VERY MUCH OUT OF DATE

Judging from Sir Henry Drayton's speeches and interviews with the press we venture to state that he is very much out of date. It is men like he that bring about revolutions. It is useless for us to look back and think what our fathers did or our grandfathers. They did not live in a highly mechanized age such as the present. Also they did ! not live in an age when the workers were educated and intelligent and refused to accept evil conditions like those of the past few years as "an act of God."

We now have on one hand bankers and others of a con-cipal attraction will be a special servative train of thought encouraging people to spend game between a visiting Port and Sir Henry Drayton and a few of the out of date try.
