Soviet To Erect Tallest Building

The central executive committee of the U.S.S.R. has just accepted this plan for the "Palace of the Soviets", the design of which was drawn by a group of architects in connection with other such groups. The exact purpose to which the structure will be put has not been announced but it is known that it will be a monument to Lenin, father of the Soviet government, and a statue of him, in heroic proportions, will stand at the pinnacle, reaching 3,000 or more feet into the upper atmosphere.

Capital Will Remain But Must Be Used to Help People--Pattullo

Economic Council Bill Advances—Premier Urges C. C. E. To Support Its Own Policies—Insurgent Member For Burrard Says He Would Be Premier

VICTORIA, March 24: (CP)—Codification of industry in British Columbia will be considered by the government but, if it is implemented, it will be through a board of industrial relations rather than the proposed economic council, Hon. George S. Pearson, minister of mines and labor, told the Legislature yesterday when the bill creating the economic council was in committee.

Earlier in the debate Premier Pattullo declared: "As I have said before here and will say again, we are in the process of a change leading to what I call 'socialized capitalism.' You will always have capital. It cannot be avoided. But it must be used for the good of the people at large—to promote individual initiative and cultural development."

Replying to Co-operative Commonwealth Federation criticisms, the Premier said: "In their criticisms of this measure my Opposition friends are attacking the very thing which they are advocating themselves. Surely they can see the underlying principles of the different bills which the government has placed before the House—not only this one but many others. Why do you think we brought in the Special Powers Act? Don't you see we must have power to deal with a system which is in process of change every day?"

The economic council bill later received third reading.

Pattullo or McGeer?

G. G. McGeer K.C., Liberal, Vancouver-Burrard, again raised objection to the Special Powers Act. "Ninety percent of the people of the province are behind the Special Powers Act and, if we had an election tomorrow, the honorable member from Vancouver-Burrard would not be here," said the Premier.

"No, he would probably be Prime Minister," retorted the redoubtable Mr. McGeer.

Vandals of Anyox Win Hoop Game Over Locals at Smelter Town To Go One Up in North B.C. Series

The Vandals of Anyox defeated Canadian National Recreation Association of Prince Rupert by a score of 38 to 23 at Anyox last night to go one game up in the series for the Northern British Columbia basketball championship. Although down two to one on the game count to date, the locals are still ahead on total scoring 110 to 97. If Anyox wins the second game tonight, it will have captured the honors for the series regardless of aggregate score. If Prince Rupert should win to tie up the game count, then the locals would take the series by virtue of having the highest point score.

RECITAL IS DELIGHTFUL

Prince Rupert Philharmonic Society Gives Good Account of Itself

Balanced Program

Combination With Junior Symphony Orchestra is Happily Made

Giving effective interpretation of a nicely balanced program which was skilfully attuned to the talents of the personnel, the Prince Rupert Philharmonic Society, with the assistance of the Junior Symphony Orchestra, presented a delightful recital last night in First Presbyterian Church. There was an audience which nearly filled the church and much pleasure was derived by all from the entertainment which was not heavy enough to be cumbersome nor yet so light as to be ineffectual.

The choir exhibited in marked degree the effects of a winter season of assiduous practice under the capable conductor, H. N. Brocklesby. In the past year or so, a good many rough spots have been smoothed off by this body of representative local vocalists and great improvements are to be noted in the way of tonal effect, precision of action and control. True there are certain spots where a few more good voices might be employed to advantage but any lack there may be might truthfully be said to be more in the way of quantity than quality.

The combination of the talents of the Philharmonic Society and the Junior Symphony Orchestra, the Union steamer Cardena, Capt. James Findlay, arrived in port at 9 o'clock last evening from the south and sailed at 12 midnight on her return to Vancouver and waypoints. Southbound this morning the vessel was to call at Surf Inlet on the West Coast of Princess Royal Island with passengers and freight for the mine there.

Licence Fee on Canneries Used Only as Cams to be Dropped; Other Changes in Regulations

VICTORIA, March 24: (CP)—When the fisheries committee of the Legislature met yesterday, it was announced that Clause Two of the Act making provision for a licence fee of $1500 to apply to non-operative canneries used for making, servicing or storage of gillnets or as boarding houses for fishermen would be deleted.

Clause Ten, placing responsibility upon fish buyers for seeing that any tax imposed upon fishermen is paid, will also be deleted.

A new provision in the Act will regulate foreign floating refrigerators operating in British Columbia waters.

Second reading was given in the House last night to amendments to the Fisheries Act which would bring herring reduction plants and salmon dry salteries under its control, requiring that production records be sent direct to the government.

Tonight's train, due from the east at 10 o'clock, was reported this morning to be on time.

GOVERNMENT WANTS TO ASSIST MINING

VICTORIA, March 24: (CP)—Premier T. D. Pattullo stated in the Legislature last night that the government desired to go the limit in aiding the mining industry and, if the legislators would clothe the government with the necessary authority, it would be in a better position to assist prospectors.

two outstanding vocal and instrumental organizations in Prince Rupert, is a very happy one and they were fitted in very effectively. In addition to the contributions of the Junior Symphony Orchestra, two delightful diversions on last night's program were contributed by Charles P. Balagno and Miss Nellie Lawrence.

Mr. Balagno, pioneer local piano master, always modest as to his personal talents and seldom enough heard in solo work in which his friends know well that he excels, chose as his offerings a suite of three characteristic selections from Edvard Grieg—the jaunty "To Spring," resonant "March of the Dwarfs" and the less well known "At Thy Feet." Rachminoff's delightful "Melodie" was also rendered with good taste.

The distinctive "Orientale," with its novel effects, and the Intermezzo from "L'Arlésienne" were delightfully rendered by Miss Lawrence on her violin.

As for the choral program, the opening number "Hear My Prayer" (Mendelssohn), soprano solo by Mrs. R. G. Large with chorus, was considered by many to be the outstanding item of the whole repertoire. Certainly Mrs. Large excelled and the well-toned chorus gave excellent support.

Detz's "Listen to the Lambs," with Mrs. Ernest Anderson as soloist, and Dunhill's "The Cloths of Heaven" were handled sweetly by the ladies' chorus. The instrumental trio of Miss Nellie Lawrence, A. C. Cameron and A. J. Lancaster in accompaniment was effective in the latter.

The rousing Soldiers' Chorus from "Faust," with full orchestral accompaniment, concluded the first part of the program.

Two folk songs, "Londonderry Air" and "John Peel" were offered after the intermission. The former was probably the weakest number on the entire program but the latter was undoubtedly one of the best.

The Madrigal from "The Mikado," ever delightful and "There is a Lady," with fine tonal effects, were most acceptable.

Sea chanties are always popular and the four presented last night with Dr. R. G. Large as soloist went over well.

The closing numbers were the spiritual-like "Going Home" from the "New World Symphony," Dvorak and a composition by the conductor himself entitled "Farewell."

Comment on the recital would not be complete without mention of the splendid service again rendered as piano accompanist by Mr. Balagno. Mr. Balagno's intended departure from Prince Rupert will be a severe loss to the local musical world.

The complete program was as follows:

Soprano solo and chorus, "Hear My Prayer" (Mendelssohn), soloist, Mrs. R. G. Large.

Ladies' chorus, (a) "Listen to the Lambs" (Detz), soloist, Mrs. E. Anderson; (b) "The Cloths of Heaven" (arranged by H. N. Brocklesby), (Dunhill), instrumental trio by Miss N. Lawrence, A. C. Cameron and A. J. Lancaster.

Violin solo, (a) "Orientale" (Cesar Cui); (b) "Intermezzo from L'Arlésienne" (Bizet), Miss N. Lawrence.

Chorus, (a) Madrigal from "The Mikado" (Sullivan); (b) "There is a Lady" (arranged by Key), (Purcell).

Old Halibut Boats Returning to Game—Robert Shruballs' New Boat Nearly Ready—Salmon And Herring Scarce

Prospects of more favorable market conditions attracted several of the old timers among Prince Rupert halibut vessels to the banks at the opening of this season after having been out of the halibut game last season. Among these have been the P. Dorreen, Ringleader, Borgund, Drott and Domino II, all of which were in with catches during the past week. The Tordenskjold and Daily were well known vessels of the American fleet which landed catches at Prince Rupert during the past week after having not been seen in the port for over a year.

Back in Prince Rupert to get thawed out after going through a rather rigorous winter at Cedarvale, where he now makes his home, Alex (Doc) Clapperton, former assistant wharfinger at the Government Wharf, arrived from the interior on Wednesday morning of this week and is a guest at the Knox Hotel. Doc, who is in town to consult with the medical fraternity, is being given a hearty welcome by his many old friends along the waterfront as well as in town generally. Last evening he was observed at the Government Wharf, being down to renew acquaintance with Capt. Steve Gray and his lads on the Princess Adelaide and to say his respects to his former chief, George Smith, and his successor, Pete Anderson. Of course, there was great falling upon necks as night had been expected. Doc, who left Prince Rupert last November, to make his home in the interior, found the persistent sub-zero weather at Cedarvale rather trying after having been used so long to Prince Rupert's balmy atmosphere. He is looking forward to the summer being somewhat more agreeable.

Canadian boats and 716,000 pounds from American.

News has reached the city of the success of Harry Robb of the local unit of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve in passing two examinations in torpedo work at Esquimalt naval barracks where he has been for the past few weeks. In one test he made the admirable percentage of 91 marks and in the other 84. He is now studying for a third test in mines and demolitions and is expected to be returning home in about two weeks' time.

Salmon Liver Possibility

Recent studies have shown that the oil content in salmon livers is much lower than in the livers of various other fish—but they have also shown that the salmon oil is very rich in Vitamin A. As a matter of fact, the poorest sample of salmon liver oil examined in the investigation was found to contain twice as much Vitamin A, per gram, as was present in a recognized medicinal liver oil with which comparisons were made, and the richest salmon sample forty times as much! The importance of the findings, of course, comes from the fact that Vitamin A is an essential health-making substance and from the further fact that quantities of livers could be obtained in the course of salmon canning operations if their utilization for oil production were undertaken. The studies in connection with the Vitamin A potency of the salmon livers have been carried on at the Pacific Fisheries Experimental station at Prince Rupert. While the richness of salmon liver oil as a source of Vitamin A is the main point established by the work, another interesting fact is that livers from spring salmon caught in the Skeena River area yielded the richest oil samples. Next came samples from Vancouver district springs, then oil from sockeye taken in different areas. Coho, pink and chum livers were less potent than the others. It was brought out that the oils from the salmon livers are all rather high in iodine value, and iodine, as is now well known, is the preventative of such diseases as goitre.

Capt. and Mrs. Paul Armour and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Fulton, who are on a trip to Vancouver aboard the Armour Salvage Co.'s service boat Salvage Princess, are expected to be returning home about Monday or Tuesday of next week from the south.

New Boat Nearly Ready

Bob, Shruballs' new forty-foot halibut boat, which has been built by Alex Wylie at Seal Cove, is nearing completion and within the next month should be ready for sea. Last week it was towed down the harbor to the Pacific Machine Works plant where the 25 h.p. Wacaman (Norwegian) semi-diesel engine, with which it is to be equipped, was dropped in. The vessel then went back to Seal Cove and installation of the engine will proceed in about two weeks after finishing touches have been put on the actual construction of the boat.

Herring seining is being continued by Gammon & Watt's scineboat Zenardi for the reduction plant of Nelson Bros. Ltd. at Tucks Inlet. Upwards of 100 tons of the fish is being taken daily around Jap Inlet, Porcher Island and Eddy Pass, just outside Prince Rupert Harbor.

Ostensibly due to the shifty herring run, spring salmon have been reported scarce of late in waters contiguous to Prince Rupert Harbor and comparatively few fish have been coming in. A few, however, are being picked up in the vicinity of Metlakatla Passage by hand trollers and these are meeting with ready sale on the fresh fish market at Prince Rupert.

Halibut prices fell off at Prince Rupert during the past week but, considering the heaviness of landings aggregating 715,300 pounds of which 227,500 pounds was brought in by twenty-one Canadian vessels and 487,800 pounds by twenty-three American bottoms, the bids held up fairly well—and, indeed, were vastly better than were being paid at the opening of the 1933 season. The price range on Canadian fish for the week was from 5c and 4c to 5.3c and 4.1c and for American fish from 6c and 4c to 7c and 4c. High price of the week for Canadian fish—5.3c and 4c—was paid to the Alice May for 3,000 pounds. The top bid of the week for American fish—7c and 4c—was paid the Gloria and Lumen for catches of 15,000 and 10,000 pounds respectively. The season's aggregate of landings up to and including yesterday was 1,216,066 pounds of which 499,696 pounds was from

Added testimony to the "very excellent work" done on behalf of the fishing industry by Canada's fisheries experimental stations has recently been given by a British Columbia firm which traces its success in certain canning operations directly to the advice and assistance given by the station at Prince Rupert. Taking up crab canning, an enterprise in which it had no previous experience, the firm obtained technical assistance from the station, with the result that it put on the market "a product that was readily sold" and was described by buyers as second to none available in the Dominion. "We sincerely hope," says a letter written by the firm a few weeks ago, "that the very excellent and valuable work that is being done by the Experimental Station for the fisheries in general is allowed to be carried on, and we must say we appreciate it to the utmost."

But that's only part of the story. Encouraged by the success of its crab canning venture, and relying on further assistance from the Prince Rupert station, the firm is now planning to enter upon other canning operations. As a matter of fact, there have been numerous other cases in which the fisheries experimental station at Prince Rupert have lent very useful co-operation to persons and firms engaged in the fishing industry.

Richard Nelson, secretary-treasurer of Nelson Bros. Fisheries Limited, arrived in the city on the Princess Adelaide yesterday afternoon from Vancouver to pay a visit of inspection to the local reduction plant which his company operates. He will be here for the next few days.
