BRITISH UNIONISTS MAD OVER LORDS VETO BILL

Accused Mr. Asquith of Taking Advantage of King George's Inexperience to Get Promises to Create Liberal Peers--House Endorses Asquith's Action by Immense Majority (Canadian Press Despatch) London, Aug. 8.—The Unionists of the British House got another defeat yesterday when a vote of censure of the Government for having obtained from the King a pledge to create, if necessary, a sufficient number of peers to pass the veto bill, was rejected by the House of Commons by a majority of 119.

Brought in King's name
The motion was introduced by Mr. A. J. Balfour, the leader of the Opposition. He said the gravest of Opposition's charges against the Government was that Premier Asquith had taken advantage of the King's inexperience to bring about an abuse of the royal prerogative by securing guarantees from his Majesty before the last general election.

Asquith's Answer
Mr. Asquith easily disposed of this charge by showing that the

RAILWAY COMMISSION

Program of Tour Through Western Canada Inclusive

Toronto, Aug. 7.—The Board of Railway Commissioners is making a tour of Western Canada this month during which it will hold sessions at almost every important point between Port Arthur and the Pacific Coast. The first sitting will be on the tenth inst. at Port Arthur and after sitting at Fort Francis, the Commissioners will go direct to Vancouver, where a number of cases of discriminations against the C. P. R. will be heard. Other points will be visited on the return journey.

The Commissioners are due in Prince Rupert on the 19th inst.

SIR ALAN AYLESWORTH TO RETIRE FROM PARLIAMENT

Minister of Justice Makes Announcement to His Constituents--Stayed Owing to Strong Wish of Sir Wilfrid Laurier--Great Jurist Has Served Nation for Six Years

(Canadian Press Despatch) Ottawa, Aug. 8.—Sir Alan Aylesworth after six years of public service to Canada, first as Postmaster General and for the past five years as Minister of Justice, is retiring from the Government and has definitely notified the North York Liberal Association that he will not again be a candidate.

Sir Alan intimated to the Prime Minister two years ago that he desired to resign his portfolio, principally on the ground that his deafness was a constant embarrassment to him in Parliament and at the Cabinet council meetings. He was dissuaded however by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues and continued in office. Recently, however, he decided definitely to resign and this afternoon notified the Liberal executive of North York to that effect.

Sir Alan stated that Mr. T. C. Robinette, K. C., of North York will probably be the candidate in that constituency. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has not yet accepted Sir Alan's resignation and the latter will probably hold office until his successor is sworn in.

Hugh Guthrie, representative for South Wellington in the Commons since 1900 is mentioned as his probable successor.

HANDSOME NEW BANK PREMISES

Union Bank will Occupy Quarters on Third Avenue and Sixth Street. Open October 1st.

The local branch of the Union Bank of Canada is to have handsome new quarters at the corner Third avenue and Fifth street. The portion of the Christiansen and Grandt building has been leased for this purpose and the plans for the new office have been completed by Mr. W. L. Barker. Everything is now in shape for starting the contract.

In the new office will be a concrete safety vault. All the interior work will be both useful and artistic. Quarters for the resident clerks will be provided and every modern convenience will be installed. The plans call for an attractive and substantial exterior. It is hoped to have the place ready for occupancy by October 1st of this year.

SUSPECT DEEP CAMMORRA PLOT

Vancouver Shooting Case Grows More Mysterious. Wounded Man Silent. Italians All Alarmed.

(Canadian Press Despatch) Vancouver, Aug. 8.—Despite the diligent efforts of police and detectives, no trace has been discovered of the unknown Italian who shot Romeo Rosco and wounded Antonio Monteto on Sunday night. The latter is slowly recovering at the hospital but absolutely refuses to talk or give any information as to the identity of the murderer. Based on the fear shown by other local Italians, the belief is growing that a Camorra plot is at the bottom of this shooting.

MORE BLUFF

"Me and Gott" Emperor to Hold Mighty Review

(Canadian Press Despatch) London, Aug. 7.—It is announced that on September 5th at Kiel the Kaiser will review the greatest array of German war vessels ever assembled. The fleet will comprise 140 vessels of all classes and the number of men in the crews will approximate 25,000.

Books Well Kept

Stuart and Stewart, the local auditors, sent in a report to the city council last night stating that they had audited the City Hall books and found them correct. Credit was given by the auditors to the City Hall officials for keeping the books so excellently.

ALD. NEWTON ADMITS HE FARMED OUT INSURANCE

Admits that He Took Policy Renewals Away from Certain Ratepayers and Handed Them Over to Other Parties to Renew--Whole Matter to be Probed Into Quietly Alderman Hilditch asked Acting Mayor Kirkpatrick at the council meeting last night why the gentleman who was a property owner had had his civic insurance taken away.

"It will afford me great pleasure to answer Alderman Hilditch," said Alderman Newton jumping to his feet. "I shall do so without attempt to browbeat, screen or rep my skirts clean. I take all responsibility. Alderman Kirkpatrick was not present at the meeting of the finance committee when the matter came up and that was done the result of a motion moved by myself. When ex-Alderman Pattullo and Alderman Naden were in the council last year I found they each took a big slice of the civic insurance and gobbled up everything

"EDRIE" OWNERS APPEAL

Case will Come up Before Appeal Court in November

(Canadian Press Despatch) Victoria, Aug. 7.—The Chlopek Fish Company, owners of the gasoline schooner Edrie seized recently by the cruiser Rainbow and condemned by the Admiralty Court, have given notice of appeal. The case will be heard here at the sittings of the Court of Appeals in November. At present the schooner is lying at Sapperton.

HE WAS BARKING UP THE WRONG TREE

Ald. Newton Wanted to Know How the Council Came to Agree to Fill John Goodman's Lots--Subsided When Explanation Was Made

Almost three long, weary hours the city council sat last night without accomplishing very much business. Acting Mayor Kirkpatrick was kept busy trying to keep things moving peacefully in the face of the continual skirmishes between Aldermen Newton and Hilditch. Frequently it looked as if open war would result. Once Alderman Newton did fire a broadside of vitriolic verbosity into Alderman Hilditch's camp but the acting Mayor aided by his peace loving henchman Alderman Clayton rushed into the breach and the hot verbosity ended in smoke.

First Shot at Goodman

The first shot was fired by Alderman Newton who wanted to "talk about the city filling the lots owned by John Goodman."

"I want to ask why the city assisted in filling up his lots and what recompense the city is getting for the work."

NIOBE OFF AGAIN

On Her Way to Halifax in Tow of Salvage Boats

(Canadian Press Despatch) Halifax, Aug. 8.—The Niobe started on her way to Halifax this evening according to wireless report from Clarke's Harbor to Admiral Kingsmill. The flotilla of towing steamers headed by H. M. S. Cornwall is expected to reach Halifax tomorrow. The Cornwall which touched on a rock at Green Island bank Sunday afternoon is but slightly damaged.

Ottawa, Aug. 8.—(Special)—Earl Grey will leave Canada for home on October sixth. Nothing official has been received as to the arrival of the Duke of Connaught but it is expected he will be here in the middle of October.

THE POPE'S ILLNESS

(Canadian Press Despatch) Rome, Aug. 8.—The condition of Pope Pius who yesterday suffered a slight relapse was reported satisfactory today. Dr. Pettachi, private physician to his Holiness stated that while he found a slight rise in the patient's temperature he considered the general condition of the patient to be improved.

Rome, (Later)—The Pope's condition is now said to be very serious. The pontiff had a bad night with more fainting spells than hitherto known. Fears for a fatal termination of the illness are growing every hour.

SORDID TRAGEDY

Gardner Killed Other Man's Wife after Drinking Bout

(Canadian Press Despatch) San Francisco, Aug. 7.—The San Francisco, Aug. 7.—George Forsyth, aged 40, a gradner, shot and fatally wounded Mrs. Katherine Decker aged 33, at her home here today and then killed himself. The tragedy took place after a drinking bout lasting nearly all night. Forsyth had been trying a long time to get Mrs. Decker to elope with him but she refused.

HE WAS BARKING UP THE WRONG TREE

Ald. Newton Wanted to Know How the Council Came to Agree to Fill John Goodman's Lots--Subsided When Explanation Was Made

Newton in a moment—apparently to his surprise. The lots now Mr. Goodman had anything to do with.

Sniffed Out

Then Alderman Hilditch gave Alderman Newton a little rap about asking questions without taking the trouble to probe the matter previously. That did it. Alderman Newton's ire is ever mercurial. It literally jumped up to boiling point and he exclaimed in Ciceronic tones: "I object to Alderman Hilditch throwing out these sneers about aldermen taking the trouble to ask questions. I shall ask for any information I desire as long as I am in the council and I won't be sniffed out by Alderman Hilditch. If he only knew one quarter of what is being said about his department he would be grateful to have some ask questions instead of grunting and growling."

LIVE WIRE SLEW HIM

Laborer Reached Out for a Handful of Death

(Canadian Press Despatch) Calgary, Aug. 8.—Mike Iwanswick, an Austrian laborer working on a new elevator here, touched a live wire when walking along a hallway and was instantly killed.

CARELESS WITH GUN

Harry Sage Has Paid the Full Penalty

(Canadian Press Despatch) Castor, Alberta, Aug. 8.—When putting his gun away after shooting Harry E. Sage, an employee of the C. P. R. stumbled, and discharged the weapon, the contents entering his forehead. He died soon after.

NEARLY KILLED BY BIG ROCK

Stone Flung by Shot at Mile Forty-two Came Through the Messhouse Roof and Just Missing Wm. Stenhouse

When a blast went off yesterday in the neighborhood of Mile Forty-two a stone hurled from the cut flew as far as the mess house roof some distance away. It crashed through the roof and just missing the head of William Stenhouse who was in there at the time, struck him on the foot. The limb was rather severely crushed and bruised but no bones were smashed. Stenhouse came down steel in care of a comrade, and was attended to at the General Hospital by Dr. Eggert. He is detained there at present, but will soon be able to be about.

GERMANY SUSPICIOUS

If Britain were as Nervous there Would be no German Bands

(Canadian Press Despatch) Bremen, Aug. 7.—An Englishman, said to be an officer in the British yeomanry, was arrested here today accused of spying on German fortifications on the north seacoast. Prisoner whose name has not been learned was subsequently admitted to bail.

HAD ANXIOUS TIME IN LAUNCH

Rev. Father Hartmann and Party on Trip Around Kaien Island were Delayed and Lost tide. Friends Alarmed.

Yesterday Rev. Father Hartmann and a party of friends set out on a trip around Kaien Island in the new launch belonging to A. Nachbar. The weather was magnificent for the trip, but the launch did not return at the time when it was expected. After waiting several hours for it, friends of the party grew exceedingly anxious, and began to make enquiries and to talk of sending out a search party from the Davis float. While preparations were being made, however, the belated launch returned long after midnight. A slight trouble with the engine had sufficed to cause delay which made the party lose the tide, and thus increased the time for the journey.

The council agreed last night to raise the salary of Mr. W. D. Vance, city accountant, from $100 a month to $125 a month to date from January 1, 1911., and also to raise Saritary Inspector Macfarlane's pay from $80 to $90 a month from January 1, 1911, to July 1, 1911. From July 1st he will get $100 a month.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THIS FOR "NEWS"

Remarkable Despatch that Reached the Daily News Office today.—It is Worth Reading and Pondering Over.—What Does "Headquarters" Take Us For.

As a sample of the kind of campaign "news" that is being sent out over the wires the News prints the following despatch which came into its office this morning. It has all the earmarks of an "inspired" message sent out from "headquarters," and calculated to deceive the ignorant.

It has no news value. It tells no fact. It gives no authority. With the exception of the last paragraph which gives an item of news about Mr. Borden's campaign, the whole thing is palpably a collection of malicious rumors. It may all be true, but it looks like an anonymous lie.

Ottawa, Aug. 8.—Laurier is anxious to quit his office. He would have done this before but for the refusal of his party to go on without him. It is said the plan is to try if possible to win the present election and then lose no time in turning over the mantle of office to Graham, giving him several years in which to settle into saddle.

If Laurier is defeated he will at once retire, for he already has told the House he will not again serve as leader of the Opposition.

Mr. Borden will open his campaign in Eastern townships on August 29th by an address at Farham.

SUIVEZ LE PANACHE BLANC

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, en arrivant à Montreal de la Coronation, dans un discours qui fut marqué d'applaudissements spontanés et termine avec les fanfares éclatantes et bruyantes, notre chef a conclu: "Messieurs les électeurs, j'arrive devant vous plein de courage et de zèle pour défendre la cause du peuple canadien tout entier.

"Je n'ai plus longtemps à vivre mais je soutiendrai la lutte jusqu'au bout. Quand je ne serai plus, ce sera à mes jeunes amis d'accomplir ma tâche.

"Je dis aux vieux comme aux jeunes ce que disait Henri IV: "SUIVEZ MON PANACHE BLANC, VOUS LE TROUVEREZ TOUJOURS SUR LE CHEMIN DE L'HONNEUR ET DE LA GLOIRE."

"SUIVEZ MON PANACHE BLANC: C'EST MA CHEVELURE DE 69 ANS."

THE MAN WITH THE KNIFE

There is a certain member of Parliament at Ottawa—we need not harry him by bringing in his name—who in public poses as a particular champion of public rights. But among the members of the house he is known by the nickname of "the man with the knife."

No one fears him so much as his friends. He knives them all in turn, the minute they stand in the way of his ambition. Like Brutus, after each political assassination he tells the public:

"T'was not that I loved Caesar less

But only Rome the more."

But his friends watch him, and between themselves refer to him as "the man with the knife."

There is a man in Prince Rupert who poses as a particular champion of public rights, who is fast qualifying for the title of "the man with the knife." One by one he knives all his friends, the moment they stand in the way of his ambitions. Then he turns a dolorous countenance to the public and explains that he is a great moral hero, making great sacrifices for the sake of the public. Nature has well fitted him to assume the role of the dying martyr.

But his friends are learning to watch him. They are beginning to realise that the dying martyr is a pigmy with ambition—and a knife.

When he first came on the scene he announced himself as an "independent." That was until he picked Mr. Fred Stork as a winner in the first municipal election in Prince Rupert. Then he turned in to laud Mr. Stork to a point of absurdity, and to abuse Mr. William Manson—Mr. Stork's opponent—in a manner that was both cruel and extremely coarse.

That was in May 1910. A few weeks later the man who boasts that his newspaper has "sacrificed its business interests for the purpose of battling for the rights of the masses" discovered that Mayor Stork would not give out city advertising patronage except by open competition.

So Mayor Stork and the members of his council were promptly knifed.

Last January the streams of absurd laudation and coarse and unwarranted abuse were turned on again, but in different directions. The despised Mr. Manson got the laudation; the old council got the abuse. And the moral hero who has always been ready to sacrifice his business interests, etc., got his disputed account paid, in face of the fact that the city's legal advisers declared that it was not collectable at law.

After having saddled the city with a council, which—to put it mildly—is not so competent as the previous council, our moral hero discovered that he had got in wrong. He probably saw trouble ahead at the next election for Mr. Manson and his friends. So with a great profession of super-righteousness, he proceeded to knife his colleagues in the council.

Mr. Manson himself was spared. Mr. Manson has in his gift the advertising patronage of the Provincial Government.

The next to be knifed was Magistrate Carss. It is an open secret that Mr. Carss along with other gentlemen in the Conservative party was looked on as a possible nominee for Comox-Atlin. So on the eve of the campaign Mr. Carss' political chances were assassinated by the moral hero who heretofore had kept discreetly silent on the subject of Mr. Carss.

Then after going through the solemn burlesque of announcing that he had given way to "strong pressure" brought to bear upon him to stand as candidate for Comox-Atlin in opposition to the reciprocity agreement, this moral hero is caught in the act of wilfully mutilating press despatches so as to mislead his readers on the reciprocity question.

The facts are too damning to be explained away. They show this self-announced moral hero up in a different light.

Instead of being a man of superior virtue, they show him to be but a cheap trickster; instead of a man of iron, just a painted lath; instead of a moral hero, just a pigmy with ambition—and a knife.

A man in private life may pose and profess to his hearts content. It is his own private business, and no newspaper has any right to refer to it. But when a man poses before the public as a man of superior righteousness and seeks public office on the ground of his special honesty and zeal for the public welfare, he makes his personal character a public issue.

The people of Prince Rupert will not be satisfied until Alderman Newton admits he is a discredited candidate by retiring forthwith from the contest.

The Adventure of The Red Circle

BY ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE

Copyright, 1911, by the Century Syndicate

"He told me, and my own heart grew cold as ice as I listened. My poor Gennaro, in his wild and fiery days, when all the world seemed against him and his mind was driven half mad by the injustices of life, had joined a Neapolitan society, the Red Circle, which was allied to the old Carbonari. The oaths and secrets of this brotherhood were frightful; but once within its rule no escape was possible. When he had fled to America Gennaro thought that he had cast it all off for ever. What was his horror one evening to meet in the streets the very man who had initiated him in Naples, the giant Gorgiano, a man who had earned the name of 'Death' in the South of Italy, for he was red to the elbow in murder! He had come to New York to avoid the Italian police, and he had already planted a branch of this dreadful society in his new home. All this Gennaro told me, and showed me a summons which he had received that very day, a Red Circle drawn upon the head of it, telling him that a lodge would be held upon a certain date, and that his presence at it was required and ordered.

"That was bad enough, but worse was to come. I had noticed for some time that when Gorgiano came to us, as he constantly did, in the evening, he spoke much to me; and even when his words were to my husband those terrible, glaring, wild-beast eyes of his were always turned upon me. One night his secret came out. I had awakened what he called 'love' within him—the love of a brute—a savage. Gennaro had not yet returned when he came. He pushed his way in, seized me in his mighty arms, hugged me in his bear's embrace, covered me with kisses, and implored me to come away with him. I was struggling and screaming when Gennaro entered and attacked him. He struck Gennaro senseless and fled from the house which he was never more to enter. It was a deadly enemy that we made that night.

"A few days later came the meeting. Gennaro returned from it with a face which told me that something dreadful had occurred. It was worse than we could have imagined possible. The funds of the society were raised by blackmailing rich Italians and threatening them with violence should they refuse the money. It seems that Castalotte, our dear friend and benefactor, had been approached. He had refused to yield to threats, and he had handed the notices to the police. It was resolved now that such an example should be made of him as would prevent any other victim from rebelling. At the meeting it was arranged that he and his house should be blown up by dynamite. There was a drawing of lots as to who should carry out the deed. Gennaro saw our enemy's cruel face smiling at him as he dipped his hand in the bag. No doubt it had been pre-arranged in some fashion, for it was the fatal disc with the Red Circle upon it, the mandate for murder, which lay upon his palm. He was to kill his best friend, or he was to expose himself and me to the vengeance of his comrades. It was part of their fiendish system to punish those whom they feared or hated by injuring not only their own persons, but those whom they loved, and it was the knowledge of this which hung as a terror over my poor Gennaro's head and drove him nearly crazy with apprehension. "All that night we sat together, our arms round each other, each strengthening each for the troubles that lay before us. The very next evening had been fixed for the attempt. By midday my husband and I were on our way to London, but not before we had given our benefactor full warning of his danger, and had also left such information for the police as would safeguard his life for the future.

"The rest, gentlemen, you know for yourselves. We were sure that our enemies would be behind us like our own shadows. Gorgiano had his private reasons for vengeance, but in any case we knew how ruthless, cunning, and untiring he could be. Both Italy and America are full of stories of his dreadful powers. If ever they were exerted they would be now. My darling made use of the few clear days which our start had given us in arranging for a refuge for me in such a fashion that no possible danger could reach me. For his own part, he wished to be free that he might communicate both with the American and with the Italian police. I do not myself know where he lived, or how. All that I learned was through the columns of a newspaper. But once, as I looked through my window, I saw two Italians watching the house, and I understood that in some way Gorgiano had found out our retreat. Finally Gennaro told me, through the paper, that he would signal me from a certain window, but when the signals came they were nothing but warnings, which were suddenly interrupted. It is very clear to me that he knew Gorgiano to be close upon him, and that, thank God, he was ready for him when he came. And now, gentlemen, I would ask you whether we have anything to fear from the Law, of whether any judge upon earth would condemn my Gennaro for what he has done?"

"Well, Mr. Gregson," said the American looking across at the official. "I don't know what your British point of view may be, but I guess that in New York this lady's husband will receive a pretty general vote of thanks."

"She will have to come with me and see the Chief," Gregson answered. "If what she says is corroborated, I do not think she or her husband has much to fear. But what I can't make head or tail of, Mr. Holmes, is how on earth you got yourself mixed up in the matter."

"Education, Gregson, education. Still seeking knowledge at the old university. Well, Watson, you have one more specimen of the tragic and grotesque to add to your collection. By the way, it is not eight o'clock, and a Wagner night at Convent Garden! If we hurry, we might be in time for the second act."

WATER IN CANYONS

Very High—Steamers on Skeena Can't Get Through.

Owing to the exceptionally hot weather up in the interior which causes the snow on the mountains to melt, the water in the Canyons on the Skeena River is very high. This morning it was three feet four inches above zero and rising. All the river steamer boats are the other side of the canyons from here, with the exception of the Hazelton and until the water lowers they will be unable to get through.

Taking Advantage

Many people are taking advantage of the grand fifteen days' sale of furniture at F. W. Hart's store, corner Second avenue and Sixth street. Some good bargains from the big stock are being offered.

Dripping Tip

Mutton dripping will not set hard and suety, as it usually does, if directly the fat is poured from the baking tin, the vessel containing it is put at the back of the stove and allowed to stop there until the stove itself cools.

THE COSY CORNER

DEVOTED PRINCIPALLY TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN

This is a little section of the paper, which from day to day will be devoted to subjects of special interest to women. Any and all of the ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to contribute to its columns, and to take part in its discussions. Suggestions and criticisms are invited by the editor. The hope is expressed that "The Cosy Corner" will fill a social need.

LINEN AND LACE

Today we show a pretty design for a linen frock which may be followed in colors or plain white, as one's fancy dictates. Either will be fashionable and either will be pretty. If the lace cannot be procured in shade desired it is a matter of small expense to have it dyed to match one's linen. King's blue works up beautifully.

Note the odd arrangement of lace at top and bottom of panel. Braid loops match the linen and the small buttons are black.

GREAT SINGER COMING

Baroness von Meyerinck May Give a Concert Recital in Prince Rupert.

The Baroness Anna von Meyerinck, one of the most cultured and charming of modern singers, is on her way north from San Francisco, according to a private letter received in the News office.

The Baroness who has recently completed a triumphal tour in India and China, may stop off at Prince Rupert for two or three song recitals. She is quite at home in interpreting the songs of all the great European masters, all languages coming alike to her. To hear her sing Schubert's "Levenade," or Taubert's "Den Fauhen" where she imitates the exultation of the runaway pigeons laughing at the useless attempts to catch them is a revelation of what musical art allied to genius can do.

A warm welcome will probably be given her if she should visit Prince Rupert.

BEING ALONE

Why do Some Girls Prefer Solitude Sometimes

There is a strong tendency among women of the present day to be alone, and even to live alone.

There is much to be said against such a feeling, but there is also a great deal to be said for it. One must have a certain amount of privacy, and even isolation, in one's life. To be with people constantly, no matter how well and intimately one may know them, to never be alone, is to subject oneself to a constant strain. To relax one must be alone. Delicate and nervous people well know how exhausting it is to be constantly in the presence of others. And probably most men and women who enjoy perfect health, nevertheless have often experienced something of the sense of relief at being alone expressed by an article in a recent number of Scribner's:

"I, too," says the writer, in sympathetic reference to the lonely heroine of a recent novel, "I too, have learned to walk alone. I, too, have experienced a sense of freedom when the train has pulled out of the station bearing me away from the friends I love. What pleasure to walk at my own pace through the streets of the town where I have to wait for an hour or two; what joy to get a cup of tea at a perfectly unreasonable hour, or to make the extravagant little purchases which my prudent, well-wishing friends would thoroughly disapprove of! Dear friends! They are so good to me and I think of them with such affection the while that, fleeing from them, I hug my freedom."

Celery Relish

Chop in tray with chopping knife all parts of celery not usable on the table as sticks. Pack in pretty bowl and sprinkle over it a sugarspoon of granulated sugar and dash of salt. Press down and nearly cover with pure cider vinegar. Let stand one day before using.

Oyster Hint

When oysters are left over from stews or creamed mixtures they can be chopped and used as salad or croquettes. For the former the eye must be removed, and it is better to do so for any cooking where the whole oyster is not essential.

Save cold tea left from supper and use in place of water on your house plants.

Bobby McWhirter has joined the London team in the Canadian League.

Georges Hackenschmidt, accompanied by his manager, Jack Curley, and his trainer, Dr. Roller, has left England to prepare for his Labor Day match with Frank Gotch in Chicago. Hack has been training for several weeks in England.

The plot on which stands the polo grounds, the home of the New York Giants and soon to be the finest baseball plant in America, has been the property of the same family since 1783, when Silas Gardner, great-grandfather of the present owner, bought it.

What shall be done with the college athletes who compete during vacation days for the various clubs, is becoming a serious question in Amateur Athletic Union circles, and it is possible that a stringent rule may be passed at the conference in September. Many protests were lodged against the college men who competed at the national championships in Pittsburg.

The one-mile championship of the English amateur swimming association was won by H. Taylor in 23 minutes 35 1-5 seconds, a new record. The previous record in open water was 24:01 3-5.

Governor Dix has appointed the following as members of the State Athletic Commission, to supervise and regulate sparring and boxing matches, as authorized by the Frawley bill, which is now law: Bartow S. Weeks, a lawyer of New York; Major John J. Dixon, Brooklyn, a retired officer of the 47th Regiment, National Guard, and Frank O'Neill of Birmingham.

Parmer, last year's King Plate winner, has been put to jumping by his new owner Mr. Allan Chase, and promises to be a useful steeple-chaser. Oneiros, a Morpheus horse that has greatly disappointed Mr. Seagram as a Plater some years ago, afterwards brought a high price as a show jumper for Crow Murray. He is now in England and has been registered for racing under the National Hunt rules.

Hornet's Beauty, believed to be the fastest horse in England, was out of the money in the race for the Grand Prix at Ostend, Belgium. The distance was a mile and three-quarters, and Jockey Lucian Lyne who rode, said the journey was too far. He could have won at a mile and a quarter, or even a mile and a half, but the extra distance was beyond the capacity of the English champion.

New Westminster, Aug. 7.—Vancouver by winning the lacrosse match in the strenuous game on Saturday with a score of 7 to 4 put the double cross on the local aspirations to the championship. Vancouver won 7, locals 3, with only two more games to play or tie with the champions and must win next two. Vancouver displayed the best form and had things pretty much their own way during the last half. The score was: first quarter Vancouver one, Westminster one; second quarter, one each; third quarter Vancouver two, Westminster one; fourth quarter Vancouver three Westminster one.

THEY GAVE HIM A COSTUME FIT FOR A BALLET-GIRL

Carnival Gent on the Steps of the Methodist Church Had a Wrong Laundry Parcel in his Possession— Blames it on the Chink Laundryman.

Far be it from the Daily News to divulge his name, for it was his first lapse in this city at any rate, and he has promised to be good, but the circumstances of the arrest of today's one lone lorn "D and D" case were so funny that it must be told.

On the doorstep of the Methodist Church they found him. There like a weary soldier of fortune he lay curled up contentedly in the cosy corner with his head pillowed comfortably upon a parcel of laundry. The drowsy vapours of the wine bowl had overpowered him, but he was happy, oh, so happy! Gently they raised him and softly in the strong arms of the Law he was wafted rather than carried to the neighboring "Hotel Vickers."

Till dawn he slumbered on the hard and narrow bed provided for unwisely convivalists by an unsympathetic Government. Then he arose and called for his laundry parcel that he might robe himself fitly to appear before the ornithological mouthpiece that is to say, the Beak. They brought him the parcel. Deftly he opened it and swiftly essayed to put on the garment he first withdrew from its neatly folded contents. In the twinkling of an eye he found himself mazed daintily in a gossamer cloud of "frillies." The length thereof was as the breadth thereof. He couldn't tell which was the front. He lost track of the most important part of the suit, and with an arm through one pretty sleeve—we think it was a sleeve—and his leg through another, he called helplessly for aid all the time like a shoeblack lost in a lace-store.

Summoning the whole staff, Chief Vickers contrived successfully to extricate the poor prisoner. Then sternly he was asked how he came by the laundry parcel, and to what fairy it belonged. But on the filmy subject his mind was a blank. Honest, though embarrassed he paid his fine like a man, added the financial frills, but left the real ones to the care of the Chief. If any of the ladies of the Comedy Company in town has received from her laundry any things she isn't the shape for, she will know where to find her own.

Raise the Old School

The School Board wrote to the council asking that the old school building on Second avenue be raised six inches above grade and the bill sent to the school officials. It was asked to rush the work.

WILL APPOINT A COMMANDER TO THE CIVIC SNIFF YACHT

The Idea is to Relieve the Commodore from Necessity of Putting to Sea.—Civic Lords of the Admiralty Will Enforce the Sniff Yacht Schedule.

That Incense Breathing Ark of elegant contour, the Civic Sniff Yacht came again in all its elegance before the city council last night. Sanitary Inspector Macfarlane, Commodore pro tem. of the noble craft now renowned over the seven seas, and Dr. Reddie Medical Health Officer for the city, and High Admiral of the Civic Sniff Fleet, laid before the City Fathers a recommendation that a permanent commodore should be appointed to take charge of the sniff yacht in harbor and at sea thus relieving the Commodore of duty in this capacity so that he may have the more time to attend to the rustling of can and garbage cargoes for the craft.

Complaints were also dealt with by the Council that the sniff yacht had not been arriving and departing according to schedule, with the result that a portion at least of a valuable cargo consisting chiefly of empty cream cans and cabbage leaves was dumped by mistake into the sea by a teamster who took for granted the yacht had moored in accordance with schedule. It was insisted by several aldermen that the schedule should be strictly adhered to in future, and the matters mentioned are referred to the health committee. The retaining fee suggested for the proposed new commander is $60 per month. He will earn it think some.

THE MINISTER'S SON

Cleveland Comedy Co., in Musical Playette at the Empress Last Night Pleasured Audience Immensely.

"A Minister's Son" as staged by the Cleveland Musical Comedy Co., in the Empress Theatre last night was quite distinctly a success. The comedy gave amusement to a large audience. The musical numbers, and acting were of excellent merit. Orchestral selections at intervals were rendered effectively by the Prince Rupert Orchestra augmented by the company's own musicians and added greatly to the entertainment.

Briefly the slender plot of the comedy is that Douglas Cattermole, nephew of a wealthy and aristocratic government official in India, has few "redeeming virtues." He is no teetotaler, he doesn't shun the "Big D" now and then, and he has quite a bunch of debts. But he is studiously inclined, and his wealthy uncle won't pay a penny for him till he hears of some rollicking deed the boy has done to prove himself a true Cattermole. The young man's worst creditor is his tailor, Gibson, who wants to get into society. This man gets hold of a bill backed by young Cattermole and uses it to force an introduction to the wealthy uncle from India. Uncle Cattermole is a holy terror and stamps round the whole place. He mistakes an unfortunate clergyman, Rev. Robert Spaulding, for his nephew and the poor pastor has the dickens of a time of it. What with the ambitious tailor who gets drunk, and the irate uncle, the parson hardly knows his head-piece from his goloshes half the time. Then there is a charming lady interested in spiritualism who takes the clergyman for a medium and would probe through him the secrets of the Borderland. Mingle the whole with a couple of pretty girls with whom Douglas Cattermole and Harry Marsh, his chum, are in love, and add any amount of incidental songs, dances, and lively choruses merrily sung and romped through by a clever company. There you have "The Minister's Son."

Outstanding merit was shown by Mr. Frank Snyder as the insatiable tailor with ambitions. His voice is powerful, and his songs, especially "The Ideal of My Dreams" were received with enthusiasm. Jack Westerman also, as "Rev. Robt Spaulding" was inimitable. His comical mannerisms hit home capitally, and his song "The Minister's Son" delighted. Miss Drena Mack as "Miss Edith Marsh" sang with perfect confidence, and is an accomplished leading woman. She had several excellent songs. "Mikes the Boy," and "Teach Me to Swim" went with splendid vigor, but in the "Chantecler" item both costume and song seemed to suit her to even better effect, and the house gave her the glad hand doubled.

Harry B. Cleveland as the irate uncle acted splendidly and the chorus deserve full credit for real efficiency, precision and enthusiastic support of the principals. Those who know the exigencies of the art of stage dressing and make-up even where the dressing and green-rooms are spacious, will appreciate the efforts of the chorus whose numerous effective changes of costume last night certainly meant efficiency behind, as well as before the limelight.

MAYOR IN ROLE OF DAVID HARUM

Will Go to Vancouver from Victoria to Buy Team of Horses for the city.

Besides his other roles Mayor Manson will act as a David Harum for the city while he is away. Today the telegraph wires chattered out a message asking him to go to Vancouver from Victoria and consult with P. Burns' men there and get their aid in purchasing a team of horses with harness for the city. The steeds must be about 1500 pounds in weight and not more than eight years old.

The Board of Works want this team also a civic dump cart, to do away with hiring from local teamsters. At present much in, convenience is experienced by having to hire horses. It will also be a saving for the city. Alderman Douglas was responsible for enrolling the Mayor as a David Harum. "I don't suppose he will get the Government to give us the lots so he can earn his expenses by buying horses," he said.

A by-law introduced by Alderman Kirkpatrick, forbidding the use of firearms, etc., within the city limits passed its first and second reading last night.
