AN INSULT TO CANADIAN INTELLIGENCE

(Special to the Daily News)

Simcoe, Ontario, August 16.—Here in the "home of reciprocity," before an immense audience which packed every inch of the space in the Town Hall, Sir Wilfrid Laurier commenced his campaign last night.

In a masterly speech, full of spirit, he gave an exposition of the principles of the reciprocity movement that charmed the large audience. . The idea that the consummation of reciprocity would mean the annexation of Canada to the United States he scoffed at and said it was 'an insult to the intelligence of the Canadian people." He declared that the reciprocity agreement would be ratified soon after the House re-assembled, for he was confident that the Liberals would be returned to power.

WHAT RECIPROCITY WILL DO

In addition to reducing the cost of living, opening up great markets for our lumber, our fish and our minerals, reciprocity will double the present population of Prince Rupert. This statement is made on the authority of J. P. Todd of Seattle, whom the Seattle Daily Times declares is "the best posted man on fishing matters in the Northwest."

Not that J. P. Todd is a friend of reciprocity. J. P. Todd is allied to those "interests" who prosper under a tariff. His men have been accustomed to go in their boats out to the Canadian halibut banks and load up. The Canadian fishermen could not come into the market. There was a duty of a cent a pound on the fish caught by a Canadian fisherman. This corralled the market for J. P. Todd and the Seattle fishermen, leaving the Canadian fishermen out in the cold.

Times:

"Under the reciprocity bill fish are admitted free of duty. If this measure carries, the halibut fleet that makes Seattle its headquarters will move to Prince Rupert as soon as the Grand Trunk Pacific is completed to the Coast."

"The loss to Seattle will be whatever money or business 6,000 fishermen involve."

What money and business do six thousand fishermen involve? In the first place there are the wives and families of the married fishermen. Six thousand fishermen will have at least six thousand about to start at once on the purpose. Funeral obsequies condependents; probably twice that amount.

of a few cleared valleys, is covered with forests. The spectacle of forest covered mountains which greets the eye of every Prince Ruperter which ever way he turns, is the spectacle which greets the prospector and traveller all over the country. The whole of the inland passage Mayor, Admiral, Commodore, Commander, Harbor from Vancouver to Prince Rupert is practically lined with forests which stretch as far as the eye can see, and for hundreds of miles beyond.

Much of this land is staked and leased by lumbermen and speculators, but very little effort is made to cut the timber. The reason is that there is not a sufficient market. Our forest wealth must remain potential wealth merely. For lack of a sufficient market it cannot be turned into money or into other commodities.

A few hundred miles south of Vancouver is a great country almost devoid of trees. Every foot of lumber required there has to be imported. The logical thing to do would be to import it from British Columbia where our forests are choked with the uncut growth. But the United States tariff imposes a tax of $1.25 per thousand on British Columbia lumber to keep British Columbia lumber out of the markets of the at the above advt. which appears South Pacific States.

Billions of feet of lumber are taken to San Pedro and San Diego agination is the sincerest form of from Washington and Oregon, but not from British Columbia.

Reciprocity will make trade for lines of vessels carrying lumber

Reciprocity will open the market of the Pacific States immediately. In two years' time the Panama Canal will be open to the vessels of the world. Reciprocity plus the Panama Canal, in two years' time will open the markets of every state on the Atlantic coast from Texas to Maine to the lumber of British Columbia.

No wonder the lumbermen of British Columbia want reciprocity. Reciprocity means the dawn of a new and brighter day in British WEDNESDAY, Aug. 16 Columbia's commercial history.
