New Japanese Naval Ratio Schedule Now Under Consideration

TOKYO, Japan, May 29:—The governments of Great Britain and United States have under consideration a new naval building ratio schedule for the nations proposed by Japan under which Japan would be allowed increased tonnage, particularly in the cruiser class. The Japanese question and the German-French dispute will be undoubtedly the major stumbling blocks at the forthcoming disarmament conference.

Mining Improvement on Queen Charlottes Seen by District Engineer During Recent Visit

Plenty of Opportunities There For Intensive Prospecting; Good Results Should be Obtained

That Queen Charlotte Islands will eventually have at least one gold mine and perhaps more is the expectation of the resident mining engineer, Dr. J. T. Mandy, who recently visited the sections where prospecting and exploring has been going on. Good progress has been made since his previous visit but he says there is plenty of opportunity for intensive prospecting, especially on the west coast and in the Cumshewa district where the geological conditions are favorable. "Intensive prospecting would be pretty sure to bring results," he said.

One of the promising prospects examined by Dr. Mandy on his recent visit was that at Copper Bay of a well known resident of this district named James Peacock. He has located some good looking ore on the beach in which he says there are good gold values. Samples of this were taken by the engineer and the result of the assay will prove interesting. Peacock is now trying to pick up the vein across the bay.

Particularly gratifying is the movement of men from the ranks of the unemployed back into various lines of work. WAS GREAT CHURCHMAN WARTIME DIPLOMAT

Archbishop McNeill Was Prominent In Fight For Separate Schools And Educational Rights Brand Whitlock, Former United States Ambassador To Belgium Passes Away

TORONTO, May 29: (CP)—Archbishop Neil McNeill, who died at the week-end, was the son of the late Malcolm McNeill, of Hillsborough, Inverness, N.S.; his grandparents having come from Barra, Scotland, and Kilkenny, Ireland. He was born at Hillsborough November 23, 1851, and was educated at St. Francis Xavier's, Antigonish; College of Propaganda, Rome, and at the University of Marseilles. From the Propaganda College he received the degrees of doctor of philosophy and divinity, the latter in 1879, the same year in which he was ordained. He was ordained to the priesthood in the Basilica of St. John Lateran, by the late Cardinal Patrizi.

After several years of preaching and teaching in 1895 he was elevated, being consecrated Bishop of Nicopolis and Vicar-Apostolic of St. George's on the west coast of Newfoundland, a position he occupied from 1896 until 1904, becoming Bishop of St. George's in the latter year. In 1910 he was appointed Archbishop of Vancouver, where for two years he labored indefatigably and with great success within the confines of Vancouver, and through the almost impassable interior of the Rockies. In church and school building, the opening up of educational facilities, providing for the poor and needy and devising means for aiding the immigrants he gave an insight into the ability, zeal and solicitude which endeared him to the people of Vancouver.

The excellent achievements of His Grace did not escape notice, and on April 10, 1912, he was transferred to the important See of Toronto, made vacant by the death of the Most Rev. Fergus Patrick McEvay.

His accomplishments in Vancouver were but the shadow of his future successes in the Archdiocese of Toronto. More than 30 new churches were built under his administration and many beautiful schools and institutions, both of learning and for the needs of the sick and distressed came into existence. Many achievements were to his credit throughout his Archdiocese, but none held the limelight of the Catholic world as did his fight for separate schools and educational rights.

Other Injuries

Nine Escaped Watery Grave in Coquahalla River When Tree Stopped Fall of Vehicle

HOPE, May 29: (CP)—Two men, Leonard Beatty and James Drysdale, both relief camp workers, suffered fatal injuries when a motor truck in which they were driving went eighty feet down an embankment on the Hope-Princeton trail three miles east of here last night. Beatty was killed instantly and Drysdale died in the Chilliwack hospital.

Eddie LaCasse is in the Chilliwack hospital with shoulder and chest injuries.

Seven other men received treatment here for minor injuries.

George Swane, the driver, alone escaped unscathed.

The men were coming into Hope from Camp 210 when, during an effort to shift gears, the brakes failed to hold and the truck went over the embankment.

A tree stopped the plunge eighty feet down. Otherwise, all would probably have gone to their deaths in the Coquahalla river four hundred feet below.

LITTLE THINGS COUNT

It is wonderful what a big effect little things have in this world and this is especially true in business. Today business is very largely influenced by personality. The big stores charge very similar prices for similar articles but people go where they get the best service and are treated with greatest consideration. There is very little difference between banks in Canada but there often is a difference between the attitude of the manager toward his clients or the demeanor of the tellers or the voices of the bookkeepers. All these things count. We have all heard of the bank manager who could make his client feel that he had done him a service in refusing him a loan. That is one of the little things that make a difference.

The attitude of a salesgirl in making a five cent sale may eventually mean a difference of hundreds or thousands of dollars to the firm for whom she works. Courtesy at such a time means that the customer will return when there is more money to spend.

In social and home life the little things count more than can usually be realized, especially in the home where at least two people have to see a great deal of each other and possibly put up with a great deal. Lives are wrecked by little things and homes sometimes become an earthly paradise just because the members of the household are considerate in little things.

NOW, MR. RETAILER, YOU GET YOURS

Yesterday we published a brief editorial article in which we spoke of civic loyalty. Since that we have been given an earful about the misdeeds of the retailers. We are not proposing to repeat all we heard but draw attention to one point, which is that only very few of the retailers are members of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, the organization that represents the business interests of the city.

Any advertising that is done for the city is done by the Chamber of Commerce, yet some of the people who benefit most from that advertising are not members of the organization. There must be some unifying organization in the city through which expression can be given of the city's point of view. More than once in recent months the Chamber of Commerce has been asked for advice in regard to the possibility of erecting a new federal building in the city. They have given this through their executive and again and again have drawn attention to the need. If the building comes here, as seems quite probable, all businessmen will benefit, yet some of them have contributed nothing to the organization most responsible for securing it.

When the member for the district visits the different sections and is asked for some public work to be done, he tells them to take it up in their board of trade, discuss it and come to a decision, then send the decision on to him at Ottawa. Governments all look to the boards of trade or chambers of commerce for advice. Every business and professional man in the city owes it to himself, his business or profession and the rest of the community to join up with the chamber of commerce and help improve conditions in the city and bring necessary influence to bear at the seats of government.

Barney Ross Takes Title From Jimmy McLarnin

Chicago Boxer First In Ring History To Capture Two Crowns

Two Judges Disagreed at Close of Savagely Fought Duel, Referee Giving Call to Challenger—Both Down During Ninth Round

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN BOWL, New York, May 29: (CP)—The first double champion in these classes in ring history, Barney Ross of Chicago, world's lightweight boxing champion, added the welterweight title to his laurels last night when he was awarded a fifteen-round decision over Jimmy McLarnin of Vancouver, B.C. before a crowd estimated at 65,000 persons who paid admissions totaling $225,000.

The two judges disagreed at the close of a savagely fought duel during which both were on the floor for no count in the ninth round. Referee Forbes gave the decision to Ross.

McLarnin, although having a lead in the fighting, was unable to keep his head and was charged with no less than five fouls. Ross carved his way to the new record in the books in the boldest and most daring manner, the way no one had said it could be done, by slugging with McLarnin, the dynamiter. He started blood from Jimmy's nose in the fourth round with left hooks. In the ninth he got off the floor after a left hook had belted him from his feet to thunder back into McLarnin with a south-paw smash that dumped Jimmy on his haunches. McLarnin was his usual 'cherub from hell' self from the ninth to the thirteenth rounds but Ross came back to take the closing rounds.

One ringside sports writer gave seven rounds—the third, fifth, sixth, eighth, eleventh, fourteenth and fifteenth—to Ross and six—the first, second, fourth, tenth, twelfth and thirteenth—to McLarnin with the seventh and ninth even.

McLarnin was heartbroken as he hurried from the ring after the decision had been announced.

Ross, in addition to the lightweight and welterweight titles, also claims the synthetic junior welterweight title.

CARDINALS TAKE LEAD

Defeated Phillies Yesterday While Pirates Dropped Double-Header to Giants

PHILADELPHIA, May 29: (CP)—St. Louis Cardinals, by blanking the Phillies ignominiously here yesterday, took over the leadership of the National League with a one game margin over the Pittsburgh Pirates who were dropping both ends of a double-header to the Giants at the Polo Grounds. The Giants, as a result, climbed into third place ahead of the Chicago Cubs who lost to the Braves at Boston. Second division positions in the National League were unchanged as a result of yesterday's play.

Assurance of SAFETY

The first requirement of the investor, particularly the small investor, is assured safety; income yield is of lesser importance. That is why so many hundreds of thousands of Canadians regard their savings deposits in this bank as the best type of investment. The income may not be so attractive as the promised yield of certain securities, but it is sure and steady, while the principal itself is safe and always remains at full face value.

KILLED IN AIR CRASH

Fred Hodgins, Mechanic, Loses His Life at Edmonton—Pilot and Airport Manager Are Badly Hurt

EDMONTON, May 29 (CP)—Fred Hodgins, aero mechanic, was fatally injured and Pilot Matt Berry and the airport manager, Capt. James Bell, were critically injured last week when a giant Fokker monoplane crashed from a height of about thirty feet while taking off and burned. The tragedy occurred towards the end of an air show.

Hodgins, who died from burns and other injuries, was only 23 years old and is survived by a young wife and two babies. His father is an aero mechanic on the Mackenzie River.

Berry and Bell were reported last night to be greatly improved.

WHIFFLETS From the Waterfront

R. G. "Bob" Johnston, manager of Inverness cannery, was in town Saturday on business and proceeded that evening aboard the cannery tender Florence to visit his canneries at Klemtu and Rivers Inlet. He will catch the steamer Catala down the coast on Wednesday and make a brief trip to Vancouver and Victoria. Mr. Johnston reports preparations for the 1934 sockeye canning season going ahead smoothly on the Skeena River, the outlook for a good year in all phases of the industry being distinctly favorable. Bob, however, with usual discretion, observes that "you can never tell what is going to happen from one day to the other these times."

The Inverness cannery tender Klemtu Cannery has been at the local dry dock for the past week undergoing engine overhaul and will probably be at the yard for another week. Capt. Norman Brodhurst is again in command of the Klemtu Cannery this year. The vessel will operate during the early part of the salmon canning season out of Inverness and is expected to shift to Klemtu for the fall fishing.

C. P. R. steamer Princess Nora, which was in port from 4 to 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon southbound from Skagway to Vancouver, had on board eighty-six passengers including two who disembarked here. The southbound list included a considerable number of mothers and families going to Seattle for the summer vacation from various Alaska points, the summer school holidays now having commenced in the territory. There were also some school teachers on board. Under normal circumstances, some of these people would have been going south on American vessels which are, however, tied up owing to the longshoremen's strike at Seattle.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. A. E. Dickson, returned to port at 11:20 this morning from Anyox. Stewart and other northern points and sailed at 1:30 this afternoon for Vancouver and waypoints.

Gardening In Prince Rupert

Some gardeners, especially those who have recently planted out seedlings, will be glad to have the rain as long as it does not keep on too long. Some of the wet ground was beginning to show signs of drought. It is a curious fact that wet places often suffer more than dry ones from lack of rain. The ground bakes and is difficult to cultivate.

The other day I told about a new colored nasturtium that was being put on the market in the United States. Since then I see from an English horticultural journal that the British people have also been working on cross-fertilization with the Golden Gleam and that next year there will be a new double red scented nasturtium issued and also mixed colors in scented semi-doubles. It will be a great step in advance.

Those who have not planted out seedlings or begonias should do so as soon as possible. The season here is not very long and the growth not as rapid as in some places so it is necessary to start early. I notice that most gardens have all seedlings out except those which will follow tulips or other spring flowering plants. At the Court House the tulip beds have been replanted for some days.

On Sunday we made a trip to Cloyah Bay where we found Mrs. Campbell, who lives there with her father and five children, had a very excellent vegetable garden with turnips, potatoes, carrots, beets and other crops coming along well. They use kelp for fertilizer with excel-

TWO FILMS, BOTH GOOD

"Death Takes a Holiday" and "No More Women" at Capitol Theatre

The novel drama "Death Takes a Holiday," with Fredric March, Evelyn Venable, Gail Patrick and Kent Taylor in leading roles, and a rollicking comedy "No More Women," featuring Edmund Lowe, Victor McLaglen, Sally Blane and Minna Gombell, comprise an interesting double picture bill which is being offered at the Capitol Theatre here the first of this week.

"Death Takes a Holiday" introduces an entirely new idea in drama—the thought of Death, tiring of loneliness, deciding to take a three day holiday as a gay, dashing lover so that he might taste life's pleasures to their fullest extent and discover what life holds for men that they so hate to relinquish it. The story travels an unfamiliar land and touches the imagination.

In "No More Women" Lowe and McLaglen are rugged, swashbuckling deep-sea divers who stage water battles for hidden gold and battles ashore for feminine favors, comedy, romance and spectacular adventures alternating. Both are in love with Sally Blane who is both pretty and capable. Minna Gombell gives a fine performance as a "friend" of the sailors.

Rt. Rev. G. A. Rix D.D., Bishop of Caledonia, returned to the city on the Catala this morning from a trip to Anyox and the Naas River on ecclesiastical duties.
