Meet Ae-Ma-Na, "Great Chief" of a Fighting Tribe

The visit of the Governor-General and Lady Bessborough to Southern Alberta brought a number of interesting experiences. First, they were shown through the great, million-dollar Mormon temple, a rare privilege granted only to non-communicants by the head of the church, President J. Grant of Salt Lake City—and second, His Excellency was made a chief of the Blood tribe of Indians, the famous fighting tribe of the once-powerful Blackfoot Confederacy. The picture shows His Excellency and Lady Bessborough with High Chief Shot-Both-Sides standing between them. The photo was taken following the traditional and colorful ceremonies at St. Paul's Indian residential school (Anglican) the principal of which, Rev. Canon Middleton, stands just behind Chief Shot-Both-Sides. His Excellency's tribal name is Ae-Ma-Na, meaning "The Great Chief." The head-dress is a gorgeous creation made by the best artists of the tribe.

S. A. (Bud) Corley, well known pioneer hotel operator of this city and for the past several years located at Pacific where he has a farm in addition to mining interests, is in town on a brief business visit and is being welcomed by many friends. He arrived from the interior on yesterday morning's train and will be returning to Pacific this afternoon.

Terrace Stirred By Arrival Of Family of Hikers From Aiyansh; Seven Children With Parents

There was a sudden increase in the population of Terrace last week with the arrival overland of the Fraser family of father, mother and seven children who had been forced to leave their ranch home near Aiyansh owing to lack of a market for their products and start life afresh in a new community. There were thirteen in the party when they left Aiyansh and, when noting this unlucky number, fear was expressed that one member would fail to reach the destination. In addition to the man and wife and family there were two goats, a dog and a horse. The horse succumbed on the route but all the rest made the seventy mile hike with safety, the goats providing milk for the younger members of the family, the youngest of which was 14 months old and the oldest nine years.

On the rough trail over the mountains the man carried a pack weighing one hundred pounds and the woman forty pounds and the baby, except when the going was very bad and they relayed the packs, leaving the children with kindly telegraph operators until they returned. Nine days was occupied in the trek and, when they finally arrived at Cobb's Ranch, they were out of food. The kindly farmer took them in his wagon four miles to the mining camp at Roswood where the miners chipped in from their pokes of gold and provided the wherewithal for them to carry on.

One of the incidents of the trip was the finding of a dugout canoe at Lava Lake, which they utilized to carry them across that sheet of water. Along the shore of Sand Lake they hiked and they crossed Cedar River on a log jam. Once they reached Roswood they were taken down Kitsumkalum Lake in a launch and picked up in a car at the southern end and taken to Terrace where they are all comfortably housed.

Some of the nights were passed in the open when lying close together they slept soundly undaunted by the fear of wolves or other creatures of the wild. In the cabins it was curious to see eight out of the nine stretched out on the floor, a place being found for the baby mostly on a chair or seat. Several of the pioneer children were so small that they had to be carried part of the way.

Mr. Fraser expects to find work at the Columario mine at Usk for which place he is headed.

WAR FORM PROTESTED

Paraguay Objects At Tactics Being Adopted by Bolivia in South American Strife

ASUNCION, Paraguay, May 7.—The government of Paraguay will enter a protest to the League of Nations at the new form which warfare between Paraguay and Bolivia is taking, it being claimed that Bolivian military forces are no longer respecting civilian rights. This is claimed following an air bombardment by Bolivian planes of a Paraguayan frontier town as a result of which civilians were compelled to evacuate their homes.

KRASSIN ARRIVES

Giant Russian Ice Breaker at Comox For Coal Enroute From Archangel to Bering Sea

VICTORIA, May 7: (CP)—The Russian ice breaker, Krassin, already having covered ten thousand miles from Archangel enroute to Bering Straits, arrived here at the end of the week and proceeded to Comox to load 2400 tons of bunker coal. She will likely leave for the north today and plans to pick up some of the survivors of the steamer Chelluskin and convey them to Russia via the northeast passage across the north of Asia and Europe.

The survivors of the Chelluskin had been marooned on ice floes for a couple of months following the sinking of their ship, having been recently rescued by airplanes which landed some of them at Nome and some in Siberia.

MEETING OF BOARD Private Companies Get Back Contracts

Library Directors in Session—Consider Moving—Are Buying New Books

The local library board, at its last regular monthly meeting, discussed plans for moving the library from its present quarters at the corner of Third Avenue and Fifth Street to the building in the middle of the old Court House square on Second Avenue which was formerly occupied by the government agent's office. It was decided to make formal application to the government agent for the use of the building which, before it could house the library, would have to be re-roofed and renovated generally in addition to having the furnace repaired. Following the meeting, members of the board inspected the building for the renovation of which estimates are now being secured. If the cost of this work is not excessive, it is probable the library will be moved. The move to the larger building would permit of accommodation for a reference library as well as for a reading room. S. J. Jabour reported to the board that it was expected some $625 or $650 would be available for the purchase of new books this year as a result of the recent campaign. On the strength of this fund, the purchase of a number of new books has already been authorized.

Those present at the meeting, the business of which was otherwise largely of a routine nature, were Frank Dibb, president of the board, Thomas B. Black, secretary Mrs. G. H. Arnold, R. E. Moore and R. L. McLennan, directors, and Miss Alice Cruikshank, librarian.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

This is clean-up week and everyone is asked to do his bit in seeing the home, the place of business or the vacant lot is as tidy as possible. Prince Rupert is not as untidy as some places but it has its bad spots and it is hoped that this year they will be as far as possible improved.

Back yards are always difficult. Some people have no back yards. In their places the back is just as pleasing as the front. In the well kept city special attention is paid to getting rid of everything that annoys the senses, whether it be the sense of sight, smell, hearing or harmony.

SALVATION ARMY APPEAL

The Salvation Army, which does a lot of clean-up work of a different kind from the rest of us, is once more launching its self-denial campaign. Money is needed to enable it to carry on and do its work effectively. There have been several lean years in which it has been necessary to get along with the barest necessities. This year the burden should be lightened for the lasses who help to make this a better city.

Too WEAK to do Her Housework

Now Strong and Healthy

"I took a severe attack of influenza," writes Mrs. John Fraser of Owen Sound, "and when I was able to get out of bed I was in such a weak condition that I thought I would never get my strength back again. I could not do my housework. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I did, and after taking a few doses I could feel my strength coming back. After taking six boxes I was completely well and as strong as I ever had been."

If you are weak, nervous, chronically tired—if your daily work is a burden—you, too, can quickly build up your strength and energy with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

This is the remedy that was scientifically tested on 40 run-down people at a clinic held at a leading hospital. The physician-pathologist in charge of the experiment wanted to find out whether Dr. Williams' Pink Pills could increase red blood cells and haemoglobin which a preparation must be able to do if it is to be of any use in restoring weak, nervous chronically-tired, thin-blooded people to normal health. The results were striking. Every one of the forty patients whose blood count was below normal made material gains in red cells in the short test period of about a month. In 38 out of the 40 cases—a 95 per cent record—the haemoglobin in the blood was enriched by 10 per cent or more—some as high as 22 per cent, a remarkable gain in the short period of treatment. The patients all reported that they had more pep, more energy, more strength and the sense of physical well-being that always comes from a successful regeneration of the blood stream.

Results GUARANTEED with this HOSPITAL TESTED remedy

Results guaranteed or your money refunded. Individual reports on these 40 patients are on file, certified by the hospital pathologist.

PROGRAM FOR UNEMPLOYED

Entertainment on Saturday Night Was of Varied Nature

The entertainment committee of the Unemployed Councils presented a varied program on Saturday evening in the Canadian Labor Defence League Hall to a large audience. Blackface Comedian Tom Carr and cast provided the first item on the program. Others contributing included: Miss Tiger Ruby, song, violin accompaniment by Miss Allee Gomez; Miss Zelda Hale, recitation, and George Edgar, various musical instruments. Mrs. James Watts' pupils scored a hit to the credit of their teacher with Irish Jig by Miss Margaret Lamb and Miss Joan Squires. Highland Reel by Jock Watt, Jean Sims, George McAfee and Joan Smith, accompanied by Miss Watt, and Irish Jig by Jean Watt and Helen McDonald with violin accompaniment by Mr. Watt. Miss Rosie Smith, piano; Halvard Forsland, violin, and George Edgar, guitar, rendered instrumental music.

Tom Carr reappeared from a visit to the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa and described his experiences and performed a clog dance he learnt while there.

Other items were violin solo, Mr. Forsland, with piano accompaniment by Miss Smith; Sam Joe with ukelele and songs (encored); Halvard Forsland, two violin solos, and Mrs. Lire Kandas, Finnish solo, self accompaniment on mandolin. The Mulligan Orchestra gave several selections.

The second part of the program was devoted to athletics. There were several barrel and pillow fighting contests by girls and boys. In boxing the Micheluk brothers went three rounds, Miss Tiger Ruby and Miss Wildcat Mina went three two-minute fast rounds. Vain Ahao and Darrow Gomez boxed three three-minute rounds. Billy Bagshaw and unknown opponent went three fast three-minute rounds.

A wrestling contest was staged by Emil Makela and Max Crossman, catch as catch can style, resulting in a draw. The first fall went to Makela, and the second to Crossman. There was lots of action.

After the program a successful dance followed with Pete Hardy's orchestra.

CAVALCADE WINS RACE

Fifty-Five Thousand Spectators See Kentucky Derby Run at Churchill Downs Saturday

CHURCHILL DOWNS, Louisville, Ky., May 7: (CP)—Cavalcade, a heavy favorite, won by three lengths in the sixtieth Kentucky Derby on Saturday before fifty-five thousand spectators. Discovery was second and Agrarian third. The night before the holding of the turf classic, fire broke out in the paddock, six stables being burned. All the horses were removed without injury. The origin of the blaze was uncertain.

GAME WON BY GROTTO

Tobacconists Defeated Elks in Close Contest at Softball Yesterday

Grotto and Elks, doughty rivals of last year in the City Softball League, staged a closely-contested pre-season battle at the Canadian National Recreation Association's grounds yesterday afternoon, the former emerging winners by a score of 5 to 4. There was no scoring until the sixth inning when the Grotto made one run which was destined to be the winning count, there being no more scoring until the final stanza when each side scored four runs. The game was as close and well-contested as the score indicates and proved interesting to a fair-sized crowd of fans. Ronnie Pitcher was on the mound for the Grotto with Dido Gurchich receiving. Bill Stone pitched for the Elks with Dave Geddes catching.

What might have been a serious fire in the Central Hotel was averted by prompt response of the fire department at 1:30 yesterday morning following the turning in of an alarm by the proprietress, Mrs. Peter Black, who was awakened by smelling smoke. Rubbish had taken fire in the basement, the incipient blaze being soon extinguished by the department after doing little, if any, damage.

Soil Conditions and Plant Growth

Frost Injures Plant in Wet Soil More Than in Well Drained—Proper Plant Foods Necessary to Make Peat Soils Fertile (By R. H. BEDFORD)

PART IV.
The obvious remedy for a water-logged condition of the soil is proper drainage and whether this is accomplished by ditches, box or tile drains is something for the gardener himself to decide. Whatever the preference, the job should be well done. The water table should be low enough so that the layers of peat near the surface become compact and are never water-soaked. When a water-logged condition exists, it interferes with the penetration of heat so that there is greater danger in the winter killing of plants because of the freezing and thawing effect that takes place if the soil is wet about the roots during alternate periods of mild and cold weather of winter time. This damages the roots and it delays the heating up of the soil in the springtime. Not only does the high water table affect the penetration of heat but also it interferes with the circulation of air. The oxygen of the air is necessary for the proper functioning of the plant roots and also, most importantly, for that sub-visible population that is actively preparing nourishment for the plant—the bacteria or micro-organisms, which are themselves plants. They must have air to breathe so that they may carry on their work energetically in this striking phenomenon of food preparation for the hungry growing plant.

Deficient in Plant Food
Sphagnum peat either lacks certain essential plant foods or contains them in very small amounts—it is said to be infertile for these reasons. Generally it is deficient in calcium, potash, phosphorus and nitrogen. Calcium is added in the form of limestone or slaked lime or bone meal and they should be fairly finely ground. This does two things at least—first, it neutralizes some of the acidity, an excess of which is quite harmful to most plants, and, second, it provides calcium as food for the plant. These two observations apply also to the micro-organisms as well. Those who have tried to grow peas or clover in this soil without previously adding limestone know just what poor luck they have had. Peas require a liberal quantity of calcium in their diet, apart from any other benefit they may derive from it. Potash, or by its chemical name, potassium hydroxide, is invariably deficient in this peat soil. It is exceedingly important for the growing plant. Quite commonly it is added in the form of wood ashes which, by the way, should be finely crushed, the finer the better. It functions in a variety of ways. It makes the leaf of the plant much more efficient as a chemical factory. All the starch of the potato, for instance, is first formed in the leaf and is later transported, as sugar, back to the subterranean storage department of the plant where it is again rearranged into starch—and the tuber. It increases the development of the root system and that means greater foraging ability—for water and other nutrients. In its absence, or when inadequate, the leaves become dull in color and die at the tips and along the edges. The appearance is as if they were scorched. Potassium also facilitates the entry of water into the plant so that it is better able to withstand droughty conditions. Potassium-starved plants are not only stunted in growth but quite often they even fail to reach maturity, which means, for the florist, no flowering plants.

Idol of Chicago Baseball Fans

Chicago Cubs can thank their lucky stars they have a star like Pitcher Lon Warneke. Judging from the above photo you don't have to take our word for it. Fans swarm to the "screen side", seeking the great pitcher's autograph every time an opportunity is afforded them. In a recent game Warneke stood St. Louis on their heads, allowing only one hit. Big League critics claim Lon is good for at least 25 wins this season—maybe 30.

FOOTBALL WAS DRAW

Two-All Deadlock Between Borden and High in Junior League

Borden Street and High School football teams met on Saturday afternoon for their first game in the second half of the Junior Football League, the result being a two-all draw. The game was evenly contested throughout, both teams playing nice football although the Borden team combined better. With the ball in its favor, Borden pressed and forced two corners and Blake was soon called upon to save from Monkley. Veitch opened the game up for High and Nelson centered well but McMeekin shot too high. Postuk in goal for Borden, was in splendid form and time and again effected some wonderful saves. O'Neill, Barton and D. Houston combined well and Gulick was near scoring but Ritchie saved. Monkley then got possession and, with a fine oblique shot, beat Blake putting Borden in the lead. At half-time Borden was still leading by one to nil. High School, with wind and hill in its favor, pressed in the second half and McGreish, Nelson and McMeekin each had shots. Dybhan an dWillscroft defended well and Mah at centre-half was hard to beat but, in a scrimmage, Grimble at last scored. Both teams then tried hard for a winning goal, from a nice pass by O'Neill, D. Houston scored for Borden. Borden's triumph was short lived for, soon after Bob Houston beat Postuk with a fine shot. No further scoring took place and a hard fought game ended in a draw, two goals each.

Most Especially Conducted

The Captain and the crew, the ship's Doctor, and more particularly the kindly, motherly stewardesses of the Canadian Pacific liner Montclare all shared the responsibility of personally conducting the recent trans-Atlantic journey of Mary Estella Barr, of Halifax, Mary Estella has six months of very active life behind her, and the best wishes of the Montclare's personnel for many happy years to come. The journey was necessary because Mary Estella is motherless, and her father, Peter Barr of Halifax, though unwilling to part with his baby daughter, yielded to the wishes of his parents in Leith, Scotland, to send the baby to them. Her grandparents met her at Glasgow.

WHIFFLETS From the Waterfront

After an absence of about a year from the Vancouver-Bella Coola-Ocean Falls-Skeena River-Prince Rupert route on which he is so well and favorably known, Capt. DRAMA IS POIGNANT

Ann Harding Given Full Scope For Historic Capabilities in "Gallant Lady"

"Gallant Lady," a poignantly dramatic and appealing story, which comes to the Capitol Theatre here at the first of this week with Ann Harding, Clive Brook, Otto Kruger and the popular little Dickie Moore in leading roles, is the story of a girl whose lover loses his life in an attempt to fly the Atlantic Ocean, ignorant of the fact that she is to bear his child. Surrendering the child for adoption immediately after its birth, the girl, as the years pass, becomes a successful business woman. Destiny brings three men into the pattern of her life and at length offers her the privilege of reunion with her boy under penalty of silence regarding her true identity. The play is climaxed in a tensely dramatic scene which gives full play to Miss Harding's histrionic capabilities.
