REPLY OF MR. CLARKE

Gives His Idea of a Preacher's Duties in New Year's Sermon Yesterday

"Facing the New Year in which we will hope for many things, it is well to stop here and take stock of ourselves," declared Rev. C. D. Clarke, in a special New Year's Day sermon in First United Church last night. "Where are we going? Are we going to compass our many mountains, as did the children of Israel in their long trip to the Promised Land, or are we going to turn northward to a new life, to new experiences and new ventures in the quest of a larger, fuller life. As far as 1935 is concerned, our world has gone around the mountain. In international relationship the nations have been going around the old mountain of nationalism and imperialism and have almost gone to the hellishness of another war. In the capitals of Europe the old game is still played—the game that sooner or later ends in war. It is terrible to contemplate, yet 1936 may see the world's most horrible conflict. Not that the people of Europe or elsewhere want war but that those who play the game are more concerned with oil and iron and gold—material possessions—than with the welfare of humanity.

"Internationally in 1936 there is only one possibility of brighter days, that is to turn northward towards the sunny slopes of Galilee, the slopes of peace and goodwill. That cannot be done in a few days. There is one thing for which we can be thankful, the growing will to peace and understanding and co-operation among the common people of many nations. In this the Scandinavian countries come first followed by the English-speaking world.

"In Canada, politically and economically, we have made another circle about the mountain. Elections have been held. Premiers have met in conference. They have decided to get about the mountain for a while longer. The Dominion is to bear a greater share of relief. The problem of the unemployed has not been attempted. Our governments are afraid to turn northward, afraid to leave the beaten path, do not want to hear the command of God to turn northward to the land of human well-being.

"In Prince Rupert we go around our little mountain. It's still the pulp mill and the Peace River outlet. The Junior Chamber has joined the procession but the boys are playing the same old tune.

"There is a 'way' that leads to a better day but no organization has attempted to explore it. As politics and economics are taboo in the pulpit, I cannot enter into a discussion of that 'way' but it is by Continued on Page 2 co-operation. The co-operative movement is putting Nova Scotia on its feet and has made life much brighter and better in the Scandinavian countries.

"In religion, too, we have circled the mountain. We are still going around our denominational mountains. We do some talking about unity but we are afraid to make a venture forth by turning northward. I do not know whether 1936 will see the churches turning towards a larger union but I do know that it is high time to back up our beautiful talk about unity with a little practice of uniting our churches, to make them more effective instruments in the hands of God.

In Religious Thought

"In religious thought we have also gone around the mountain of ancient forms and thought about Jesus rather than following Jesus in his own religion. We hear about 'Getting back to God,' 'The Virgin Birth,' 'The Atonement,' 'Jesus, a Savior'—but what it all means for today is very vague and foggy. Christianity is not to believe statements about Jesus but to believe in Jesus. It is to follow Jesus, the Messiah, God's leader, in making a new day—the Kingdom of God. That is the only way to salvation, personal and social.

"With all the faults of the present, and I see them as well as any one, there never was a time in the history of the world that was nearer to God's will than the present. That does not say much for the past. But, if there was a better time in the world's history, when was it? I would like to know.

"We hear a great deal about preaching politics and economics instead of the gospel of Jesus. What is the gospel of Jesus but the good news of God's will done not up in some seventh heaven but the good news of God's will done among men, by men? If that has nothing to do with politics and economics—every phase of man's life—then I give up.

"In 1936 let us go forward to God, to seek out the ways and means of doing and having done the will of God in human relationship, to find out how to apply Jesus' law of love in the world of today.

"As for myself, I will seek to understand Jesus and his teachings better. I shall study the co-operative movements. I want to be able to give some help in applying the Gospel of Jesus to our problem of human betterment. It is the preacher's business to preach the gospel. It is also his business to know how the Gospel can be applied. I know that to follow Jesus means to go off the well-beaten paths of thought and custom. It means to go northward. It means carrying a cross but it will get us somewhere."

Constant Trust In Christ Is Urged

By Rev. L. C. Jensen Before Local Lutheran Congregation

Constancy of belief and trust in Christ in plotting the course of life was urged by Rev. L. C. Jensen at morning service yesterday in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. He urged his listeners ever to fight for what was good and holy. If the spirit of Jesus Christ was really gripped by an individual it would manifest itself in that individual.

Pastor Jensen, being confined to his room with an attack of mumps, the sermon was broadcast from his residence. The church choir rendered special Christmas music.

Everybody reads the Daily News here's reason.

Smithers Observes Christmas Season

Snow And Frost Gave Appropriate Setting—Band And Choral Singers Busy

SMITHERS, Dec. 30.—Christmas was celebrated at Smithers in a very conventional and time-honored manner.

The weather which for several weeks before had been mild and wet took a change two days before the holiday and brought in some snow and frost which was all that was needed to make the holiday take on the atmosphere and appearance of real Christmas weather.

A party headed by J. G. Stephens and J. W. Turner sang Christmas Carols in the streets on Christmas Eve.

The Smithers Band of twenty-three pieces went to the Hospital on Christmas Day at noon and played a lengthy program there.
The band, under its able conductor, John Gray, was in fine form and the concert was greatly enjoyed by those who were so unfortunate as to be patients there over the Christmas holidays.

After the band concert was completed the bandmen formed themselves into a male choir and with an orchestra of several pieces to accompany them, they sang many of the Christmas Hymns, surprising both themselves and the patients an dstaff of the hospital with their ability as choristers.

The Sisters of St. Ann were very appreciative of the visit of the Smithers Band on Christmas Day, this being the second occasion of the kind and which will probably be an annual institution.

Co-operative Operated at Deficit—Two Boats in Sunday—Salvage of Dicky Boy Costly.

Instead of the expected surplus, the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association operated at a deficit during the past year, it was reported at the annual meeting of the association held recently at Jap Inlet. The deficit, however, was a small one and the association plans on being active again next season, operating three and possibly four camps. Confidence was expressed in the 1935 directorate by re-electing it in toto. Fred Keith is president. At the same time the annual meeting of the Northern British Columbia Salmon Trollers' Association was held. The veteran Jack Roberts was re-elected secretary for the ensuing year. The convention passed the perennial resolution asking for a breakwater at Seven Mile Point on Graham Island.

Two coastal steamers were in port from Vancouver yesterday bound north. The C. P. R. steamer Princess Norah, Capt. William Palmer, somewhat behind schedule owing to having made extra calls at Anglewood with Japanese sawmill workers and at Ocean Falls with machinery for the Pacific Mills, arrived at 12 noon and sailed an hour later for Skagway and other Alaska points whence she is scheduled to return here Thursday afternoon southbound. The Norah had 27 passengers of whom nine disembarked here. She took seven north from here. The Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, arrived from Vancouver at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and sailed at 8 p.m. for Stewart, Anyox and other northern points whence she will return here Tuesday morning to sail at 1:30 p.m. that day for the south. The Catala had a light list of passengers.

Capt. Peter Leighton of Metlaktla sailed yesterday on the Princess Norah for Ketchikan to make arrangements to bring back his well known seineboat and packer Dicky Boy which broke adrift from its moorings at Metlakatla in a storm two weeks ago yesterday and drifted out to Dixon's Entrance, being picked up by the American hullboat North which towed it undamaged into Ketchikan. A $700 salvage claim has been made against the Dicky Boy by the North.

Alexander Gordon, regular chief engineer of the steamer Princess Norah, has gone ashore in Vancouver for his annual vacation. D.
MacRaid, lately chief on the Princess Maquinna and well known on northern runs, is relieving as chief on the Norah during Mr. Gordon's absence.

It is considered quite likely that another freighter may come to Prince Rupert in February to load a cargo of aspen and, possibly, hemlock timber for the Orient.
Much will depend on the results from the shipment which was recently made aboard the Norwegian motorship Danwood.

Imperial Oil Co.'s tanker Imperial is due in port from Ioco with a cargo of fuel for the company's local tanks.

PAUL MUNI FEATURED

Karen Morley Plays Opposite Him In "Black Fury" at Capitol Theatre

"Black Fury," featuring Paul Muni in a vivid role, comes as the feature offering on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here at the first of this week. It is a story of the loves and hates, sorrows and joys, hopes and despairs of men and women whose lives are devoted to bringing forth fuel from the earth. It shows with real fidelity, it is said, the dangers and hazards encountered hourly by intrepid men to whom death is a constant companion.

Muni has the role of a burly Slav miner who has arranged to buy a farm on which he expects to live with Anna, a neighbor's daughter, the role of whom is portrayed by Karen Morley. She, however, runs away with a coal mine policeman and Joe, grief-stricken and bewildered, falls easy prey to the ma-chinations of a group of thugs who form a strike in order to get the job of breaking it. Joe is severely injured in a fight before Anna returns. She helps him to break into the company's dynamite storage house and load a hand car with explosives which he uses to barricade the mine until his demands are met.
