THE POLITICAL CORNER

OLD AGE PENSIONS

In April 1924 a special committee of the House of Commons was appointed on the motion of Mackenzie King to make inquiries into an old age pension system for Canada.

In 1926 an Old Age Pensions Bill was, after much debate and criticism from the then Conservative opposition led by Mr. Bennett, adopted by the Liberal House of Commons. The Conservative party, however, had a majority in the Senate and the bill was defeated in that chamber.

The Liberals did not let the matter rest there. In the following year after the general election of 1926 Mackenzie King again introduced this Old Age Pensions Bill identical in terms with the one the Tories had defeated and this time it was passed by both Houses. On July 2nd, 1930, speaking at Yarmouth, N.S., Mr. Bennett said:

"If the Conservative party is successful on July 28th I will see to it that Old Age Pensions are paid to every province of the Dominion from the Federal treasury. It is a national obligation. If the Dominion can pay 50 percent (the amount called for in Mackenzie King's Bill), why cannot it pay 99 percent?"

Mr. Bennett has not kept his pledge and in 1935 the provinces still pay 25 percent and no pensions at all are paid in Quebec or New Brunswick.

And yet after opposing the original introduction of Old Age Pensions by Mackenzie King and after failing to implement his pledge of 1930 Mr. Bennett had the effrontery to say in his recent radio broadcast, "If you don't want your old people cared for then vote for Taschereau and King."

What can we say of the good faith of a man who will so traduce his political opponent in order to gain public office?

In order to be elected again he is now making a new set of promises about pensioning people over 60, which promises he will break, should he be elected, just as he broke the above promise made in 1930.

THE EFFECT ON FISH AND LUMBER

There are three classes of people in Canada as in most other countries. There are those who consider what will Gyro Club was held in the Boston be the personal effect of the election on themselves. The Bennett government has been in power for five years and has failed in this respect. If it is returned there is little hope that it will succeed. The C. C. Hanson understands the situation fully and will urge that one of the first matters to consider in a reciprocity deal is the removal or reduction of the two-cent duty on Canadian halibut. As friend of the King administration he will have Meeting great influence.

Then there is the duty on lumber and poles. Mr. Hanson is directly interested there and will doubtless do his best to give Northern British Columbia a fair deal so that the mills will soon be operating once more as they did a

MOOSE LODGE FOR TONIGHT POSTPONED

ALWAYS PRAISES MY LIGHT, FLUFFY OMELETTES*

... AND HERE'S HOW I MAKE THEM"

says Mary Simkins, cook at the Winnipeg residence of Lady Tupper, wife of Sir Charles Stewart Tupper, Bart., R.C.; and managing director of the Winnipeg Players' Guild.

"I FIND," says Mary Simkins, "that by using Nestlé's Evaporated Milk in this recipe my omelettes are lighter, have a more uniform texture and do not fall. Nestlé's Milk also imparts a delicious, rich, creamy flavour."

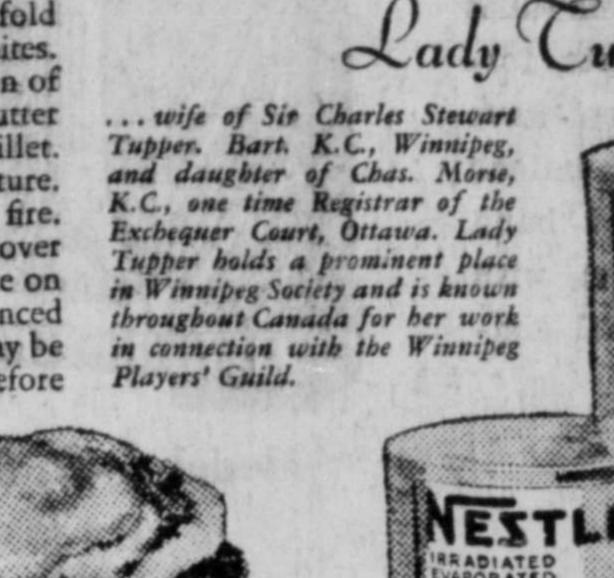

You'll find Nestle's Evaporated Milk ideal for your cooking needs too. Remember, it's simply the finest cow's milk with more than half of the water removed. Nothing is added—and because its generous butter-fat content never varies, Nestlé's always gives uniform cooking results.

Add the extra goodness and richness of Nestle's Evaporated Milk to your cooking. Try it in soups, sauces, creamed dishes, desserts, cakes, etc., and see for yourself how much better it makes them-and how economical it is to use.

Try Nestlé's for cooking - try it in your coffee. Your grocer can NETTLÉ'S MULK supply you. IRRADIATED ... EVAPORATED

A VOTE FOR ORME IS A VOTE FOR BENNETT

SOME FACTS

Do you know that Canada in 1933-34, the last available full year figures, exported 37.3% of the world's breadstuffs, an increase of 6.9%, and that on the list of exporting nations to Great Britain, Canada rose from eleventh in 1930 to second place in 1934, all under Bennett?

The Ottawa pacts saved Canada from insolvency. Through the Hawley-Smoot tariff in the United States and the Import Go Duties Act in Great Britain her principal markets were gone and only through the leadership of Bennett at the Ottawa conference was she saved.

> Where would the lumbering industry in British Columbia be today were it not for the Ottawa pacts? Bankrupt! The logging camps on Queen Charlotte Islands and elsewhere closed! Yet Ralston and Ian Mackenzie predicted the ruin of the lumber trade if the agreements were ratified. Mr. H. R. McMillan of Vancouver, a recognized authority on lumber exports, in pointing out the advantages of the Ottawa agreements, said. "Without any significant aid from expanding world trade Mr. Bennett by means of the Ottawa tariff agreements secured for British Columbia an additional export market in British Empire countries amounting to 10,470 million feet of lumber." There are at present employed in the lumbering industry in Canada over 90,000, and had it not been for these Ottawa pacts a large part of this number would be amongst the unemployed.

> Canada has trade treaties with the six main parts of the Empire, and Britain herself abandoned a free trade policy of 80 years to join in the agreements; she has also trade treaties with eight foreign countries, and is at last on the eve of a trade treaty with the United States that will be fair to both countries. All this accomplished under the Bennett government.

> In the last five years over 250 U.S. firms have opened factories in Canada, several in Vancouver, to take advantage of the entry to Empire markets.

BEWARE lest King lose for you the markets Bennett found. Bennett has reduced annual interest on the National Debt by sixteen million dollars and has placed Canada amongst the four nations of the world who have made the greatest progress towards recovery.

FILM BILL

Woolsey Musical Mystery-Comedy at Capitol

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, city. comprise a middle of the week double bill at the Capitol Theatre John Nelson, Aiyansh; H. Franks,

There is plenty of dramatic achumanity while the engineer thinks C. N. R.; H. H. Griffin, Smithers. of human beings as steel who should be thrown on the dump heap if there is a flaw. The cast also includes such players as Patricia Ellis, Donald Woods, Robert Barrat and Barton MacLane.

"The Nitwits" is said to be Wheeler and Woolsey's funniest production to date, brimming also with music and thrilling melodrama. The popular comedy team are cast as proprietors of a cigar counter in Tin Pan Alley. Despite the comedy and the mystery, three brand new melodies, "Music in My Heart," "The Black Widow Will Get You if You Don't Watch Out" and "You Opened My Eyes," are introduced.
