Election Important But So is Fair.

The federal election is a very important event and should receive the closest consideration of all citizens. The Prince Rupert and district fair is also very important to this district and especially to the people of this city. It opens on election day and will also be a big event and one that should receive the full and undivided support of both Liberals and Conservatives and such other parties and people as may be represented here. Doubtless all will unite in this event. Divided on Tuesday they will come together that evening and the following few days and work in unison for the success of the annual exhibition and fair. By that time we shall all have had our political amusement and shall be ready to turn to local affairs for a healthy change.

Fight Close One in Vancouver Centre.

The big political fight between H. H. Stevens and Dugald Donaghy in Vancouver Centre is one of the most interesting seen for some time. Mr. Donaghy had retired from political life and was intending to devote himself to private practice but he saw what he considered a political injustice and he at once took off his hat, tightened his belt and spurred up to the great champion of probity and purity in Vancouver Centre and is meeting with a great deal of success. No one can tell what the result will be but there are many prominent Liberals who declare Stevens will be beaten and Donaghy will be a member of the Mackenzie King cabinet.

Old Age Pensions And Conservatives.

If the Old Age Pensions legislation introduced by Liberals last session was merely a sham, a fake, unworkable and all the other obvious things the Conservatives say it is, why did they not try to make it genuine and workable? asks the Victoria Times. Why did they not submit a scheme of their own when the measure was given its various readings in the House of Commons? Why did they reject it outright in the Senate instead of making such amendments as they deemed to be necessary? The majority sentiment in the House of Commons was in favor of old age pensions. If the Conservatives had submitted a better proposal than the Liberal measure, it would have been accepted, in part at any rate. The truth, of course, is that the Conservative Party in Parliament is opposed to Old Age Pensions. In this it is true to its record in Canada. Never has it been identified with any serious efforts to place such legislation upon the statute books of this country. Mr. Meighen in one of his humorous pre-election conversations now says that if he is elected he will consult the provinces and after they have agreed upon a measure will have it passed by Parliament. Obviously this is merely an expedient for shelving the whole question. We may be sure no such elaborate procedure would be employed by Mr. Meighen if the measure were designed to confer some special benefits upon the barons of special privilege who largely dictate the policies of his party.

BRITISH SETTLERS ARE DOING WELL CANADIAN FARMS

Representative of British Settlement Society Reports Favorably on Work.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 9.—Under the selective plan of immigration, the families being brought to Canada from Great Britain are proving themselves willing and energetic farmers and are making good, according to Rev. J. W. Whellans, overseas representative of the British Settlement Society, who left Winnipeg over the Canadian National Railways for Toronto last night.

Mr. Whellans has been spending the past few weeks in Manitoba and Saskatchewan visiting and investigating the forty families established in Canada this year by the British Settlement Society working in close co-operation with the immigration department of the Canadian National Railways. Without exception it was his experience to find all of the people firmly and happily established and possessed of a hopeful outlook. He stated that none had any criticism to offer of their treatment and that all considered their lot much more agreeable than in the British Isles.

In connection with the activities of the society in Great Britain, Mr. Whellans stated that lack of interest and lack of money were the two great obstacles which have to be overcome by those seeking to attract immigration of a desirable character to Canada. He considered that the former problem would be met gradually as those who have immigrated made good, but that the second difficulty is one of economics which can only be adjusted by some form of legislation or a general betterment of conditions that is not apparent at the present moment.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

It's only twenty-one years since Alberta became a province and now she thinks she is just as good as the rest of us. Her sunny ways seem to have won out.

If you want a butterfly of a wife you must first be able to buy the grub.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

All natural conditions favor the establishment of a smelter and refinery at Prince Rupert asserts A. C. Garde, M.E., who is a strong advocate for such a project.

J. W. Graham, who put Cedarvale on the map, is paying his first visit for seven years to Prince Rupert. He notes great development here.

The Anglican Women's Auxiliary of Caledonia diocese has elected officers as follows: President, Mrs. Du Vernet; honorary vice-president, Mrs. Rix; first vice-president, Mrs. McCook; second vice-president, Mrs. Hogan; secretary, Mrs. McIntosh; treasurer, Miss West.

PANTS COVER ONLY HALF OF STOMACH

Dissatisfied B. C. Customer Writes to Edmonton Tailor Regarding Nether Garments

People in Prince Rupert who send away for their clothes should take a lesson from one B.C. resident who tried to buy in Alberta but was not suited. Here is the story as it appeared in an Edmonton newspaper:

"Where does he wear 'em, anyway?" mused Chief of Police Shute, Friday morning, as he gazed earnestly on a letter just received from a man in the interior of British Columbia.

The gentleman, it appears, ordered a pair of trousers from an Edmonton tailor. He paid $12.35 charges and express on them, and took the new pants home for a preliminary canter.

They weren't satisfactory, so he decided to enlist the aid of Chief Shute, in collecting from the tailor, for the alleged misfits.

so he mailed them to the chief with a polite, little note, asking the chief to see that the tailor called for the pants and paid the $12.35, plus $3 expenses incurred by the dissatisfied customer, in travelling to and from the nearest depot to receive the parcel.

But here's the sentence that causes the chief to wonder how they wear 'em in the wilds of British Columbia.

"On the other hand, the trousers are too small in the seat, if only covers half my stomach" (spelling follows copy).

"Does he wear them on his hands—and if so no wonder they are too small in the seat—but does he sit on his tummy?" murmured the chief, still worrying over the pants of the man from B.C.

VANDERHOOF

Rev. and Mrs. R. T. McFar-

lane have returned to Vanderhoof after having spent a holiday visiting with their parents in Vancouver.

Mrs. Ewart and her daughter, Miss Ewart, of Prince George, were recent visitors here with Dr. and Mrs. W. Ross Stone. Miss Ewart leaves shortly to take a course of training for a nurse at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal.

A son was born on September 2 to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith of Fort St. James.

Capt. C. Carmichael, the Tory orator, who travels around the country when election campaigns are on, will turn up here on here on Saturday to address a meeting on behalf of John A. Fraser, the Conservative candidate for Cariboo.

There is absolutely no need for you to wear out your nerves and knuckles over a washboard. Change the hard work of washing to just rinsing. Rinso, the marvelous time and labour saver made by the makers of Lux, takes all the hard work out of wash-day. Rinso is already granulated and therefore dissolves instantly in hot water. Clothes soaked for a couple of hours—overnight if you wish—in Rinso suds need no rubbing. Think of it! You just rinse the dirt out. Don't do another washing without Rinso. Keep smiling for him. Arrangements are proceeding for another hoe-down dance by the club and Dr. L. W. Kergin, Douglas Stark and R. V. G. LePine have been appointed as a committee in charge. The event will take place early in October.

At the regular monthly business meeting of the Gyro Club yesterday in the Commodore Cafe, David Alexander Balfour was elected to membership, Ralph LePine and Douglas Nelson were initiated.

INTERMEDIATES PLAY TO DRAW

Excellent Soccer Match Between Y Maes and High School Last Night.—Two-All.

Though the Intermediate Leaguers are playing football this season that would do credit to players much their elders, they are not getting the support from the public to which they are entitled. Last night the Y Maes and High School played to a two-all draw in one of the cleanest and most keenly contested matches that has been seen here in any company this year. The quality of play was also splendid, indicating that the youngsters are making great progress in soccer. At half time the score was 1-all and at time 2-all.

C. J. Norrington was referee and Nick Chenoski and Albert Dickens acted as linesmen.

The standing of the teams to date is as follows:

	W	D	L	Pts
Y. Maes	2	2	0	6
Naval Reserve	1	1	2	3
High School	0	3	1	3

ST. LOUIS THREE GAMES IN LEAD

Players Watched New York Yankees Play Yesterday During Off Day

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The St. Louis Cardinals, who were idle in New York yesterday, found it profitable to spend the day sizing up the play of the New York Yankees, their prospective world series opponents, for without any effort on their part they found their lead over Cincinnati stretched to three full games after Pittsburgh had taken a double header from the Reds, due mainly to terrific slugging by the Pirates who are now but two points behind Cincinnati.

New York Yankees still hold the lead of seven games but fell before the Boston Reds yesterday when the latter broke a losing streak of 17 straight games.

PLAYERS SELECTED FOR FAIR BASEBALL

Games Between Rupert and Ketchikan Will Take Place Next Thursday and Friday Afternoons.

At a joint meeting of the sports and attractions committee of the Fair Board and executive of the Prince Rupert Baseball Association last night preparations were made for the Prince Rupert-Ketchikan baseball series during Fair Week. The series will be played on Thursday and Friday afternoons and there will be two and perhaps three games.

The following players were selected by the baseball executive to represent Prince Rupert in the series: Downey, Schenker, Howard Frizzell, Moran (captain), Gordon, Loblick, Balfour, W. Mitchell, Haveland, Lambie, Farquhar, McKeown, Vic Menzies and George Hill.

LOSES CHANCE TO MAKE EASY MONEY ON ELECTION BET

Within the past few days an estimable citizen of Prince Rupert, under the influence of excitement, either natural or artificial, was induced to put up $100 to another man's $200 that Fred Stark would not be elected in Skeena constituency.

The following day, when the excitement had died down and he faced the probability that his money was gone for keeps, he went around to the stake holder and asked for his money back. Not wishing to appear to be a robber, the Stark supporter returned the $100 and took back his own deposit. He says he is sorry to lose a chance to make such easy money.

Edward Lindset was fined $25, with the option of thirty days' imprisonment, in the city police court this morning for drunkenness.

SPORT CHAT

The much-deferred Gilhuly Cup football competition this year will take the form of a knock-out game on Wednesday evening of next week between the Moose and Grand Terminals under the auspices of the Fair Board it is announced by the Prince Rupert Football Association. Tonight, the kick-off being scheduled for 6:15 sharp there will be an exhibition match between the Moose and Grand Terminals.

As a preliminary to the Ketchikan-Prince Rupert baseball series next week, it is being planned to have an exhibition game on Sunday next between two all-star local teams. This should attract a good crowd as there has been a great improvement in the playing of the local teams since July 1. In fact, it is certain that the locals will give the visitors a better battle of it on this occasion than they did in July.

Vanderhoof and Prince George are on even terms in tennis honors for the season as a result of a recent tournament at Vanderhoof when the two towns divided honors. The first tournament of the season had been won by Vanderhoof and the second by Prince George. In the third tournament there were twelve events, each side winning six.

MINING MEN AT SMITHERS

Examine Properties on Hudson Bay Mountain at Topley and Babine

SMITHERS, Sept. 9. — O. C. Thompson, in charge of operations of the Porcupine Goldfields Development & Finance Co. Ltd. in this province, visited the Richfield mine at Topley on Saturday, September 4 and examined it with a view to purchase by his company. Mr. Thompson, who was in the district last year and examined the Schuler property on Hudson Bay Mountain, and other properties, is interested in this district and will return in a month after a trip to Fort Graham where he is going to examine important deposits in that district. On his return he will examine other properties in the district, including the Big Four Group at Milk Creek, Telkwa River.

H. J. Emery, of Montreal, mining engineer for the British Metals Corporation, who are operating in the province of Quebec, has spent the past week in looking over various lead and zinc properties in the vicinity of Smithers with a view to getting information for his company. On Thursday, September 2, he examined the Mamie property, owned by the estate of the late J. A. Aldrich, and took occasion also to visit the Dulhie Mine, the White Swan Group and the Victory Group. Next day he journeyed to the Babine Range and examined the Cronin Mine (Babine Bonanza) and also visited the Babine Silver King while on the way. Sunday he spent at the Cassiar Crown and Tuesday at the Schuler Mine getting first-hand information on the new developments being carried out in those two mines. Yesterday he left for Prince Rupert, well satisfied with the information obtained.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING WAS ENTHUSIASTIC AND SPEAKERS INTERESTING

to the people to put into effect a government that would make of Canada a great nation.

Cheering Report

The chairman, before calling upon Mr. Baxter, read a telegram stating that 141 seats were assured to the Conservatives in Canada and that the Pacific Coast, including the Yukon, would return fifteen Conservatives.

Mr. Baxter expressed his opinion that the progress of Canada had not been satisfactory during the past five years. He denounced the "whispering campaign" to the effect that Mr. Meighen, if returned to power, would give the C.N.R. to the C.P.R. and close up the line from Red Pass Junction. Giving Mr. Meighen the credit for having really established the great system known as the Canadian National Railways, Mr. Baxter urged that Meighen was more interested in and more anxious for the success of the system than any other public man in Canada. Mr. Baxter also denounced the "insidious propaganda" of the Liberals that the Conservatives would deny the franchise to foreign-born citizens. Such statements, Mr. Baxter said, were unauthorized and he hastened to assure the foreign-born citizens that they need fear no such thing. Holding up a picture of Fred Stork, Mr. Baxter said Mr. Stork had been blessed by nature with a handsome profile but everything else in the Liberal campaign book was dirty.

Constitutional Issue

Dealing with the constitutional issue, Mr. Baxter traced events from the 1925 election up to June 25 when Mr. King had "triple been beaten in the House and, facing a vote of censure, had asked for dissolution which had been denied him. Quoting precedent in Great Britain when Gladstone, after a vote of censure, had resigned and advised that Disraeli be called upon, in Canada when the "Pacific scandal" had brought about the overthrow of Sir John A. Macdonald who resigned and advised that Alexander Mackenzie be called upon and, in British Columbia when Col. Prior resigned and advised that Richard McBride be called upon, Mr. Baxter declared that Mackenzie King should have taken similar action. In the instances referred to, the defeated leader had aided their successors in passing legislation accomplishing business but the Liberals had not done so and it was no one else's fault than their own that the legislation of the session had not been passed. They had instead so acted that the Meighen government was defeated on a constitutional point.

when the law officers of the house had asserted it was in order and, even then, Meighen had been defeated as a result of "the dirty, contemptible trick of a Progressive who had broken his pair."

Tariff

Mr. Baxter then moved to the question of the tariff and, with many instances and examples, submitted his argument that Canada would never have prospered until its manufacturers were protected with a tariff from the competition in its own markets with cheaper foreign labor. The Liberal tariff, Mr. Baxter declared, was a revenue tariff—just high enough to give revenue and just low enough to not prevent imports. The Conservative tariff was a protective one, designed to keep out foreign manufactures so as to protect the Canadian factories and allow them to do Canada's own manufacturing instead of sending out raw materials and buying back the finished products at many times the price Canada had received for the raw. As it is now, capital could not be invested in manufacturing projects in Canada. Thousands of people had been made idle as a result of the Liberals lowering the tariff on farm implements and steel products, Mr. Baxter asserted.

Tory Policy

It was the Conservative policy, Mr. Baxter said, to give preference to the British Empire but not give such a low tariff that the people of Canada would be at a disadvantage. Mr. Baxter admitted that too high a tariff would be suicidal until Canadian manufactures were properly developed and established. Mr. Baxter then went on to give many instances where he declared protection was needed in order to give Canada the benefit of its raw products being manufactured in Canada and not in foreign countries and bought back. Canada, he said, needed mass production which it would never have until there was population which in turn there would never be if the people could not stay at home. Mr. Baxter referred to the fact that United States kept its tariff up while Canada's had been low. The Prince George pulp mill, Mr. Baxter declared, could not be built because American manufacturers could get all the pulp wood they wanted from Quebec. There would have to be a protective tariff, he said, before even Prince Rupert could get something to return East in the cars that brought grain here.

Referring to freight rates, Mr. Baxter declared that the Conservatives had been instrumental in recommending rates favorable to British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, but the Liberal government had never acted upon the matter. In face of such action as this, Mr. Baxter wondered if Fred Stork had "the gall" to come back and say that the Tories had been opposed to the equalization of western freight rates. Even "Old John" shed tears and rivers of water poured down his face," but he and "Jerry" had been in Ottawa and they had never even mentioned freight rates.

Robb Budget

Mr. Baxter then went on to question what benefit the Robb budget had been to the people of Canada. Penny postage did not mean much to the average individual—50c a year. Even income tax reduction did not mean much for the most of people had not been getting above the exempted figure anyway. Reduction of the automobile tariff only benefited the people who could afford to buy automobiles and they were in the minority. Even then, Mackenzie King had not stood by his guns and, with a reduction of tariff on automobiles, had been forced, in order that Canadian car manufacturers might meet the competition, to drop the sales tax on Canadian made cars while continuing it on American. This meant that the "wonderful reduction" in the tariff on automobiles had been from 35 per cent to 33 1/2. The Liberals had thus recognized what they would not call protection.

The Conservatives, Mr. Baxter said, had not opposed the lowering of the income tax but they had been more particularly anxious for the removal of the sales tax—that "abominable" and "iniquitous" tax that every Canadian—rich or poor—had to pay every time a purchase was made. The Liberals, Mr. Baxter said, raised the sales tax from 3 to 6 per cent and then cut it down to five and asked the people to look at the reduction in taxes they had effected. "The Robb budget was not all it was cracked up to be," asserted Mr. Baxter, "for it did not relieve the tax we all feel."

Roads and Pensions

Mr. Baxter referred to the fund of $20,000,000 to aid the provinces in road building which Meighen had established to aid the provinces and which would again be established if the Conservatives were returned to power.

Mr. Baxter then referred to old age pensions and characterized the bill of the last parliament along this line a "fake thing," a "sham" and "shame," the price Mackenzie King had paid for the support of two Labor men. The Conservatives, Mr. Baxter stated, would not vote against the bill in the House for fear of the "hue and cry" that would be raised all over Canada against them if they did. Responsible for the defeat of the bill in the Senate were "Liberal senators, freed from the shackles of party and able to see things fairly" as well as Conservative senators. Mr. Baxter said that Meighen's plan for the calling of a conference with the provinces was the only practicable way in which to deal with the matter. The speaker indulged in further disparaging remarks about "Old John" in connection with the matter of pensions.

"Only one party has a chance in the election and that is the Conservative," concluded Mr. Baxter. "The Liberals hope for no better than a compromise with other parties to form a government. Brady, your candidate, has the character, honesty and ability to ably represent you. His former pupils recognize that character, honesty and ability and are all with him. When a young man makes such an impression on the minds of children, can you make any mistake in electing him? Canada has not made the progress she would have in the last five years but it is capable of amazing progress in the next 20 years."

WE ARE OFFERING

A MODEL MODERN OPTICAL PARLOR

A GRADUATE EXPERIENCED REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST

TO SERVE YOUR EYE NECESSITIES

It is the great difference in the results obtained from correct methods of examination for defects; the careful attention to fitting the prescription and the details so necessary in correct frame fitting that causes our patients discriminate in favor of glasses fitted in our Optical Parlor. We use modern methods. We try to give courteous service. That's why you will feel so much at ease when you are deciding on a frame that will exactly suit your particular liking.

REMEMBER—No case presents perplexities to one qualified in the Science of Refraction. Consult our Optometrist as you would a friend. The advice will be just as reliable.
