IS GREAT DISTRICT

Francois-Ootsa Lake Area Important Enough to Stand by Itself

Taking exception to inferences that may have been made that the Francois-Ootsa Lake district is included either in the Bulkley Valley or the Lakes District, Mrs. J. W. Henkel of Francois Lake writes to the Daily News pointing out that the Francois-Ootsa Lake district covers an area of approximately three thousand miles, almost 2000 of which is agricultural land, and that, as such, the plateau, ranging from 2400 to 300 feet altitude, is important enough to be mentioned as an area by its own name.

The Francois-Ootsa Lake district, Mrs. Henkel points out, commences a few miles south of Burns Lake station. The area is very fertile and productive, being somewhat similar, according to agriculturalists, to the British Columbia Peace River valley, the advantage, however, of having many lakes and a good water supply.

Mrs. Henkel also mentions the fact that at the present time there are about five carloads of timothy seed at the Francois Lake seed-cleaning plant awaiting to be cleaned. The Rennie seed firm bought this seed for 14c per pound in September before the seed was out of the fields. Other seed is also being taken care of by this seed cleaning plant under the Francois-Ootsa Lakes Seed Growing Association.

Tourist attractions also put the Francois-Ootsa Lake district in a class by itself.

This district should not be confused, Mrs. Henkel says, with the Lakes District south of Vanderhoof.

Dr. H. C. Wrinch of Hazelton, who has been on a trip to Vancouver to attend a meeting of the economic advisory board of which he is a member, arrived in the city from the south on the Prince George today and will proceed to the interior on this evening's train.

Banker Urges Proven Methods In Business Revival Efforts

BANK OF MONTREAL ANNUAL MEETING

Sir Charles Gordon, President, Sees Consistent Recovery in Canadian Business—Reviews National Problems—Government Railway Losses Greatest Leak in Canada's Finances.

W. A. Bog, Joint General Manager, Discusses Bank's Loaning Policy—Credit is, and Always Has Been, Available For Sound Commercial Purposes—First Duty is to Depositor.

Declaring that Canada had moved forward consistently on the road to recovery, Sir Charles Gordon, in his presidential address before shareholders of the Bank of Montreal at their recent annual meeting urged adherence to tried and proven methods in efforts undertaken towards business revival in Canada.

"It is instructive," he said, "to seek reasons why Canada's progress has been more steady and pronounced than that of many other countries. Among the reasons I think we must count the fact that we have not been so ready as have some others to seek a panacea in the control of industry, or in economic experiments of one kind and another."

In Great Britain, whose returning prosperity he termed an inspiring object lesson, the people had made a united effort to promote business. In this single-minded objective, he said, extraneous reforms and experiments had been side-tracked, and there had been no attack on private initiative.

"It is a reasonable deduction," the president continued, "that the wisest course for us to follow is to give single-minded devotion to reviving business by the methods which experience has shown to be fundamentally sound and not to interfere with the improvement now under way by applying new and untried theories and enacting hampering legislation. There is comforting statistical evidence that the clouds are lifting, and comforting evidence, too, that our resources are so large and so varied that when one door of opportunity closes another always opens."

Bank's Loaning Policy

Speaking of the course of the Bank's business during the year, Sir Charles frankly admitted that a larger proportion of the institution's assets than the directors might like to see had perforce to be invested in high-grade securities, for the simple reason that customers were in a large measure able to finance the present volume of business from their own resources.

W. A. Bog, who is joint general manager of the Bank with Jackson Dodds, said, in discussing this subject: "We never lose sight of the fact that lending money for commercial purposes is the back-bone of our earning power; we are ready, and always have been, to consider applications for loans which fall within the category of prudent banking risks. We have emphasized this feature in advertisements in recent months in order to controvert a widespread misconception that there is a lack of banking credit. These advertisements did not announce a new policy, or even the revival of a policy; they simply restated a policy from which the Bank has at no time departed, namely, that of affording every reasonable accommodation to commercial borrowers. We might add in this connection that the total of credits authorized for our borrowing customers is very largely in excess of the amount which they have found that they can use to advantage."

Banking and Depositors' Responsibilities

Referring to the responsibilities of the Bank to its depositors and the duty of the latter to use their influence to prevent any undermining of the banking structure of the country, Sir Charles Gordon said: "The total of assets under administration by our chartered banks is nearly three billions of dollars. In the banks of Canada there are some 4,700,000 depositors, our own bank having over a million. Depositors received during the last year some $37,000,000 in interest. The interest which shareholders in the banks received was $12,000,000. I think we may therefore consider that this vast body of depositors, who outnumber the people who voted at the last general election in Canada, are vitally interested in the strengthening of our banks and the maintenance of their earnings."

In amplification of these statements, Mr. Bog said that the average deposit was relatively small, and that depositors tend to invest when their deposit balances accumulate. Yet for a great part, money in the bank represents the sole bulwark against misfortune. "Borrowers as a class," he said, "are properly owners; as a rule, fairly well-to-do; not seldom wealthy. But the average depositor is relatively a poor man; our first duty is to protect him."

"It is well to bear in mind that had our banks operated under the unit system as in the United States there would have been many failures in distressed districts," the General Manager continued. "In contrast to what happened in that country, the depositors' funds in Canadian banks were always available—no one was kept waiting for his money. The ultimate loss to depositors in closed banks in the United States will be not less than $2,000,000,000. Such a loss if applied to Canada, on a basis of relative population, would amount to $160,000,000."

The Railway Problem

In discussing national problems, the President paid particular attention to the railway problem. The Government railway losses, Sir Charles declared, constituted the biggest lead in the country's finances and the greatest deterrent to her financial recovery.

"It is inconceivable," he said, "that there should be undue delay in adopting effective remedial measures. We have to remember that today railways face extraordinary competition. Electricity, by carrying power to the sources of raw materials, has dispensed with much hauling of these materials to power plants, while canals, coastwise shipping, aeroplanes, automobiles and trucks now all compete with the railways. Railways competing with each other can never succeed in adopting a common policy to meet these other forms of competition. The task before us is to co-ordinate all forms of transportation, not by the throttling of competitive systems, but by the elimination of useless competition by means of intelligent direction. A first step is the co-ordination of our railways. A second step is the regulation of all forms of transportation under a Federal Board of Transportation Commissioners vested with powers similar to those of the Board of Railway Commissioners, but on a wider and more comprehensive scale."

Unemployment

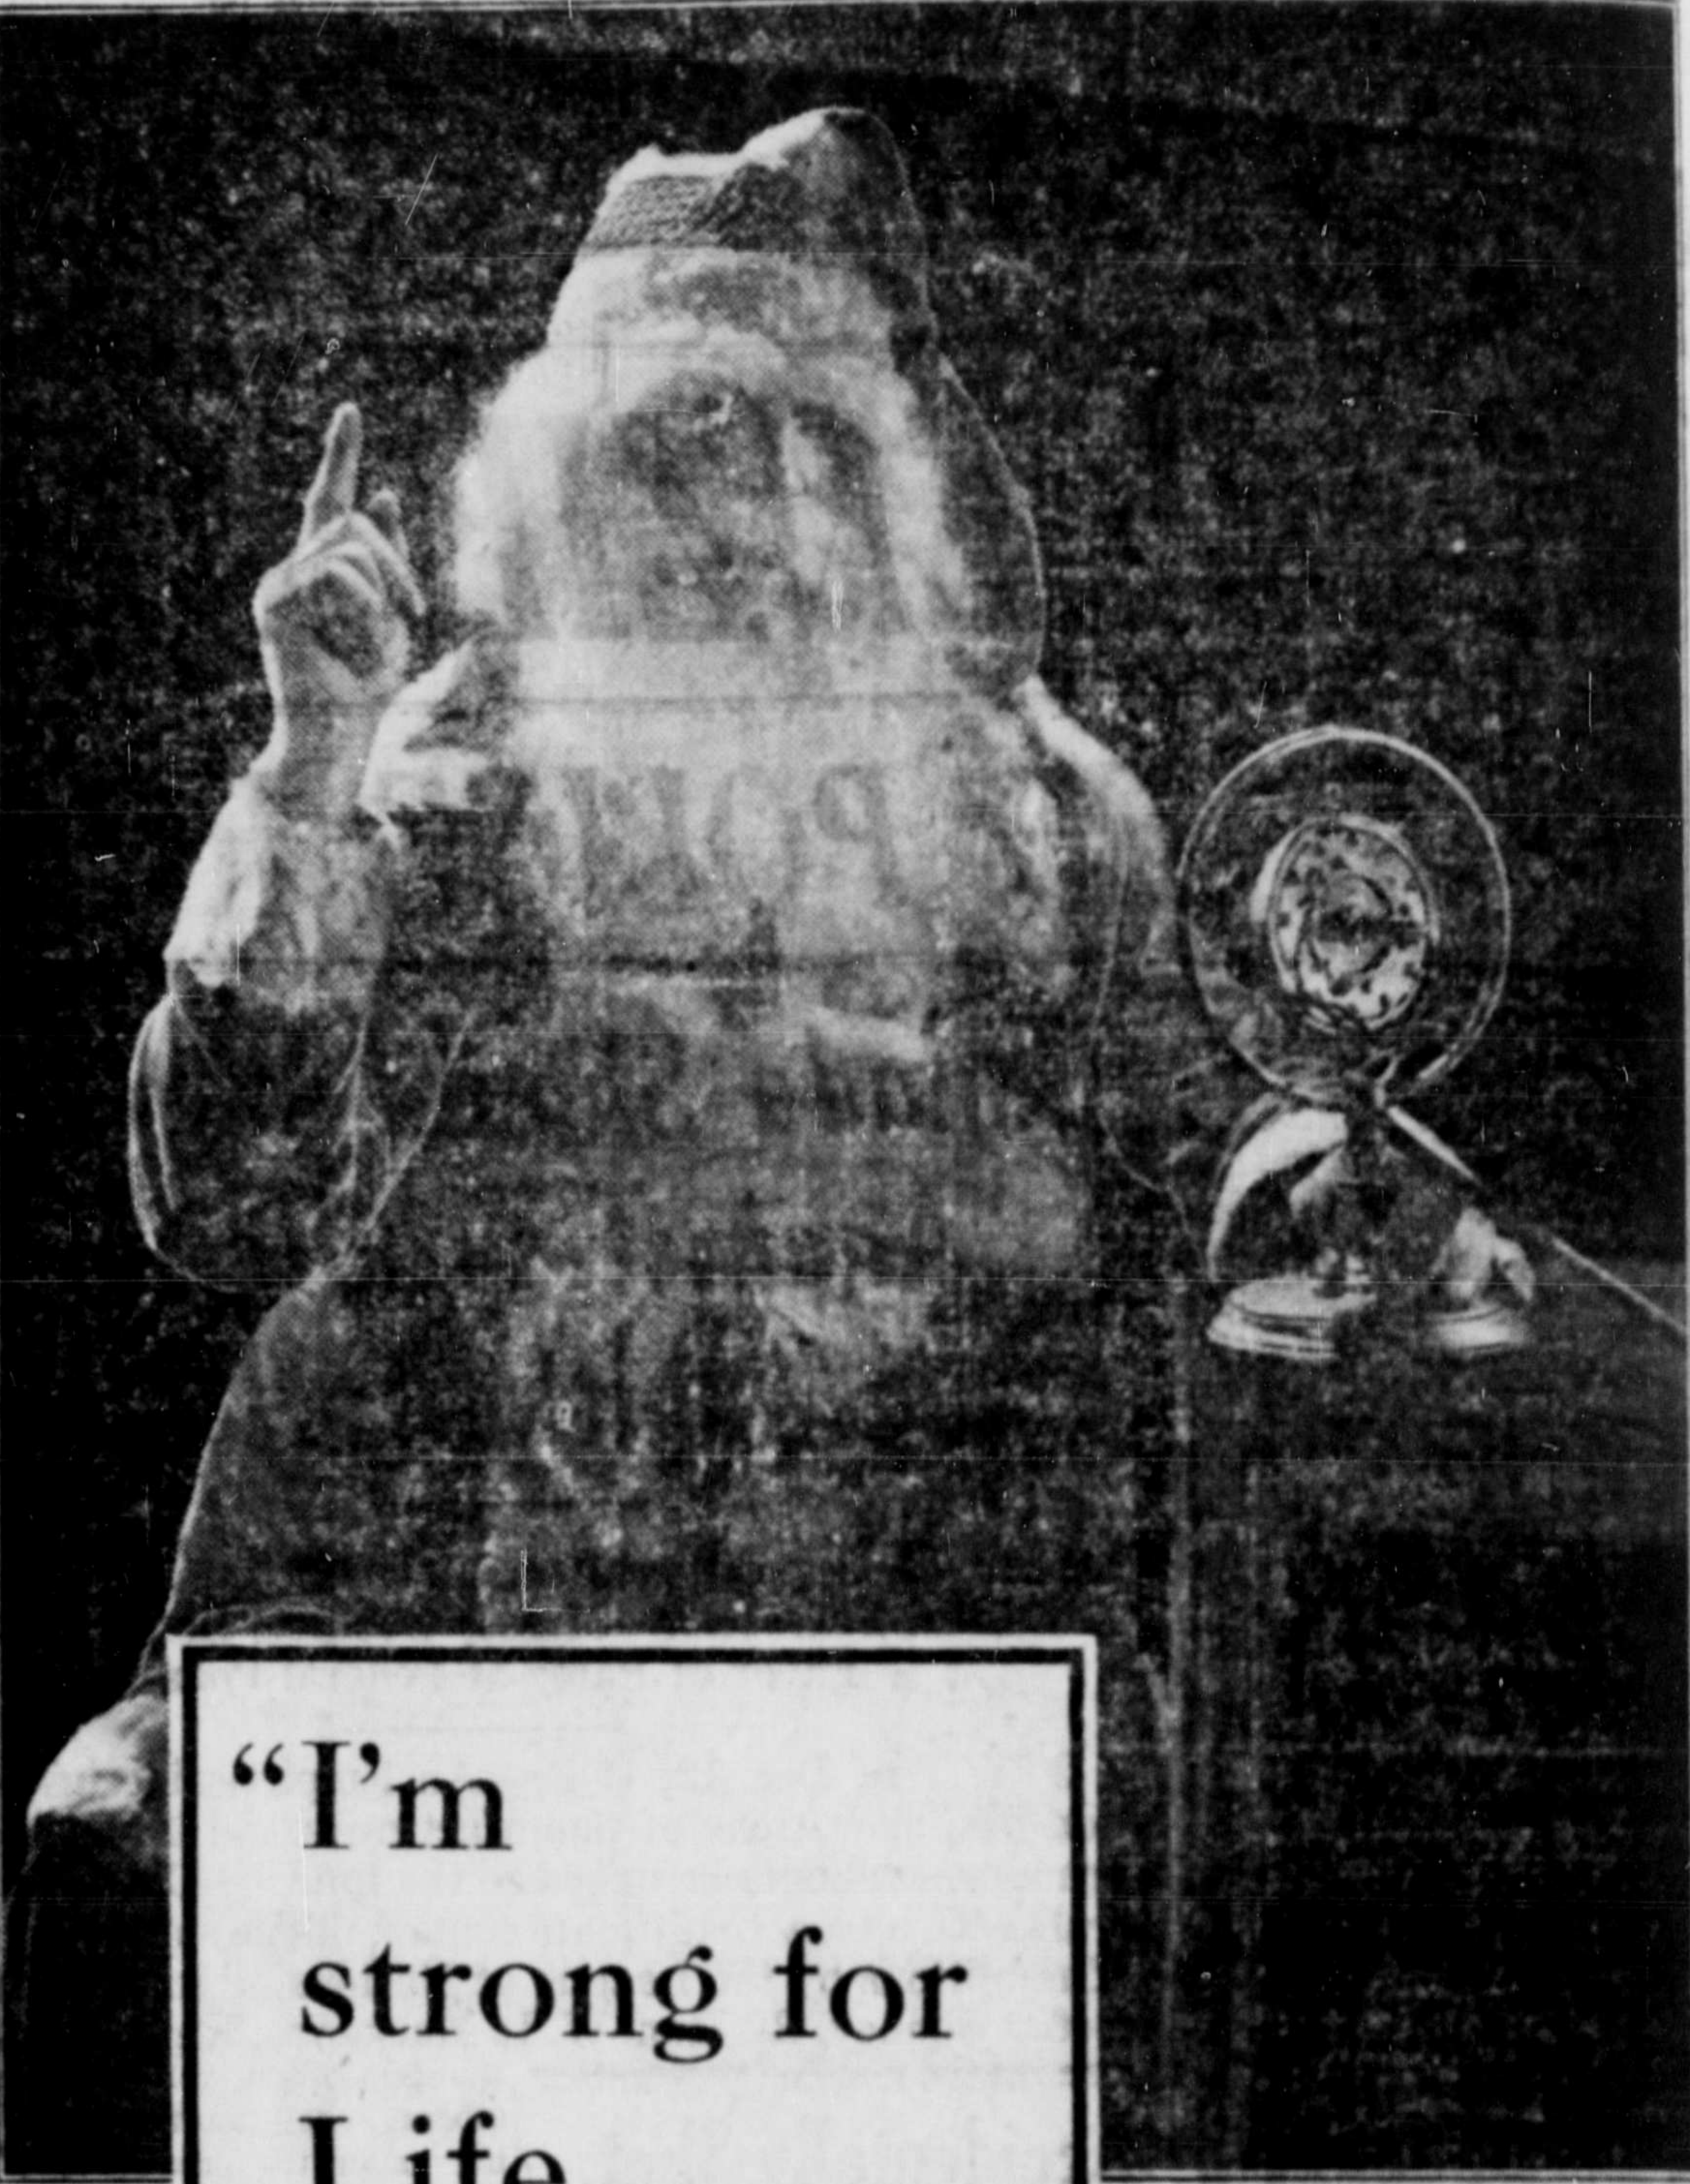

Turning to the unemployment question, Sir Charles declared that never before in the history of Canada or the United States had the problem of unemployment and direct relief loomed so large as it did today. "It has become," he said, "the greatest problem we have had to face since the war."

The problem in Great Britain, he felt, had been dealt with in a most thorough manner. "Some of us thought," he said, "when we first heard of old age pensions, unemployment insurance—misnamed the dole—and other measures, that Parliament was going too far in introducing social legislation of this nature. It has taken some 25 years and many acts of Parliament to construct in Great Britain the organization which is now carrying on so effectively. It is not a haphazard way of dealing with the situation, but a highly organized department of government whose function it is to distribute to those who should have it the relief to which they are entitled."

Legislation to deal with this whole subject will have to be undertaken by the Governments of Canada and the United States; otherwise, the problem will get out of hand and it will be impossible to control the proper expenditure of the vast sums which are being voted for the purpose of unemployment relief."

"I'm strong for Life Insurance"

"YES, sree, if it weren't for Life Insurance there wouldn't be much of a Christmas in a lot of homes I know," declared Santa Claus in a radio message from his North Pole headquarters.

"Think of the many children who have lost their Daddies," suggested Santa Claus. "Goodness knows, they deserve to have the happiest Christmas possible, but I find it is a mighty hard job to remember them all, year after year.

"Of course, there is always a happy Christmas wherever Dad wisely left some Life Insurance money. Then I am able to make sure that his family get turkey, plum pudding and a tree-full of gifts.

"That's why I'm strong for Life Insurance. It helps to make every Christmas happy for everyone."

Terrace Board Is In Session

Horby Plan of Land Settlement Discussed—Harry King Presides

TERRACE, Dec. 12.—The Board of Trade held its regular monthly meeting last week. Both the president and treasurer, George Beveridge and W. H. Burnett respectively, having left the district, it was necessary to call upon Harry King, as vice-president, to take charge of the meeting which he did to the satisfaction of everyone present. There was a fairly good muster and W. A. Kirkpatrick was elected treasurer pro tem.

Considerable interest is being shown in the circular, recently received, which describes the plan of land settlement that is sponsored by Major Horby. It was thought that something tangible should result in the way of encouraging people, both Canadians and others, who can make a living on the land and are willing to make the attempt.

Terrace is well suited to the settlement of a community of people who prefer small farms and

Amos Russ

From the dawn of our civilization, You heeded our Lord's pleading call, To help to Christianize our nation, Who knew about God not at all.

You organized a Christian band To preach to the ignorant heathen.

You travelled over sea and land To tell them about God and Heaven.

Your efforts were not in vain, Though your battle was long, The victory is yours to remain And yours—the victory song.

We mourn now while you sleep, 'Even tho' we know you're resting With others under God's keep, And we know for us you're waiting.

We know you're still calling us, To be God's followers true, We're following your steps, Brother Russ, So some day we'll meet you.

IVAN ADAMS (Masset).

PASSING OF AMOS RUSS

ing for a living and went on missionary tours between seasons, visiting Massett, where a revival was held, Gold Harbor on Maud Island and Clew of Moresby Island where they built new churches. Also they visited many other districts.

For ten years Mr. Russ worked without any remuneration, then the Methodist Church Board gave him $10 a month to act as interpreter and helper to the missionaries. Mrs. Russ for years acted as a foster mother to the white missionaries. She boarded them and looked after their needs.

In order to become a Christian missionary to his own people Mr. Russ gave up all his rights and authority as a chief. He did a great work in his native village. Among other things the present church is a monument to his memory. He was the inspiration and influence behind the builders.

In addition to the late Dr. Crosby, Amos Russ was also closely associated with Rev. C. M. Tate, Rev. A. E. Bolton, Rev. Dr. J. C. Spencer, Rev. George Edgar and Rev. Ebenezer Robson in their missionary work.

Deceased acted as interpreter for the famous geologist, Dr. Dawson. He was host to the late Earl Dufferin, Governor General, on his visit to Skidegate in the early days. He was also right hand man to the late Sir James Douglas during the troublesome days in Victoria when the Haidas threatened to raid that fort.

The late Mr. Russ and his clan were closely related to the Edenshaws of Massett and to Chief Weah (Alfred Adams) also of Massett. In the early days these clans united and were the most powerful on the coast. It was Chief Gedanst's father, the powerful Chief Ningingwas, who built the impregnable fort at Cape Ball, Graham Island, the largest and strongest native fortification in the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Happy Married Life

Amos has had a very happy married life. Married to Agnes Hobbs, the youthful widow of a chief, and sister of the famous Chief Seegay, who at that time lived in the home of the Rev. W. Thomas Crosby at Port Simpson. He never regretted the day. He was married by Rev. Thomas Crosby on November 10, 1879, and died on the fifty-fifth anniversary of his wedding day. They were blessed with eleven happy children, the first born in 1881 and the youngest in 1905. Of these Gerlie, the fifth child, became the wife of Rev. Peter Kelly in August 1906. Of their children eight are happily married. Two have died. There are twenty-eight grandchildren living, and two great grandchildren.

On Monday afternoon the last rites were performed for this worthy pioneer. He was buried with royal honors according to his people's customs and the burial service of the United Church was read by Rev. Bishop Black at the graveside. A short service was conducted in the home at which the family were present. A procession, led by the Village Band playing the "Dead March," proceeded to the church. Every citizen who could attend was there. The church choir led in the singing of deceased's favorite hymns. Three addresses were delivered, one in English by the appointed missionary, one by Henry

YOUR GROCER CAN HELP YOU TO Keep on the Sunny Side of Winter

RAW, bleak days bring a change in living habits. You get less outdoor exercise—less vitalizing sunshine. At this time of year you must maintain your strength and energy to help ward off colds and other winter infections.

Your grocer can help you to sunny living. On his shelves you'll find Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, the cereal that helps keep you free from common constipation, due to insufficient "bulk." This ailment is the most frequent cause of sluggish days, loss of appetite and energy.

You can correct common constipation safely by proper diet. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly. Its gentle bulk, much like that in leafy vegetables, aids elimination. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

Get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. With each meal, in severe cases. If not relieved in this way, see your doctor.

Unlike cathartics, the same amount of ALL-BRAN continues to be effective when served regularly. Sold by all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

SWEARS TO TRUTH BEFORE NOTARY

Suffering from severe abdominal pains and biliousness, Mrs. Elizabeth Dodson, 523 Simcoe St., London, Ont., at last got permanent relief. To help others she tells of her experience in a statement made under oath before a notary in order to convince you of its absolute truth. She states: "I had a bad case of biliousness and headaches and became so ill I had to go to a hospital. Nothing I tried would help until I started taking Fruit-a-tives. Now I have no more headaches and can do my housework without help from anyone. Fruit-a-tives did me a world of good."

Copy of Mrs. Dodson's sworn statement will be sent on request. Write Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Canada.

OFFICERS FOR GYRO

Nominations Received — Cost of Gymnasium Estimated $25,000, Committee Reports

The Prince Rupert Gyro Club, at its regular monthly business luncheon yesterday, nominated the following as candidates for office in 1935:

- For president, S. J. Jabour and C. E. Starr.
- For secretary, H. S. Meadows and T. N. LePage.
- For treasurer, C. W. Dawson and Dr. J. H. Carson.
- For directors (three to be elected), H. N. Brocklesby, D. G. Borland, T. N. LePage, W. M. Watts, Dr. R. G. Large, Dr. J. H. Carson and C. E. Starr.

The club received a report from the community hall and gymnasium project committee, M. A. Burbank, chairman, estimating that the cost of such a project would be about $25,000 and expressing the opinion that the time was inopportune for any single organization to embark upon such an undertaking. The report was adopted and there will be no further action for this year at least.

There was discussion of changing the present time of meetings on Tuesday noons but no definite decision was arrived at.

SMITHERS, Dec. 2.—A new lodge was formed in Smithers when the young men of town to the number of thirty-four organized under the banner of the Canadian Order of Antlers or Junior Elks.

The inauguration took place in the Elks' Lodge Rooms with the Exalted Ruler, J. G. Stephens in charge of the initiation. H. F. Noel was installing officer with Dr. R. B. Brummitt as his assistant.

This is the second lodge of Junior Elks to be formed in Canada; number one being in Prince Rupert where the movement started a few months ago. Member are confined to young men of the ages 17 to 22 and the new order should prove a great asset to the district by instilling in the minds of our young men the responsibilities of citizenship and training them in public affairs, more especially so as it is under the supervision and guidance of the Order of Elks.

The officers installed were as follows:
President, Herb Leach.
First Vice-President, Wilfred Watson.

MAE WEST FILM HERE

Exotic Blonde Charmer Featured in "Belle of the Nineties" At Capitol Theatre

"Belle of the Nineties," mid-week feature offering on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here, features Mae West, she of the curves and blonde hair—the Problem Girl of the Movies.

As indicated by the title, the time of the story is the late Nineteenth Century. Miss West plays the part of a New Orleans entertainer in love with a prize-fighter, the Tiger Kid, portrayed by Roger Pryor. The Tiger Kid steals Miss West's diamonds and the latter retorts by putting a sleeping powder in his drinking water in the final round of a prize fight. John Miljan, as the villain, is in love with Miss West and is eventually killed by the Tiger Kid. The whirlwind of action ends with a hotel fire with Miss West landing in the arms of her true love.

The picture is elaborately set with many beautiful costumes and a background of entrancing rhythm. Duke Ellington and his orchestra are featured.

The program includes a single reel entitled "The Magic of Gold" consisting of a tour of British Columbia gold mines in the Cariboo district and a scenic trip over the Pacific Great Eastern Railway.
