Alberta Girl Tells of Her Alleged Relations With Alberta Premier

Claims She Was "Under Spell"—Supreme Court Hears Details in Damage Trial—Tried to Break it up But Could Not, She Says

EDMONTON, June 26: (CP)—Miss Vivian MacMillan, 22-year old stenographer, for nearly three hours yesterday told of her relations with Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta before Mr. Justice W. C. Ives and a jury of six in the Supreme Court of Alberta in her suit against the Premier for unstated damages for seduction. Mr. Brownlee has made a counter-claim of conspiracy.

Miss MacMillan told a story of intimate relations with the Premier in his home, at his office and in a large government car which he parked on rural roads. She told of efforts she had made to break away from her unhappy relations but always he had pleaded with her or got into a terrific rage. Many times he confessed his love for her. He had described his home life as unhappy with his wife an invalid. If his wife became pregnant again, it would mean her death, he had said. "I seemed to be under his spell," the girl testified. He seemed to be playing with me like a cat plays with a mouse. He had pursued her out of the car once when she had sought freedom from his "spell."

Spent Long Winter Marooned in Canadian Northland

Shown here are the "Mounflainers" party of aerial pleasure-seekers and explorers from Chicago, who spent the winter camped on the upper Halfway river in northern British Columbia, 150 flying miles from the nearest civilization, while they rebuilt their Fairchild plane which cracked up in a forced landing on August 21 last. Left to right, as they arrived at the Edmonton airport, are shown: John "Bonn" Bonnell, pilot; Ernie Kundson, old-time trapper of Dawson Creek, nicknamed "Silver Tip," and known to the Indians as "Keewatin," the North Wind, who drove three of the party to Edmonton in his car; Mrs. Betty Rossbach, "mother" to the whole party; Captain Carl A. Simmons, leader of the expedition; Alton "Pete" Seamans; Herman "Hap" Hatfield, chief mechanic, and 17-year-old Paul Rossbach. Below at left is seen Captain Carl Simmons as he arrived in Edmonton. Lower right shows plane as it lay after it cracked up in wilds of British Columbia.

In addition to the usual station facilities, it contained a lunch counter and it was in the living quarters of this that the fire originated, it is reported.

All Tenants To Pay For Water Recent Decision

The rental agencies of the city have decided to institute a uniform policy in connection with water rates. In the past some of the landlords have paid the rate and, in a good many cases, the tenants have done so. It has been decided that, in future, all tenants will have to pay their water rates. This is considered equitable, the agents state, because the tenants are the ones who consume the water and, therefore, they should pay for it. It is announced that adjustments will be made as soon as possible to bring all tenants in the city under the same general system.

Aksel Olsen; Southend, Capt. Jentoft Ellertsen; Gony, Capt. Alf Jensen, and Atl, Capt. W. Bussey. It was a perfect day.

A gallon of South African wine was raffled, the winner being Mrs. A. Martinsen with No. 81. G. M. Hunt had the married women all excited by offering an upholstered stool for the winner of a one hundred yard foot race. The lucky one was Mrs. C. Batt.

Winners of races were: Girls under 6—Ruby Andersen, O. Skog. Boys under 6—John Strand, Harold Skog. Girls under 10—Jean Krause, Ella Krause. Boys under 10—Lloyd Keays, Rolf Andersen. Girls under 14—Ella Krause, Signe Johnsen. Boys under 14—Elmer Clausen, John Skog.

Three-legged race—Miss Mildred Hunt and Elmer Clausen, Miss Thelma Skog and John Skog. Single men's race—A. Petersen, H. Knutsen.

The best averages from all races were run in a final. Winners for ladies were Mildred Hunt, first, and Signe Johnsen, second. Winners for men were Hans Knutsen, first, and Pete Petersen, second. A tug-of-war between married and single men resulted in the married pulling the single across the bar. The tug-of-war between married and single women resulted in the married women winning.

Capt. Aksel Olsen and Raldar Jensen got everyone rounded up and treated all to ice cream and soda water.

The committee in charge of the day included Gunnar Selvig, Ole Skog, John Storseth, George Anderson, Jenny Selvig and Inger Murvold.

STRIKE PROVES INJURIOUS

The big shipping strike in the United States is proving injurious to the trade of that country, a hardship to merchants and a great loss to the men who are refusing to work. In addition to that it is a great inconvenience to the people of the country generally and to the residents of Alaska. It is a general loss and an economic mistake.

We are not now discussing the rights or wrongs of the cause of the waterfront workers or the people who employ them. We know nothing about them and do not care to discuss things of which we are ignorant. What is meant is that strikes are always economically wrong. It ought to be possible to adjust differences just as it ought to be possible to prevent war, but so far no system has been discovered. Arbitration has proved useless because there has been found no way of enforcing the awards.

Some day it will be possible to make adjustments of this kind without ruining the trade of the country, depriving citizens of food and clothing and other necessities or luxuries of life and arousing passions which have a degrading effect on the whole nation.

Consumption of electric power in Canada has risen steadily since March 1933. Prior to that the decline was almost equally steady.

Possibly it was wrong of the people of Prince Rupert to expect anything from the Bennett public works distribution. Most of the money is apportioned to the southern part of the province but even there its influence will scarcely be felt. Victoria is raising a protest at getting so little, so it seems futile for us to protest.

Germany and Great Britain are having a difference over the collection of money. It is not a serious crisis as no European country is ready or willing to plunge the world into another war. France is really more dangerous today than the other nations. Fear of Germany is giving her a case of nerves.

WHIFFLETS

From the Waterfront

Reports continue to be received here telling of a good run of sockeye salmon on the Skeena River with the gill-netters making good catches. High boat for Sunnyside cannery on Friday had 106 fish.

Following is the scale of salmon prices which have been set by the packers for the 1934 season in Prince Rupert district waters:

Queen Charlotte Islands (except Massett Inlet and Naden Harbor)—Sockeyes, 40c; cohoes, 15c; pinkies, 3c; chums and white springs, 4c; red springs, 50c.

Massett Inlet and Naden Harbor—Pinks, 2½c; chums, 4c.

Naas, Skeena, Lowe Inlet—Sockeyes, 50c; cohoes, to August 17, 15c; later, 20c; chums and white springs, 4c; red springs, 50c; pinkies, 3½c.

Butedale, Klemtu, Namu, Bella Coola, Kimsquit—Sockeyes, 40c; cohoes, to August 17, 15c; later, 25c; chums and white springs, 4c; pinkies, 3½c.

Aboard the company's general service boat Florida B., Charles Thomas, managing director of the B. C. Packers, was a visitor to the Skeena and Naas Rivers at the end of the week in the course of an inspection trip to company salmon plants along the coast. Mr. Thomas returned south without calling in Prince Rupert this trip.

Norman Allen and Rupert Ross arrived in the city yesterday in a new trolling boat which Frank Allen had built for them in Vancouver. They were nine days on the trip. The boat is now tied up at the Lipsett wharf where the lads are overhauling it preparatory to leaving for the trolling grounds for the summer's fishing.

Aboard a 28-foot raised deck model cruiser Mavburneen, equipped with 35 h.p. gas engine, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Keeney, who were recently married in Seattle, were here at the end of the week enroute to Alaska on a honeymoon cruise. Arriving Saturday afternoon from the south, they tied up at the floats of the Prince Rupert Rowing and Yacht Club and left early Sunday morning for Ketchikan enroute to Juneau.

Gardening In Prince Rupert

One of the brightest little places in the city is that of J. Gibson, 133 Seventh Avenue East, just off McBride. He has clumps of Iceland poppies, orange, yellow and white on either side of a well kept lawn. There are other flowers but the poppies predominate and make a wonderful showing. O. A. Johnson, next door, has a well-kept little place adding to the appearance of the adjoining place. Visitors sometimes speculate on how attractive the street would be if every lot were kept like these two.

Almost across from the Johnson lot is that of W. D. Christison. In a few days this garden will be beautiful with spirea and other flowers. It is only one of a number of pretty places on that street.

People of Prince Rupert are beginning to realize that no lawn can look well unless it is mown at least once a week. If the mower cuts well the lawn looks well. If the grass is just beaten off, the ragged edges spoil the appearance. A lawn that is fertilized and in good condition should be mown twice a week for best results. No garden is complete without a lawn. It may not be a large patch of grass but it should be large enough to act as a setting for the flowers and shrubs that surround it.

The fire department had a call at 11:45 Saturday night to the corner of Seventh Avenue and Fulton Street. It was a false alarm.

Branch of Canadian Society Is Formed Here to Educate Members in Citizenship

On Saturday evening a branch of the Jugo-Slav Canadian Association was formed in the city and the following officers were elected: President, John Gurvich, Secretary, Sam Bill, Treasurer, L. Pustak.

The aim of the organization is to unite all the Jugo-Slavs of the country in one big society in order to encourage them to become citizens of the country, to educate them in the history of the country and its government and to help them to become useful members of the community.

It is realized that in a new country and in difficult times there is a tendency for men to be led away by smooth tongued orators and others and it is very desirable that a program of education be carried on to counteract insidious propaganda. This it is understood the new organization plans to do.
