Frank Demaree Hits Home Run Into Left Field Stands In Ninth Inning

DETROIT, Oct. 2: (CP)—The claws of the scrappy Chicago Cubs drew first blood in the 1935 World Series today as long Lonnie Warneke humbled the Detroit Tigers 3-0 and bested his Arkansas opponent School Boy Rowe in a brilliant mound duel.

Warneke allowed only four hits while Rowe was touched for seven. The Cubs collected a brace of runs in the first frame. Galan doubled and scored when Rowe threw wild to first on Billy Herman's roller. Barnett singled to score Herman for the second run. Frank Demaree, Cub right fielder, picked out one of Rowe's fast ones and plastered it half way up in the open left field stands for a home run in the first of the ninth.

Warneke equalled the World Series record of eight assists.

First Inning

Chicago—Galan doubled and scored on Rowe's wild throw to first, after Herman's infield hit. Barnett singled, scoring Herman. Two runs, two hits, one error.

Detroit—White struck out. Cochrane flew out to Galan. Gehring flew out to Jurgens. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning

Chicago—Hack flew out to Gehring. Jurgens singled. Warneke flew out to Fox. Galan struck out. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Detroit—Greenberg grounded to Hack. Goslin grounded to Warneke. Fox doubled. Rogell flew out to Galan. No runs, one hit no errors.

Third Inning

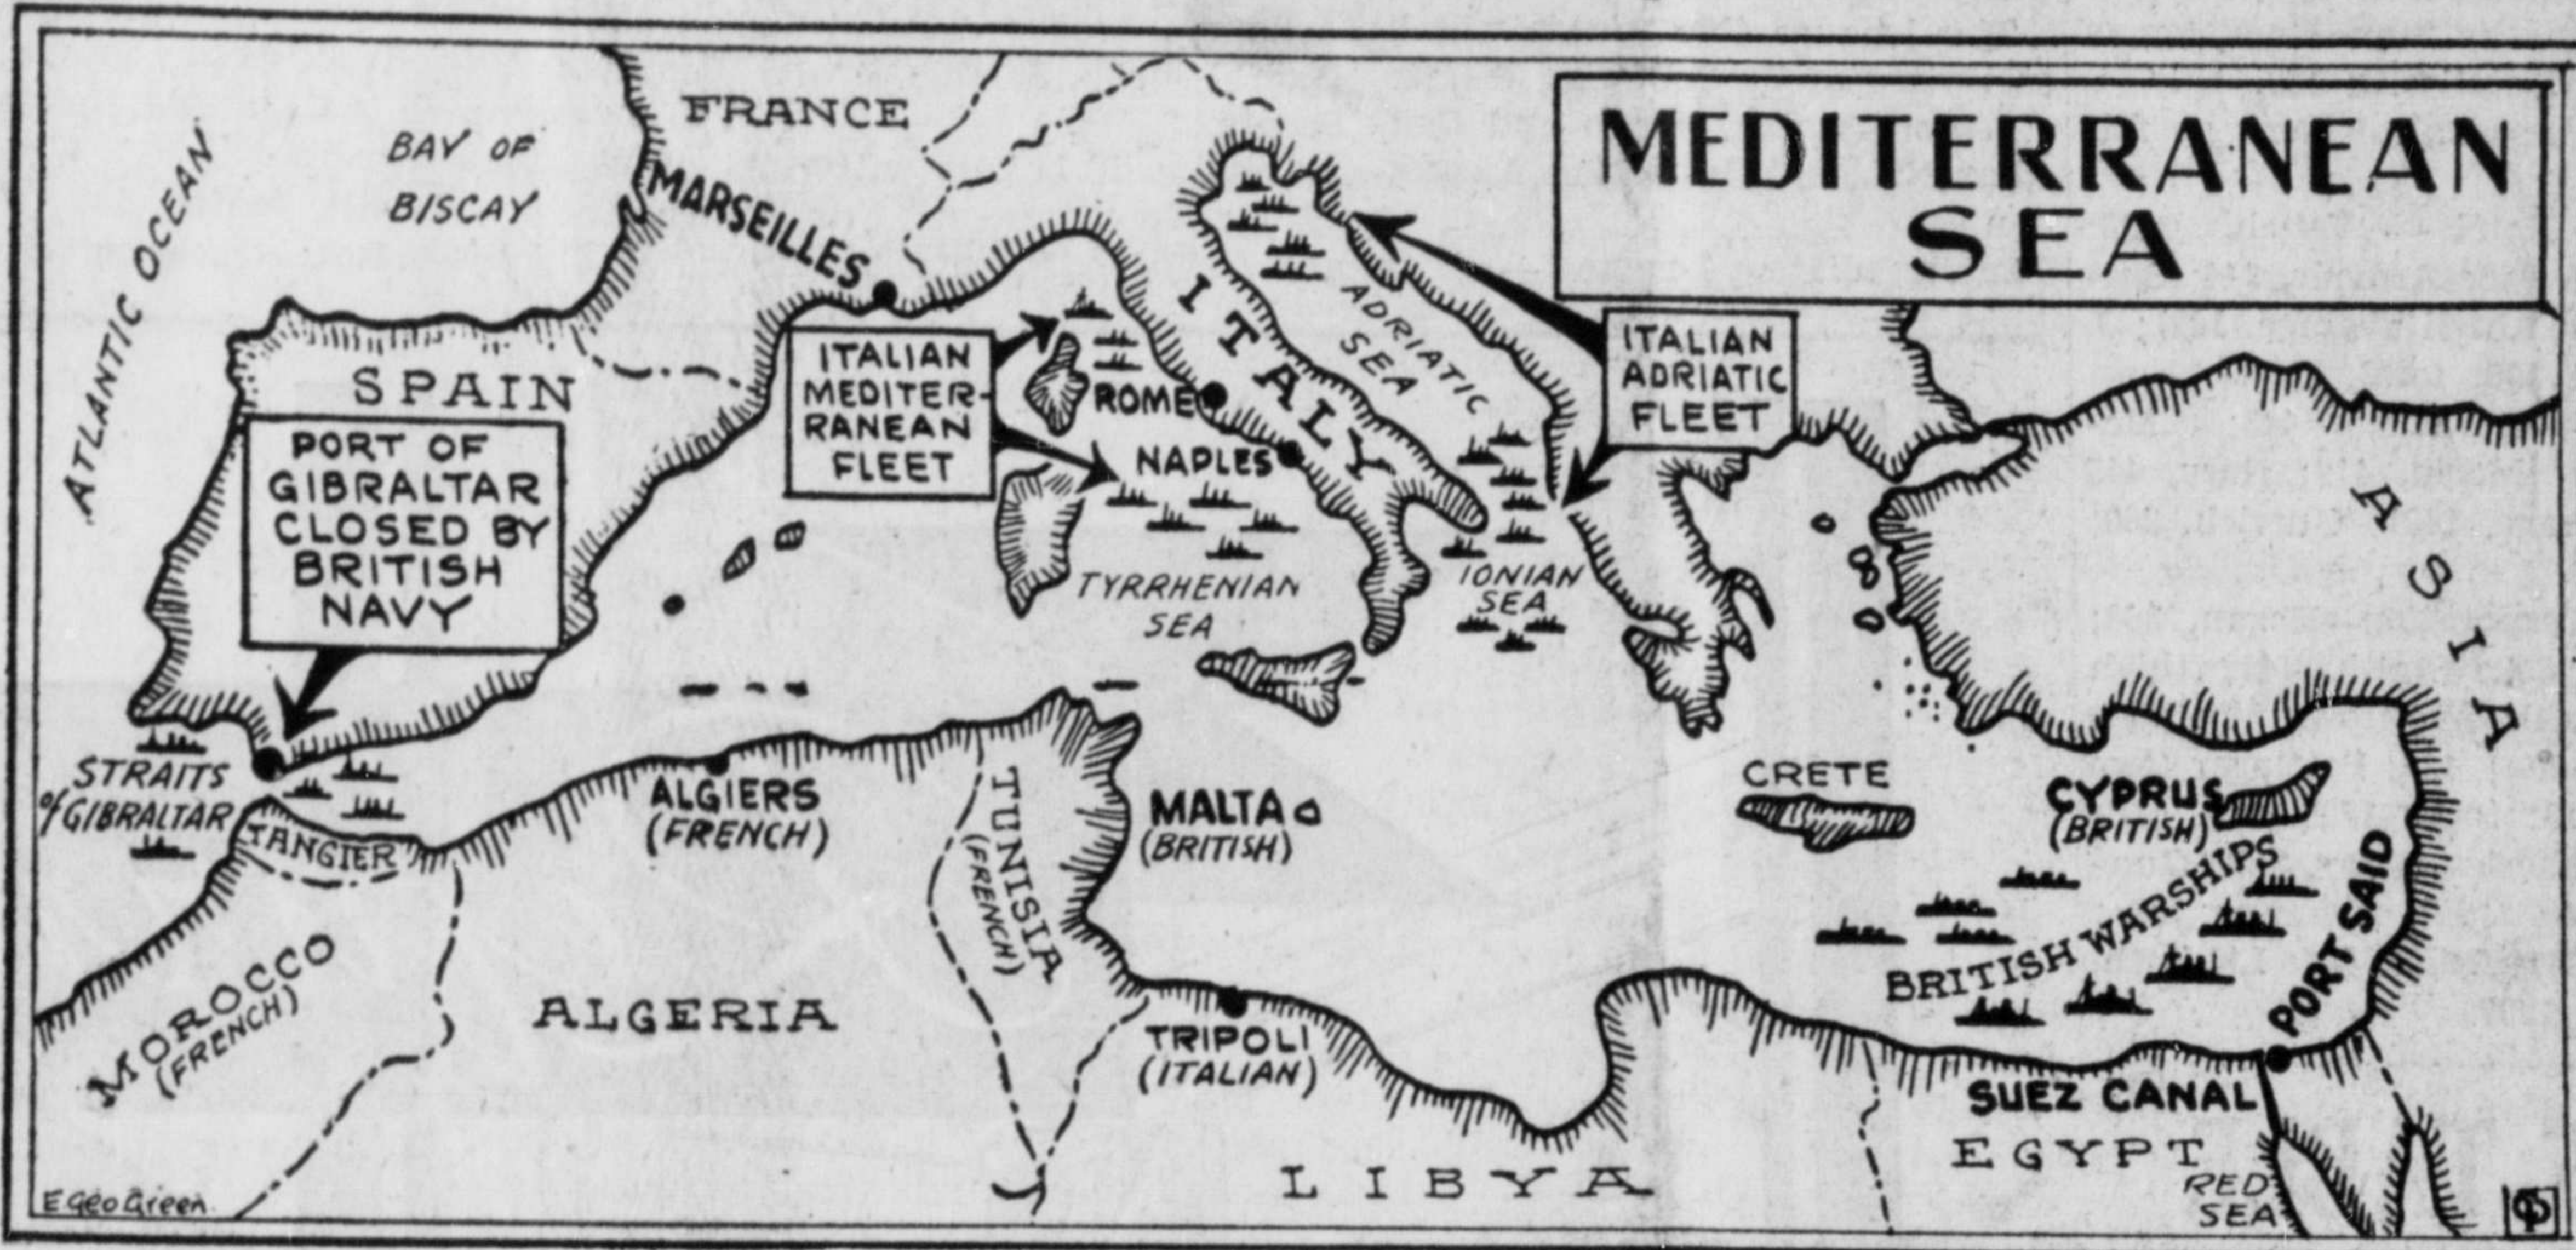

Chicago—Herman lined out to Greenberg. Lindstrom singled. Barnett struck out. Lindstrom was out stealing. Cochrane to Gehring. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Detroit—Owen grounded out to Warneke. Rowe grounded out to Warneke. White singled. Cochrane grounded to Warneke. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning

THE POLITICAL CORNER

THE C. C. F. AND THE PROSPECTOR

Mr. Bennett says, and in this he is endorsed by all the leading bankers and financial authorities, that Canada's Gold Mines have proved to be her sheet anchor in this time of stress and storm and have enabled her, in large part, to meet her foreign obligations.

Prospectors, by the thousands, are out in the hills in every part of Canada seeking new gold mines. New finds and new gold rushes are being reported monthly in various parts of our Dominion.

Our prospectors, spurred on by the consuming desire to better their financial condition, are undergoing all sorts of hardships, sweating, toiling, tormented by flies and mosquitos, in the never ceasing quest for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

And now, the C. C. F. party comes along and says, "We intend to nationalize all mines, to make all your mines public property." Is this to be the lot of the prospector, after all the hardships he has suffered; to have his property taken from him?

We would like to ask whether any new mines would be found in Canada under such conditions?

We would like to ask whether Canada would have one tenth of the mines she has today if private enterprise had been killed years ago by the enforcement of such a policy.

It is idle for anyone to suggest that the Dominion under the C. C. F. would adequately reward a prospector for finding new mines. The only adequate reward he could receive would be a share in what he found and that is diametrically opposed to the principle of nationalizing all mines.

If you socialize industry you kill private enterprise.

POLITICS AND BUSINESS

Prince Rupert is a Liberal city brought into being by a Liberal government and almost killed on more than one occasion by the Conservative party getting into power at the crucial time.

Once again we have a crucial time in the history of this city. A new industry is about to be established here. While we recognize the fact that the present federal government turned over the dry dock site to the new company for a consideration, we also know that under a Liberal government which is really interested in the progress of the city and port there is more likely to be real progress. The whole country is going Liberal and under such circumstances it would be the reasonable thing from a business point of view for Prince Rupert to send a Liberal to Ottawa.

A Vancouver newspaper recently in an editorial article said: "The Conservatives conserve, the radicals protest and destroy, the Socialists talk and preach but the Liberals are the go-getters who go out and create business." There has usually been prosperity in Canada under Liberal governments and it seems reasonable to expect that this will be the case during the next few years.

Speaking of what the political parties did in England the same newspaper says: "The Liberals built Britain with shops and trade. The Tories drank tea, shot pheasants and hobbled with royalty. The Socialists aired their Marxian theories in Hyde Park." There may be a time and place for each of them but what we need in Prince Rupert today is a party that will help build the city with industries, trade and commerce, making everybody busy and prosperous.

When we get too busy we shall need the Conservative party to come to the rescue and hold us down, but at present the one thing needful in this city is Liberalism and business and then more business. The program of the C. C. F. is a program of talk. Have they done anything at Victoria? They admit they have not. Who are the C. C. F. leaders here? Have they ever done anything for themselves or for anyone else? The Liberals are led by a man who has shown his ability to do things both for himself and for the community in which he has lived. If we return him to Parliament again with a Liberal government there he will have an opportunity to serve us as we have never been served before.

REPLY TO MR. BROWN

Editor, Daily News:—
Your correspondent, James A. Brown, in his reply to my communication entirely ignores the chief ground on which the Liberal party opposed the enactment of Section 98 and now proposes its repeal.

A fundamental principle of English common law and one in which it differs materially from the Continental Codes is that in criminal cases under English law the accused is presumed to be innocent until the contrary is proven and the burden of proving every ingredient of an offence is cast upon the prosecution. As I pointed out in my former communication, subsection 4 of Section 98 departs from this well-known principle and provides that, in certain circumstances, the accused must prove his own innocence.

I assume that this departure from the English principle of forcing a man to prove his own innocence is what Mr. Brown is referring to when he says "That it is necessary that we have laws that have teeth in them."
I do not think that any person that has given this matter any thought will agree that the Continental systems on this respect are preferable to the English one.

Referring to my statement respecting Sections 87 and 89 of the Criminal Code, these sections were originally enacted in 1892 and previous to and since the war have proven amply sufficient to take care of the exigencies of any situation that has arisen.

If Mr. Brown doubts my statements on this point, I would refer him to the following three cases where convictions were obtained under these sections, against persons taking part in unlawful assemblies and riots:

- Rex vs. Jones, 55-C. C. C., Page 380.
- Rex vs. Patterson, Dominion Law Reports, 1931, 267.
- Rex vs. Beatty, 55-C. C. C., 380. BRITISH JUSTICE.

GRANTING OF TITLES

Editor, Daily News:—
In recounting the achievements of the government to audiences throughout the country, Mr. Bennett very modestly refrains from including in the list the revival of the practice of granting titles.
The granting of titles was discontinued following the passing of a resolution in the House of Commons in 1917. When Mr. Bennett became Prime Minister, he took the matter out of the hands of Parliament on the ground that a resolution of one Parliament is not binding on later Parliaments.
Mr. Bennett claimed the right and went ahead to grant titles. It is something that should be properly included in his record and some defence of it might be expected from him and the Conservative candidate in this constituency. But, if it should by chance be mentioned, he would soon learn what the people think of this great achievement. The time when Mr. Bennett performed this heroic act was when distress in Canada was acute and most deeply widespread. Mr. Bennett could not find time to solve the question of substituting employment for doles. But he could spare the time to give thoughtful consideration to the granting of knighthood—leading to his conviction that this was one of the country's needs.
It is rather a pity that credit is not now claimed by the Conservatives for this bright feature of the government's record. LIBERAL.

New Minister At Massett is Given Hearty Welcome

MASSETT, Oct. 1.—Under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary and St. John's Anglican Church choir, a social was held in the Community Hall at Old Massett recently to welcome the new minister, Rev. A. Abraham, and his wife.

Alfred Adams delivered the address of welcome to which Rev. Mr. Abraham suitably responded. The choir sang many anthems which evoked high praise from the minister.

Mr. Abraham volunteered to sing as a solo "My Task," and also gave a recitation.

While refreshments were being prepared, Alfred Adams sang a solo.

The choir was conducted by David Jones. Oliver Adams acted as chairman.

Condition of J. A. Meeker, well known pioneer of the city, who has been a patient in the Prince Rupert General Hospital since suffering a strike ten days ago, is reported to be somewhat improved.

DR. MANDY'S LONG TRIP

Resident Mining Engineer Back In Prince Rupert After Spending Four Months in Field

Saw Much Ground

Visited Atlin, Cassiar, Unuk River And Portland Canal District Since Leaving June 1

After an absence from the city of over four months, Dr. Joseph T. Mandy, resident mining engineer for the northwestern mineral survey district, is home, accompanied by Mrs. Mandy, arriving on the Catala this morning from Stewart. He left Prince Rupert on June 1 and has since made an intensive examination of mining properties in the Atlin, Cassiar, Unuk River and Portland Canal districts. He will now be busy at his office here compiling the information and data gathered on his tour for inclusion in the next annual report of the Department of Mines.

Dr. Mandy's first visit in the course of his long trip was to the Atlin district where he reports there is considerable activity, both in placer and lode gold mining. Approximately 200 men have been employed this season on the creeks in the Atlin district, the majority being on Spruce Creek. The Columbia Development Co. has two steam shovels working on Spruce Creek and has had a very successful season.

The resident engineer next visited Telegraph Creek and continued on into Dease Lake and McDames Creek. In that section there is a considerable revival in mining interest. Quite extensive prospecting for lode and placer gold is being carried out by individual prospectors with good results being obtained. Quartz Creek, a tributary of McDames, is the scene of the greatest amount of development.

Flying from Ketchikan to Burroughs Bay and then crossing the Alaskan Panhandle into Canadian territory, Dr. Mandy spent three weeks in the Unuk River district. His investigations on the Unuk this year covered a distance of twenty miles up from the international boundary and all tributary streams. Bruce Johnson's placer property was checked up as were also his lode mining locations on McQuillan Creek. They have promising values and geological conditions are favorable. Blanton's placer locations on test have disclosed exceptionally good values and will be further tested with a Keystone drill to determine their commercial worth. Other properties were also visited on Unuk River by Dr. Mandy including those in which Premier and Prince Rupert syndicates are interested.

Dr. Mandy, after visiting the Unuk section, came around by gasboat from Ketchikan to Stewart and has been for the past three weeks visiting the many active properties in the Portland Canal section.

CHAN FILM AT CAPITOL

Another of Popular Detective Pictures Here—Edmund Lowe Also on Program

Another thrilling and engrossing picture of the popular "Chan" series of detective stories comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre as the main feature of a double bill this mid-week. It is entitled "Charlie Chan in Egypt" with Warner Oland once again starred in the title role of an adventure among the eery tombs of the Pharaohs. Priceless gold and jeweled treasures from the tomb of an ancient high priest are stolen and Chan is hired to trace the thefts and apprehend the thieves. Three murders occur and Chan's skill and courage are tested to their limit but he finally solves the crimes in a thrilling climax. Pat Patterson, as the daughter of the leader of an expedition, gives excellent support to Oland and Stepin Fetchit, as a native of the desert sands who becomes Chan's strange and frightened aide, creates many comic situations.

The second feature of the double bill program is a new comedy-drama "Black Sheep" in which Edmund Lowe, as a professional gambler, has the leading role. Claire Trevor, Adrienne Ames and Tom Brown being also prominent members of the cast.
