"RECIPROCITY IS RIGHT FOR RUPERT," SAYS "NABOB" KELLY

"Reciprocity is Right for the whole Dominion of Canada. It is right for the Province of British Columbia even more than for the rest of Canada, and of course it is right for Prince Rupert."

These are the words this morning of "Bob" Kelly whose reputation as a business head is unrivalled in British Columbia and whose name is known for sound sense over all the West.

"Reciprocity-Right for Rupert"—three R's for the present election campaign. "Good man all right," remarked "Nabob" Kelly regarding the candidature of Mr. Duncan Ross.

AN ABSURD ARGUMENT

If anything more is needed to prove the utter unfitness of the anti-reciprocity candidate in his aspirations to represent Comox-Atlin at Ottawa, it is to be found in the articles he has written in an attempt to show that the reciprocity agreement if put into practice will make food dearer.

The articles are so childish and immature as to be beneath serious notice. The writer of them may test the absurdity of his labored efforts by a very simple test. If as he says, the abolition of taxes on food is going to make food dearer, then the adding of more taxes ought to make it cheaper, which, as Euclid would say "is an absurd conclusion."

The articles are entirely absurd—palpably absurd.

WHAT RECIPROCITY WILL DO

In addition to reducing the cost of living, opening up great markets for our lumber, our fish and our minerals, reciprocity will double the present population of Prince Rupert. This statement is made on the authority of J. P. Todd of Seattle, whom the Seattle Daily Times declares is "the best posted man on fishing matters in the Northwest."

Not that J. P. Todd is a friend of reciprocity. J. P. Todd is allied to those "interests" who prosper under a tariff. His men have been accustomed to go in their boats out to the Canadian halibut banks and load up. The Canadian fishermen could not come into the market. There was a duty of a cent a pound on the fish caught by a Canadian fisherman. This corralled the market for J. P. Todd and the Seattle fishermen, leaving the Canadian fishermen out in the cold.

This is what J. P. Todd says in an interview in the Seattle Daily Times:

"Under the reciprocity bill fish are admitted free of duty. If this measure carries, the halibut fleet that makes Seattle its headquarters will move to Prince Rupert as soon as the Grand Trunk Pacific is completed to the Coast.'

"The loss to Seattle will be whatever money or business 6,000 fishermen involve."

What money and business do six thousand fishermen involve? In the first place there are the wives and families of the married fishermen. Six thousand fishermen will have at least six thousand dependents; probably twice that amount.

Six thousand fishermen will need between them several thousand homes. Those homes will have to be built by Prince Rupert carpenters. They will have to be built on lots at present held by lot owners in this city.

Six thousand fishermen and their families will need food, they will need clothes, they will bring abundant wants with them, all of which the merchants of Prince Rupert will have to satisfy.

Six thousand fishermen will need boats and repairs. The trade of a fleet of six thousand fishermen in Prince Rupert will keep a shipyard and several engine works busy.

J. P. Todd "the best posted man on fishing matters in the Northwest" states that if reciprocity carries six thousand fishermen and all the money and business involved with them will move from Seattle to Prince Rupert.

Every voter in Prince Rupert without regard to the usual considerations of party should vote for the reciprocity candidate when the time comes.

Six thousand fishermen with all the money and business they involve is just what Prince Rupert needs.

NEW STYLE IN HAIR

Young Lady Surprises the Tonsorial Artist Up River

A Hazelton barber got the tonsorial surprise of his career the other day when a pretty young woman walked in, sat down in his chair, removed her hat, leaned back and said:

"Cut it short please."

"Short hair is all the rage," she continued. "In France and in Germany you're not considered 'it' if long tresses are worn. The 'coiffure' style, the 'Marcell wave,' 'bangs' 'rats,' and the 'bun' are all out of date. I want a 'classic' haircut."

She waited for the shears.

"She had a 'Buster Brown' cut when she came into the shop," said the artist, "but she said she wanted a close trim. I cut her hair 'round' in the back, just as they give the college boys, and shaved her neck. I did not chop her hair off in the front, but left it long enough to comb back over her forehead. On the sides I cut if 'full fluff.' When she left she could wear her hat without hat pins.'

A gallery of about 100 males followed every clip of the scissors over the young woman's head, and stopped to talk it over long after she had left the barber shop.

The Visit of Curzon.

From time to time during the las known. few months the cryptic message "Curzon are coming" has been flash.

have seen this mesfor explained in its entirety it means that the tailoring land of modern times is coming right into Canada to pay a personal visit to its thousands of customers and friends, living throughout the Dominion. It means even more than this, for with the P.O. Box 1540. Curzon contingent come the choicest mills of England, Ireland and Scotland, making a wonderful collection shades and designs. Worsteds, Vicunas, Serges, Cheviots. is Meltons, Beavers, and in fact every class of fabric for which the Mother Country is so justly celebrated.

The Curzon tour throughout Canada is being conducted by the leading representatives of the house, inconducted not altogether for the purposes of lifting business but with a closer touch with their friends and clients residing overseas.

It is true that the Curzon service Britain's Colonies from their Mother, but this step on the part of the Proinspection to their ramifications across the Atlantic, must do much to even strengthen the very life spirit permeating the house, and enable them to give even more efficient service to their thousands of patrons.

Mr. T. Curzon and his staff will carry with them on their tour all the leading samples, all the latest West End of London and New York and Canadian fashions and will, in short, be fully equipped to take orders and to measure clients for their tailoring

The arrival of the Principal and Staff will be duly advertised in the Dominion newspapers during the tour, and visitors will always receive hearty reception at the various hotels at which Messrs. Curzons will be staying during their progress through the country. They will always be honored by a visit from clients and will not importune orders. Briefly Messrs. Curzon intend to bring a touch of the Mother Country right into the Dominion. Look ou' for definite dates.

= THE COSY CORNER

DEVOTED PRINCIPALLY TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN

This is a little section of the paper, which from day to day will be devoted to subjects of special interest to women. Any and all of the ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to contribute to its columns, and to take part in its discussions. Suggestions and criticisms are invited by the editor. The hope is expressed that "The Cosy Corner" will fill a social need.

FINE LADY SWIMMERS

Miss Fletcher Wins English Championship, Beating Record Holder.

London, Aug. 11.-Miss Curwen, of Liverpool, gave Miss Jennic Fletcher, of Leicester, a great race at Leicester in the 100 yards ladies' English championship. These ladies took the lead from the start, and were practically level up to 66 2-5 yards, when Miss Curwen turned just ahead. The decision that Miss Fletcher had won in 1 min. 15 3-5 secs., and Miss Curwen was second in 1 min, 15 4-5 secs., was disputed. If Miss Curwen could have reproduced her form of the previous day she would probably have won with a good margin, for she covered the distance in 1 min. 12- 3-5 ecs., beating Miss Fletcher's vorld's record made at Manchester n October, 1909, by a second.

Miss Fletcher has not been quite o speedy since that splendid perormance. Indeed, she seems at resent to be a little faster than est year, when Miss Steers of Cardiff, beat her in 1 min. 13 3-5 ecs. Miss Steers did not defend er title this year, although a w days previous she easily won e 100 yards ladies' chanpionship Cardiff in 1 min, 20 secs. Miss leave swam excellently in gaining hird place to Miss Fletcher and liss Curwen. She covered the istance in 1 min, 18 4-5 secs., or Southern Counties 100 yards dies' championship.

McInnis had seen the light department men at work and warned them that the job would obstruct the road for the fire department. The work went on however, and the obstruction was encountered at a most critical moment.

Lesson from Guelph

Under the heading "Things a Fire Chief Ought to Know" the Guelph Herald of 28th ult., says:

"Instructions have been issued by 'the fire, light and markets committee to the city engineer and other departments who tear up the streets, that notice must be sent to the Fire Chief whenever a street is blocked from traffic."

Alderman Clayton's fire department recommendations might very well include provision of a similar nature.
