Tea Company Does Fifty Percent More Business in West

TORONTO, Jan. 19.—An indication that conditions are improving and that business is on the upturn is shown by the fact that the Salada Tea Co. sold over 54% more tea in Western Canada in 1933 than in 1932.

This is especially significant since Salada is a quality tea.

TELLS VALUE GOOD SPEECH

"The Spoken Word" is Subject of Very Interesting Address by Mrs. Mandy to Rotarians

In a delightfully humorous and incisive address to the members of the Rotary Club yesterday afternoon at the Commodore Cafe, Mrs. J. T. Mandy spoke for nearly half an hour on "The Spoken Word," recounting a number of incidents to illustrate her meaning and thrusting home her points without fear or favor. It was one of the best addresses heard by the club in many a day.

Mrs. Mandy mentioned that all people talked a good deal of the time and some talked all the time. Without speech it was difficult to convey to others one's needs. In business, speech counted a great deal and in social life the brilliant conversationalist was given an important place. If a person were shallow, lacking in mentality, it was impossible to give expression to beautiful thoughts. The "chattering" woman and the "wise-cracking" man came in for scornful mention. While thoughts revealed the inner man, speech gave expression to those thoughts. Speech was an outward sign of an inward condition.

The speaker told of the value of voice culture. She mentioned that the voice of a person revealed his or her character. She took George Arless as an example of a man who, though homely in appearance, was distinguished when he spoke. His whole body radiated his speech. The value of a charming personality was illustrated by a story of a student who entertained a senator so delightfully that it later secured him a position in the senator's firm where he soon became a partner.

Mrs. Mandy then suggested that what she had said could be applied to members of the Rotary Club and people of Prince Rupert in four ways. By studying their own particular problems they could eradicate bad habits. They could guide the children toward better speech and habits. They could encourage speech training in the schools and could encourage popular speaking and amateur dramatics which helped to develop better speech habits.

Illustrating the last point, Mrs. Mandy told of a men's club in Kansas, a member of which said that, as a result of his experience, he believed better speech made a man a better husband, better father, better businessman and better citizen.

Closing, the speaker quoted: "Speech is the cement of the social and political fabrics. Speech is the bridge which connects individuals with each other. Good speech insures us full access to the rich benefits of the social order while poor speech condemns us to the poverty of an isolated existence."

Her final quotation was from Cyrus "As the man, so is his speech."

RAILMEN GO AHEAD

Takes Leadership in Senior Basketball League As Result of Victory Over Grotto Last Night

Intermediates Good

High School Defeated Warriors But Required Two Overtime Periods In Order To Earn Verdict

C.N.R.A. defeated the Grotto 51 to 32 last night to go ahead in the Senior Division of the Basketball League. The score does not truly indicate the play as the Tobaccoists had a lot of tough luck in their shooting, only being two points behind at the interval. After the resumption of play the Grotto lads fell down on their shooting.

Gilly Santerbane turned in a nice game along with J. Morrison for the Railroaders while Ratchford and R. Morrison did all the Grotto's scoring.

The Intermediate encounter will go down on the sheet as being a match of matches with the High School defeating the Warriors 41 to 41 after two five minute overtime periods. It was basketball "that is" from the start to the finish, with Nakie Nakamoto leading his crew to the tape at the interval 25-16 and at the end 47-41. Although the Warriors outscored them in the second half by three points, Nakamoto gave one of the finest displays of basketball to be seen on the local floor for many a season. Fitzpatrick, Comandina and Pierce were the mainstays for the Warriors although, if Pierce had not had such tough luck on his shooting in the second half, it might have been a different story.

Cardinals repeated their Monday's performance last night by taking the Comets for a ride 24-6 in the Ladies' League.

Flashes lost to the Scouts on a penalty 12-11 although the Lightning crew was leading 6-5 at the recess period. It was a hard checking Junior League game.

An important ANNOUNCEMENT to car owners regarding PASSENGER TIRE GUARANTEES

BEFORE 1933
Previous to January 1st, 1933, tires made by the companies whose names appear below were guaranteed against faults in material and workmanship only.

DURING 1933
One year ago, on January 1st, 1933, announcement was made that all straight side passenger car tires for use in private service would be sold after that date under a written guarantee against all road hazards, except punctures and running flat, for a period of twelve months or nine months, depending on the grade of tire, and that a certificate of such guarantee for each tire would be issued to the purchaser.

Tires purchased previous to the introduction of the written guarantee carried the former guarantee until the end of 1933. This period now having expired, no further claims can be considered on any passenger tires used in private service unless they were purchased since January 1st, 1933, and are accompanied by the guarantee certificate.

AND NOW
If you purchased, during 1933, tires made by any of these companies, and did not receive a written guarantee, you should at once see the dealer from whom such tires were purchased, and get a guarantee certificate, giving date of purchase of each such tire.

IN FUTURE
Purchasers of straight side tires for private passenger car service hereafter should be sure to obtain from the dealer a written guarantee with each such tire purchased. Purchasers of cars should get a similar guarantee for each new tire on the car at time of purchase.

After this date dealers, branch offices and service departments of all companies can entertain no claims for adjustment of such tires unless ACCOMPANIED BY THE WRITTEN GUARANTEE FORM.

DREDGING FOR GOLD

New Undertaking at Shuttle Island
On East Coast of Moresby Island Getting Under Way

Peter Haan and A. Edwards have left Queen Charlotte City for Shuttle Island on the east coast of Moresby Island where they will dredge the beach gravel for placer
gold, according to word received in the city from the Queen Charlotte Islands. Later they will be joined by James Gillett who is resigning as Indian Agent for the Queen Charlotte Islands and will become actively identified with the venture.

Some very coarse gold has been found on the Shuttle island, beach including some nuggets as large as two and half ounces. This gold comes from a vein of quartz which runs across the island. Where it has been exposed to salt water,
much of the quartz has become decomposed, leaving the pure, coarse gold. Good-sized nuggets have also been found in the quartz veins.

BIG CROWD OF LOGGERS

The steamer Prince John, on her present voyage north, brought forty men from Vancouver who will be employed at the T. A. Kelley Logging Co.'s camp at Atli Inlet which is being reopened on greatly increased log orders after a brief winter shutdown.

The J. R. Morgan Logging Co.'s
camp at Crescent Inlet is in operation again and is expected to be putting more men on shortly. Many of the men remained in camp
there without going south during a recent brief partial shutdown.

The A. P. Allison Logging Co., which has been operating for some time at Queen Charlotte City, is expected to resume operations on a large scale on the Islands very shortly but will open up in a new location at Cumshewa, towing the camp equipment there from Queen Charlotte.

Makes Inspection Of Prince William

Vancouver Man Looks Over Steamer At Local Dry Dock With View To Making Offer

V. O. Erickson sailed by the Prince Rupert last night on his return to Vancouver after a brief visit here, his business having been to make an inspection of the steamer Prince William, which has been tied up at the local dry dock for the last few years and which Canadian National Steamships are offering for sale. Up to the time of leaving the city, Mr. Erickson was uncertain as to whether a tender would be made for the purchase of the ship.

It is understood that no tenders had been submitted for the vessel at the time bids closed recently.

New Manager of Hudson Bay Co.

C. Stevens Due Tonight From Vancouver to Succeed R. Wardrop Here

C. Stevens of Vancouver is expected to arrive tonight on the Venture to take charge of the local branch of the Hudson's Bay Company. R. Wardrop, who has been in charge for a number of months, has been promoted to the position of travelling buyer for the territory of Alaska and is leaving next week for Anchorage where for the present he will make headquarters.

Viewed in their relation to plant life, the most important climatic factors are temperature, precipitation, and evaporation. Of less importance are wind, sunshine, and humidity.

BEERY AND DRESSLER

Much - Discussed Seattle - Filmed Picture "Tugboat Annie" Here This Week-End

With Marie Dressler as Annie, redoubtable feminine skipper of a Puget Sound tugboat, and Wallace Beery as her shiftless and drunken but irresistible husband, "Tugboat Annie," much-heralded filmization of Norman Reilly Baine's well known story, comes to the Capitol Theatre here as the week-end feature offering. It marks the first co-starring appearance of Miss Dressler and Beery since the memorable "Min and Bill."

The picture tells a vivid story of northwestern waterfronts with the two central figures cast in inimitable roles which only they could faithfully portray. Laughs, tears, thrills and tense drama all have their share in the narrative. Throughout various entertaining episodes the couple are seen in hilarious quarrels and difficulties. Then their son, whose part is played by the popular Robert Young, grows up to become the captain of a liner. To save him from a wreck the "useless" father comes through with an heroic sacrifice. Maureen O'Sullivan has the other juvenile romantic lead.

Much of the picture was actually filmed in Seattle harbor where many Prince Rupert people are no strangers.

The prevalence of grasses and sedges in the Arctic regions of Canada is doubtless due to the better facilities for wind pollination by the agency of insects.

People of Queen Charlotte Islands Now Enabled to Keep in Touch With Steamer Prince John

The new arrangement whereby the steamer Prince John, on the

TYPEWRITERS

Rose, Cowan & Latta Phone 234

Queen Charlotte Island run between Vancouver and Prince Rupert, keeps people of the Islands posted by radiophone as to her whereabouts and expected times of arrival at her various ports of call is proving a great boon to the Islanders, particularly those at the more isolated points who heretofore have had no means of communication from the vessel.

Some of the settlers have to travel as far as thirty miles to meet the steamer. Often in the past this has meant hours and sometimes days of waiting. Now, however, as a result of the radiophone messages from the ship, these settlers know exactly when to leave their homes in order to meet the vessel. The messages are picked up on the ordinary receiving sets and have been received from as far away as Vancouver.
