam be diverted either into the Hays Creek or the Morse Creek dam. This creek is fed by the melting snows on Mt. Oldfield, and at present outflows near Fairview.

On to Hays Creek

Still making his steady pace the City Engineer strode on leading the party by the corner of Omineca and Kootenay avenues along the banks of Hays Creek, over the huge log strewn flats where Summer and Winter streets are to be some day, and so towards the Hays Creek dam in the woods behind Comox avenue, from which the present pumped water supply for the city is drawn. The heaviest travelling of all was experienced here. The City Engineer led on unconcernedly. The rest followed to the best of their ability, Alderman Douglas finding the twiningly affectionate atten-

Almost a Comic Opera Battle at Montreal—German
Officer Criticised the Canadian Cruiser Niobe—
Took a Full Set of Admirals, Consuls and Diplomats to Avenge the Slight

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Montreal, July 20.—Canada has narrowly escaped being engaged in a grave national cause celebre, owing to the audacious and offensive criticisms which the subcommander of the German cruiser Bremen has passed upon the Canadian cruiser Niobe.

The Bremen is at present visiting at Montreal, and the subcommander passed public criticism upon the Canadian Navy, and jeered at the Niobe saying she was unfit for war.

Ottawa was at once notified of the affront, and Admiral Kingsmill issued a statement. It is said that war was threatened until the German consul expressed his regret in writing at the grave breach of etiquette of the German sub-commander.

Admiral Kingsmill in another statement has stated that the Niobe was not intended for use as a warship, but as a training ship to train Canadian boys for service in the Canadian navy which Canada will build up.

SMALL FIRES WERE QUENCHED

City had Good Luck Yesterday
Afternoon—Citizens Warned
Again to be Extra Careful.

Prince Rupert's good fortune in respect to outbreaks of fire this dry spell continues. Yesterday afternoon two small outbreaks were checked by prompt action. The first was in a hotel on Fraser street beyond Seventh. Here an oil lamp fell over, and the alarm was given the brigade. But almost in the same moment the residents managed to get the fire out.

The other fire was a stump blaze that got out of control opposite to the Knox Hotel. This was quelled by the Fire Department after some hard work. Water was scarce there, and in the turn out to the scene the automobile was delayed by an unfinished street corner. The poor red devil came a cropper and got scratched, to the great annoyance of the Fire Chief and chauffeur. Fortunately for Prince Rupert's business section, the city's good luck, and the citizens' prompt energy prevented either of yesterday's outbreaks from spreading.

Again, however, must be emphatically sounded the warning to all to be extra careful of fire risks during the hot spell. It is unnecessary to enlarge upon the situation. We all know it.

Lisbon, July 20.—A sensation has been caused here by the announcement of the discovery of a small coffer containing secret correspondence between a Deputy of the Royal family of Portugal and the British and German governments. King Manuel foreseeing the revolution had asked for foreign intervention, offering as compensation a tract of Portuguese territory in Africa to Great Britain. Germany refused the intervention.

From far-off Buenos Ayres comes the rumor that chess fans in that town have raised a purse—"fund" they call it—of $9000 to bring Dr. Emanuel Lasker and J. R. Capablanca together for the chess championship of the world. Tex Rickard, the premier promoter of mining securities and prize fights, is now in the Argentine Republic, and some believe that he is managing the proposed chess match.

WHY DID SHE JILT HIM?

Lady Constance Folljambe Provides London with a Real Sensation.

Lady Constance Folljambe, daughter of the first Earl of Liverpool and half-sister of the present earl, who is comptroller of King George's household, has given England a real sensation.

She jilted a middle-aged preacher as he waited for her at the altar, while a big and fashionable crowd gathered in the church for the wedding. Rev. H. A. Hawkins, the would-be-bridegroom, is a fashionable clergyman of the Church of England. Lady Constance is 26 and Mr. Hawkins is 20 years her senior. Where Lady Constance now is only her relatives know. She has flown. It is believed she fled to the continent, when she left the Earl of Liverpool's house. Rev. Mr. Hawkins, who was deeply humiliated, hurried away from London.

A big crowd of society people filled St. Peter's church, Eaton Square, the fashionable marriage church of London, for the ceremony. On account of her brother's position near the King, as well as her own popularity in society, Lady Constance's wedding was to have been one of the events of the season. The organist played a voluntary and then waited. Twelve o'clock passed; at 12.12 society people began looking back toward the doors. At 12.20 they murmured and wondered and questions passed from pew to pew, but the bridegroom that was not to be felt no anxiety. He knew brides take a long time to dress.

The real scene of excitement at this time was in the home of the bride-elect at 44 Grosvenor Gardens, overlooking the grounds of Buckingham Palace. Bridesmaids and pages had arrived, and the dowager countess was dressed. Carriages waited in the street. Lady Susan Liverpool, hysterical with surprise and distress, called all the servants and questioned them.

When one o'clock came with no bride, the Earl of Liverpool could bear the annoyance no longer and quietly sent to enquire the cause of the delay. Lady Susan Liverpool had just learned all that was known. In broken gasps the mother told the news that had been given her by her daughter's maid.

"Lady Constance went out just before 10 o'clock, saying she had forgotten to buy something and she has not yet returned."

The Earl of Liverpool, pale and agitated, went to the vestry to break the news to the distressed bridegroom and, leading him out by the vestry entrance drove away with him to Grosvenor Gardens. Mr. Hawkins had to be carried to the carriage.

The King was represented at the church and it was to his Majesty's representative that the earl hastily communicated what the others. Later the earl received a telegram from Lady Constance saying: "I am quite safe. I changed my mind and do not wish to be married. I left London by train at noon."

Rev. Mr. Hawkins has gone into retirement and denies himself to interviewers. The home of the Earl of Liverpool, near Buckingham Palace, is the object of much interest to throngs of shop girls and others, who amuse themselves by singing "Waiting at the Church" in front of the place.

George Hodgson, of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, won the mile at the Festival of Empire, swimming championships held at the Crystal Palace. His time was 25 minutes and 27 3-5 seconds.

Articles for a 20-round boxing contest for the lightweight championship of the world have been signed by Champion Ad. Wolgast and Freddie Welsh. The bout will be staged in the Vernon arena on Thanksgiving Day by Promoter Thomas J. McCarey.

Here's a story of how Jim Delahanty, Detroit's second baseman, was cured of umpire baiting. After Del had had several run-ins with the officials President Johnson called the Detroit man on the carpet. "Mr. Delahanty," said Ban, "the time is not far off, I'm afraid, when you and the American League will have to part company. I'm not going to spend much time arguing with you, but I want to tell you one thing. The next time you have any trouble with any of my umpires you will have played your last game on this circuit. You'll be wise to pay close attention to this. I mean what I say." Jimmy has been very quiet ever since, and perhaps will continue to remain so.

At the baseball tournament at New Liskeard on Dominion Day Archie Burton, the Barrie twirler, again demonstrated the fact that he is the best pitcher that has ever appeared in Temiskaming. New Liskeard played Cobalt in the morning, the Cobalt team getting three runs off the local pitcher, who was then removed to make room for Burton. The latter commenced a series of strike-outs, which soon subdued the Cobalters, they not being able to secure another run, and during the remaining six innings of the game Burton struck out eleven players. New Liskeard batters succeeded in making six runs during the game, winning by 6 to 3.

Next day New Liskeard had to line up against Haileybury, who had an imported battery from the Midland League. Burton again pitched for New Liskeard, and during the game fanned out sixteen Haileybury batters. New Liskeard again winning by 3 to 1. During the two games, sixteen innings in all, only one run was made off Burton's delivery, while he fanned twenty-seven batters. Surely this stamps Archie Burton as one of the very best pitchers in the Ontario leagues. Big league scouts should see Burton perform of they are looking for promising material for their respective teams.

"Ty" Cobb champion batsman of the Detroit Tigers and of the American league, and Pitch-Lively, one of Manager Hughey Jennings' latest acquisitions, shook hands with President Taft the other day.

The President has known Cobb for several years and always remembered that he hails from Augusta, Ga., where Mr. Taft has spent many weeks in vacation time.

"Hello, Ty," said the President. "How's my fellow citizen?" "Fine and dandy, Bill!" replied Cobb, extending his hand. Both laughed heartily.

RUPERT NOW HAS LIVE BRANCH OF THE R.S.P.C.A.

President, Office Bearers and Executive Committee Appointed at Meeting Last Night—Objects of Society Explained by H. A. Robinson

Prince Rupert's own branch of the R. S. P. C. A. has been established in renewed activity. At the meeting in the police court room held last night, the Mayor presided, and was elected Honorary President. Dr. Reddie was elected president, and W. H. Vickers vice president. Mr. Neil McKay, occupies the position of secretary, and an executive committee consisting of the following members was appointed: Messrs. W. E. Fisher, M. Wells, Captain Hamar, Frank Kelly W. W. Lawson, C. C. Perry and J. S. Dade.

Protection Not Prosecution
Mr. H. A. Robinson, Inspector of the Society for the whole Province, was present and spoke of the objects of the organization. The idea is chiefly to protect the dumb animals, rather than to convict persons guilty of cruelty to them. Mr. Robinson suggested that a prize might be offered at school for essays relating to kindness to animals to instil the principles of the society into the children's minds.

Choose Advisory Board

The committee will choose an advisory board on the lines of the Vancouver organization, and the rules and constitution of the Vancouver society branch will apply to Prince Rupert for the most part. All members of the society are invested with powers as peace officers, and all constables of the city police force are similarly peace officers for the purposes of the society by virtue of their office.

Next Wednesday the committee will meet to attend to the rest of the details of organization, and a general meeting of the society will be held on the third Tuesday of each month. Last night's attendance was a very good one all things considered.

BUILDING BIG NEW STEAMER

Ramona is Back on Seattle, Rupert and Alaska Run, but is Too Small for Increasing Traffic.

Today the well known Pacific Coast Company S.S. Ramona is discharging mixed freight at the wharf including a large number of lengths of sewer pipe. The Ramona is quite a popular boat, and in the early Rupert days did a brisk business. She is still doing as much as her accommodation can comfortably undertake, and is no mean steamer, but the rapid increase in the passenger traffic to Alaska is so great that the company have now made arrangements to build a powerful new steamer specially for this run. The name of the boat has not yet been fixed, but it is known that she will be a large as the State of California, and equipped in the finest modern style for comfort, speed and safety. The S.S. Delhi is taking a share of the Ramona's work now but is keeping the outside route not touching Rupert.

ENDED IN SMOKE

But was Very Nearly a Nasty Accident. Case of Powder and Steel.

Steel was used very riskily by a powderman in the employ of Messrs. McInnis and Kelly yesterday with the result that about one and a half boxes of dynamite went off prematurely in the shot hole, and the reckless powderman was very nearly wiped off the face of the earth. He had the most extraordinary luck, however, for though smothered with smoke, dazed with the shock, and splattered with small stones and gravel, he picked himself up and after a drink of brandy neat, was able to get back to work again. Mr. McInnis by good fortune, too, had just taken the gang of men off the neighborhood of the shot hole, to alter track some distance away. He severely reprimanded the powderman who was as black as the ac of spades and smelt as sulphurous as the Earl of — well, you know where. All's well that ends well, especially if it's a case of monkeying with powder. (Hence the term powder monkey—what?)

A Rocky Road Ahead for Poor Printing

Every bit of good printing done for your competitor makes the poor printing—which you are "using" because you have it, more certainly and inevitably harmful to your business.

For this is the day and the hour and the vogue of distinctive, good printing.—And it does, usually, cost somewhat more of course—in "first cost." After that it doesn't "cost"—it "pays." : : :

WORK ON DAM TO START AT ONCE

tions of the thorny creepers there rather conducive to profanity in a man who has come out lightly clad below the belt. But the Hays Creek dam was reached without mishap, and here the party again imbibed freely. Alderman Douglas seemed likely to drink in the whole municipal water supply, but just when the Mayor was about to interfere in the interests of the citizens, the thirsty alderman raised his head and the water level in the dam ceased to sink.

Visited Pumping Station

With a visit to the pumping station the trip concluded. On the way there along the pipe line, just at the point where the bush trail gives place to a certain plank pathway, Alderman Douglas mysteriously disappeared. Half way to the pumping station he was missed by the Mayor, and the hue and cry was at once raised to discover him. Shouts loud and long at length resulted in a far heard halloo in the familiar Douglas accent, from the deepest recesses of the bush. Presently the indefatigable alderman appeared and in answer to the earnest enquiries of the Mayor, explained for the benefit of press and public that he had kept to the line of the creek for coolness' sake, and had not gone out into the open where the afternoon sun broiled down. He was forgiven, and piloted to the pumping station where in limpid pipe-drawn Hays Creek water the party celebrated the finish of the most strenuous bit of work in municipal interests which has yet been undertaken by Mayor or any councillors.

Will Rush the Work

Orders have been given for the dam to be repaired at Morse Creek without delay, and the storage of ten million gallons of water will be effected if not in time to nullify the effects of the present drought, at least in time to help the city through the water shortage due to frost in mid winter.
