SIX-DAY OLD CHICK CROWS LIKE ROOSTER

Mrs. Chris Henriksen, wife of the skipper of the halibut boat Gibson, got a great surprise this morning. She has a number of young chickens only six days old which she keeps in the house in a cardboard box at night. This morning she was surprised to hear something closely resembling the crowing of a rooster and stepping into the room where the chickens were, she saw one of the little fellows standing up and crowing just like a full grown bird. It crowed seven times. Mrs. Henriksen is not superstitious about the unusual occurrence but she would like to know if anyone else had heard a six-day chick crow.

Mining Executives and Pilot Dumped in Water From Overtaken Craft

Col. Victor Spencer, David Sloan, Purves Ritchie and Maurice McGregor Figure in Exciting Incident As Flying Machine Strikes Towline at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, May 17: (CP)—Three mining executives and a Canadian Airways pilot escaped with nothing worse than a bad wetting last evening when a chartered seaplane bringing them from Victoria fouled a submerged towing cable and overturned. They were Col. Victor Spencer, president, and David Sloan, managing director of the Pioneer Gold Mines of British Columbia Ltd., and Purvis E. Ritchie, managing director of the Wayside Consolidated. The pilot was Maurice McGregor of Victoria.

The C. P. R. tug Nanosee was pulling out from Pier A with the Vancouver Island railway barge loaded with freight cars as the plane came down. The barge was still behind the pier so the pilot could not see it. While taxiing, the plane hit the towline.

Passengers and pilot of the plane climbed onto the pontoons and, as the plane turned over, they clung to the pontoons and went over with it. The wings and fuselage sank but the pontoons remained afloat.

Jury Hearing Case at Assizes In Which Nina Spalding is Charged With Killing Her Son

Jury of Men

Hearing of Crown Evidence Heard This Morning—Testimony Reviewed by Crown Prosecutor

Trial of Nina Spalding, Port Essington Indian girl charged with the murder of her nine-month old infant son by cutting its throat with a butcher knife in the graveyard at Port Essington on December 19, is proceeding before Mr. Justice Denis Murphy and a jury at the Supreme Court Assizes here today, having opened this morning.

The girl displayed stolidity characteristic of her race as the charge was read to her through an interpreter. Although a cripple, she was smartly dressed in an up-to-date fur-trimmed dark coat with hat.

Evidence Reviewed

Reviewing the evidence which the crown proposed to offer, L. W. Patmore, crown prosecutor, told the jury that accused was nineteen years of age. She was unmarried and had an illegitimate child, named Wilfrid Fred Spalding. The child was nine months of age at the time of the incident. She (accused) thought a great deal of the child. On December 19 accused, who was not strong, having suffered a spinal injury when she was young, arose late, about 10 a.m., from bed, being called by her sister, Lucy Bennett, in whose house she resided. After attending to the baby which was sick and for which she prepared a poultice, accused did some housework. She chopped some onions with a butcher knife and then washed some dishes. Near Lucy Bennett's baby, who was also ill, accused let some of the dishes fall. Some harsh words between the sisters ensued and accused, feeling hurt, left the room and left the house with the baby. About half an hour or so later accused came running to Mrs. Doreas Hevenor's house where she called out that she had killed the baby in the graveyard and asking Mrs. Hevenor to make haste and tell her (accused's) mother. The mother came and went to the graveyard, finding the baby

AN AGE OF UNREST

This is an age of unrest. There have been similar periods in the past but not so world-wide as today because the means of communication were never anything like they are today and education was not as general. The countries of the world know more about each other in 1935 than the English counties knew of each other a few years ago. The universality of unrest is a sign of the times, an indication of growing internationalism.

In Canada the unrest is expressed in various ways. At the extreme we find the communists working through their various allied organizations such as the Canadian Labor Defence League, all more or less in touch directly or indirectly with the Internationale in Russia.

A more moderate unrest movement is the C. C. F. organization which aims at bringing about better conditions through constitutional changes. It has attained to considerable prominence in British Columbia politics through the success of a number of candidates at the polls in the last provincial election. It is led provincially by a very high type of man in the person of Rev. Robt. Connell, who is recognized as the official leader of the opposition in the Legislature. This is a purely Canadian organization, although its leaders are disciples of Carl Marx, the German socialist.

The Douglas Credit movement is an outcropping from the general unrest of the country. It has its chief centre in the province of Alberta where it threatens to sweep the province or at any rate to destroy the present United Farmers' government in that province. It is a much more simple scheme of improving the condition of the struggling farmers than any yet proposed, provided it works. Any man can understand what it means to receive $25 a month without working for it, whereas the dictatorship of the proletariat is somewhat involved. Douglas credit has not been tried yet. Its American counterpart known as the Townsend plan would have provided for the payment of $200 a month to every person over the age of 60 but it seems to have been sidetracked and will probably never again show as much strength as it did recently.

Fascism, which is also brought about as a result of unrest or failure of democratic governments to function, does not seem to have gotten a hold in Canada so far, although there is a quiet movement in the larger centres which seems to indicate that if the conditions were such that fascism was required, it would at once come into being as a live force. It came into being in Italy when Communism seemed likely to sweep the government off its feet. Its counterpart, the Nazi movement, forced itself upon Germany at a time when the country was in dire need of leadership.

The recent recantation of Premier Bennett was a mild form of revolt against economic conditions and the Stevens interparty political rebellion was another manifestation of the strong popular unrest. With the stage all set and the people anxious for reforms, the Liberal party under Mackenzie King has a great opportunity to bring about such changes as shall give the men and women of the country a fair deal and thus allay the unrest. Strong and fearless leadership is all that is necessary.

GARDEN NOTEBOOK

In the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific joint advertising, a picture is used of a garden scene in Skagway. Pretty soon it is hoped the big companies will feel bound to advertise the garden scenes of Prince Rupert. New plots of ground are being cultivated each year, the increase this season being particularly noticeable. The Canadian National and provincial government gardens will be of compelling interest pretty soon.

There is developing in the city considerable competition among streets or avenues with a general desire among residents to make their particular street the most beautiful or interesting from a floral point of view. There is not a street in the whole city but has some interesting garden worthy of study.

The decision of the Horticultural Society to award six prizes for gardens in August of this year should stimulate a desire among gardeners to improve their places and try to win a trophy or small cash prize.

The date of the rose show this year has been set tentatively at or about the first week in August. Last year it was a little past the middle of July. By holding it on a later date it is thought more flowers other than roses will be given a chance to compete. Also the two thousand new roses will be far enough advanced to bear blooms for the rose show.

It is noted that in the rock gardens there is not sufficient variety. Some blue, purple and red flowers grown in the south do not succeed here but aubretias and sedums will succeed if not too much exposed and many other plants will be found suitable.

It is now time to plant out seedlings but many will prefer holding them back until about June 1. It is better to plant strong plants later than small plants early. In many gardens dahlias are showing above ground and gladioli are also growing but it is not necessary to have them that far advanced in order to get good results. In fact, there is still some danger of frost, especially in gardens well back from the waterfront.

On Queen Charlotte Islands the country is carpeted with blooms of the modest little mauve ladies' slipper or moccasin flower. This little orchid is very beautiful but is difficult to transplant. According to some authorities it needs the fir needles to keep it healthy and growing.—H. F. P.

There were sports on the ball ground in the afternoon and a gay dance at night. This program was got up by the village commissioners, and J. B. Happy speeches both ways marked the presentation and everyone agreed that Jubilee Day was a big day in every sense of the word.

An unpleasant case came before the local magistrates, Dr. S. G. Mills and Coroner Robinson, being J.P.'s, when three white men had to answer the charge of supplying liquor to Indian girls. One of the men got

TOUR OF ROTARIAN

Ed Lipsett Tells Rotary Club of Very Interesting Tour of South American Countries

Work that the Rotary Clubs are doing in the cities of Chili and Peru in raising the standard of living of the people in those republics was described by Edward Lipsett of Vancouver who addressed the local Rotary Club at its luncheon yesterday. Largely as a result of the club's efforts, housing of the laboring class was being improved, cleanliness was being encouraged and wages were being increased. As it is wages are very low, something like 25 cents a day for farm labor and that on an inflated currency.

In the larger cities movements were going on to look after the under-privileged children and to provide for women both before and after childbirth. Free education was being provided and overcrowding in houses was not allowed. Formerly it was common to find eight or ten people of both sexes sleeping in one room.

Mr. Lipsett, accompanied by Mrs. Lipsett, recently visited most of the countries of South America and studied conditions everywhere. He told of the trip in a more or less rambling but very humorous manner. Among the interesting things noted was the fact that in Peru sugar plantations were being replaced by cotton fields and the product sent to the United States while in the United States the growing of cotton was being discouraged. Another interesting thing he saw was the University of Callao in Peru where the students had been on strike for the past five years and yet the whole staff was kept on full pay all the time.

The speaker took his audience to many towns and cities and touched on various industries particularly that of oil production. He mentioned places on the coast of Peru where it rained on an average once in 35 years. At one time an effort was made to sell the speaker a human head, dried and shrunken but said to be quite recognizable. He spoke of the many courtesies he received at places he visited. In some of the clubs the speakers commenced to talk just as soon as they sat down to dinner and it was not considered bad form for guests to talk among themselves while the formal speeches were in progress. However, it was bad form to stop the speaker before he had concluded what he had to say.

At the conclusion, George Laidler, who had presided in the absence of President Little, thanked the speaker for his extremely interesting and humorous address.

Shower For Mrs. Burnett is Held

Delightful Affair Last Night In Honor of Former Miss Sue Boddie

A delightful shower was held last evening at the home of Miss Ella Steen, Borden Street, in honor of Mrs. R. M. Burnett, formerly Miss Sue Boddie.

There were twelve young ladies present and the evening was spent in playing court whilst following which a large basket, beautifully decorated in pink and white, was brought in containing many lovely miscellaneous gifts for the bride.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess from a table which looked pretty centered with pink and white carnations and long pink tapers.

Mrs. Burnett was married in Victoria two weeks ago and will be returning to her new home at the end of the month.

PRODUCING GOOD BEEF

John Edstrom of Vanderhoof Demonstrates What Can Be Done in Interior

PRINCE GEORGE, May 17.—John Edstrom, of Vanderhoof, has demonstrated conclusively that beef can be produced in the central interior and on home grown feeds as successfully as in any other part of Canada.

Two calves born March 15 and March 30, 1934, were well fed and cared for on the Edstrom farm and marketed dressed in Prince George during the latter part of April and first week in May. The carcasses weighed 502 pounds and 482 pounds respectively. The meat was well marbled, had a good covering of fat and was reported to be as good beef as ever sold in this city by the local butchers who handled it.

Well finished young beef is always in good demand and the trade will pay top prices for such products. The good covering of fat not only makes the meat more edible but helps protect the carcass from discoloration and enables the dealer to display the meat to the customer.

WHIFFLETS

From the Waterfront

Skipper Jimmy Donaldson of Port Essington started this week with the Billmor on a charter for the federal government in taking G. M. Hunt, voters' list revising officer, to various coastal points in this riding in connection with the preparations for the forthcoming federal election. The work, it is expected, will take up the better part of a month.

After a tough trip up the coast in the face of headwinds all the way and having in tow a scowload of 200,000 feet of fir lumber for Albert & McCaffery, Armour Salvage Co.'s power tug Daly, Capt. Oscar Haveroy, returned to port yesterday from a trip to Vancouver. The Daly, which had taken south a load of salvaged machinery and equipment from the old B. C. Packers cold storage plant at Claxton, took six days for the northbound passage home.

Armour Salvage Co.'s power tug Pachena, with Capt. Paul Armour in personal command, is making a trip to Digby Island today with a scow laden with fifty tons of coal for the marine station. Yesterday the Pachena brought in a scowload of sand from Oceanic Bar, Skeena River, for C. C. Ketchum.

C. P. R. steamer Princess Adelaide, Capt. S. K. Gray, is due in port at 4 o'clock this afternoon from the south and will sail at 10 p.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. Ernest Georgeson, is due in port at 6:15 this evening from the south and will sail at 12 midnight on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

FROM EVERY CORNER OF THE WORLD

to the daily newspaper come flashing the engrossing incidents that are at this very moment making today's history. The whole atmosphere of the daily newspaper is comprehensive action—dealing with things of the moment that have just happened, or are about to happen.

When white paper leaves the printing presses in the daily newspaper office, it is no longer some inert material, but an active powerful force reaching the thousands who thirst for its contents.

Practically every Canadian family reads a daily newspaper.

It is an essential part of daily life and without it all would feel a distinct loss—nothing can take its place.

On the newspaper's pages also are advertisements placed there by thoughtful, energetic and far-seeing merchants and producers. The best traders in Canada—the firms which grow in strength and prestige year after year—know that the daily newspaper is as necessary to them as their raw material. When the fight is hardest—they have often proved this—it pays to strengthen their newspaper lists.

Follow their good example!

Will Investigation Reveal Scenes Like These in Canadian Penitentiaries?

Dr. Warnock, psychiatrist, interviews a new arrival.

Lewis F. Lawes, Warden.

Sing Sing's Cadet Corps.

An Inmate Is Operated On.

Homes of a Thousand Men.

And He's No Longer a Citizen.

In view of the probability of royal commission investigating Canadian penal institutions, the above pictures of Sing Sing, one of continent's most famous prisons, are interesting. The candid camera records some of events in a day's life of the inmates and officials of the "Big House" on the banks of the Hudson at Ossining, N.Y. In which more than two thousand of New York's law breakers are serving terms of from one year to life. Despite drama and tragedy, Sing Sing is a comparatively happy institution. Inmates work in the shops, enjoy radio music in their cells, are well fed, play handball and baseball and in general, enjoy life as much as possible behind prison walls. Rehabilitation rather than punishment is the objective.

AIR EPIC IS FILMED

Wallace Beery Heads Cast in Aviation Thriller at Capitol This Week-End

"West Point of the Air," week-end feature offering on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here starring Wallace Beery, is a thrilling and breath-taking revelation of what can be accomplished by men in the air. Every phase of cadet instruction in flying is to be seen in the picture, scene after scene of which is replete with speed-packed action.

A romantic interlude in the lives of the cadets is provided by Maureen O'Sullivan and Rosalind Russell who appear on the two sides of a dramatic triangle that almost results in the death of Wallace Beery in trying to save his son, Robert Young, from cowardice.

Notable supporting roles are filled by such outstanding players as Lewis Stone, as commanding officer of the air field; James Gleason, as an aviation mechanic who rules his life by astrology; Russell Hardie, as the son of the commander crippled by an air accident; Henry Wadsworth, Robert Taylor and Robert Livingston, as flying students, and Frank Conroy, as an aviation captain.

DOCTORING YOUR DAIRY HERD

Cows aren't machines. They can get sick or hurt. But Minard's Liniment makes it easy to care for their ills. Mrs. Thos. Bulmer of Lardo, B.C., found one of her herd with a lump in her udder. "I rubbed it with Minard's Liniment," she says, "and it soon got better." Minard's is best for Cuts, Bruises, Colic, Distemper, etc., and equally good in stable or in house. Well named "King of Pain."

KITKATLA ON VISIT
One Village Comes to Another For Return Softball Series
KITKATLA, May 17.—Some time ago the Metlakatla softball team visited here. The result of the game was severe defeat for Kitkatla but Kitkatla did not forget. Her teams got busy and, after much enthusiastic work at home, sent a challenge to Metlakatla.
Henry Brown supplied transportation and the party was landed at about 1:30 and was received at the home of Mr. Campbell where tea was served and the guests were welcomed.
The game between the junior teams resulted in victory for Metlakatla, the score being 7 to 13. But in the following game, which was eagerly watched by the enthusiastic spectators, Kitkatla won, the score being 5 to 6. The victory was a credit to Kitkatla in that Kitkatla has just begun to play softball this year.

After the ball games the visitors were shown over the village. The new hall under construction and planned by Peter Leighton was of interest. The large church, the water supply from the mountains and the electric plant were also worthy of note. The Metlakatla people are making splendid progress.
At six dinner was served at the Church Army Hall and Kitkatla people were not left in doubt of the ability of the Metlakatla ladies to cook and bake.
After dinner speeches were in order. The Chief Councillor, followed by several others, spoke at length of the value of sports and of the exchange of visits. One point greatly stressed was the value of the forward look, that is, of seizing the opportunities which civilization offers instead of retaining old ideas.
The day's activities were sponsored by the Young Men's Benevolent Association whose object is the improvement of the social and moral life of the community.
