Granby Shareholders Being Asked To Give Authority To Close

Ore Reserves Are Gradually Becoming Depleted and Prospects Are That There is Only Enough Left For Two Years—Borrow Money or Sell Copper?

NEW YORK, Nov. 10: (CP)—Shareholders of the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co. were notified today to attend an extraordinary meeting on December 12 to vote on a plan which would empower the directors to shut down at any time the Anyox properties, the only mines which the company is now operating. Stockholders will also be asked to vote on whether the directors will borrow further money to finance continuation of operations or whether they shall sell stocks of copper on hand.

SURF INLET KEEPS BUSY

Work Will Continue Throughout Winter on Famous Old Property

E. H. Kinder, superintendent of the Princess Royal Gold Mines Ltd., operating the former well known Surf Inlet mine, sailed by the Cardena last night on his return to Surf Inlet after spending the past week in town.

Mr. Kinder while here received a wire announcing that water had finally been completely pumped out of the old workings. There is already some 500 tons of ore broken in stopes and bunkers ready to be run through the mill which is being reconditioned and which it is expected will be ready for operation in about two and a half months. A great deal more is also blocked out. Operations will continue throughout the winter. Thirty-eight men are employed.

EDUCATION PROBLEMS

Interesting Discussion at Meeting Of Prince Rupert Teachers' Association

At the last meeting of the Prince Rupert Teachers' Association, presided over by W. W. C. O'Neill, the subject was "Some Problems in Education" with J. S. Wilson leading the discussion.

The question of the distribution of the burden of school finance was considered and some of the solutions to which reference was made were that the province, which is fundamentally responsible for the education of the children, should assume a large portion of the costs of a uniform minimum program of education, with the local authorities providing for the local incidents and for such better educational facilities than the minimum that a progressive community might desire. Experience has also shown the wisdom of larger administrative units of education under a director of education but subject to some measure of local control. This would provide more uniform measures of education in the more sparsely populated areas. New sources of income might be necessary and a regularly graduated income tax offered the best solution with the "unearned increment" a special source.

A minimum of absolutely necessary text books with uniformity among the provinces where possible and the purchase of supplies under a co-operative buying scheme would effect economies.

There must be efficient teaching staffs and adequate supervision to obtain the most economical results. In concluding, Mr. Wilson stressed the desirability of the teachers keeping a broad outlook, not confined to the immediate covering of the course of studies or demands of an examination standard. Rather the teacher must correlate the pupil, the subjects and their content, with the world in which the children must live their lives. Education was no longer the "justification for living of the leisured class." It must teach the children to live and to know how to live. It was a sad comment on the present system that the study of home economics was found to be uneconomical and the carrying on of a manual training class depended on the result of a raffle.

If the teacher, with an abiding faith in the children, could keep in proper perspective, the child, the subject and the demands of the world, both economical and social, then he was on the way to the solving of the chief problem of education.

European Atmosphere So Inflammable One Can Hear It Crackle

British Statesmen Not Very Optimistic About Peace Of Europe on Eve of Armistice Day—Churchill Sounds Call to Arms

LONDON, Nov. 10: (CP)—Great Britain's attempt to promote peace by disarmament has proven fruitless, Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald declared on the eve of Armistice Day. The Marseilles assassinations, he said, had "lit a flame at the side of material so inflammable that one could almost hear it crackle in the heat it produced."

Churchill's Warning

KINGSFORD, Essex, Nov. 10:—Speaking in Kingsford, Essex, yesterday, Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill declared that a new war, in which there would be aerial conflict on a scale almost beyond present imagination, was threatening to engulf Europe including Great Britain.

Great Britain, said Mr. Churchill, was even less prepared today for armed conflict than it was before the Great War. With all other nations of Europe making elaborate preparations for war, it was essential that Britain, also, should take some action.

Dr. F. T. Richardson, who has been practising dentistry on the Queen Charlotte Islands during the past summer, arrived in the city from Massett on the Prince John Thursday and caught the steamer Prince George for Vancouver.

British Columbia, If It Had Money and Customs Control, Would Be Well Off—Pattullo

VICTORIA, Nov. 10:—"If British Columbia had similar jurisdiction in monetary and customs control, it would be in a much better financial condition comparatively than the Dominion of Canada is today." Such was a striking statement made last evening by Premier T. D. Pattullo in speaking on a radio broadcast from his office in the Parliament buildings. It was the first time that a Premier of British Columbia had spoken to the people over the air from his office.

"This province has always pulled more than its own weight in the scheme of Confederation," declared Premier Pattullo in continuing his discussion of provincial-federal relations. The Premier reiterated his regret that the Dominion-provincial conference had been postponed and declared that there must be provision for an amendment to the British North America Act with consent of a majority percentage of the provinces with the provision, however, for protection of minority rights. "Change there must be," said the Premier, "because this province does not propose to continue under the bondage to which it has been subjected ever since Confederation. We have taken the backwash long enough and only the power of our superb resources has enabled us to make such headway as has taken place."

"In the light of existing need and present uncertainties of the governmental situation at Ottawa, I believe that a general election should be held at the earliest possible date," Mr. Pattullo asserted.

In regard to the province's financial situation, Mr. Pattullo said: "Our position is every day improving and it is the intention to balance our budget with the exception of unemployment relief monies and sinking funds."

Fulfilling Promises
Premier Pattullo, in the course of his address, dealt with a number of public questions of current interest. In spite of statements to the contrary which might be made by some, he contended that the government was carrying out its pre-election promises. He thought that the sensible people of the province, and there were still many sensible people in British Columbia, would admit this and were appreciative of the efforts being made by the government.

Among other matters, Mr. Pattullo spoke of the work of the economic advisory council to which he paid tribute. He pointed out that the council, which had now held five meetings, had no administrative authority but was purely an advisory body whose members, apart from the chairman, received no remuneration. It had already rendered splendid public service along the lines of devising means of increasing employment, utilizing the natural resources of the province and the finding and maintaining of markets for products of British Columbia both at home and abroad.

The Premier also defended the action of the government in connection with the new Fraser River bridge. The agreement with the Fraser River Bridge Co. he announced, would be placed before the Legislature for its ratification at the coming session and there would be full opportunity at that time for discussion and publicity. Meantime, he promised that the tolls as planned by the government would be reasonable and there would probably be certain exemptions. He pointed out that the gov-

REMEMBRANCE DAY

Once more we remember with all humility the closing of the Great War in which so many Canadians lost their lives prematurely. The victory was an empty one because today the country that threatened to overrun the world is still a world danger and the democracy for which men fought has disappeared in some parts of the world and in others seems less secure than it was sixteen years ago when the war ended. The war did not make the world safe for democracy although it is difficult to picture what the world might have been like if the German war lords had won.

War, as a means of settling international disputes, seems to be as futile as Norman Angell said it would be. Both sides were the losers.

Remembrance Day gives all an opportunity to ponder on world affairs and the plight in which we find ourselves through inability to live normal lives as nations and as individuals. The hate generated by the conflict has disappeared but national impotency remains. It will take many years, possibly many centuries, for the nations to learn that it pays to be friendly and that settlement by force is never a lasting settlement.

HAS COME TO LIFE

The British House of Lords has come to life. It has held the first all-night session in years and has attracted the attention of the world to its proceedings.

It is in order now for the Canadian Senate to rouse itself from its lethargy and rid itself of the stigma of being looked upon as an old man's home. But can it?

FINE DANCE AT PREMIER

Annual Affair Was, as Usual, One Of Outstanding Events Of Season

PREMIER, Nov. 10.—The annual sports dance of the Premier Community Club, held shortly before the big fire in the Premier Community Hall, was, as usual, one of the outstanding affairs of the local social season. It attracted a crowd of some two hundred persons and was a highly delightful event indeed. Dancing was in full swing from 9 p.m. until 3 a.m. in the hall which was specially decorated for the occasion, sports emblems being featured.

During the supper hour at midnight, presentation was made of the season's sport awards as follows:

- Rock Drilling Contest Cup—E. Paavola and H. Carlsen.
- Mucking Contest Cup—I. Soderlov.
- Ski Jumping Cup—E. Stenest.
- Cross Country Ski Race—J. Salo.
- Badminton—Mixed Doubles Cup, J. B. Watson and Mrs. S. M. Manning; men's singles cup, J. B. Watson; ladies' singles, Mrs. S. M. Manning.

Basketball—Maple Leafs, O. Clunk, captain, R. Robinson, R. Stewart, S. Simpson, D. Urquhart, E. Lee, A. Teed and G. Dixon.

The presentations were made by Mrs. B. F. Smith, wife of the manager, with James Mitchell, president of the Community League, acting as chairman. Other speakers were B. F. Smith and W. J. Asselstine M.L.A.

Splendid Refreshments
The splendid supper was, undoubtedly, a piece-de-resistance. The refreshments were served in most tasteful manner. Distribution of fancy hats lent to the general jollity. The menu included grapefruit cocktail, hearts of celery and olives, chicken a la King with mushrooms, green peas and mashed potatoes, French rolls, strawberry ice cream, lady fingers, cakes and coffee.

Patrons for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Smith. The sports committees are as follows under the general chairmanship of G. A. Dixon:

- Badminton—J. G. Pearcey and H. Graham.
- Basketball—A. Murray, W. Sellers and L. Falconer.

Patriotic Canada

Trumpets and bugles were blown. "England has entered the war in the biggest battle ever known." Came the message fast from far.

Canada heard the mighty call Ere the trumpets' echoes died, Tho' Canada's population so small—Canada unhesitatingly replied.

Canada did not stop to wonder If she should enter the fight, But like a God sent thunder, She came with her arm of might.

The mightiest men of her land Traversed the foe-infested sea To answer their hearts' command, True, loyal Canadians to be.

The enemies were truly strong, The battle bitter and fatal, But whether right or wrong, Canada stops not even at death's portal.

Many of her men bravely died, With a victorious smile on each face;

For it was not to be denied, It was to victory they did pace. Ah! Then the day finally came

When we were once again victorious, While we again upheld our name; Patriotic, loyal—names so glorious.

May our men who so bravely fought, Its glorious name ever keep, And those who now liveth not, Ever peacefully in victory sleep.

—By IVAN ADAMS, Massett.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nash of Terrace arrived at Queen Charlotte City on the last trip of the Prince John and have been guests at the Premier Hotel. Mr. Nash, after carrying on considerable survey work, left this week on his return to Terrace, accompanied by Mrs. Nash.

Capt. Claude Ketchum of Prince Rupert, one of the real pioneers of the Queen Charlotte Islands, has been spending a few days at Skidegate as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stevens. Capt. Ketchum used to carry the mail from Prince Rupert to the Queen Charlotte Islands during the War on his boat, the Cumshewa.

The collecting of Sitka Spruce cones has become quite an industry on the Queen Charlotte Islands. Thousands of sacks are being collected for the government extraction plant at New Westminster whence the seeds are shipped to Great Britain, United States and Eastern Canada. M. J. Williams and H. Moody of Skidegate Mission have secured large contracts from American seed firms for collection of spruce cones, which will mean several hundred dollars business. Many inquiries have also been received from the United States.

William Burke and George Beaudin of Skidegate are reported to have struck some very good placer on their claims at Eagle Creek on the east coast of Graham Island.

First snow has appeared during the last few days on the mountains of the Queen Charlotte Islands. Old timers say that it will be a mild winter.

Deer are reported to be very plentiful now on the Queen Charlotte Islands, there having been a tremendous increase of these animals which are of exceptionally large size. There is also a marked increase in the numbers of Canada geese and mallard ducks although brant and California geese are fewer.

VANDERHOOF

The Vanderhoof and District Board of Trade has been advised that it is the intention of the provincial department of public works to keep the main roads ploughed of snow in Omineca district during the coming winter.

William Ferrier, fisheries inspector for this district, has advised the Vanderhoof and District Board of Trade that Clucuz Lake may be used for net fishing in capturing fish other than trout as food for bearing animals kept in captivity, providing that any trout which may be caught inadvertently be returned to the water alive and uninjured.

A. A. Hutchinson of Vanderhoof, district deputy grand master of the Masonic Lodge, made a trip to Quenel to officiate at the opening of a new Masonic Temple there recently. Mr. Hutchinson, who was accompanied by J. W. H. Day and R. H. Moore, also paid official visits to the lodges at Williams Lake, Barkerville and Prince George.

Both Canadian and American Halibut Landings Heavier This Year—Individual Production Records For Season

The grand total of halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert for the 1934 season was 14,365,265 pounds as compared with 13,389,200 pounds in 1933, 14,650,350 pounds in 1932, 16,036,940 pounds in 1931, 24,638,000 pounds in 1930, 27,807,250 pounds in 1929, 27,036,000 pounds in 1928 and 25,135,950 pounds in 1927. American landings this year totalled 8,470,000 pounds as against 8,180,000 pounds in 1933, 10,508,100 pounds in 1932, 10,339,140 pounds in 1931, 18,192,500 pounds in 1930, 20,354,500 pounds in 1929 and 19,554,700 pounds in 1928. The grand total of Canadian landings this year was 5,895,265 pounds in comparison with 5,209,000 pounds in 1933, 4,142,250 pounds in 1932, 5,697,800 pounds in 1931, 6,445,500 pounds in 1930, 7,452,750 pounds in 1929 and 7,481,800 pounds in 1928.

From the financial standpoint, the 1934 season, as already pointed out on several occasions, has been marked with a great improvement over 1933. Prices, while not exceptionally high, were remarkably steady throughout the season, permitting of generally profitable operation. There have been fewer "hole" trips in 1934 than in several years.

Casualties were at a minimum during the season although a few boats, as usual, came to grief. There were a few casualties among the personnel of the Pacific Coast fleet, none of which, happily, were in the Canadian fleet.

Weather conditions on the banks, taken as a whole, were much better than usual.

The Takla, Capt. Chris Parkvold, was the heaviest lander of fish per unit for the Canadian fleet at Prince Rupert this year, having brought in a total of 225,000 pounds in seven trips. The Margaret I, Capt. George Fritz, was a close second with 221,000 pounds in thirteen trips while the Prosperity A, Capt. A. C. Christiansen, was third with 192,500 pounds in ten trips.

In addition to being the heaviest aggregate lander of fish, the Takla also had the highest average per trip—32,143 pounds. The Cape Beale, Capt. Edgar Arnott, which had the highest average in 1933, was second this year with 30,667 pounds per trip. Third was the Lysekil, Capt. Al Woe, with an average of 29,750 pounds.

The Margaret I made the greatest number of trips—13 with an aggregate catch of 221,000 pounds. The following boats made 12 trips: Atll, 156,500 pounds; Kalen, 141,500 pounds; P. Dorreen, 129,500 pounds; Relief, 187,500 pounds; Teeny Milly, 142,800 pounds.

The American fleet the Tahoma was the heaviest gross lander of fish at Prince Rupert for the 1934 season, having brought in 227,500 pounds in fifteen trips. The Majestic was second with 203,000 pounds in seven trips and the Explorer third with 192,000 pounds in seven trips.

The largest catches of the season to be landed at Prince Rupert were 41,000 pounds brought in by the Pioneer and Doric. The Kanaga also brought in a 41,000 pound catch and a 40,000 pound catch. Other boats bringing in 40,000 pound catches were the Eclipse, Paragon and Fortlock.

The Tahoma landed the greatest number of catches at Prince Rupert for the American fleet during the season—fifteen for a total poundage of 227,500 pounds. The Visitor landed twelve trips for a total of 78,800 pounds while ten trips were landed by the "Trisco," 96,000 pounds; Hazel H., 155,300 pounds, and Wave, 86,000 pounds.

Number of trips, aggregate catch and trip average for each vessel of the Canadian fleet during the season were as follows:

Final Week of Season

During the past week a total of 233,500 pounds of halibut was landed at Prince Rupert of which 39,500 pounds was from Canadian boats and 194,000 pounds from American. Canadian prices were from 6c and 5c to 7c and 5c and American prices from 7c and 5c to 7c and 6c.

Poundage figures given throughout the above tabulations are taken from daily hauling weights and not the weighed-out catches.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. Ernest Georgeson, arrived in port at 11:15 last night from the south and sailed at midnight on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

The small Alaskan motorship freighter Eskimo arrived in the harbor about 3:30 yesterday afternoon and is riding at anchor off the ocean dock. On a voyage from Seattle to Ketchikan, the vessel put in on account of the storm outside and will stay here until there is a moderation of the elements before essaying the crossing of Chatham Sound.

The storm is also holding up the steamer Prince John, Capt. Edward Mabbs, which was to have sailed at midnight last night for Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands. The vessel sailed at 4 a.m. but did not get very far outside and returned to her dock here at 10:30 this morning to wait out the tempest before starting out on the crossing of Hecate Straits. She will probably leave at 10 o'clock tonight.

According to a Seattle radio news broadcast last night, the well known American halibut boat Schorn has been lost in Clarence Straits, south-eastern Alaska. The vessel's crew was reported to have been picked up by the coastguard cutter Alert.

Having in tow the Southend, which is to have a new engine installation in Vancouver, the halibut boat Takla left this morning for the south. The Takla, as usual, will spend the winter in Vancouver.
