WILLY POST--WILL ROGERS KILLED

DEFERRING OF ELECTION CRITICIZED BY MACKENZIE KING

Noted Flier and Famous Actor Lost Lives When Plane Crashed Near Point Barrow Last Night

To Cabinet

J. Earl Lawson, now minister of national revenue.

Were Enroute From Fairbanks in Course of Aerial Tour Of Alaska—Passed Here on Wednesday of Last Week on Way to Juneau

SEATTLE, Aug. 16: (CP)—Willy Post, noted flier, and Will Rogers, actor and famous comedian, were killed last night when their plane crashed while flying from Fairbanks to Point Barrow in the course of an aerial tour of Alaska. The tragedy occurred about fifteen miles south of Point Barrow. Post and Rogers started last Wednesday with a hop from Seattle to Juneau on their northern flight. Post had flown his brand new low-winged Lockheed plane from Los Angeles here, accompanied by his wife, who returned to California from here. The flier was joined here by Rogers.

The accident occurred shortly after 8 o'clock. Just fifteen miles short of their goal, the fliers are presumed to have met with foggy weather, and dropped down on a small river. A party of natives camping along the waterway stated that Post and Rogers landed and inquired the way to Point Barrow. Taking off, the engine misfired on the right bank only fifty feet above the water, the plane went out of control, crashed, tearing the right wing off and toppling over, forcing the engine back through the body of the plane. Both fliers were instantly killed.

Natives hurried to Point Barrow for aid and the coastguard cutter Northland was ordered to return to Point Barrow to bring back the bodies.

Mrs. Rogers, with her daughter, is at Skowhegan, Maine, where the daughter is rehearsing with the Lakewood summer theatre.

Mrs. Post is now at Ponca City, Okla., where she planned to undergo an operation.

From Juneau Post and Rogers had flown to Dawson, thence to Aklavik, Northwest Territories, and then to Fairbanks. Yesterday they were at Anchorage after a flight yesterday into the Matanuska Valley where they inspected the new settlement of Middle West colonists, declaring that the people there were doing well and appeared to be satisfied.

It had been Post's intention, after engaging in some big game hunting in Alaska, to proceed to Siberia and on to Moscow and possibly around the world.

Post first claimed the attention of the flying world some three or four years ago when, with the famous old plane "Winnie Mae," he and Harold Gatty set up a record for flying around the world. Two years ago Post lowered this record with a solo flight in the Winnie Mae. He had been in the limelight of late with a number of unsuccessful attempts to break the United States transcontinental flight record through the stratosphere.

Will Rogers was given the imposing name of William Penn Adair Rogers but everybody called him Will. He was a cowboy, humorist, writer, lecturer, philosopher, polo player, world traveler and flier, but he went up in the air only as a passenger.

He was born at Oologah, Indian

NOT MUCH SURPRISE

With One Exception Cabinet Appointments Were as Expected

OTTAWA, Aug. 16:—Little surprise was occasioned by the announcement of Premier R. B. Bennett's cabinet reorganization.

R. G. Geary of Toronto, it was generally expected, would be the new minister of justice succeeding Hon. Hugh Guthrie, who has been appointed chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners.

Although it was expected he would be summoned to the cabinet, the only appointment that might not have been as generally anticipated was that of J. Earl Lawson, another Toronto man and at present Dominion Conservative organizer, to the important post of minister of national revenue in succession to Hon. R. C. Matthews, who is retiring from public life.

W. G. Ernst of Queen's University, one of the party's younger stalwarts, was a logical choice as minister of fisheries to succeed Hon. Alfred Durand, who goes to the bench.

The appointment of Samuel Gobeil of Compton is hoped to bolster the government's fading fortunes in Quebec. Sworn in as Minister without Portfolio on Tuesday, Mr. Gobeil was today appointed Postmaster General succeeding Hon. Arthur Sauve who has been appointed to the Senate.

Canada Should Have Parliament in View Of Critical Period

No Government Should Decide Upon Question of War In Europe, Especially One Which is Lacking In Public Confidence

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 16: (CP)—Declaring that the Ethiopian crisis contained seeds of world war, Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, Leader of the Opposition, in an address Thursday night, said it was wrong to postpone the election so long and leave Canada at a critical period without a Parliament and with a government lacking public confidence.

So far as Canada was concerned, no government had any right to say what this country should do with respect to war and, "if the grave responsibility ever fell on the head of a Liberal government of deciding on war in Europe, no decision would be made until Parliament was assembled and the will of Parliament would decide."

GARDENS ARE MUCH IMPROVED

S. S. Phillips Speaks of Value Of Gardens to City as Tourist Attraction

Advice to Farmers

Enrichment of Soil Like Putting Money in Bank—Seed Growing Very Important

In an address to the Prince Rupert Rotary Club yesterday, S. S. Phillips, Department of Agriculture, Victoria, who judged the local gardens this week, spoke of the recent improvements to the gardens of Prince Rupert. He said he had inspected a number of them while judging. While some of his awards would doubtless be criticized he felt sure the people would take them in a sporting manner.

Mr. Phillips said the Horticultural Society was deserving of every support in its efforts to encourage home gardening. Incidentally he spoke of the good work being done by the Canadian National Railway in making what was at one time an eyesore into one of the beauty spots of the city. It had great possibilities.

Improving the gardens and beautifying the city generally made a great impression on tourists and other visitors and was a civic asset, whether done by public bodies or by private citizens.

Mr. Phillips then spoke of the value to the city of the development of the interior. Seed production there was a young industry. It had been found that seed could be produced there better than in the older countries of Europe. The reason the industry had not been further developed was because it was a specialized industry and improperly conducted could cause a lot of trouble to the seedsmen.

The visitor told of the work done in Vancouver where the Rotary Club supplied boys with seeds. In Victoria Mrs. Butchart had collaborated with the Rotary Club in encouraging the seed producing industry with the result that the development had been great and Vancouver Island growers now had contracts with large firms to supply them with seeds.

In Central British Columbia there were wonderful possibilities of development of the industry. Already the district had sold $250,000 worth of seed of which the Bulkley Valley was responsible for $108,000. Prince George had been experimenting in Alsike clover for which there was a considerable market.

The speaker compared the building up of the soil with banking. Good soil was an asset whereas depleted soil was useless. Enriching the soil was like putting money in the bank. By this means production could be increased. He hoped this would be realized by the farmers of the interior.

President W. M. Blackstock thanked the speaker for his interesting address.

HOW TO MAKE ICED TEA

Infuse six heaping teaspoon of Salada Black Tea in a pint of fresh boiling water. After six minutes strain liquid into two-quart container. While hot, add 1 1/2 cups of granulated sugar and the juice of 2 lemons. Stir until sugar is dissolved; fill container with cold water. Do not allow tea to cool before adding the cold water; otherwise liquid will become cloudy. Serve with chopped ice.

CLOSE ASSOCIATIONS

While the various towns and villages of the interior are in many cases a long way from Prince Rupert, there is a good deal of community of interest all along the line. Prince Rupert people may be met with anywhere and through the medium of this paper the people are kept in close touch with each other.

During a recent visit of the editor it was found that even at Prince George, which is nearly five hundred miles away, the people were almost as much interested in Prince Rupert's proposed pulp mill as the people here. All agreed that it would be a great thing for the whole country to have this industry started.

The Bulkley and Skeena Valleys still hope to supply Prince Rupert with their needs in the way of garden truck and meat and they see that if Prince Rupert is prosperous their market for produce improves. There is also the possibility that logs may be shipped in for the mill.

Even in far away Cariboo the people all want to know about the Prince Rupert pulp mill, what are the possibilities and is it really a fact that it is to be built.

Prince Rupert people will do well to keep in close touch with the interior and co-operate in its development, for the success of that part of the country means the success of Prince Rupert.

SIR WILLIAM WATSON

Honorable poverty was the price Sir William Watson, great British poet, whose death is recorded, paid for a life-long devotion to the muses.

His writing spanned more than half a century and he was ranked as one of the eminent poets of his time; but long before his death he had ceased to expect any material recognition in his own time.

The world of his later days had little eye or ear for poetry and his wife was able to say in 1932: "You scarcely will credit this, but the only copies of his last volume which have been sold I bought myself."

Many saw in Sir William a perfect poet laureate, for public occasions always stirred him; yet, whenever there was opportunity thus to honor him and insure his comfort, the post went to others.

His style was uniformly clear and epigrammatic and his poems were dignified and stately without being pompous. He had an admirable gift for literary criticism in verse, his commemorative poems on Woodsworth, Burns and Arnold being considered among the best in showing of quality.

His political poetry alone reflected deep emotion and passion.

So reduced in circumstances was the family in 1930 that an appeal for funds went out to the nation over the signatures of Sir James Barrie, Bernard Shaw, Rudyard Kipling, John Galsworthy and other notables. Several thousand pounds were collected and some Americans opened up their own fund.

Prizes Presented For Best Gardens

S Wikdal Winner of Special Given For Excellence Although Missed in Judging

At the meeting called by the Prince Rupert Horticultural Society in the City Hall last evening prizes won for the best gardens were presented by the president H. F. Pullen, and a special prize was given to S. Wikdal for his garden which it seems had been entered but not judged during the time of the competition. Mr. Pullen explained that in passing with the judge that day they had noticed this outstanding little garden and inquiry from Mrs. Wikdal showed that she had entered it and had wondered why the judge did not look it over.

The garden, on Sixth Avenue East, is a simple thing with nasturtiums covering the side fences a beautiful lawn and other flowers and all very well kept. The judge suggested that a special prize be given for it as an outstanding garden. This was done, a check for three dollars being presented to Mrs. Wikdal.

TALKS OF GARDENING

S. S. Phillips Addresses Meeting in City Hall Last Evening On Interesting Subject

Addressing the garden enthusiasts at a meeting held in the City Hall last night, with H. F. Pullen presiding, S. S. Phillips of Victoria, judge in the garden competition, said he was impressed with the interest taken in gardening in this city. He complimented the directors of the Horticultural Society on their efforts toward beautifying the city and spoke of gardening as one of the most interesting of hobbies.

Mr. Phillips spoke of the vast amount of information on gardening topics but said that many a person without that knowledge could make possibly as good a garden as the one who made a detailed study of the subject. He believed in books but not in adhering too strictly to all that they said.

Much depended on local conditions. He strongly urged that informal gardens were particularly suited to local conditions.

Mr. Phillips discussed the planting of seeds, transplanting, pruning, soil and drainage and mentioned that he found in the gardens he visited the drainage was not always good.

Answering questions, Mr. Phillips mentioned that sour soil could be sweetened by the use of a little lime. Two pounds to the square yard was suggested. He also suggested that any gardeners wishing their soil analyzed should send a small portion to the Department of Agriculture at Victoria and it would be done free of charge.

GRAIN CROP LOOKS WELL

Vegetables Not as Good But Fall Fruit Yield Will be Heavy

TERRACE, Aug. 16.—The crops of hay and oats are above average, due to favorable conditions, both as to growth and harvesting, there having been good showers during the growing season, and fine drying weather to get it into the local barns.

Other crops do not promise so well. Potatoes and turnips have stood still for the past three weeks, and it is doubtful if they will make a good showing. The tree fruits are doing very well. There is a heavy crop of apples and plums, pears, etc. All promise a good crop.

Timber Men From Japan Are Paying Visit to District

All are guests at the Royal Hotel.

NOTED FLIER AND FAMOUS ACTOR LOST LIVES WHEN PLANE CRASHED NEAR POINT BARROW LAST NIGHT.

Territory, November 4, 1879, but he called Claremore, Okla. his "hometown" and he was a legal resident of Oklahoma although he spent most of his time at his ranch between Beverly Hills and Santa Monica, Cal.

He had Indian blood in his veins and was proud of it. One of his best wisecracks was based upon this ancestry as he said that his ancestors did not come over on the Mayflower, but they met the boat.

His education came he said, by easy stages. "I studied the fourth reader for ten years," he told an interviewer, but he was a "kiddie" on and off the stage and many of his boasts of being "literate" could be taken with a grain of salt.

After he left the fourth reader behind him he went through the Willow Hassell School at Neosho, Mo. and Kemper Military Academy at Booneville and if he did not make a remarkable record for scholarship he did not fail.

His mother wanted him to become a Methodist minister but Will had learned to ride a horse and throw a rope on his father's ranch so he went back to the range. Then starting with medicine shows and carnivals he went on along the road that finally brought him to the very top of his profession as an actor.

A rancher, Zach Mulhall, organized a wild west show and Will joined it, finally reaching New York. There is a tradition that he first attracted public notice on a large scale when he lassoed a wild steer that broke loose at Madison Square Garden and was about to dash through the crowd.

To Vaudeville Stage
Certainly shortly after his first appearance at "the garden" he was on the vaudeville stage. Charley Mack of Moran and Mack told of Will's initial efforts in vaudeville.

PUBLIC HEARINGS ON PROPOSED BRITISH COLUMBIA HEALTH INSURANCE BILL

The purpose of the hearings is to obtain from interested organizations their criticisms and suggestions regarding the proposed bill as outlined in "A plan of Health Insurance for British Columbia."

Those wishing to appear before the committee are requested to communicate with the Government Agent at the centres mentioned below. They are also requested to bring their suggestions in written form to the hearings.

Smithers, August 23 at 10 a.m.
Prince George, August 24 at 7:30 p.m.
Williams Lake, August 27 at 10 a.m.

ALTON PEBBLES,
Chairman.

He was pretty bad said Mack and grew discouraged. He talked it over with Charley.

"Where are you going?" asked Mack.

"Back to Oklahoma."

"Been fired yet?"

"The manager said I was pretty punk."

"Yeh, you're all of that; but has he actually told you that you are fired?"

"Well, no."

"Don't quit till he tells you; maybe you can stick it out to Saturday night. That will be three days more pay."

Before the week was out, Will happened to make a wise crack about something he saw in a newspaper, an observation shyly delivered of something that struck his fancy. The audience laughed, Rogers tried some other joshing remarks, and was "made."

It was a short step to Hammerstein's Roof at $150 a week and then he spent six years as the star of Ziegfeld's Follies.

He ventured into motion pictures but failed to score the success expected. The silent screen gave the comedian no chance to convulse his audiences with his homely observations rendered in a drawl that only Rogers knew. But when talking pictures appeared, Rogers became a box-office riot and hereafter the legitimate theatre hearse saw little of him.

When his friend, Fred Stone was injured in an airplane accident in 1929, just before he was to open a new play in New York, Rogers rushed across the continent, took the role "for old Fred" and scored another hit.

He continued, however, to go on "lecture tours" packing great crowds into theatres, auditoriums, school houses and churches. He raised a small fortune for the drought sufferers in 1930, and in his quiet way gave thousands of dollars of his private fortune to charity.

Was Very Wealthy

His wealth was estimated by his friends at several million dollars and he carried life insurance of approximately $1,000,000. He never talked about his money but he was a high salaried actor for years. His salary was $25,000 a week when he worked. He was paid $2,500 a week for stage appearances and he was understood to have received $15,000 for eight radio broadcasts.

Baron Aloisi Says His Country Insists on Military Occupation

PARIS, Aug. 16.—Prime Minister Pierre Laval of France and Capt. Anthony Eden of Great Britain were reported yesterday to have reached an accord preliminary to the conference opening today between representatives of Great Britain, France and Italy when the Italo-Ethiopian crisis will be discussed. Laval and Eden are understood to have agreed that discussion of the conference should be limited to possible League of Nations action in the crisis.

Hopes are still expressed that the British delegate may submit a basis of negotiations which will result in a peaceful settlement of the issue.

Following separate conferences with the British and Italian representatives yesterday, Premier Laval was openly pessimistic last night regarding the outcome of the conference.

A secret session, attended today by Capt. Anthony Eden, Premier Laval and Baron Pompeo Aloisi of Italy may result in alteration of Ethiopia's map and a change in the African Empire's economic life. Late this afternoon Premier Laval announced that he was doing everything to meet the Italian wishes.

Last night Baron Aloisi informed Capt. Eden that Italy's minimum demand for a peaceful settlement of the dispute was the occupation of Ethiopia by the Italian army.

Visited Fashion Show at Seattle Where Manufacturers Display Ware—Bought Stockings Before Duty Imposed

Mrs. Annette Woods arrived home this evening from a business trip to Vancouver, Seattle and Portland where she has been buying for the Annette Ladywear Store. She attended the manufacturers style show where the latest fashions from New York, Chicago and Los Angeles were seen.

Due to the strike in the industry in the east, Annette bought a stock of British Columbia goods which compare very favorably with those made in the east. She also made a big purchase of pure silk stockings before the new forty percent tariff came into force and she says Prince Rupert people will be given the benefit of the purchase.

Next week Annette is putting on a big sale and she will have a Carnival display at her store all week.

Rev. M. H. Lawrence, Anglican missionary at Kitkatla, who has been spending a vacation in the south, arrived in the city on the Prince George this morning from Vancouver.

"The Scarlet Pimpernel" is Week-End Feature at Capitol Theatre

A spectacular and romantic drama of adventure adapted from Baroness Orczy's widely read novel, "The Scarlet Pimpernel," coming to the Capitol Theatre here this week-end, is featured. It is said by the magnificent acting of Leslie Howard in the finest portrayal of an already distinguished screen career. He is given splendid support by Merle Oberon, the Anne Boleyn of "Henry VIII" and the Japanese wife of "Thunder in the East." Raymond Massey, the noted Canadian actor and brother of Hon. Vincent Massey, also has an important role.

Leslie Howard, as Sir Percy Blakeney, gives a subtle combination of the romantic, the fatuous and the adventurous. Miss Oberon is delightful in her portrayal of Lady Blakeney. Massey is excellent as the traitor Chauvelin. There is also a splendid supporting cast. Dramatic situations are neatly turned by clever comedy, the spirit of adventure and romance are smoothly preserved and the staging is superb. The picture has been looked forward to for some time by local moviegoers and in view of its general appeal it is expected that the showings here will prove as popular as it has in all other cities.
