Church Concert Is Acceptable

While the attendance was not as large as might have been hoped for, all who attended the concert staged last night by the augmented choir of First Presbyterian Church, under the direction of Mrs. E. J. Smith, were highly appreciative of a splendid entertainment. Rev. W. D. Grant Hollingworth, the pastor, presided and, at the opening, made brief remarks, welcoming those present. The well balanced program included vocal choruses, instrumental numbers, vocal quartets, solos, anthems and ladies' choruses.

The people of Prince Rupert are asked to co-operate for the purpose of providing gainful employment for as many people as possible during the next six months. A group of canvassers will undertake to call on all local citizens asking for pledges from them that they will undertake to spend as much as possible and stating how much they plan to spend on gainful employment.

It is not the intention to interfere with the private concerns of our neighbors but to try to seeme as much employment as possible as a means of improving local conditions.

We have set as our objective the sum of $50,000

If every person will undertake to spend some money in such a way as to make conditions better, we shall easily attain our object.

The pledge cards will be kept private in order to prevent solicitation on the part of those who may be trying to secure advantage from the campaign.

We are not an employment agency and have nothing to say as to who shall be employed or what they shall be paid. That is between the employer and employed. All we ask is that the money be expended. The provincial employment officer can supply men if required.

owners, leaving the union fishermen, with the exception of those aboard two boats, J. R., Capt. J. R. Reid, and Lysekil, Capt. Al Woie, in port. The general opinion seems to be that, with the exercise of a little reason, such a settlement should be reached without delay. The boats started leaving on Thursday and by today twentythree vessels had cleared. The first catches by the regular fleet, it is expected; should be back by next Saturday or the Monday following. Market conditions are believed to be such that good prices may be expected.
