BULKLEY VALLEY PROSPEROUS AND SMITHERS GROWING

Bulkley Valley Crops Looking Better Than in Years; Timothy Seed Putting Farmers on Feet

SMITHERS, June 25.—Crops in the Bulkley Valley look better at present than they have for years, due to the ideal growing conditions of this spring with the warm rains of the past few weeks. As in the other agricultural sections of the central interior, Bulkley Valley farmers are concentrating this year on the raising of timothy seed which in 1934 brought them such a profitable harvest with the distribution of an estimated $150,000 of cash money in the country.

Everywhere the talk is of timothy seed, the growing of which gives real promise of bringing a new era of prosperity to the farmers of the entire central interior, particularly the Bulkley Valley and Francois and Ootsa Lake areas. After several lean years, timothy seed last year put numerous interior farmers on their feet. This year, if the price is at all reasonable, many should be on "velvet." The outlook is very promising.

Smithers Flourishing
The town of Smithers is flourishing. Its population is increasing, and everyone seems busy and happy. The steady payroll of the railway company, augmented by the increased prosperity of the agricultural industry, is having a gratifying effect. The depression is passing here and almost everybody reports a very definite improvement.

Mining is somewhat slow in opening up in the district this year but some activity is expected. Much depends upon the condition of the silver market. If there were definite assurance that the white metal would go a little higher than at present and hold firm, there would be a decided lull in interior mining. Silver stabilization is an absorbing topic of discussion in all local mining circles.

BRIEF RIOT AT JUNEAU

Effort Made to Prevent Non-Union Men From Going to Work In Alaska-Juneau Mine

JUNEAU, June 25.—A brief riot with several fist fights and an explosion of one gas bomb took place yesterday when a determined effort was made by non-union men protected by special police to reopen the Alaska-Juneau gold mine. Five of the rioters were arrested and despite sporadic efforts against it, the registration of men for work proceeded.

Only One Survivor of World War Leaders

The death of Viscount Byng of Vimy (top right), who led the desperate defence of Ypres in the world war, almost wiped out the ranks of the strategists who directed the millions of fighters in the great conflict. General John J. Pershing (top left), who commanded the American expeditionary forces, stands at the head of the thin band of surviving war leaders. Some of the other leaders who have passed on are Gen. Paul von Hindenburg (lower left), who died last year as president of Germany; Ferdinand Foch (centre), field marshal of France and the supreme commander of the allies; and Sir Douglas Haig (lower right), commander of all British troops in England and Belgium in the world war. General Pershing will be 75 next September.

Health and Education Problems Discussed by Hon. Dr. Weir At Luncheon in His Honor Yesterday

Many Health Problems Were as Much Federal as Provincial He Found—Proposal For Prince Rupert Should be Sent in Soon

Discussing the question of health, Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday, spoke of the need for preventative work under the department of public health. A dollar spent in preventative work was worth $50 in curative work. To a large extent this was a federal as well as provincial matter. Take as an instance the young men who started to go to Ottawa and got as far as Regina. Mr. Bennett spoke of sending them home. Most of them came from the prairies so home to them would not be British Columbia. In regard to maternity and post-natal and pre-natal care there was a responsibility for the whole of Canada. When a child was born it was a young Canadian not a British Columbian.

CAMP MEN AT REGINA PROBLEM

Have Already Cost City $12,000 and City Fathers Are Uneasy

REGINA, June 25.—The situation of two thousand young men staying here and being fed by the city and with nowhere in particular to go except to lay their grievances before an unsympathetic government at Ottawa is causing uneasiness. The men who came here from Vancouver have already cost the city $12,000 for food and the city fathers are asking themselves how long this is to last.

WINNIPEG, June 25.—Men in the relief camps here are planning to join those in Regina if they pass this way on their trek to Ottawa.

C. P. R. WINS ITS APPEAL

Grain Shipped to Prince Rupert Is To Be Considered Competitive Business With Other Ports

LONDON, June 25.—The judicial committee of the Privy Council dismissed with costs the appeal of the Canadian National Railways against the Canadian Pacific in a dispute with regard to participation in the freight traffic. The decision upheld the ruling of the Supreme Court of Canada on an appeal from the ruling of the Board of Railway Commissioners in interpreting of an agreement under which the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific jointly acquired the Northern Alberta Railways. The question was as to whether or not export grain to European ports shipped through Prince Rupert and Victoria should be treated as competitive business. The Board of Railway Commissioners decided it was not competitive traffic but the Supreme Court of Canada reversed this ruling.

British Columbia Must Have New Deal, Hon. Dr. Weir Declares

Premier Bennett Said to Admit That Province Gets Short End of Stick—Should be Divorced From Politics, Minister Declares

"The next ten years will be the most critical in the history of the country. If the country makes progress Prince Rupert will expand. The city has been suffering from arrested development but that period is about over and the city must go ahead, according to Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, who gave a very interesting and thought-inspiring address to the Chamber of Commerce at its luncheon yesterday afternoon. In that address he discussed some of the economic problems with which the province is faced, especially in its dealings with the federal authority. He urged that these matters be divorced from politics.

Dr. Weir explained that Canada was naturally divided into four economic areas. There was British Columbia, the prairies, Quebec and Ontario and fourthly the maritime provinces. Each had its problems and each was trying to solve them in the best way possible. British Columbia found itself handicapped through having handed over most of its sources of revenue and receiving back only a comparatively small subsidy. In fact she got what could not be foreseen at the time of Confederation, a poor deal in subsidies. "There is no question but she got the short end of the stick." Premier Bennett told the speaker during an interview.

There was collected since 1871 in British Columbia $347,000,000 in customs and excise and in return the province was given $27,000,000 in subsidies. Besides that there is an adverse trade balance, the province selling less in the east than the east sells here. The working of the tariff law is also injurious to British Columbia and as a result this province has to pay $100 for $75 worth of eastern goods. The speaker suggested that after the election, quite apart from politics, there was to be a conference of provincial and federal premiers when they could sit around a table and discuss these matters and make an adjustment. The Confederation settlement no longer was satisfactory to British Columbia. The province had outgrown the period of youth and should have a document suitable to the period of adolescence.

SELFISHNESS OF CITIES

Businessmen in big cities, especially those who have become rich, become very selfish. Recently it was announced at Victoria that the provincial government would spend a considerable sum of money on the roads of the province. Immediately a cry went up from Vancouver: "We want it all." Of course those were not the words used but they meant just that. They ask that it all be spent on the particular roads on which they drive. Some of them shout for a highway commission to prevent the roads in the remote districts from being opened up.

These businessmen should know that Prince Rupert, Terrace, Smithers, Burns Lake, Prince George, Queen Charlotte Islands and other places too numerous to mention need roads as well as they, in fact the need is much greater.

We are all in favor of hard surfaced roads in the south but we are absolutely opposed to the spending of the available money on a few roads around Vancouver and Victoria, leaving the rest of the province to do without. Happily we have a government at Victoria that knows the need of the country places as well as that of the big centres and it has been announced that all parts of the province will get a share.

YEAR TO REACH DESTINATION

The difficulties of the pioneer mining men is well illustrated in the story published yesterday from Vanderhoof of a mining outfit starting in February last for the Manson Creek country. It started to move over the frozen ground and got a few miles north of Fort St. James when the thaw came and operations had to stop. Now it is on the move again and it is expected will not arrive at its destination until October. That is a long time and it requires a great deal of persistence for mining operators to start on such a journey under such conditions. It may be next year before they reach their objective.

Living Policyholders are Receiving

of Life Insurance Benefits

Beneficiaries Receive the Balance

YEAR after year, living policyholders are receiving by far the greater share of the moneys disbursed in Life Insurance benefits in Canada.

In 1934, for example, these living policyholders received an average of over $400,000 every working day! In that year, their total receipts of over 127 million dollars amounted to 75% of all Life Insurance benefits; the balance of nearly 42 million dollars was distributed among beneficiaries of deceased policyholders.

Through Life Insurance disbursements, thousands of Canadians from coast to coast have been able to realize their earlier ambitions. Men and women have won financial independence in their later years. Young men have obtained a start in business. Children have been educated. Families have been tided over periods of financial stress.

Life Insurance offers a safe, because it is a scientific, plan of saving for future needs. Not only does it provide vital protection for dependents but it enables millions of policyholders to make sure of money when they need it most.

As a Life Insurance policyholder, your savings are held "in trust" for you. They are safely invested on your behalf so that you can look forward to the time when you will enjoy the benefits of your own thrift.

TALKING OF ELECTIONS

Skeena Fight Between Hanson and Orme—Different in Cariboo

SMITHERS, June 25.—Interest in the forthcoming federal election campaign is beginning to develop in the central interior. The consensus of opinion at this early date appears to be that, as far as Skeena is concerned, the fight will be between Olof Hanson M.P., Liberal candidate, and C. H. Orme, the Conservative, both of whom are well known and popular personally. C. C. F. enthusiasm is declared to be merely superficial and already on the wane. There is even talk of movements to change the nominee from J. E. Panter, local railwayman, who was chosen candidate months ago at a convention in Prince Rupert.

Much different is the situation in Cariboo, which includes such centres as Vanderhoof and Prince George. There John McInnis of Prince George, widely known and highly popular personally, is conceded a good chance to win over John A. Fraser M.P., the Conservative, and J. G. Turgeon of Vancouver, the Liberal. "If any C. C. F. wins in Canada, it will be John McInnis in Cariboo," is a statement that is often heard.

Fred McLeod of the city hall staff is going to Vancouver on the Catala today for his holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Hippiisley of Terrace are visitors in the city today guests at the Prince Rupert Hotel.

Local Member School Staff Weds Monday

Nelson Allen of High School to Become Benedict on Monday
Next at Vancouver

One of the younger members of the High School staff, Nelson Allen, is to be married on Dominion Day in Vancouver to Miss Elaine McKillop, a well known Vancouver girl. The summer will be spent in Vancouver and in September Mr. Allen will return to Prince Rupert bringing his bride. Both Vancouver evening papers publish pictures of the bride and groom, the Sun having the following:

"Miss Elaine McKillop and Mr. Nelson Allen, who are to be principals of a July 1 wedding, will have the unusual privilege of being matron of honor and best man, respectively, the day following their own wedding, when Mr. Allen's sister, Miss Grace Allen, weds Mr. Pierre Timp in Victoria on July 2. The Allen-McKillop nuptials will take place quietly at 2054 Trafalgar Street, home of Mr. and Mrs. Kebr G. McKillop, the bride-elect's parents, Rev. H. R. McGill officiating, and Miss Betty McKillop acting as bridesmaid for her elder sister.

"The Timp-Allen wedding will be solemnized in Victoria, where the principals are both well known singers, members of the Meistersingers' Choir, and where the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Allen, reside.

Both couples will spend a part of their honeymoon together at Harrison Hot Springs. Mr. Allen, who graduated from the University of B. C. and is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Phi, is bringing his bride back to Vancouver for the summer and in the fall returning to Prince Rupert where he is a member of the High School staff."

An official visit will be paid to Prince Rupert tomorrow morning by Most Rev. Andrew Cassullo, apostolic delegate for Canada and Newfoundland who is expected to arrive on the steamship Prince George, going east on the train in the evening.

A reception will be held in the Catholic Church at 10-15 and there will be a formal reception in the school at 1:30.

Hemingway in connection with a deal on the property of which plaintiff was the owner. The action was dismissed and the parties will endeavor to reach a new agreement, failing which the matter will again be referred to the judge. J. T. Harvey of Prince Rupert was counsel for the plaintiff while J. D. Forin of Vancouver acted for defendant Sloan and H. H. Griffin of Smithers for Mrs. Hemingway.

In another case, Judge Fisher dismissed the action of ejectment brought by Jack Carr against Eric Edlund in connection with a dispute over the terms of a lease of a farm near here. H. H. Griffin was counsel for Carr and J. T. Harvey for Edlund.

Yesterday the hearing of a suit of William Thorne vs. Columbia Power Co. was in progress. Plaintiff was suing on the grounds that operation by defendant of a diesel electric plant close to his house created a nuisance, the noise and smell of the engines lessening the value of the property. J. T. Harvey was counsel for plaintiff and H. H. Griffin for the defendant company.

This session of County Court here has occupied an entire week. Judge W. E. Fisher and Mr. Harvey are returning to Prince Rupert today.

nadians whose language and religion were especially protected in the Confederation law. At one time there was intense friction between the Catholics and Protestants in Lower Canada and they did not wish to again start a racial or religious war. The old breach had been healed. However, he felt they should be able to solve this question. In this province it was found that many of the venereal cases came from other provinces. People who were ill on the prairies were ordered to the coast with the result that this province suffered from having to take care of people who were ill but whose illness did not originate here. This made it a federal question.

In the matter of education, the minister said the social conditions of the past few years had made it very desirable that grown people should be provided with the means of further education. The government was ready to do something for Prince Rupert along the line of university extension and adult education and also in physical and recreational education which had proved so successful in the south. He suggested that those interested in the matter here who had already discussed the question with him should send in a proposal within the next few weeks and the government would give it every consideration. They wished to do everything possible for the young unemployed men.
