When Dr. Thorpe and Miss Astor were married in June 1933 it was described as an "ideal marriage." The couple have a small daughter. Miss Astor's first husband, Kenneth Hawkes, was killed in an airplane crash several years ago.

E. O. Aves, deputy provincial assessor, returned to the city on the Catala today from the north.

FOUR BILLION DOLLAR PUBLIC WORKS BILL IS SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

MIAMI, Fla., April 9:—Following its passage at the end of the week by Congress, the $4,880,000,000 public works bill was signed last night by president Franklin D. ### DEATH OF PUBLISHER

Adolph Ochs Had Two Great Newspapers, Chattanooga and New York Times

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 9: (AP)—Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times and the Chattanooga Times, succumbed to a cerebral hemorrhage here yesterday at the age of seventy-seven years. He was stricken in a restaurant.

His rehabilitation of the New York Times, eventually making it one of the greatest newspapers of the world, was the outstanding achievement in Mr. Ochs' career of more than half a century as a publisher. It was, however, merely a repetition on a larger scale of what he had accomplished with the Chattanooga Times.

Manifesting a peculiar liking for the print shop and printer's ink as a boy, they proved a greater attraction to him than his studies and weaned him away from his school books. He became a carrier boy, then a printer's "devil," learned the "case" and developed into a competent printer.

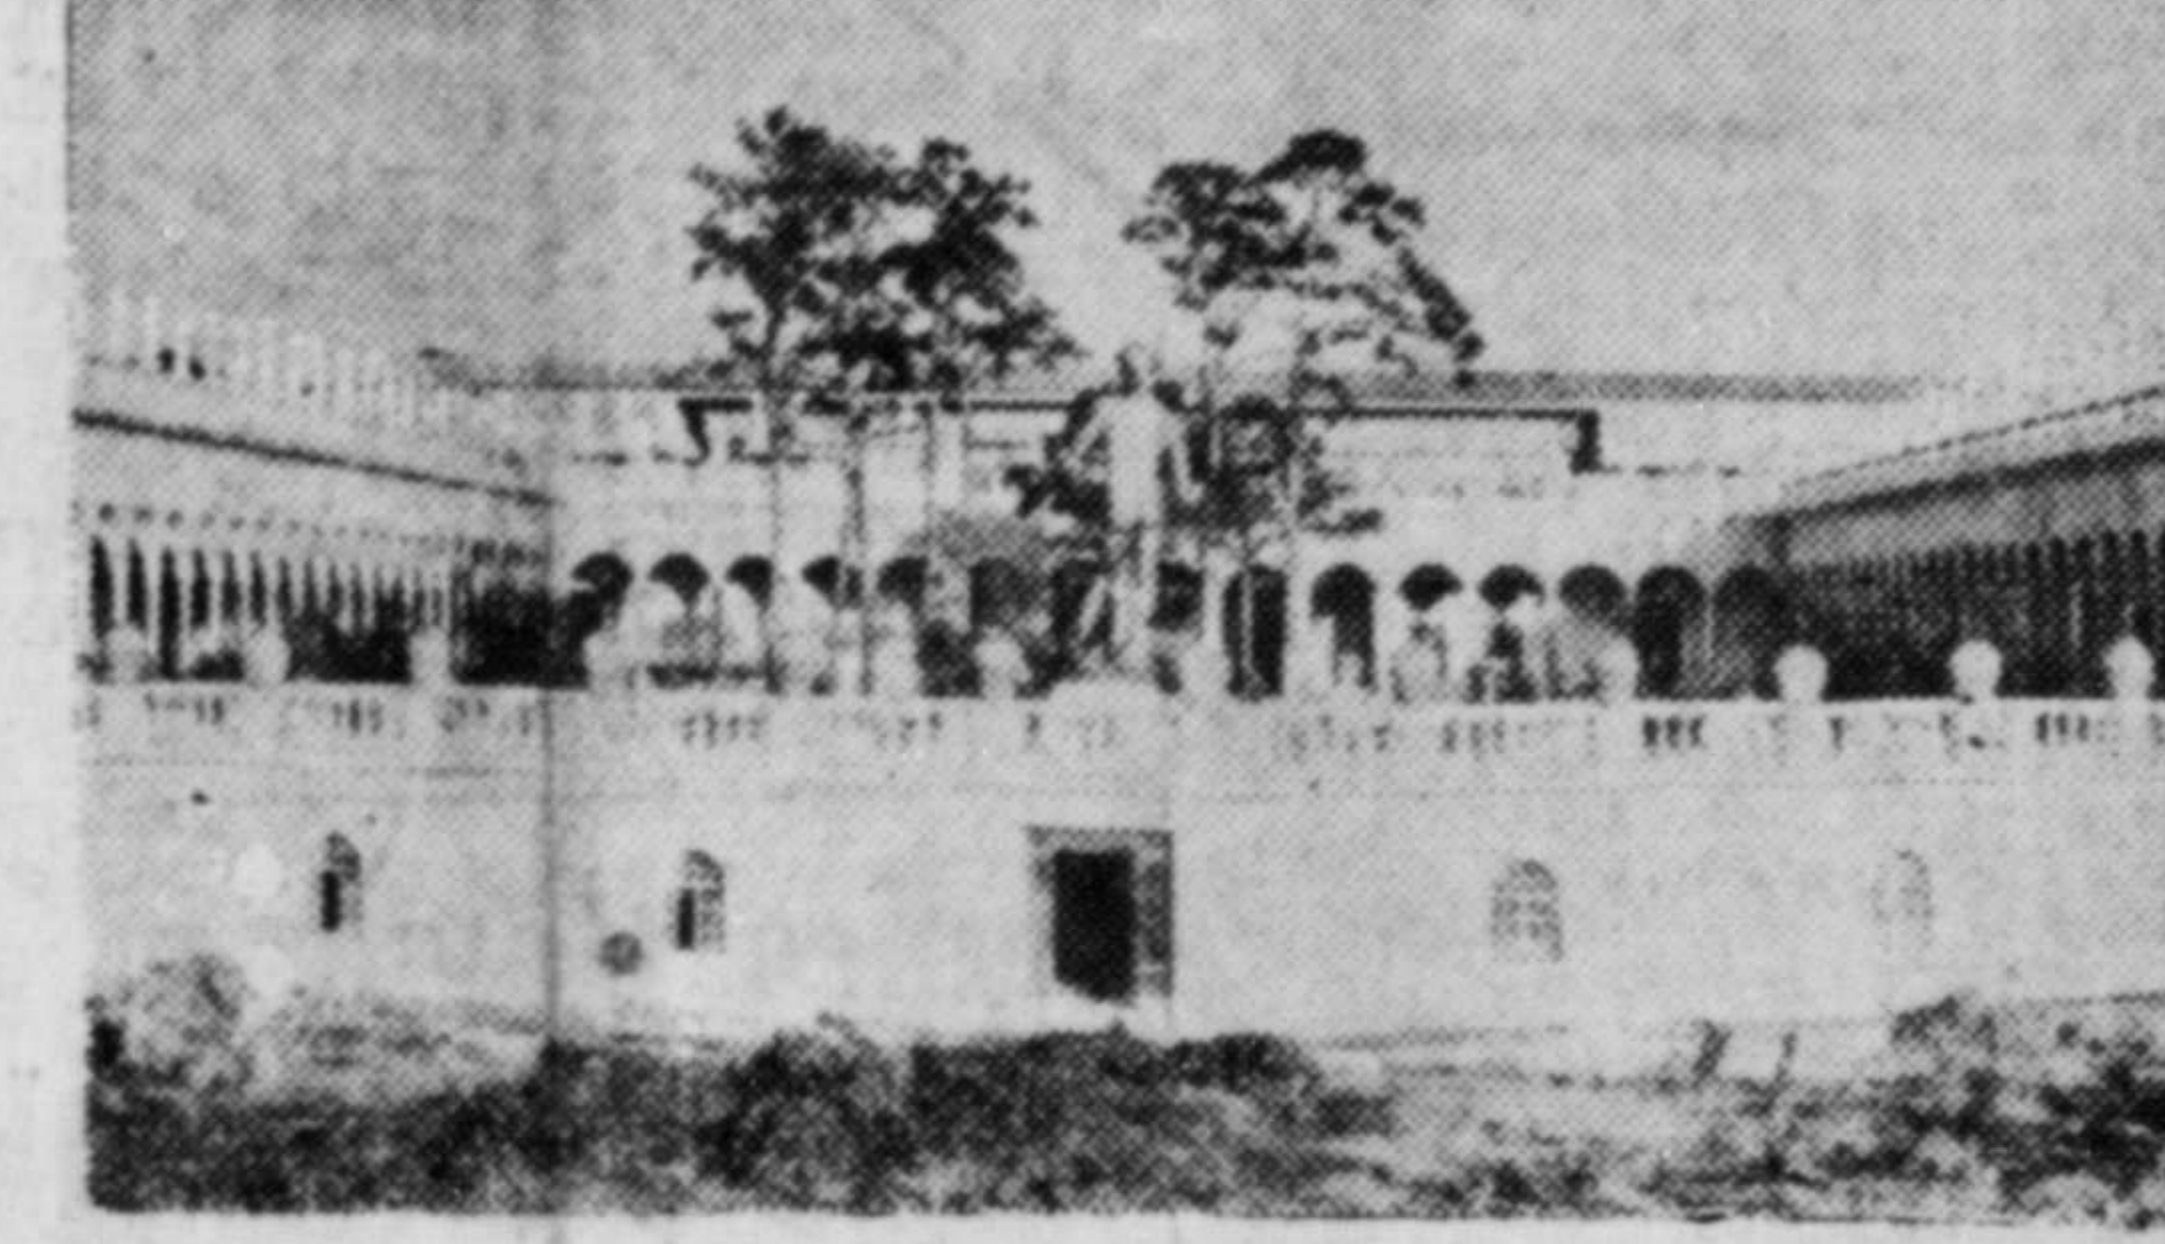

Mr. Ochs was only 20 years old when he took his first fling at publishing. In 1878 he put out a Chattanooga city directory which proved a financial success. With the capital thus acquired and backed only by his tremendous energy and confidence in his own ability, he entered the field as a newspaper publisher by purchasing a half interest in the Chattanooga Times. The price was $1,750, on which he paid $250 in cash.

Two years later he bought the other half interest, but was obliged to pay $7,500 for it, so rapidly had the journal developed in circulation, influence and business.

When Mr. Ochs went to the New York Times in 1896 that journal was described by one observer as "the most picturesque old ruin among the newspapers of America."

Circus Magnate Goes "Broke"

John Ringling, top, left, famous circus owner, who once amassed a fortune of $100,000,000, has been left practically penniless because he was unable to pay an $18,000 interest payment on a loan of $1,714,000 he obtained from a New York investment company in 1929, he has testified before a bankruptcy referee in New York. Ringling posted half of his circus stock and his costly art collection, located in his museum at Sarasota, Fla., below, as collateral. Scene from a Ringling circus, familiar to many Canadians, is also shown.

Veteran Advocate of Western Route May be Chosen As Liberal Candidate in Federal Election—Campaign Of Education Carried On

PEACE RIVER, Alta., April 9:—Page Rideout, strong advocate of a railway outlet from the Peace River country westward to Prince Rupert, is prominently mentioned as the Liberal candidate for this riding at the federal election this year. His name will undoubtedly be before the Liberal convention and, if he is nominated, he has a good chance of carrying the campaign to Ottawa in person. He has been addressing meetings at various points under Liberal auspices and has been given a good reception everywhere. Mr. Rideout has his facts well in hand and successfully meets every argument. His slogan is "A Rail Outlet to the Coast" and, when speaking of the coast, he means Prince Rupert.

PIONEER IS DEAD

Joseph Hunter, Picturesque and Colorful Island Figure, Passes At Ninety-Four

VICTORIA, April 9: (CP)—Joseph Hunter, aged 94, a resident of the province for sixty-five years, died yesterday. A most picturesque and colorful figure, he was superintendent of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway when it was operated by the Dunsmuir interests, a civil engineer, surveyor, mining engineer and coal operator. He represented Cariboo in the first British Columbia Legislative Assembly in 1871, later sitting for Comox and for Cariboo again.

J. N. Killas, who has been spending some time at Premier, returned to the city from the north on the Catala today.

Roosevelt, emphatically denied having acted as a lobbyist at Washington on behalf of commercial airways companies in support of the mead air mail bill which was passed by Congress. ### Fisheries Industry Comes In For Consideration in Report; Co-operative Movements Urged

OTTAWA, April 9: (CP)—More strict control over all business and all industry in Canada, more intense governmental interest in company financing, relations between employers and workers and in labor itself are among the recommendations in the report of the mass buying and price spreads committee which has been placed in the hands of the minister of trade and commerce and will be tabled in the House of Commons probably on Thursday or Friday.

The Canadian Press learned last night that the report deals with practically every phase of Canadian business and industry and seeks to set up government-appointed boards to control and review operations along a wide front.

Encouragement of co-operative movements in the fisheries is recommended. Creation of a fisheries control board with wide powers over the industry is suggested. The board would make every possible effort to raise the price to the fishermen.

PAGE RIDEOUT FOR THE PEACE

Prince Rupert will be more interested in the federal election campaign about to take place in the Peace River section of Alberta because of the fact that Page Rideout, apostle of the western outlet, seems likely to be the Liberal candidate there. On another page is an interesting news article from the town of Peace River in regard to the policy which Mr. Rideout is advocating in the Alberta section of the Peace country and which he is said to be planning to proclaim at Ottawa if he is chosen candidate and is elected as member for that district. We recommend it as of particular interest at this time.

Mr. Rideout is a farmer but he is also an economist and something of a politician. For many years we have heard his name mentioned as one of the champions of the district and particularly of the scheme for better rail connection with the Pacific seaboard. He is an able speaker and a clear thinker and he has now crystallized his plans and seems to be putting them forward with greater force and clearness than ever before. We sincerely hope that the people of Peace River will see fit to nominate him for the House of Commons and feel sure that his policy will appeal to them so strongly that he will be elected in that constituency. If he should go to Ottawa, Prince Rupert will gladly join hands in the movement to induce the federal government of the day, Liberal or Conservative, to build the railway through to join the Canadian National Railways at the most convenient point in order to reach Prince Rupert where we have all the facilities ready to ship their grain. As it is, the Prince Rupert terminal elevator handles a good deal of Peace River wheat. With a western outlet direct to this port the farmer would get a much better price for his product and we should get more of the grain, probably all of it. We are mutually interested. We want to see the farmer prosper and, in doing so, we stand a chance of ourselves becoming more prosperous.

CAMERON TO FINAL

Defeats Brown and Will Play C. P. Balagno For City Billiard Championship

In the early stages of the final block of their semi-final game last evening in the city billiard championship, Don Brown outscored Neil Cameron but the latter more than caught up in the last two hundred and finally won by a margin of 169 points, the actual scores being Cameron 1000, Brown 831.

Facing a deficit of 128, Brown showed from the start that he was going to make things happen and, following some useful breaks, ran into form with a fine 53. At one time he was within 40 points of Cameron which meant that he had outscored the ultimate winner by eighty points. At this stage there was every possibility of Brown catching Cameron and, at adjournment, there was a difference of only 61.

Play was slow though always interesting but both players were nervous and missed many a simple shot. By degrees, however, Cameron strung together a 25 and several double figure breaks and came home an easy winner. His best breaks were only 31, 25 and 21 (twice). Brown had the best of the night with 53 and other scores of 23, 22 and 20.

For the whole game Cameron's average was 4.71 and his high break 45. Brown's average was 3.8 and his high break 53.

As a result of his win, Cameron qualified to meet C. P. Balagno in the final.

FROM A STAFF OF SEVEN TO SIX THOUSAND STRONG

From less than a corporal's guard to the equivalent of six regiments—this graphically illustrates the growth of the Bank of Montreal's staff in 117 years. On the 23rd of August, 1817, the first four employees of the Bank of Montreal were appointed. They were the cashier, an accountant, a paying teller and a second teller. Shortly afterward a discount clerk, a second bookkeeper and a porter were added. These seven constituted the original staff when the modest establishment on St. Paul Street in Montreal opened its doors on Monday, November 3rd—an establishment which was destined to play a conspicuous and beneficial part in the development of Canada's resources. Throughout the many decades that have followed, the Bank of Montreal has made increasing effort to provide a banking service always adequate to meet the requirements of Canada's development. The original staff of seven has grown to 6,300, loyally serving the public through 500 branches extending from sea to sea—and overseas.

NATIVES INDIGNANT

Editor, Daily News:—

A state of uneasiness reigns at Old Massett. Old Massett natives always depended upon halibut as their winter food but recently the Department of Fisheries notified the Indians that they cannot obtain halibut for their food. They were told that they were killing off the fish on their spawning grounds. The Indians say: "The Canadian Government seems to overlook the fact that we have always obtained our halibut from the mouth of Massett Inlet even from the days prehistoric and yet the halibut continued to increase. We were mistreated from the very first day that the whites came. We were denied all our previous rights and we haven't even the right to vote. We are penned up in small plots of land called 'Reserves' and the Dominion Government says that it is our guardian. They push us around wherever they can keep us out of sight in silence. We are denied all rights of our country. Now they are taking one of the very few privileges left to us away. We cannot exist under the pressure any longer."

An Indian was arrested on the sixth of April for obtaining halibut for food. He states that he did not think the Dominion Government cruel enough to convict an Indian for obtaining his native food.

A meeting was held by the Massett Indians to discuss and consider what steps they might take regarding the stand taken by the government in preventing the Indians from obtaining fish for food. If it wasn't for the strong Christian native leaders, who opened the meeting with prayer, it is doubted if violence could have been avoided.

PIONEER IS DEAD

George Sutherland of McBride Street Passed Away After Long Illness

George McIntosh Sutherland of McBride Street, one of Prince Rupert's best known and most highly respected pioneer citizens, passed away last night at 11:30 in the Prince Rupert General Hospital where he had been a patient for a few hours. For the past year or so, Mr. Sutherland had been in failing health. On Sunday night he took a bad turn and was unconscious a good portion of yesterday, it being finally deemed advisable to remove him to the hospital.

Born at Lybster, Caithnessshire, Scotland, seventy-two years ago, the late Mr. Sutherland came to Prince Rupert in 1909 at the time of the original sale of townsite lots and had made his residence here since. For a while before coming here, he lived in Montreal and Winnipeg. He took a keen interest in civic affairs for many years. He was a member of the Masonic craft—of St. Vincent's Lodge in Glasgow and Tsimpsen Lodge here.

Surviving relatives of deceased include a sister, Mrs. Jean Henderson of Stirlingshire, Scotland, and a nephew, John Sutherland of Edinburgh.

The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon from Haynor Bros. chapel.

about the development of the productive and scenic Peace River basin had been made a political football.

Mr. Rideout advanced the scheme of connecting the end of steel at Hines Creek with Hazelton by way of Hudson's Hope, 150 miles, thence to Finlay Forks, 75 miles, and on west to connect with the Canadian National at Hazelton, 160 miles. There was only 385 miles as the crow flies to be constructed in order to enable trains carrying Peace River grain to flow westward through the elevator at Prince Rupert. The actual amount of construction would not be more than 525 miles in order to connect Prince Rupert with Churchill.

In comparing the shipment of grain to world markets by way of Prince Rupert with Vancouver there was a marked advantage in favor of Prince Rupert. The distance from Hong Kong to Liverpool by way of Prince Rupert and Churchill was 1600 miles less than by Vancouver and Montreal.

At another meeting in the district, the same speaker told of the facilities offered at Prince Rupert where there were already dry docks, piers and adequate harbor for deep sea shipping, open all the year round and all on the direct and shortest route to the Orient, which has an ever expanding market.

For twenty years, Mr. Rideout said, they had been asking for an outlet but so far without success. He claimed that Premier King had been prepared to proceed with the plan when he was defeated at the last election. He looked to the next government to be Liberal. All the indications were in that direction and by electing as their representative a man who would carry the banner of Liberalism and the Peace outlet above everything else they would expect to see construction start very soon. He prophesied that Premier Pattullo, the member for Prince Rupert, would favor such a scheme and the provinces of Saskatchewan and Manitoba would lend their support. What was needed was to remove this from the sphere of probability to the realm of fact.

Jack Johns Is Speaker Before Israel Society

A very interesting talk was given at the regular fortnightly meeting of the British-Israel Society last night by J. G. Johns whose subject was "The Economic System of the Kingdom of God." The laws of tything, gleanings and interest as set out in the book of Deuteronomy were discussed by the speaker after which there was an animated general discussion among the members. P. H. Linzey, president of the Society, was in the chair.

"TILLIE THE TOILER"

District News TERRACE

Bright sunny days with sharp frosts at night have characterized the past week. Farming and gardening operations are delayed in consequence, the ground being still frozen hard as a rock.

Messrs. White and Sutherland, expert horticulturalists, were here during the past week, giving demonstrations of tree pruning. Their visit was sponsored by the Farmers' Institute and many of the members availed themselves of the demonstrations to improve their own work.

The Oddfellows' put on a minstrel show last Monday. It was well done and drew a full house. One or two of the smaller kiddies were not used to seeing people with black faces so they departed in the arms of their parents, not without considerable vocal protest of the show.

Mrs. J. B. Farquhar of Surf Point is staying with her mother, Mrs. T. J. Marsh.

On Thursday the Forestry Department staged a show in the Oddfellows' Hall. It was much enjoyed by young and old. The object was to teach the desirability of preserving the forests from fire.

On Thursday night the Terrace Ladies' Debating Club had for their subject a debate whether the nursing or the teaching profession was most useful to the country. The nurses won.

Terrace district has lost two much respected residents in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nightwine. The Nightwines have spent the past few years prospecting in the Douglas Creek country north of town and both have lived here a good many years. They have decided to retire to some easier part of the country where they will have more neighbors and perhaps a warmer climate.

Mrs. C. R. Gilbert has departed for California to spend some time with relatives.

Mrs. T. J. Marsh has returned to her Terrace home after spending the winter in the south.

Terrace Park Is Being Improved

Work Being Carried Out by Municipality—Stricter Rules Governing Resort

TERRACE, April 9.—George Little and crew are clearing up and improving the appearance of Terrace Park by removing fallen trees, brush, etc., and those trees which, though still standing, are dead and, therefore, a menace to the safety of people using the park woods for picnicking.

The corporation has undertaken this work and is now drawing up a fairly strict set of rules to govern the park in the future.

Notices will be posted at strategic points warning possible offenders who may feel disposed to deface the trees or dump old bottles and other rubbish.

It is felt that the park may be a valuable asset to the place, occupying, as it does a piece of hilly ground well covered with forest and adjoining the village.

A Cottage 'Long The Skeena River

(By R. H. Chestnut)
I've a cottage 'long the Skeena,
Though small it's neat and clean;
From it I view the valley slopes,
Of mine, of trap, I glean;
Their lure of riches and renown,
Has led me far I tro'
But now, close 'long the river's bank,
I watch the Skeena flow.

Flow on Skeena, flow onward to the sea,
Flow on Skeena, your waters come to me,
From far upstream whereof I dream,
Of meadows, bench and bar,
But here I rest, from life's behest,
Flow on, flow on, flow on.

I've a cottage 'long the Skeena,
With fruit trees now in blow,
There's a garden all surrounding,
Where flowers love to grow,
The comfy dot of all known spots,
And here my footsteps cling,
For it's a land of sunshine
Summer, fall, winter, spring.

DEATH OF PUBLISHER

the ability of Henry J. Raymond and George Jones, the Times had passed, into other hands and was on its way to slow extinction.

Once again the Ochs genius, ability and confidence were manifested in a problem that other experienced publishers declined to tackle.

In three years after its organization the company was placed on a paying basis. Since then, with Mr. Ochs as the dominating figure, the New York Times has risen from the bottom to the top in the volume of business among New York daily newspapers.

In the newspaper field, outside of his own personal enterprises, Mr. Ochs took a greater interest in the affairs of The Associated Press than any other activity.

Adolph Simon Ochs was born at Cincinnati, Ohio, March 12, 1858, the son of Julius and Bertha Levy Ochs. With his family he moved in 1865 to Knoxville, Tenn.

On February 28, 1883, Mr. Ochs married Miss Iphigene Miriam Wise, daughter of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Isaac M. Wise of Cincinnati. They had one daughter, Iphigene, who in 1917 became the wife of Arthur Hays Sulzberger, vice-president of the New York Times Company.

St. Peter's Girls' Club Ends Season

Games and Contests Enjoyed, Supper Served and Prizes Awarded At Party Last Night

St. Peter's Girls' Club, which has had a successful season during the past winter under the direction of Miss Mabel Dickinson and Mrs. C. J. Norrington, concluded the season's activities last night in the church hall with an enjoyable party at which games and contests were engaged in and supper served. Prizes for needlework taught at the club were presented to Miss Phyllis Hill-Tout, first, and Miss Jean Smith, second. Contest winners were Misses Thelma Skog, Phyllis Hill-Tout, Ella Krause and Jean Storrie. The presentations were made by Canon W. F. Rushbrook. The attendance prize went to Miss Dorothy Shrubbsall with a perfect record.

One of the interesting diversions of the evening was an Irish jig by four little girls in costume—Ella Krause, Helen MacDonald, Margaret Lamb and Joan Squire.

WHIFFLETS From the Waterfront

Latest boats to clear from here for the halibut fishing grounds on their first trips of the season are the Aleve, Capt. Fred Blunden, which got away yesterday, and the Wabash, Capt. E. Pierce, which left today. This makes twenty-five vessels of the regular local fleet which are now at sea. First catches should start arriving towards the end of this week.

The Reardon, Smith freighter, Jersey City, coming here from the Orient to load a full cargo of grain from the Alberta Wheat Pool's local elevator for the United Kingdom or Continent, was 400 miles out at noon yesterday and is expected to be here by the scheduled date tomorrow. She will immediately go on berth at the elevator to commence loading.

C.N.R. steamer Prince John, Captain Neil McLean, is making a speedy run northward this trip from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands and is expected to be in port by late tonight. The vessel left Skidegate Inlet at 7 o'clock last night for Massett Inlet.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. Jas. Findlay, returned to port at noon today from Anyox, Stewart and other northern points and called at 1:30 this afternoon for Vancouver and waypoints.

The historic Junkers low-winged monoplane from which the late Pilot "Paddy" Burke lost his life in the Yukon Territory some years ago and which is now operated by the Pacific Airways of Vancouver arrived here at 12:30 noon today from Vancouver, where it had hopped off at 6 o'clock this morning, and left at 2:30 this afternoon for the Queen Charlotte Islands. With Ed. Sampson as pilot and William Holland as co-pilot, the plane has on board two mining men who will visit properties on the Islands. The plane and party is expected back here in two or three days southbound. It called here today to refuel.
