SITUATION IN EUROPE

Italy Excited Over Expected Visit of British Statesman to Mussolini To Discuss Affairs

SEE NEW ERA OF PEACE

British, German and French Ambassadors in Conference With President Roosevelt

ROME, March 17.—There is considerable excitement in Italy and especially in this city at the prospect of Premier Ramsay MacDonald and Sir John Simon's visit here for a conference with Premier Mussolini, because of the implied recognition that the Italian premier is now a world figure. Newspapers predict a new era of peace and prosperity as a result of the co-operation of the nations.

GENEVA, March 17.—Yesterday Premier MacDonald when outlining his plan for restriction of armaments made a dramatic appeal to the representatives of the great powers and pictured what might happen if affairs were allowed to drift. His talk was very candid. He spoke of the danger of the action being taken by Chancellor Hitler of Germany, expressed the opinion that France should do her share and urged other nations to lend a hand.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Yesterday the ambassadors of Great Britain, Germany and France each in turn called upon the President and was in consultation with him for some time at the White House.

Hon. Hugh Wilson has been appointed by the President to unofficially represent the United States at Geneva as an interested observer with the object of removing any difficulties that may be in the way of united action.

British Attitude Toward Germany Seems Changing

LONDON, March 17.—The London newspapers are not showing a very friendly attitude toward Germany since the advent of the Hitler administration. Formerly they were all for Germany.

Reports here indicate that Jews are fleeing from Germany as a result of alleged ill-treatment from the Nazis.

NEW YORK, March 17.—Professor Einstein states that he will not return to Germany while the Hitler government is in power.

DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS PROBABLY WILL BE SEVERED AND EMBARGO PLACED ON RUSSIAN GOODS COMING TO GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, March 17.—A break in diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Soviet Russia was anticipated today in both business and political circles, the second crisis in the affairs of the two countries within five months.

This time the breach is caused by the arrest by secret police of six British subjects employed in Moscow. Explanations were immediately asked by the British Government but these evidently were unsatisfactory and the recall of Sir Esmond Ovey is likely to result.

An embargo on Russian goods was also viewed as a possibility, to take effect when the present trade agreement between the two countries expires April 16. Negotiations were begun only recently for a new agreement.

CHANGE IN MINE LAWS

Bill Before Legislature to Protect Rights of Miner Unable to Pay

VICTORIA, March 17.—Minister of Mines McKenzie introduced an amendment to the Mineral Act giving the miner six months' grace after his licence lapses on May 31, during which time a special certificate, if taken out will vest him in title. The object of the amendment is to prevent the miner from losing his title rights or interest in his property.

SACRAMENTO, March 17.—The California Legislature yesterday voted 45 to 30 in favor of allowing horse racing in the state under supervision. Betting on the results is also provided for.

Railway Bill Passes With Several Liberals Supporting Measure

OTTAWA, March 17.—By a vote of 120 to 65 the House of Commons last night voted for the second reading of the railway bill establishing a board of three trustees to manage the Canadian National and in this and other ways implementing the Duff Commission recommendations.

The bill among other things enjoins the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific to cooperate in measures to reduce expenses and set up an arbitral board to settle disputes between the two companies.

Seven Liberals, five United Farmer members, two independents and all the Conservatives supported the measure. Among the Liberals was Olof Hanson, member for Skeena, who stated he did so because assurance was given by the government that the bill would be amended to insure against amalgamation of the Canadian Pacific with the Canadian National and also that other changes would be made to protect the interests of the Canadian National Railways.

T. D. Pattullo Critic of Jones' Budget in Legislature Yesterday

Says Minister Lectured House on Economy and Retrenchment and Then Made Largest Expenditures in History of Province

VICTORIA, March 17.—"At each session of the House the minister of finance has delivered a lecture on public economy and each session the minister proclaimed the necessity of economy and retrenchment, yet each year we find the largest expenditures in the history of the province," declared T. D. Pattullo, in opening the budget debate yesterday.

Mr. Pattullo said that last year they told the minister of finance the deficit would be more than seven millions and it was, despite the denial of the minister at the time. In the current fiscal year, despite two income taxes and two drivers' licenses being collected in a single year, the deficit will be well over five million dollars, while the deficit for next year for which the minister is budgeting while normally something over two millions, will beyond question be much more because no provision has been made either for forest protection or unemployment relief.

Board of Trade Held Meeting and Elected Philip Brunell as President For Year

BURNS LAKE, March 17.—The postponed annual meeting of the Burns Lake and district board of trade was held in the B. P. O. E. Hall, on Monday. Poor Buildings Responsible For Quake Troubles

Report in Regard to Long Beach Shows 116 Lives Were Lost There

LOS ANGELES, March 17.—The Red Cross report on the disaster shows that at Long Beach there were 116 deaths, 2,100 buildings were destroyed and 21,000 were damaged.

It is possible that disciplinary measures may be taken against contractors who erected flimsy buildings as it is found that most of the trouble arose from poor construction.

Regulations will be more rigid in future against anything but quake-proof buildings.

PRAY FOR THE WORKERS

Recently in church the parson prayed for the workers. He should not have done so. They do not need prayers. It is the men who are idle or who have no work they can do with profit who are in need of prayers.

The man who works and who likes his work is happy. He also usually has health of mind and body. It is the man who loaf and complains who is to be pitied and prayed for. The parson should pray the Good Lord to give him the desire to work, the ability to do it and the work to do.

Let us forget the workers and centre our thoughts on the men who can't or won't work. Each group is equally out of luck.

INTERNATIONAL FIGURE

It would not be a bad idea for the League of Nations to appoint Ramsay MacDonald general manager of the organization for the rest of his life. His strong feature is his grasp of international affairs and his ability to deal with the people of all nations. When others fail he comes into the field and succeeds.

It is to be hoped that his latest move to prevent trouble in Europe will be successful. The last thing needed today is a war.

WAS OVER ASSESSED

Editor, Daily News:
In your issue of the 16th you stated that the assessment on the Capitol Theatre building was reduced by $7,000.00 from $76,000.00 to $69,000.00, it having been decided that the seats were not assessable as real property as they might easily be removed by the tenant. This statement is absolutely incorrect, the reduction in assessment was simply given because the building was overassessed. Yours very truly,

TELLS ABOUT THE BALKANS

William Stormont Told Rotary Club of His Experiences Outside of Actual War

One of the outstanding addresses of an informal character was given at the luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club yesterday by William Stormont of the British Army. Toward the close of the war he was in the Balkans and at present is in charge of the lubricant oil department of the Imperial Oil Company at Vancouver.

Mr. Stormont told of the picturesque people he met, of the coming of peace, of a visit to Bucharest and finally of a visit paid surreptitiously to the Sultan of Turkey and a personal interview with the head of the Ottoman Empire.

The speaker was during the few months of the war which culminated in the coming of peace, inspector of armaments and his duty was to keep the guns in good condition particularly the sights. He left Southampton on May 8, 1918 and the ship enroute cut through the German submarine U-93 sinking that vessel without damaging the transport.

A crossing of the Adriatic was made and Mr. Stormont described the intensely green foliage of the country, mostly olive and other similar fruit trees with white houses set here and there.

Salonika

Arriving at Salonika, the place looked very beautiful set in magnolia and olive and other trees. People were there of almost all nationalities, Turks, Serbs and people of varied habits and customs. Roumanian and Bulgarian officers wore very bright, picturesque uniforms. The Turks wore shoes with tassels on the ends of their toes and the fez or turban on the head. So hot was it that no work was done during the noon two-hour siesta. The great wish was for cool, clean air. More discomfort was experienced than in the cold, dry climate of the north.

The speaker mentioned seeing the car bearing a peace envoy several weeks before the end of the war which was received at that headquarters and they were then told that the war was over and rejoiced greatly.

During the period following the war the time was spent largely in hunting and seeing the country. Incidents illustrating the customs were related. One was that of three brightly uniformed officers travelling on fine horses and three wives following behind on foot. When crossing a stream not one of the men looked back to see if the women had crossed safely.

During the period after the war the British ruled the country and so just was their administrator that a memorial was sent to Versailles asking that they may be continued there. This of course was ignored.

The visit to Bucharest was a memorable one and an evening spent at the Cafe-Maxime was interestingly described.

The visit to the palace at Constantinople and the attendance at a reception to which they were invited although out of bounds to army officers proved one of the outstanding incidents of a very pleasing and enjoyable address.

SPORT CHAT

Every boxer of any note has one or two favorite tricks in his bag, which he feels are just the things he needs to give him an edge over his opponent. And the very fact that he thinks he has an advantage is in itself a point in his favor. However, most of these tricks are of no use to any other boxer for the simple reason that another might not be able to make use of it, through either physical or mental differences.

There is one thing, however, included in the basic principles of scientific boxing, which every fighter should study and use. This is the art of "tying-up."

Tommy Loughran, one of the clearest boxers in ring history, was an adept at tying-up. Boxers, under the rules, are not permitted to hold their opponents' arms in such a manner that the opponent cannot free that arm at will. Loughran's trick was to catch his opponent's arm, just above the elbow, between his own extended thumb and forefinger. This very effectually prevented punching in close for the few seconds necessary, and at the same time was well within the rules for the opponent could free his arm merely by raising it higher. It was not "holding" but it was trying-up.

Cars Collide

McBride St.

The cars of Sterling Food Co. and Ald. F. Wesch collided at the junction of Eight and McBride last night at 7:30. The car driven by Paul Johnston was coming along Eighth Avenue travelling east and Ald. Wesch was coming along McBride Street from Eleventh Avenue. Wesch's car hit the back of the Sterling car banging it up against the curb and sidewalk causing considerable damage to the under carriage and breaking the windows. Both drivers escaped serious injuries. Ald. Wesch's car is in the garage for minor repairs.

LAI D CORNER STONE OF NEW CHURCH BLDG.

Bishop Rix Returns From Visit to Native Village Where He Was Entertained at Banquet

The formal laying of the corner stone of a fine new church took place Wednesday at Kikkatla native village. Right Rev. Bishop Rix officiating and being supported by the resident clergyman, Rev. B. Sherman. The village brass band of forty pieces led by Henry Brown was present and played a number of selections.

Following the ceremony a banquet, prepared by the ladies of the village, was served in the evening at the town hall. P. Price presided. There were two speakers, Henry Collison and Mathias Shaw in addition to the Bishop who gave an inspiring address suitable to the occasion.

The choir, led by Mr. Brown, sang two sacred cantatas, "The Promised Child" and "The King Cometh," and in closing the Bishop complimented the choir on their excellent music and the people on their splendid entertainment and their enterprise in the good cause of erecting a new church.

The foundation of the church is already built and work will be continued on the building for about a month until the men go fishing. Activities will be resumed when they return in the fall.

Bishop Rix returned from there yesterday.

Protest Made at Alice Arm Relief

At a largely attended meeting in the C.L.D.L. hall Wednesday night a vigorous protest was made at the government refusing relief to eleven unemployed single men at Alice Arm, declaring it a "hideous attempt to drive every worker into further depths of poverty and shame." "Tess of the Storm Country"

Janet Gaynor Takes Part of Heroine Of Sea Captain's Daughter And Does it Well

"Tess of the Storm Country," starring Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell is the feature picture at the Capitol Theatre tonight and tomorrow.

The story opens aboard a big schooner, with Janet as the daughter of the be-whiskered skipper. Deciding that his girl is getting too big to be knocking around the world with him, the skipper brings her ashore and they settle down in a cottage along the Maine coast.

A crusty old millionaire who owns the property, immediately ejects them despite Janet's fiery tongue. So that when Charlie subsequently is saved by Janet from a watery grave and she learns that he is the millionaire's son, her feeling explode.

It is after such a beginning that their acquaintance develops along more peaceful lines. But many complications ensue, with the elderly skipper being sent to jail on a false charge of murder and Janet rescuing Charlie's sister when she tries to commit suicide to keep from having a fatherless baby. The baby, which Janet cares for, puts more obstacles in the path of romance, but eventually the various difficulties are overcome by the sister's confession.

With considerably more dramatic action in their roles than they ordinarily have, the two stars turn in notable performances and are aided by the excellent work of Dudley Digges and Claude Gillingwater as the parents and June Clyde as the sister. The settings are unusually picturesque.

PETITION

TO THE HONORABLE THE HOUSE OF COMMONS OF CANADA, IN PARLIAMENT ASSEMBLED:

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED CITIZENS of the Great Dominion of Canada, being a free and independent people, in whom resides the right of self-determination, do hereby vigorously protest against the action of the Radio Commission of Canada in censoring or attempting to censor and exclude from public broadcast radio lectures on matters pertaining to the Bible and of public interest, and particularly the lectures of J. F. Rutherford, pertaining to divine prophecy. We have faith in the Bible as the Word of God, and that it was written for the instruction of man. Many sincere persons claim that the Bible prophecies apply particularly to our day and bear direct relationship to the present world distress, and disclose God's remedy for relief. We are entitled to hear these questions publicly discussed free from all censor, otherwise our freedom is taken away. Those who object, or who may be offended by such lectures, may turn their radio dials and decline to hear.

We therefore demand that the Dominion Parliament take immediate action, removing from the Radio Commission the power to censor, hinder or prevent such lectures by radio and that the people be left free to determine what they may or may not hear. Men of world-wide repute and eminently qualified to explain the Bible, such as we believe Rutherford is, can be helpful to the people and we demand that our radio stations be permitted to broadcast his lectures. The question is: Shall the people continue to enjoy freedom or shall a few men deprive them of their God-given rights?
