The letter, received by the postmaster at Anoka, similar to the first note, above, which had been sent to the postmaster at Minneapolis, said that Bremer's body could be found near Anoka. Receipt of the notes following the discovery of Bremer's automobile, above, which contained bloodstains, leading authorities to believe he had met with violence. Unemployment Relief Discussed Yesterday By House of Commons

Former Liberal Minister of Labor Charges That "Slave Camps" Are Being Operated by Government

OTTAWA, Feb. 6: (CP)-The House of Commons yesterday passed a resolution instructing the government to consider reducing the hours of labor as an unemployment relief measure. Members of all parties supported the proposal, referring, however, to the fact that the provinces actually held the right to legislate on hours of labor.
