GETS THREE MONTHS

Chris Hansen, who held up the Travelers' Cafe on Sixth Street Friday night and seized $13 from the cash register by means of violence, was found guilty this morning by Magistrate McClymont in city police court on a charge of robbery and violence against the person of Harry Chin and was sentenced to three months' imprisonment at Okalla.

Bandit Shot in Spectacular Running Gun Fight in Which Vancouver Chief Took Part

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23. (CP)—One man is in hospital, having been shot down in a running gun fight Saturday night when Chief of Police W. W. Foster and his driver, J. W. McKinnon, battled with a bandit quartet across a large area of Vancouver. Three others escaped when the bandit car went out of control after an eighty mile an hour chase but the one man was brought down by McKinnon with a bullet through the back which followed a rib and lodged in a shoulder. His condition is not serious. Another man was arrested yesterday and charged with robbery with violence.

Vacant Home Of Millionaire Is Robbery Scene

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23. (CP)—The home of George A. Hormel, millionaire Austin, Minn., cannery, was broken into last Tuesday night and non-negotiable securities valued at $500,000 taken. Hormel is in the east and his residence has been unoccupied for some time. The robbery was not discovered until the end of the week.

Rain Delays War and Hostilities Not Now Expected Before Middle of October—Victor of Italy Appeals To George of England

GENEVA, Sept. 23. (CP)—The five-power board of the League of Nations today gave up its efforts to reach a basis of conciliation of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute. Following Italy's announcement Saturday of the rejection of the first peace terms, the board sat again and adjourned until today when it abandoned further efforts. The British, in turn, had called Italian counter suggestions absolutely unacceptable.

WISCONSIN AIRMAN IN ATLANTIC CROSSING IS DOWN IN IRELAND

BALLINROBE, County Mayo, Irish Free State, Sept. 23. (CP)—Lieut. Felix Waitkus, Kohler, Wis., United States reserve flier, who took off Saturday from New York on a projected non-stop solo flight to Kaunas, Lithuania, a distance of about 4500 miles, smashed up in a rough field here yesterday but was himself uninjured. He had encountered fogs and storms and was making a forced landing, striking a tree. He was flying a Lockheed-Vega monoplane and following the same route as Col. C. A. Lindbergh on his historic New York to Paris flight, had hoped to cover the distance in 28 hours. At 7:10 Saturday night, he passed over Bay Roberts, Newfoundland.

C. H. Orme, Conservative candidate for Skeena in the forthcoming federal election, and W. R. Love returned on the F. H. Phippen Saturday night from a week's campaign tour to various Queen Charlotte Island points. Mr. Orme will proceed on this evening's train to Terrace and other interior points, accompanied by James T. Harvey, local barrister.

The general opinion appears now to be that an Italo-Ethiopian conflict is inevitable and grave fears continue that it may develop into greater proportions. The rainy season in Ethiopia is, however, continuing later than usual this year and may delay the commencement of the attack by Italy until mid-October.

Announcement that the cabinet had rejected the League's peace terms was received with enthusiasm by the Italian people.

It was reported Saturday night that King Victor Emmanuel had written to King George of England appealing for a better understanding between Italy and Great Britain.

From Paris it was reported that the French cabinet had expressed itself as being shocked with Italy's refusal of the peace terms.

Italian Army Increased
ROME, Sept. 23. (CP)—Two hundred thousand soldiers of the 1911 to 1914 classes reported for duty today, bringing Italy's mobile army to one million men as Premier Mussolini promised before October 1. It was also disclosed that the civilian population of Naples, Palermo, Taranto, Bari, Brindisi and other Italian ports and cities were preparing themselves for evacuation if necessary.

Britain Arming Further
LONDON, Sept. 23. (CP)—Instead of withdrawing any portion of naval strength, Mediterranean forces are being strengthened and trenches surrounded by barbed wire are being dug in strategic areas around the harbor of Haifa, Palestine. Large munition dumps are also being established.

PRINCE ALBERT, Sept. 23. (CP)—Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, who is now campaigning his own constituency of Prince Albert, and who it was stated Saturday would be opposed by both Co-operative Commonwealth Federation and Social Credit candidates, declared that Social Credit would spread like wildfire through Canada and the whole world if Premier Aberhart made it work in Alberta. He said the Liberals would give Mr. Aberhart every assistance to work out the plan "but, until it proves itself, let us confine it to Alberta," he suggested.

Canadian Prime Minister Speaks In British Columbia Capital—Section 98 to Stand

VICTORIA, Sept. 23. (CP)—Having cancelled a meeting scheduled for Nanaimo Saturday afternoon following his arrival at Vancouver from the east that morning, Premier R. B. Bennett addressed a public meeting here Saturday night on federal election issues after which he left for Vancouver where he speaks twice today after resting there over the week-end.

At his meeting here, which was largely attended, Mr. Bennett lashed out at the Communists at Moscow and "their emissaries here." He declared that the government had discovered a plot where the Communists had planned to kidnap him and establish a Soviet in Canada.

Mr. Bennett said that Section 98 of the Criminal Code would stand so long as he headed the government.

AVIATORS ACQUITTED

Airmen Freed Of Charges In Connection With Killing In Skies Over Toronto

TORONTO, September 23. (CP)—Charges of manslaughter against William J. Mulqueeney, pilot, and Irwin Davis, mechanic, in connection with the death of Leonard Koenecke, Brooklyn baseball player, who was killed in a fight in an airplane over this city, were dismissed on the grounds of self-defence.

The coroner's jury, after having been out for twenty-one minutes, brought in a verdict that the blows on the head which had caused Koenecke's death had been struck in self-defence.

Provincial Police Back From Search For Lost Vessel

Constable Victor Bond, with the provincial police boat P.M.L. 9, returned to Prince Rupert Sunday from the Milbank Sound area, about 150 miles south of here, following abandonment of the search for the Vancouver fish packer Southseaman which is conceded to have been lost with her crew of two after having left St. John Harbor, Bardwell Islands, with a heavy load of salmon for Bute-dale cannery. Those on board the vessel who are believed to have perished with her were Capt. Gerald B. Hamilton of Fulford Harbor, owner and skipper, and Carl Larson of Vancouver, a naturalized Dane.

THE POLITICAL CORNER

THE GREAT PROMISER AND THE PEACE RIVER OUTLET

Mr. Bennett at Winnipeg, June 9th, 1930:

"We pledge ourselves to the improvement of the whole scheme of Canadian transportation, Northward, by the completion of the Hudson Bay Route and the construction of such branches as may be necessary to render it most readily available to every part of Canada: to the Pacific Slope by a Peace River Outlet, and east and west by the development of the St. Lawrence waterway."

In these words just before the last election Bennett, the Great Promiser, pledged his word to build the Peace River outlet. The depression was on when he made this promise and unemployment was rampant. He pledged his government, if elected, to do away with unemployment by putting the idle men to work on the national highway across Canada and other public works such as the Peace Outlet.

The other day Mr. Bennett said, "Surely! I promised to build the Peace River outlet but we were unable to do so. That must wait."

Why was he unable to do so? He was able to get $60,000,000 for the C. P. R. He had an overwhelming majority in Parliament to back him up in anything he wanted to do. The Peace Outlet is a national undertaking which must soon be built. We shall be compelled to spend the money anyway. Why not use the unemployed to build it during the depression, rather than throw millions of dollars away each year in doles without any return? Mr. Bennett was urged to do this many times but he consistently refused.

He would throw millions away on doles rather than spend a larger amount in paying fair wages on necessary capital undertakings.

As between men and money, money must be saved.

A vote for Orme is a vote for Bennett.

MAKES A MILLION

In the transfer of the Prince Rupert dry dock to the Mutual Pulp and Paper Mills of Prince Rupert Limited, as announced officially in this paper last week, it may be noted that the government is saved an annual subsidy for seven years which totals more than half a million dollars in addition to the half million to be paid the railway company for the property. As the railway company has lost money consistently on the local industry, it was good business for them to turn it over on such favorable terms.

THE NEWSPRINT MARKET

The monthly letter of the Royal Bank of Canada last week analyzes the newsprint situation and decides that there is likely to be a steadily increasing demand for Canadian newsprint overseas. Already there has been a considerable revival in the industry. The survey says in part:

"Scandinavian output of newsprint seems to be approaching the maximum which can be economically produced in that area. A like report has been made concerning Newfoundland. While it is said that the United States could greatly increase production by developing mills in Oregon or Alaska or by a new process, making use of the pines in the south, such developments would involve large investments, which seem improbable unless newsprint prices rule much higher than in recent years. It is possible that there may be an increase in the amount available from Russia, but in that country there has been a steady increase in home demand and it may even prove difficult for Russia to keep abreast of her own requirements. In these circumstances a study of the trend of consumption in foreign markets must be of peculiar interest to Canada.

"Between 1927 and 1934 newsprint consumption in Great Britain increased from 844,000 to 1,291,000 tons; that in France from 235,000 to 400,000 tons; that in Russia from 85,000 to 183,000 tons, and total overseas consumption showed an increase of more than 1,300,000 tons.

"Canada, with forty percent of the world's newsprint capacity, producing two-thirds of the newsprint which enters into international trade and with an excess capacity as compared with 1934 production greater than that of the whole of the rest of the world, has been the chief sufferer from under-consumption and low prices. With the trend toward recovery well established, and with indications that newsprint consumption is likely to show a large per capita increase in many overseas markets. Canada stands to receive the chief benefits from such improvement in world demand."

LITERATURE AND LIFE

T. W. Hall Gives Interesting Address to Rotary Club and Quotes From Poets

A very eloquent and enjoyable address was heard Thursday by the members of the Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon in the Commodore Hall, the speaker being School Inspector T. W. Hall and his subject "Literature and Life."

Mr. Hall spoke of the value of literature as a recreation, as a means of passing leisure time profitably. Leisure time he suggested was a time of danger and the person who was occupied in reading avoided some of these dangers. The library was particularly valuable as providing a valuable recreation.

The other plane, which he chose to call the higher plane, was "Literature as an Interpretation of Life Through the Medium of Words." By means of literature he was able to commune with all the great minds of the ages. He had often been obliged to wait in the ante-room of the great until he could obtain an interview. Through literature he could make the great await his leisure and vicariously could enjoy all the thrills that anyone would enjoy.

Mr. Hall spoke of the desirability of mental health as well as physical health. By means of books he could extend his horizon and learn to have a warmer sympathy with all mankind and even with the lower creatures.

The speaker then read a number of short poems to illustrate various phases of everyday life. Today he said people were worrying over the possible prospect of war yet the poet Thomas Hardy in 1915 wrote:

"Only a man harrowing clouds
"In a slow, silent walk
"With an old horse that stumbles and nods
"Half asleep as they stalk.
"Only thin smoke without flame
"From the heaps of couch grass
"Yet this will go onward the same
"Though dynasties pass.
"Yonder a maid and her wight
"Come whispering by.
"War's annals will cloud into night
"Ere their story die"

SPORT CHAT

Canada's youth, sportive already in many fields, is not a patch on what it might be if intensive development along sporting lines were undertaken. This from no less a figure than Lionel Conacher, the "Big Train" of Canadian sportdom. Holidaying in Regina with his younger brother, Charlie, the burly defenceman of Montreal Maroons, in the National Hockey League, declared that in rugby alone there was enough dormant material in Canadian high schools to send all United States imports back home. They would be unnecessary if Canadian talent were developed, he said.

Enthusiastic over the first holiday in years that he has been able to spend with Charlie, the sharp-shooting right winger of Toronto Maple Leafs, Lionel took time out to plead for the sporting development of young Canada. Particularly he urged the end of the amateur-pro ruling. "I would like to help the youngsters. I believe I can help them for I have devoted my life to sport. But I cannot play with them because of the amateur ruling which prevents mingling of professionals and amateurs. The hardship is all on Canadian youth who are unable to benefit from the experience of chaps like myself," Lionel continued. "American footballers cannot do themselves justice in Canada because the season is too short. I saw enough home talent in Ontario high schools last fall to send every import back home. The material was undeveloped. I would have liked to play with and help those boys. But I am a professional."

Ace of Canada's athletes, Lionel figured out a little mathematical problem while he stopped at Regina. During the past 22 years, he said, he had earned a great deal of money from his career in sport. But, figured out in hours spent in gymnasiums and on the training field, he had been paid at the rate of 30 cents an hour. That's how it goes, even for the "Big Train."

RIOTS ARE DISCUSSED

Jim Walsh Gives His Interpretation Of Incidents at Regina And Vancouver

Discussing the recent riots at Regina in which relief camp trekkers were involved and the waterfront strike situation at Vancouver, Jim Walsh of Vancouver, who was one of the committee which interviewed Premier Bennett and his cabinet at Ottawa on behalf of relief camp men, was the speaker at a meeting in the Moose Hall here last night under the auspices of the British Columbia Joint Defence Committee. The meeting was presided over by Thomas McKenzie.

Two resolutions were presented to the meeting and passed. One demanded that a public inquiry board should be appointed to investigate the causes of the Regina riot and place responsibility for same, the trial of Arthur Evans and thirty-one others who are charged with unlawful assembly under Section 98 as a result of the riot to be deferred until after the inquiry and all the accused to be released on bail meantime. The second resolution demanded that, as the Vancouver Shipping Federation and the police were the belligerents in the Ballantyne Pier riot at Vancouver and as waterfront workers were innocent of any crime except protecting their jobs, thirty-two longshoremen and seamen facing charges of inciting to riot be immediately released.

Mr. Walsh, at some length, gave details of events leading up to the riot at Regina. Having been unable to get satisfaction from either municipal authorities in Vancouver or the provincial government at Victoria in their demands against conditions existing in the relief camps, decision had been made to trek to Ottawa. Railway authorities had co-operated in various ways in moving the trekkers. There was public support on every hand.

Arriving at Ottawa, a conference was held between a strikers' committee, of which the speaker was a member, and Hon. R. J. Manion and Hon. Robert Weir. The upshot was agreement that a delegation should go to Ottawa to interview the full cabinet, the marchers to be given relief until the delegation returned. Mr. Walsh was not very complimentary in describing the attitude of Premier Bennett and his cabinet in receiving the delegation. Evans had called the Premier "a liar" when Mr. Bennett had stated that he (Evans) had been in jail at Calgary and New Westminster. Admitting that Evans had been in jail for strike activities at Drumheller and Princeton, the speaker declared that it was a "wonderful" instead of a "criminal" record.

Walsh asserted that the relief marchers had not wanted a clash with the police and the riot had not come until the police had themselves charged. Finally, Premier Gardiner arranged for transportation to ship the trekkers back to Vancouver or wherever they wanted to go. They had refused to stop at Kamloops but insisted on going back to Vancouver. In order not to prejudice the longshoremen's strike in Vancouver, the men had decided to go back to the camps. However if the federal government and the speaker predicted that the Liberals will soon be in power at Ottawa, did not move to better conditions in the relief camps, every relief camper between Prince Edward Island and British Columbia would be called out. The speaker was high in his praises of Arthur Evans, the leader of the relief camp strike and one of those awaiting trial at Regina.

Vancouver Waterfront

Mr. Walsh then discussed the Vancouver waterfront situation. It was not a question of wages this dispute, he said, but for the right of self-dispatch by the union instead of the Vancouver Shipping Federation. It amounted to a virtual lock-out when the union longshoremen had refused to handle "hot" cargo from Powell River. All demands for a conciliation board had been refused. Federation and police aggression, the speaker declared, had been responsible for the Ballantyne Pier riot. The longshoremen's union was receiving widespread support and its members were ready to stay out eight months and longer, if necessary. There was satisfaction with the leadership of Ivan Emery. He would not "sell out." Meantime, the Vancouver waterfront bristled with armed policemen and Mayor McGeer's "Fascist stool pigeons." Strikebreakers were largely High School boys and they were not giving very good satisfaction.

In answer to a question, Walsh admitted that 90c an hour was being paid longshoremen in Vancouver.

A collection at the meeting resulted in $18.79 being taken.

Port Essington Couple Married

Miss Polly Maybelle Priest Becomes Bride Of Norman Greenwood Pratt

PORT ESSINGTON, Sept. 23:—The marriage of Norman Greenwood Pratt, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Pratt of Vancouver, and Miss Polly Maybelle Priest, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Priest of Wistaria, took place at the mill residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown recently. The bride, given in marriage by J. A. Brown, looked charming in her floor length gown of chocolate brown taffeta and old gold silk net. Pink and white sweet Peas and Gypsophila formed her corsage bouquet. She was attended as matron of honor, by Mrs. J. A. Brown, who was gowned in orchid silk crepe. S. R. Donaldson supported the groom.

Following the ceremony the bridal party partook of a delicious luncheon, the bridal table being centred with a three tier wedding cake. For travelling the bride chose a brown cloth suit, mink trimmed, with a brown hat and matching accessories. The couple will reside in Port Essington.

The ceremony, performed by the Rev. Frank Bushfield, took place in a corner of the living room which was prettily arranged with flowers and trailing vines. Mr. Pratt is the manager of Brown's general store here. The bride was formerly engaged in teaching at Port Essington.
