SITUATION FOR GRAIN SNOWFALL IS HEAVY

MacFarland Urges Regulation Of Wheat Production—Deplores Price Cutting Policies

In a radio address this week on the subject of "The World Wheat Situation," John I. MacFarland, general manager of the central selling agency of the Canadian Wheat Pool, reiterated a view that he has often expressed in the past that the only means of effectively stabilizing the wheat price situation at a reasonable level, is to reduce production so as to meet consumption requirements. Such, he declared, was the only effective means of bringing the price up.

This year, Mr. MacFarland explained, the situation was a good deal different than it had been a year ago. Nature had intervened and there had been enormous destruction of crops the world over. Instead of exporting grain, United States this year has become an importer of barley, rye and low grade wheat and was now one of Canada's principal customers instead of being a competitor.

COMMUNITY OF INTEREST

There is considerable community of interest between the four western provinces of Canada. Many of their problems are the same. But there is also community of interest between the maritime provinces on either coast. The St. John Telegraph complains bitterly of the injustices which the eastern maritimes suffer under our scheme of confederation. Here is what the St. John newspaper says:

"The Jones Commission report confirms what the Maritime Provinces have so long contended that these provinces have been at a hopeless disadvantage in competition with the manufacturers of Quebec and Ontario. If Maritime competitors could not be bought out and their plants closed they could be killed by systematic price-cutting. That, and not the lack of enterprise on the part of our people explains why the Maritimes lack industries. If it be granted that our people would have taken advantage of a similar opportunity if it had offered, the answer is that such conditions should not be permitted to prevail. In the end it does not pay a country to have one portion sacrificed for the profit of another. The facts of the situation were brought to light before the Duncan Commission was appointed, and a measure of justice for the Maritimes followed its report, but the industrial situation was not materially changed.

"These provinces need industries in order to keep their people at home, but of what use is it to establish such industries only to have them crushed by unfair competition from provinces which have a larger local market and great aggregations of capital?"

"This is not merely a Maritime grievance. All Canada is interested in this matter because all Canada is interested in this matter because all Canada suffers when injustice prevails in any portion. The problem is admittedly difficult, but it has not yet been faced with resolution by the whole country. So great an area as is embraced in the Dominion must have serious problems to solve, but to say that they cannot be solved is to admit that confederation was a mistake. Very few now hold that view. They want Canada to endure. One way to strengthen the structure is to remove the disabilities under which these provinces still suffer."

FORD V-8 FOR 1935

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 is the biggest and roomiest Ford car ever built. It is a strikingly handsome car, with modern lines and new, luxurious appointments.

But most important of all it is especially designed to give you smooth, easy riding over all kinds of roads—a front-seat ride for back-seat riders.

This ease of riding is achieved by the use of three basic principles never before combined in a low-price car.

1. Correct distribution of car weight by moving engine and body forward eight and a half inches.

2. New location of seats by which the rear seat is moved forward, toward the centre of the car away from the rear axle and away from the bumps.

3. New spring suspension which permits the use of longer, more flexible springs and increases the springbase to 123 inches.

A New Ford V-8 That Brings New Beauty, New Safety, and a New Kind of Riding Comfort Within Reach of Millions of People

The result is Centre-Poise—which not only gives you a new riding comfort but adds to the stability of the car and its ease of handling. You can take curves from seven to eight miles faster with perfect safety.

There are many new features in the Ford V-8 for 1935 which make the car still easier to drive. New brakes give more power for stopping quickly with far less foot pressure on the pedal. A new type of easy-pressure clutch employs centrifugal force to increase efficiency at higher speeds. New steering mechanism makes the car still easier to handle.

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 retains the V-8 engine which has demonstrated its dependability and economy in the service of over a million owners. There are refinements, but no change in basic design. You buy premium performance when you buy this Ford V-8—full 90 horsepower and 85 miles an hour.

We invite you to see this New Ford V-8 at the showrooms of Ford dealers. You will want to ride in it—to drive it yourself. You will find it a new experience in motoring.

Negotiating For Minimum Halibut Price—Outlook For Coming Year is Cheerful—Aspen Log Exports May Expand

The Prince Rupert halibut fishing community is following with interest negotiations which Seattle and Alaskan halibut boat owners and fishermen are endeavoring to close with the fish buyers with a view to establishing a minimum price for halibut during the 1935 season. Undoubtedly, if such a minimum could be agreed upon, the Canadian operators would also fall in line although they have made no definite decision as yet, apparently choosing to wait and see how the American negotiations come out. Should any such arrangement be made, it would undoubtedly involve some sort of an agreement with the operators as to distribution of production over a longer period of time in order to eliminate occasional gluts of fish. As already stated, this latter factor is already being given careful consideration.

Halibut liver contracts comprise another matter that is at present under discussion. The fishing vessel owners are calling for tenders on the livers, a proviso being made that Canadian livers must be tendered upon in Canadian funds. Canadian livers may be tendered upon separately or together with American

With the year 1934 about to fade into history, a little retrospection may not come amiss so that we may have some guide in sizing up the future as far as our waterfront community is concerned. Despite its trials and tribulations, it may be said for 1934, without fear of contradiction, that it was a vastly better year than was the preceding one. Nor in making that statement, do we mean to imply that it was by any means entirely satisfactory. On the other hand, it leaves in passing much room for improvement. As for the new year about to dawn, we may say that, if the improvement which 1934 commenced continues in proportionate measure during the next year, we should be well on the "road back" and every one will be happy. None can be deaf or blind to the signs of improvement now to be observed all about us, nor of the air of optimism that appears to pervade most everywhere. With these thoughts in mind, we can, with a spirit of confidence as strong as our sincerity, extend to the readers of these columns our very best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year.

All of which reminds us that the boys will soon be up and doing again in preparation for this new year. There should soon be some word as to when halibut fishing may be expected to commence. Early January will see overhaul work on the fleet commencing and, within the coming month, work along that line should be general. Somehow or other the drab winters do have a way of slipping around almost before we know it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jollymore are in town from Mr. Jollymore's logging operations at Hevenor Inlet for the holiday season. They arrived at the end of the week and will probably be here for several days longer.

Apparently, there have been no new developments of importance of late in the negotiations with a view to instituting exports of hemlock logs from Prince Rupert, to assist in which business concessions have been made both by provincial and federal governments. However, interest is still being shown in the possibility of further expanding the export of aspen logs to the Orient for use in the manufacture of matchwood. M. M. Connelly, Fraser Lake sawmill operator, who is pioneering this business, expects to make his third shipment of aspen logs from here about February. It is understood to be possible that the Ocean Shipping Co.'s freighter City of Vancouver, which took the last shipment of this timber across the Pacific Ocean, may also handle the next one which will be somewhat larger.

Prince Rupert's first grain ship in many a moon is due here on New Year's Eve—the British freighter Bradburn expected on Monday to load a full cargo of wheat for United Kingdom or Continent. The hope is held that it may be the harbinger of many to follow. There is reason to feel that we may not be unjustified in expressing that hope. Capt. C. W. Wearmouth, the pilot, will be here tomorrow evening from Vancouver to meet the Bradburn at Triple Island and bring her into the harbor. As the vessel is already lined, it is expected there will be a minimum of delay before she takes up her berth at the elevator to commence loading.

blowing and a heavy sea running which resulted in the vessel becoming pretty well leed up. While moored at Port Simpson, a couple of lines snapped.

The well known fish packer Taplow II, belonging to Flewin & Brown, had her rudder broken off, planking damaged and other injuries were sustained as a result of the vessel breaking away from her moorings at Port Simpson and running on a reef in the harbor there during a heavy northerly gale during the past week, according to word received in Prince Rupert. It took about six hours to salvage the vessel which was then beached for repairs.
