GENERAL STRIKE PROPOSED TO FAVOR McNAMARA BROS.

Western Federation of Miners Have Proposed to Call a General Strike on the Day Los Angeles Trial Opens—Will Give Financial Aid to Accused.

Butte, Montana, July 22.—When an indefinite general strike is declared by the Western Federation of Miners on the day the McNamara brothers go to Los Angeles or whether a 24-hour strike should be called the resolution which agitated the morning session of the convention of the Western Federation of Miners. Many delegates were in favor of declaring a general strike, compelling the American Federation of Labor to follow their lead. The Canadian delegates were opposed.

Passengers by the "George" and For Up River by Train

The S.S. Prince George this morning there arrived the usual crowd of first class passengers and a large number of second class passengers. Heavy freight was landed. The train for Copper City pulled out on time with many passengers for up river points. Since the ballasting of the track near the waterfront the line looks substantial and eminently confidence inspiring. The trains make good time upon it, pulling out Wednesdays and Saturdays at 1 p. m., and arriving Thursdays and Sundays a little after five p. m.

INDOOR BALL LEAGUE TO START GAMES NEXT WEEK

Teams in Line-Up for the League—Two to Complete—Part of the Gate Money To Go To a Fund for Getting an Athletic Park

Prince Rupert Indoor Baseball League is fairly getting into its stride now. Half a dozen leagues, four of which are perfectly organized, and two of which are complete in a couple of weeks are included in the League. These teams are: the Blue Ribbons, the Brothers, the Crescents, the Comets, the Drivers, the Kaien Island Club, and the Empress Hotel. The two last named are not completely organized, and would assist their organizers, Ben Self at the Empress Hotel and Mr. Leo Waugh at Kaien Island Club, if the interested in making good teams of these, would drop in and have a talk with the organizers over the week-end.

First of Schedule
The vote of the representatives of teams at last night's meeting in the police court room, the first schedule was put in shape. The best nights for play and for the games were decided as follows: Tuesdays and Thursdays; Wednesdays and Saturdays (also on Sundays and after 7 p. m. on other days.) The program will undoubtedly be the scene of the first matches, and there is a possibility that Kaien Island Club gymnasium will also be the scene of some games. Following is the schedule as far as could be arranged last night.

Game Tuesday night, Crescents versus Royal Blue Ribbons. Game, Thursday night, Crescents versus Quilldrivers. Before these games are played the two other teams will be complete and their places on the schedule can be definitely set.

Coquitlam Grants a Fixed Rate of Taxation for Ten Years on Condition the Company Spends $250,000

(Canadian Press Despatch)
Vancouver, July 22.—The municipal council of Coquitlam has agreed to fix the rate of taxation for the C. P. R.'s recently acquired 612 acres at $1530 a year for ten years, on condition that the railway company spends $250,000 on improvements to the property within two years.

THREE RECORDS WERE SMASHED

Athletic Talent at Manitoba Championships Set New Marks for One Mile and Five Mile Runs and One Mile Walk.

Winnipeg, July 22.—Three records were smashed at the Manitoba Amateur Athletic Association championship meet on Thursday. Joe Keeper, in the five mile race, covered the distance in 26 minutes 11 3-5 seconds.

E. J. Webb, the English champion walker, gave the big crowd of spectators a chance to cheer when he romped home in six minutes 51 seconds. This is slow time for Webb but it broke the record by nearly half a minute. Tom Slight, the old record holder, finished second.

Joe Beckett also added a record to the list in the mile event which he covered in four minutes 38 2-5 seconds. Blair, the old record holder, was in second place.

Rev. Father Hartmann returned to the city by the S.S. Prince George this morning. He is optimistic regarding the prospects of his Naas colonisation scheme.

HE WAS LOADED WITH JEWELS

Gaekwar of Baroda Outvied All Comers at the Coronation.

London, July 21.—The Gaekwar of Baroda, the famous chief of the fighting Sikhs, continues to attract a great deal of attention at the Capital. At the Coronation of King George and Queen

THE GAEKWAR OF BARODA

Mary he created much comment by reason of his lavish display of jewelry.

The Gaekwar is a native prince of India and intensely loyal to Great Britain. He owns jewelry estimated to be worth $1,200,000. While it is impossible for him to adorn himself with all his gems, he astonishes Great Britain and outshone British nobles by wearing the Star of the South, the Akhah Shah, and the Eugenie, three diamonds weighing respectively 125 carats, 74 carats and 51 carats, besides many other jewels of lesser importance.

GRAIN COMPANY GOES BROKE

Pacific Grain Company of Winnipeg Closes Its Doors—Manager Has Disappeared.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
Winnipeg, July 22.—The Pacific Grain Company, Limited, which suspended business yesterday, has turned its business over to other brokers, both in Winnipeg and in Chicago, where the company did business on the Chicago Board of Trade. Owing to the disappearance of its manager, the company advised its customers yesterday to protect their trade.

WINNIPEG MAY BUY RAILWAY

Sir Wm. Mackenzie Offers to Sell Winnipeg Electric—May be Taken Up.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
Winnipeg, July 22.—The city council of Winnipeg is contemplating the purchase of the Mackenzie and Mann holdings of Winnipeg Electric at $250 per share. The company is capitalised at $13,000,000, and owns a power plant at Lac du Bonnet, the street railway, and gas and electric lighting plant. The council decided that the price asked is fair. If the audit of the company's books show seven per cent profit on the purchase price the deal will go through.

BUILDING PERMITS

The building permits for the week include plans for two new stores to be built by Munroe & Robinson on Third avenue between Fifth and Sixth streets to cost $6,500, and the remodelling of a building on an adjoining lot at a cost of about $1,000. They will be built right away.

MILLIONS TO BE SPENT ON WORK AT GOOSE BAY

General Manager Sylvester and Treasurer Wooster of the Granby Company Tell of the Company's Plans—Will Build Smelter There, and Develop 3,000 Water Power at Once

Vancouver, July 21.—That several millions of dollars are to be spent in the development of the property of the Granby Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co., Ltd., at Goose Bay, Observatory Inlet, Portland Canal district, in the course of the next few years, is the announcement of Mr. F. M. Sylvester, general manager of the company, and Mr. George W. Wooster, treasurer, who are now at Vancouver.

Will Do Smelting
The company intends to not only open up its own property and buy additional claims, but to establish a large smelting trade as well. At Goose Bay there is already a twenty-drill compressor which the concern intends to add to immediately. Piers, wharfs, roads and a saw mill of 40,000 feet capacity are under construction now and will be completed in the course of the next few months. In speaking of the project Mr. Sylvester said:

Ideal Smelter Site
"There are a great many things to be considered in the location of a smelter of which the site is probably the most important. In this connection Goose Bay is almost ideal as it is accessible to the vast mining territory of the north and is also but a short distance from the Hidden Creek group of copper claims which are owned by the Granby Company.

SAYS THE NORTHERN PACK IS NOT LARGE THIS YEAR

Statement of Mr. W. H. Barker, manager of the B.C. Packers' Association, Who Has Just Completed Trip to the Canneries—Sockeyes Away Behind, But Runs May Improve

Vancouver, July 22.—"I estimate that the pack of all kinds of fish in Northern British Columbia waters is not more than 120,000 cases to date," today declared Mr. W. H. Barker, general manager of the British Columbia Packers' Association, who returned this morning from an eleven-day tour of the northern plants operated by his company. Mr. Barker made the round trip on the steamer Venture in company with Mr. William Murray, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and a director of the British Columbia Packers' Association.

Weather Not Good
"The pack of all kinds of salmon in the north so far this season can not be termed large—it is merely a good start," continued Mr. Barker. "Till about ten days ago conditions were much against good fishing, but since that time the weather has become warmer and the prevailing winds favor the progress of the fish to the rivers."

Lots of Spring Salmon
"The run of Springs this year has been the largest in the history of the northern canneries, and the fish have been of excellent quality, I have a theory that the ever-increasing runs of Springs on the Skeena River may in great measure be due to the fact that for many years the hatcheries of Oregon have been turning out millions of Springs and we may now be receiving some benefit in Northern British Columbia from that work."

Sockeyes are Behind
"Sockeye fishing in the north is away behind this year. I did not visit the Naas, but I was informed that results there had not been as good as last year. On the Skeena the number of

SCAVENGING MONOPOLY CAUSE OF INQUIRIES

Citizens Complain That They Do Not Know What the Correct Prices are and that Overcharges are Being Made—Correct Scale of Prices is Herewith Given

Again and again during the past few days the Daily News has been asked to voice the bewilderment of many citizens in regard to the working of the city scavenging system now being operated by Contractor J. G. Weston. Particularly strong emphasis has been laid upon the matter of the scale of prices for removal of household refuse, and the question is asked: "Is any regular scale of fees in force? If so, what are the fees?"

The Proper Scale
According to the Mayor, the scale of fees for household scavenging under which the present provisional scavenging contract in Prince Rupert is being worked is as follows:

Residences of two rooms and under, for night soil and garbage, per month, in all, 50 cents.

Residences of three rooms and over, for night soil and garbage, per month in all, 75 cents.

For hotels, rooming houses, restaurants, offices, etc., the price is per 15 gal. can, and varies from 10 cents to 50 cents.

Comes Up on Monday
This scale is not actually passed by the council, but it is very certainly understood to be the one under which the provisional contract is being worked until the by-law passes the council. The by-law comes up on Monday night. It is still in Committee of the Whole stage. An amendment is being included in it to the effect that all disputes in regard to the scale of prices or other matters affecting the scavenging shall be referred to the Medical Health Officer for settlement.

Some Misunderstandings
Attempts to find out from the scavengers what payments are necessary have led some citizens to form the idea that it will cost at least $2 per month to employ the contractor, and the attitude of Alderman Douglas in demanding the right for citizens to destroy rubbish themselves independent of the contractor is approved.

Some Recorded Instances
Incidents like the following are being recorded: A housewife in doubt about the fees, asked the scavenger what the charges were. "Fifty cents a call," was his reply. This would work out at $2 a month for the house in question. Another woman was disturbed by the scavenger with the demand that she should show the receipt for the last scavenging services rendered or have the accumulated refuse left, un-removed. The fees had been paid; the receipt mislaid.

When told this the scavenger is said to have replied "Well, you had better pay me for the last work or the new work can't be done."

Bad as Before
Under the old scavenging system there was sometimes difficulty about the prices charged. There seemed to be a big variation in the scale of fees in the same district, even between next door houses. One woman was charged $1.50 for scavenging. She learned that for the same service her neighbor paid only $1. She held out for paying only a dollar herself, did so, and received a receipt for $1.25 over which she is still puzzling. Considering that the present system was placed in the hands of J. G. Weston by the city council with the intention of improving such irregularities, the citizens finding the same old difficulties, are naturally annoyed.

Who Supplies Receptacles?
Another matter which is puzzling some citizens is the question "Who is to supply the garbage cans?" Is the contractor supposed to furnish these, or is it up to each householder to provide his own? It is understood that a metal worker in town made a set of cans on spec. believing he could dispose of them to the scavenging contractor.

"FAIR WAGES" AND THE GOVERNMENT

The visits of Mr. J. D. McNiven of Ottawa, "Fair Wages Officer" for the Dominion Government, who is in town today, are usually looked upon as heralding the drawing up of specifications for impending public works. Whether this is the case at present, Mr. McNiven of course declines to state.

Mr. McNiven, who is attached to the Department of Labor, has a unique position. He travels from place to place reporting on labor conditions, so that when the Dominion Government architects draw up specifications for public buildings, they are able to insert clauses defining what hours of labor shall be worked, and what rates of pay shall be guaranteed for the workmen. These figures are based on the reports of Mr. McNiven as to living conditions and fair wage rates in the various districts, on which the Government insists on independent reports.

The value of such an officer is very great, where immense contracts are being given out. It was the absence of such provisions in the contract which the Provincial Government let for the public school in Prince Rupert, which led to trouble between the contractor and labor unions as to the length of the working day. Instead of letting the contractors and the labor unions fight the matter out, the Dominion Government specifies the "fair wage" conditions, thus guaranteeing the workmen fair treatment, and assuring the contractor immunity from increased liability where the rate of wages or the length of the working day alters during the lifetime of a contract.

When Mr. McNiven or the Government gets tired of the title of Fair Wages Officer, the News suggests that he be called the "Square Deal" officer.

A CASE OF "THREE IN ONE"

The hot weather of the last week has been provocative of a good deal besides perspiration and thirst. In Prince Rupert it helped the gaiety of nations considerably.

There was an alderman for instance, who tiraded on Monday night about the need for attending to the water supply of the city for fear of a water famine. He strongly censured the action of a steamboat captain at the wharf who after filling his water tank and fire buckets with city drinking water, turned the hose pipe on his vessel's decks, and washed his boat down with the precious fluid.

Then there was another alderman in the city who neglected to turn up at the tour of inspection of the water supply of the city on Wednesday, after having drawn the council's attention to the need of looking into the question. He did not swallow his own tirade.

But worst of all was a third alderman. Not only did he not heed Alderman Clayton's eloquence upon the water shortage; not only did he absent himself from the tour of investigation for water; he actually spent his time, and a considerable quantity of the city's precious aqua pura, in squirting drinking water from a fire hose on to his back veranda. While the Mayor and "Douglas, tender and true" were toiling through the bush and along the creeks, this particular alderman was emulating the example of the steamboat captain whom Alderman Clayton so soundly condemned.

It would be cruel to mention the names of the three aldermen. But perhaps our faithful Douglas will take him to task about it on Monday night.

NOTES DUE

Mr. Walter Nichol, publisher of the Vancouver Province, was a visitor to Prince Rupert during the week. There will be no excuse now for the Province to make any mistakes about Prince Rupert's weather.

The British House of Lords allowed the Lords' Veto Bill to pass its third reading in the Upper Chamber without a division. This is not a sign that the peers could not tolerate the prospect of five hundred new Liberal peers. It is a sign that the wives of the peers could not tolerate the prospect of five hundred new Liberal peeresses.

That story of the sniff yacht's terrible experiences out at sea brings home the need for the council to bring in a Sniff Yacht By-law as an amendment to the Scavenging By-law, instructing the crew of the sniff yacht what to do in the hour of peril.

In the meantime, the crew should stand well to windward both coming and going. At the first sign of seasickness, the crew should be instructed to sit down and rest under a tree, until the motion passes. As a signal of distress, a bucketful of garbage upside down at the top of the mainmast would be effective.

A REMINISCENCE OF SHERLOCK HOLMES

THE ADVENTURE OF THE DEVIL'S FOOT

BY ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE

Copyright, 1911, by the Century Syndicate

PART II.

The lodger occupied two rooms at the vicarage, which were in an angle by themselves, the one above the other. Below was a large sitting-room; above, his bedroom. They looked out upon a croquet-lawn which came up to the windows. We had arrived before the doctor or the police, so that everything was absolutely undisturbed. Let me describe exactly the scene as we saw it upon that misty March morning. It has left an impression which can never be effaced from my mind.

The atmosphere of the room was of a horrible and depressing stuffiness. The servant who had first entered had thrown up the window, or it would have been even more intolerable. This might partly be due to the fact that a lamp stood flaring and smoking on the centre table. Beside it sat the dead man, leaning back in his chair, his thin beard projecting, his spectacles pushed up on his forehead, and his lean, dark face turned towards the window and twisted into the same distortion of terror which had marked the features of his dead sister.

His limbs were convulsed and his fingers contorted, as though he had died in a very paroxysm of fear. He was fully clothed, though there were signs that his dressing had been done in a hurry. We had already learned that his bed had been slept in, and that the tragic end had come to him in the early morning.

One realized the red-hot energy which underlay Holmes's phlegmatic exterior when one saw the sudden change which came over him from the moment that he entered the fatal apartment. In an instant he was tense and alert, his eyes shining, his face set, his limbs quivering with an eager activity. He was out on the lawn, in through the window, round the room, and up into the bedroom, for all the world like a dashing foxhound drawing a cover. In the bedroom he made a rapid cast around, and ended by throwing open the window, which appeared to give him some fresh cause for excitement, for he leaned out of it with loud ejaculations of interest and delight. Then he rushed down the stair, out through the open window, threw himself upon his face on the lawn, sprang up and into the room once more, all with the energy of the hunter who is at the very heels of his quarry. The lamp, which was an ordinary standard, he examined with minute care, making certain measurements upon its bowl. He carefully scrutinized with his lens the talc shield which covered the tops of the chimney, and scraped off some ashes which adhered to its upper surface, putting some of them into an envelope, which he placed in his pocketbook. Finally, just as the doctor and the police official put in an appearance, he beckoned to the vicar and we all three went out upon the lawn.

"I am glad to say that my investigation has not been entirely barren," he remarked. "I cannot remain to discuss the matter with the police, but I should be exceedingly obliged, Mr. Roundhay, if you would give the inspector my compliments and direct his attention to the bedroom window and to the sitting-room lamp. Each is suggestive, and together they are almost conclusive. If the police would desire further information I shall be happy to see any of them at the cottage. And now, Watson, I think that perhaps we shall be better employed elsewhere." It may be that the police re-mented the intrusion of an amateur, or that they imagined themselves to be upon some hopeful line of investigation; but it is certain that we heard nothing from them for the next few days. During this time Holmes spent some of his time smoking and reading in the cottage; but a greater portion on country walks which he undertook alone, returning after many hours without remark as to where he had been. One experiment served to show me the line of his investigation. He had bought a lamp which was the duplicate of the one which had burned in the room of Mortimer Tregennis on the morning of the tragedy. This he filled with the same oil as that used at the vicarage, and he carefully timed the period which it would take to be exhausted. Another experiment which he made was of a more unpleasant nature, and one which I am not likely ever to forget.

THE BABY'S BATH

A Useful Set of Directions for Young Mothers

It is a simple enough matter to give baby his bath, but many, perhaps most, young mothers approach it with some little anxiety. This is one of the things in which practice makes for perfection, but it can be accomplished successfully from the first if a few important points are remembered and the mother goes about it confidently and without nervousness. If it is properly given, the bath becomes not only a benefit, but also a pleasure to the child.

In the first place have everything in readiness before the baby is undressed. The dainty baskets set in tiers on a wicker stand, supplied with everything that can be needed, are very convenient. The room must be warm and quite safe from draughts. Hard water should never be used on the delicate skin. If soft water is not to be had, the hard water can be softened by boiling it and letting it cool, or a little milk may be added. Do not depend on the hand to test the temperature of the bath, but use the more sensitive elbow. Water that is comfortable to the elbow will be comfortable to the baby's skin. A mild, pure soap that has been tested should be used.

The large apron which the mother wears for the bathing operation is preferably of soft white flannel or flannelette, as linen or cotton has a cold feel, especially when it gets wet. If it is cool enough to have a fire while the baby is being washed, hang the little garments before it to air. Through the summer this is usually unnecessary except on wet days.

The baby is entirely undressed at once, but while the head is being washed the body and limbs should be protected by a fold of the mother's apron. With an infant, many nurses use only the hand to wash the head, as they can do it more gently so if the hand is smooth and soft than with a cloth, and the pressure on a young baby's head must be of the lightest. For a wash rag a piece of the softest white flannel can be used. A little soap is rubbed on this, the head and face are washed with it, the soap must be all rinsed off in the warm water, and the head dried. Baby's towels should be of a fine soft variety. Next the limbs and body are rubbed over with the soapy flannel, and baby is then lifted into the bath. This is accomplished with the left hand placed under the child's thighs so that his head and back are supported by the left arm, leaving the right hand free to wash and rinse the skin. The whole process of washing and drying should be accomplished speedily, says the "Canadian Pictorial." Great care should be taken to dry the skin in the creases made by the plump folds with which most babies are blessed. As a further precaution against chafing, the skin is dusted all over with a bland talcum powder, which should always be bought from reliable sources to make sure that it is unadulterated. Rubbing the baby all over gently with the hand is a beneficial finish to the process, and will generally be enjoyed by the little one. The dressing should not occupy much time.

NOTES ON FASHIONS

Embroidered flouncings are utilized to a noticeable extent in the construction of lingerie dresses. Sometimes the lower part of the skirt and the upper portion of the blouse and the sleeve caps are of the flouncing.

A pretty finish for a voile or marquisette dress is a deep hem of flowered silk, which appears again in bands or pipings on the bodice.

Bolero jackets are sometimes finished with a little ruffle at the lower edge.

Children's frocks, nearly all of them, are collarless and have shortened sleeves.

Cleaning Hint

To dry-clean a white coat lay the coat on a table and cover it with a mixture of powdered borax and French chalk. Leave it for half an hour or so, then take a clean cloth and rub it well all over. Let it lie twenty-four hours, then shake and brush it well, when it will probably look quite fresh.

Brightened Walls

Wall paper may be successfully cleaned with stale bread. A loaf of ordinary size is used. The bread should be two days old. Dust the paper with a soft cloth wrapped about a broom. Use light strokes in order not to stretch the paper. When the dust has been removed cut the loaf of bread into four parts and sweep down the paper with light, steady strokes.

THE PRINCIPLES OF SUCCESS

As Evidenced by the Progress and Prosperity of the Westholme Lumber Co., Ltd., Furnishers of Material for Prince Rupert's Homebuilders.

From quite small beginnings, by business methods which have steadily built up the firm's reputation in the public confidence, the Westholme Lumber Company of Prince Rupert has become one of the largest business concerns in the city today.

Rapid Extension Making it his principle to adhere all the time to the policy of thorough service, liberal terms, and considerate treatment of customers along with sterling integrity in all branches of the business, Mr. Albert soon began a wide extension of the firm's range of action.

Quantity and Quality It is the boast of the Westholme Company that their way of doing business is always to give full measure, and fine quality of material at moderate prices.

Special to Builders To builders especially this season the Westholme Company is at present presenting a series of special terms on all the materials most in request.

Principle Pays Moderate prices, reasonable terms, and quality of goods given always with full measure have made for the success of the Westholme Lumber Company.
