Disabled Norwegian Motorship Freighter in Tow of Coastguard

Two Officers and Steward of Childar Swept to Death in Storm After Wreck While Fourth Member of Crew Killed by Falling Gear

ASTORIA, May 5: (CP)—Two officers and a steward of the Norwegian motorship Childar were swept to their deaths in a howling gale off Peacock Spit at the mouth of the Columbia River Friday morning and a fourth member of the crew was killed by falling gear while three others were severely injured, the latter being landed here. The coastguard ship Red Wing managed to get a line aboard the stricken craft and is now towing her northward to Puget Sound. Stripped of her masts and engines as a result of being beaten on the reefs by the storm following her stranding, the Childar, which went ashore while bound from Portland to South Africa with a cargo of British Columbia lumber, is in bad shape. Wireless messages from the master of the Childar received today stated that it was feared that the vessel might break up and that it was considered advisable to take off those of the crew who wished to leave the ship. The vessel was north of Gray's Harbor today in tow of the Red Wing.

QUAKE FELT IN SOUTH

Vancouver and Victoria Shaken But Not Felt Here—Sharp Disturbance at Anchorage

According to advices received in the city quite distinct earthquake shocks were felt shortly after 8 o'clock last night in Vancouver, Victoria, the lower mainland and Vancouver Island generally and Washington State. The Digby Island meteorological station reports having recorded no disturbance locally, nor have there been reports of any local residents feeling one at that time. The disturbance is reported to have made houses in the south tremble, furniture shaking and dishes rattling. There was no damage, however, it is understood.

Lasting ninety seconds and breaking plate glass windows in several stores as well as shaking goods from the shelves, a sharp earthquake was felt at Anchorage, Alaska, on Thursday evening at 6:35. It was felt as far north as Fairbanks and Nenana and to the westward. F. Napier Denison, Dominion meteorologist at Victoria, expressed the opinion that last night's shock was probably a "sympathetic disturbance" on the earth's crust following widespread shocks in Alaska Thursday. He stated that seismograph records indicated the shock originated under water off the Straits of Juan de Fuca.

P. J. McGettigan of Savory, plaintiff in an action at the spring session of the Supreme Court here in which the Canadian National Railways is being sued in the sum of $1600 for damages owing to cattle having been allegedly run over and killed by trains in the interior, was on the witness stand before Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson all day yesterday. He was still under cross-examination when the case adjourned last evening until this morning.

In the evening the City Commissioner and the members of the Chamber of Commerce executive will be guests of the visitors at dinner aboard the boat and, after dinner, other members of the chamber are asked to meet the visitors on the ship.

Trotsky Organizer In U.S.

While the leader of the party, Leon Trotsky, inset, exiled Russian Communist, is casting about for a place to live in safety, Arne Swaback, organizer for Trotsky's Fourth Internationale, is pictured following his arrival in New York city to carry on organization work in the United States. Ordered to leave France after he was discovered living secretly near Paris—plotting new "world revolutions", Trotsky is reported to have telegraphed the Turkish government, asking permission to return to Turkey. The Trotsky group differs from the Communist party chiefly in its policy of international rather than national socialism.

WEDDED IN VANCOUVER

Miss Doreen Woods, Formerly Of This City, Bride of Alexander Neilson

A very pretty wedding took place in Vancouver last Saturday at 8:00 a.m., when Rev. S. Robertson-Orr united in marriage Doreen Shambrook, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Woods of Abbotsford, and Alexander Montgomery Neilson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Neilson of Seventh Ave. West, Vancouver.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the groom's parents in the presence of relatives and intimate friends of the two families. In the living room, where the service was held, white lilac, roses and pink tulips formed the floral decoration. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an attractive suit of marine blue, with a corsage bouquet of Sweetheart Roses. Her hat was of fine gray straw and silk with accessories to match.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Enid Nadyne Woods, as bridesmaid, and the groomsmen was Alexander Montgomery, uncle of the groom.

After a brief honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Neilson will take up residence at 2431 Vine Street, Vancouver.

NORTH YORK

Unless a general election is called in the comparatively near future, it will be necessary to hold a by-election in the federal constituency of North York, the Conservative member for which, Col. T. Herbert Lennox, died this week. Such a by-election would be another important test of public opinion as far as the Bennett government is concerned. Liberals and other opponents of Premier Bennett claim that he is losing his grip in traditionally Conservative Ontario and the recent by-election in North Oxford, where the Liberal won by a huge majority, seemed to confirm this opinion. The result in North York, which is one of the Toronto seats, will be a sign of the times.

True, North York cannot be said to be a traditionally Conservative seat for it is the old political home of Former Premier W. L. Mackenzie King who, it is to be recalled, was defeated there in the general election of 1925 by the late Col. Lennox. After losing the Toronto seat, Mr. King re-entered Parliament by way of Prince Albert constituency in Saskatchewan which seat he has since held. In the 1926 election Col. Lennox retained North York by defeating H. A. Sifton, scion of a famous Liberal family, and in 1930 was re-elected over W. P. Mulock, another prominent Liberal.

As North York goes in the by-election, should one be held, so may Canada. It should be good fighting ground.

G. G. McGEER IN EAST

G. G. McGeer seems to have taken Ottawa by storm in elucidating to the Banking Committee his plan for a central bank and for a credit system which would replace our present financial system. Following his evidence before the committee he was immediately invited to give addresses on the subject in Toronto and Windsor and he will broadcast in Toronto tonight. He was dinner guest of Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King Wednesday evening and it is hinted that the leader of the Liberals at Ottawa is in full accord with him in his proposed policy.

It is now being suggested that McGeer should go into federal politics, stump the country on his financial policy and go into the next Mackenzie King administration as minister of finance. At any rate the financial war is on and British Columbia is being heard at the nation's capital as never before.

DANCING DISPLAY

Pretty Entertainment Last Night By Mrs. James Watt's Pupils

Another of the increasingly popular dancing displays by the pupils of Mrs. James Watt was given in the Oddfellows' Hall last evening before an appreciative audience of over 200 persons.

The program, which was opened by ten tiny tots who danced the Haymakers' Jig, included square dancing, country dancing and round dancing. Forty-five took part and, of these, 25 were in Highland costume.

Among the outstanding features of the evening was the Highland Reel and Irish Jig performed by eight girls in costume, being Muriel Eby, Jean Krause, Margaret Lamb, Helen McDonald, Edith Ritchie, Joan Squire, Betty Wilkinson and Jean Watt. The Sworn Dance by sixteen pupils (fourteen girls and two boys) was performed with neatness and finish. In addition to others those participating included Jock Watt, George McAfee, Gertie Garlick, Georgina Lamb, Jean Smith, Doreen Croxford, Jean McAfee and Thomasina Krause.

Three tiny beginners, Peggy Barclay, Norma Squire and Dorothy Smith, delighted the audience with the Highland Fling. Three more advanced pupils, Dorothy Davidson, Isobel Gay and Pat Love, also did the Fling and, along with June Ayres and Ella Murray, gave an exhibition of the sword dance.

Another dance which was well received was the Seann Truibhas by eleven girls. The group dancing, which included the Ninesome Reel, polkas and many other numbers, in which an additional twenty-five pupils participated, was very pleasing.

Jas. Hadden was master of ceremonies for the evening and music was supplied by John Bremner, J. B. McKay, Jas. L. Lee and James Watt.

Following the exhibition two hours of dancing was enjoyed by the grownups.

Quick Relief Now From Neuralgia

Real ASPIRIN Starts Taking Hold in Few Minutes

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia... the fastest safe relief, it is said, yet discovered. Those results are due to a scientific discovery by which an Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. An Aspirin Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And thus is ready to go to work almost instantly. When you buy, though, be on guard against substitutes. To be sure you get ASPIRIN's quick relief, be sure the name Bayer in the form of a cross is on every tablet of Aspirin.

Soil Conditions and Plant Growth

What is Meant by Fertile Soil—Prince Rupert Soil is Mostly Peat, Is Badly Waterlogged and Must be Converted

(By R. H. BEDFORD)

PART III.
The plant uses abundantly nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium and, for the matter of marshalling the facts in order for easy understanding, these three substances might be classified as the "basic plant ration" to which the others are added in different quantity depending upon the particular kind of plant and the soil. A fertile soil will have an abundant and easily available supply of these food substances.

Much thought has been given by scientists to the classification of soils during the past decade but it will suffice for the purpose of comparison to divide them into two major groups—mineral and humus or peat soils. The mineral soil is derived from rock material which constitutes its framework. It might be looked upon as the skeleton of the soil. In among these rock particles are tiny pieces of dead vegetation that have grown since the soil occupied its present position. There are, of course, many types of soil even within short distances. This is because of the many different kinds of rock, in the erratic distribution of which they have been formed and the manner in which they have been spread over the earth by the varied climatic changes during the millions of years of their making. Some mineral soils are much darker than others. That condition is generally due to a rather high amount of dead vegetation incorporated in it and partly decomposed by the micro-organisms. Others are quite light and that is generally due to a small amount of dead vegetation which has not been so energetically decomposed.

Although there is this variation in the vegetation or organic material, there is also a decided difference in the kind of rock of the mineral soils. And both of these variables, the vegetation and mineral, each play an important role in the relative fertility of the soil. Instead of the dead vegetation becoming incorporated with the mineral particles it may lie on the surface of the soil, where it decays to form peat, the mineral part remaining underneath, forming generally an impervious layer of clay. The formation of peat generally takes place in those regions where the climate is cool and wet, as in Prince Rupert. Peat holds a large quantity of water and, because of this, it swells up and stops the circulation of air and water, so that a waterlogged condition results which impedes the rotting of the dead vegetation. Under these conditions the raw vegetation accumulates and forms the typical peat moors. Three main types of peat moors are distinguished according to their vegetation and the climatic and topographical conditions: (1) High Moor—formed under conditions of heavy rainfall. This is very infertile and is generally dominated by the moss known as sphagnum, one of the few plants that can survive the waterlogged and highly acid conditions. (2) Heath is formed where the climate is drier. (3) Low Moor is formed in low lying wet places. This type of moor will generally yield a fertile soil if properly drained.

In Prince Rupert the virgin soil is characterized as a high moor type of peat, which is to say, that it consists mostly of sphagnum moss. This virgin peat soil by itself is quite unsuited for the growth of flowers and vegetables. Why? Because (1) it is generally waterlogged, (2) it does not contain certain plant foods that are essential for the nourishment of the growing plant, (3) it is much too acid for most plants. Consideration of these three conditions will indicate just what is necessary to convert such infertile soil into a productive one.

Oscar Fulton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Fulton of this city, following the close of his year's studies at the University of British Columbia in Vancouver, is planning on leaving the southern city within the next few days to make his way to his home here by bicycle over the Cariboo and central interior highways.

WATERFRONT WHIFFS

Heaviness of Halibut Catch Expected to Shorten Up Season—Weather Unfavorable For Trollers—Prince Charles to be Surveyed

With landings for the 1934 season already heavier than those recorded up to a corresponding date last year despite the fact that fishing operations were about a month later in starting this year, prospects are that the 1934 halibut fishing season will be a short one on the Pacific Coast. If the fishing keeps up at its present rate, the quota set by the International Fisheries Commission for Area No. 2, in which most of the Prince Rupert boats operate, will have been reached by August, it is estimated, leaving only the more remote banks of Area No. 3 open for fall fishing by the larger vessels. In view of the prospective shortness of the season, it is a fortunate thing for the fleet that the fishing is proving generally profitable, not a single "hole trip" having been reported by the entire Prince Rupert fleet so far this year.

Landings for the present season up to and including yesterday had reached a total of 4,000,765 pounds of which 2,062,365 pounds was from Canadian vessels and 1,938,400 pounds from American.

For the week ending yesterday landings amounted to 415,300 pounds including 176,300 pounds from Canadian boats and 239,000 pounds from American. Prices during the week, although still permitting of profitable operation, were rather on the low side, due somewhat, no doubt, to uncertain train service to the eastern markets. The high price of the week for Canadian fish was 5.6c and 4.5c which the Relief received for 17,000 pounds and the low 5c and 4c which the Prosperity A. and R. W. received for catches of 19,500 and 13,000 pounds respectively. For American fish the high price of the week was 7.6c and 5c which the Reliance I received for 9,000 pounds and the low 7c and 5c which a number of boats received.

Landings here yesterday totaled 64,800 pounds of which 22,500 pounds was from American boats and 42,300 pounds from Canadian. Prices were 7c and 5c for American fish and from 5c and 4.5c to 5.5c and 4.5c for Canadians.

Salmon Catch Increasing

Although somewhat unfavorable weather during the week has mitigated against successful fishing, movement of spring salmon caught by troll fishermen into Prince Rupert is steadily increasing. There are now quite a large number of boats on the trolling grounds and more are all ready in port to go out just as soon as weather conditions improve. Soon the trolling season should be in full swing.

Otto C. Young, mechanical engineer attached to the staff of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station, whose specialty is refrigeration, will be leaving late this month for a two months' trip east. He will take his Master of Science final examinations at the University of Saskatchewan at Saskatoon, will visit in Wisconsin, for which state Mrs. Young and family left a short time ago, and is also planning on taking in the Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago.

Although no definite orders have yet been received at the yard, it is expected that the C. N. R. steamer Prince Charles, which has been tied up in idleness for the past couple of years at the local dry dock, will shortly be taken on the pontoons for survey and overhaul. While no official announcement has been made, it is understood that the vessel will see some service again during the coming summer, possibly relieving the steamer Prince John on the run between here and Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands. The overhaul job on the Charles may entail considerable work.

The Union Oil Co.'s tank scow arrived in port yesterday afternoon from Vancouver, where it has been spending the winter, enroute to North Island where it will again be located during the trolling season. It was brought north in tow of the company's tanker Unacana and will be taken on from here to North Island by a local towboat tomorrow. Capt. James Adam, marine superintendent for the Union Oil Co., arrived yesterday afternoon on the Princess Adelaide from Vancouver to accompany the barge to the Islands and see that it is safely moored there. Mr. and Mrs. George Smith are again in charge of the barge.

Again delayed by having had heavy freights for cannery points along the coast, Union steamer Cardena, Capt. Ernest Georgeson, did not arrive in port until 11:30 a.m. today from the south. More than twelve hours late, the vessel sailed early this afternoon on her return south.

Building Trolling Boat

Norman Allen of this city, who has been studying for the past year in Vancouver, is having a trolling boat built in Vancouver this spring and will install in it an engine which he already has. Accompanied by Rupert Ross, also formerly of this city, Norman plans on leaving Vancouver in June in the new boat for Prince Rupert, if being the intention of the boys to engage in fishing in local waters during the summer.

With a good list of northerners on board including White Pass & Yukon Route employees, mining men and others, C. P. R. steamer Princess Norah, Capt. William Palmer, arrived in port at 9 o'clock this morning from Vancouver, sailing an hour or so later for Skagway and other Alaska points whence she is due to return here southbound next Wednesday afternoon. The vessel had 63 passengers aboard. Two disembarked here while nine went north from here aboard her.

THREATENS TRADE WAR

Great Britain Delivers Ultimatum To Japan on Matter of Textile Exports

LONDON, Eng., May 5.—Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, told the Japanese ambassador yesterday that, unless Japan yielded to Great Britain's demand to partition the world's markets on the basis of reduced Japanese textile export, Britain was prepared to declare a trade war on Japan.

motorship Alert, which came here with Deputy United States Marshal Caswell of Ketchikan on board to take north a prisoner who is charged with theft of a gasboat at Wrangell, sailed yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from here on its return north.

Imperial Oil Co.'s small tanker Marvolute, Capt. M. A. Gerrard, is again operating in northern waters engaged out of the company's local station in supplying the company's various smaller stations along the coast. The Marvolute made a trip to Squadaree yesterday and was back here this morning.

Nearly all the white trollers of Queen Charlotte City have left there for the West Coast trolling grounds. It is reported that the Skidegate fleet will make Seal Inlet their base this season. Several Prince Rupert trollers have passed through Skidegate Inlet enroute to the trolling grounds.
