LOCAL RAILWAY SITUATION DISCUSSED WITH C.N.R. HEADS

Building Up of This Port and District Is Urged by Delegation

Company Complimented on Policy in Regard to Dry Dock And Also For Lowering Interior Produce Rates— Mutual Benefit of Local Development Stressed

The committee of the Chamber of Commerce which met Hon. C. P. Fullerton, chairman of the board of trustees, and S. J. Hungerford, president of the Canadian National Railways, yesterday presented to them a memorandum in regard to relations between the railway and the city of Prince Rupert. It complimented the company on the policy of overhauling many of its vessels in the Prince Rupert shipyard operated by the railway and suggested that it would be good business for the railway to overhaul all its ships in its own yard at Prince Rupert and thus secure the profit for itself.

The memorandum further complimented the company on the improved rate to farmers of the interior on their products and on the low rate of carrying cars to and from Vancouver. It asked for an extension of this to the railway between Prince Rupert and Terrace or Hazelton.

The attention of the railway heads was called to the fact that, when they helped to build up Prince Rupert, they secured all the railway business to themselves but, when they built up Vancouver, they divided it with another company. The memorandum asked that the business of the Queen Charlotte Islands be centred at Prince Rupert instead of at Vancouver as at present; that the tourist business of Prince Rupert and surrounding country be catered to; that Prince Rupert people be given an opportunity to secure employment on the Canadian National steamships; that railway and steamship purchases be made in Prince Rupert whenever possible.

The memorandum suggested that, as Prince Rupert was placed on the map by the railway as the terminus of a transcontinental system and the townsites laid out in such a manner as to accommodate 40,000 people and this has become a burden on the ratepayers, every effort should be made by the railway to improve business in the city.

GOLF COURSE PROPOSED

In answer to the query as to what Prince Rupert needs, the first reply received this morning is that the city needs a golf course. The writer suggests a nine-hole course commencing at McBride Street along the foot of the mountain. He suggests that the unemployed could be put to work at forty cents an hour for the winter and the city could collect a nice revenue in a year or two, presumably from fees from players. He concluded "Smithers has a golf course. Why not Prince Rupert?"

The only thing that has kept Prince Rupert from having a golf course years ago is the matter of costs. Various estimates have been made as to how much money would have to be spent to make a nine-hole course that would be good enough for a player to get enjoyment out of it. Twenty thousand dollars is about the smallest sum mentioned but the consensus of opinion is that more would be needed. In the past it was proposed to construct the course along Montreal Heights just beyond where the highway leaves Eleventh Avenue. The country there is open and the chief difficulty would be to drain the muskeg. The land is owned by the city and is so far out that it will doubtless be years before it is needed for building purposes. As our correspondent suggests it could be made a source of revenue to the city but on the other hand the cost would be great. It is probable that the average citizen would prefer to have relief money spent on roads rather than on a golf course. Although it must be admitted that golf would be a great attraction to tourists, possibly the one thing needed to induce them to stop off here.

We know of no endeavor that would be of more benefit to the city than the construction of a first rate golf course and it is well worth consideration.

REPLY TO NATIVES

Editor, Daily News:—
A copy of this letter has been forwarded to each of the signatories to the letter which appeared in this paper on August 24.

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter, dated August 24, addressed to me, and which also appeared in the newspapers in this city, on the above date.

"I have inquired of the police regarding the protest which you make therein, and they emphatically informed me that the policy which they have pursued during the recent Exhibition Week has in no wise differed from that which they have ordinarily pursued during the past year or in former years, in connection with the enforcement of law and order; and also that they make no distinction between the treatment accorded to your people and that which they accord to the citizens of Prince Rupert.

"For your information I may say that, during the week ending August 25, twenty-one Indians pleaded guilty to charges of being drunk and disorderly, and one pleaded not guilty and was convicted on the evidence of three policemen. There were no acquittals. I may say further that I am informed by the police that in no case was any Indian arrested that was not disorderly."

SAFETY

COMFORT
SERVICE

Your Goodwill is the Aim of C.N.R. Employees.

Some people are inclined to think of the railway worker as just a cog in a great machine consisting of endless tracks and engines and stations and cars—as a being almost mechanical whose duty begins and ends with doing his appointed part in keeping the machine going. They incline to overlook the personal and individual interest he has in seeing that the utmost satisfaction is given to everyone, of whatever age or rank, who uses the services of the railway which he helps to operate. Such an attitude is not correct and leaves out of account one of the most important factors which contribute to the pleasure of travel.

An outstanding reason for the safety and comfort which the C. N. R. provides is to be found in its personnel. Each employee on whom the slightest responsibility rests is first of all an efficient worker—whatever his job he is qualified to perform it. But the C. N. R. requires that he be more than an efficient and dependable worker.

In all his relations with the public he is trained to be—and is anxious to be—of service to them: . . . to be helpful . . . to be thoughtful . . . to be courteous . . . to do all possible to make travel agreeable and pleasant. He is determined to obtain the goodwill of his company's patrons—the goodwill which is the lifeblood of a railway and all engaged in it.

There is real satisfaction in knowing that when your friends and relatives, young or old, travel by the C. N. R. they are not only having placed at their service all the resources of a great railway system, but they are also the recipients of the personal consideration of each railway worker or attendant with whom they may come in contact. And of course this feeling is not lessened when it is one's self who is travelling.

Travel by C. N. R. on your next trip—be it long or short—and see how highly your goodwill is esteemed. You will be pleased.

George Frizzell Entertained Many Friends on Sunday

Sunday afternoon marked another forward step in the development of Port Essington and district when George Frizzell entertained about seventy of his friends at the official opening of his hot springs situated about two miles above Port Essington.

Mr. Frizzell now has eight cabins and an apartment house and two tanks available for use of his guests. One of the tanks is eighteen feet long, ten feet wide and six feet deep at one end. Many availed themselves of the opportunity to take a plunge and swim around in the hot springs water.

Luncheon was served on the spacious lawn in front of the cabins from where a delightful view of the surrounding district could be seen. The setting bordered on the river with the snow-capped mountains in the distance. An occasional fish could be seen jumping in the river.

Transportation of Mr. Frizzell's many friends and well wishers in his new enterprise was under the capable charge of Stewart Donaldson. The boats Norbec, Capt. Vic Grant; Two Rivers, Capt. Donaldson, and the Laura F. were used to convey the party from Port Essington and return.

Two Hundred and Fifty Chinese Left Homeless by Fire Which Swept Settlement Near Chilliwack

CHILLIWACK, Aug. 28. (CP)—Eight of nine large buildings in a Chinese settlement west of here were destroyed by fire early yesterday, dozens of residents losing their homes and possessions.

Some 250 men, women and children, residents of the settlement, which is three-quarters of a mile outside the Chilliwack city limits, spent last night in the open. Their only coverings were donations by neighboring white residents or meagre belongings saved when they were forced to flee in their night clothes from their blazing homes.

The normal population of the settlement is about 100 but 150 Chinese from other fields in the valley were staying with friends while working in the hop fields.
