YOUTH ARE IMPATIENT

Younger Officers Of Ethiopian Army Restless At Delay Of Emperor Haile Selassie

ADDIS ABABA, August 30.—Younger officers of the Ethiopian army were reported to be becoming irritable at the delay of Emperor Haile Selassie in commencing active warfare against Italy. ALASKA HIGHWAY BILL IS SIGNED

WASHINGTON D.C., August 30 (Canadian Press)—Delegate Anthony Dimond of Alaska has been notified that President Franklin D. Roosevelt has signed the Alaska Highway bill which authorizes construction of the Alaska portion of the road. After a conference with the President, Delegate Dimond said there was little likelihood that construction of the Alaska portion of the highway would be undertaken until Canada was ready. Dimond added, however, that it was probable a survey would be made to determine the best location for the highway within Alaska regardless of Canadian attitude toward the proposal. He thought it would be several months before steps were taken to discuss the highway with Canada.

VALUE OF GAME TO PROVINCE

Prince Rupert District Benefits Considerably From Trapping Throughout District

As a rough estimate the value of furs taken in the Prince Rupert district is $150,000 a year, out of the total of $1,000,000 for the whole province, but only part of the furs are marketed in the city. Others are sent direct to Vancouver, to the United States, to Eastern Canada or to Europe. Most of the royalties are paid in Vancouver, hence the statistics do not give a true record of the catches made here. This was the gist of statements made to the Rotary Club by Game Warden Ed. Martin in an address given at the luncheon yesterday, Lee Gordon presiding.

Speaking further of the value of trapping to this district, Game Warden Martin said it provided healthful and gainful work at a time when there was little other employment. Fishermen often trapped during the off season and Indians used it as a winter occupation. In addition to that were the professional trappers who did nothing else. In the summer they were engaged in looking after their trap line or taking in supplies. They also acted as game wardens and knew just about what fur-bearing animals there were on the line and what to expect the following season. They were encouraged to conserve the animals in order to perpetuate the value of the trap line.

Turning to big game and its value, the speaker mentioned that British Columbia was one of the best areas in Canada. This sport brought many wealthy men to British Columbia and they spent a good deal of money while in the province. The value of this game resource was on the increase because in other parts of the continent they had not been as careful in conserving as in this province. Since 1905 the various governments had all followed a systematic conservation policy.

At the conclusion Mr. Martin was thanked by Mr. Gordon for his interesting address.

PARTY IS HEARTENED

Social Credit To Have Candidate In All Alberta Ridings And May Also Invade Saskatchewan and Manitoba

CALGARY, August 30. (CP)—The Social Credit Party, at a caucus here, passed a resolution stating that "we suggest to the Social Credit League that they do not link up with any political group but do all they can to encourage any western federal constituency where the local committee has good hope of winning the seat, to place a Social Credit candidate in the field and that they lend their support and co-operation to such candidate as far as it is possible."

It is understood that the Social Credit Party will place candidates in most of the seventeen ridings in Alberta and there is a possibility that it will invade Saskatchewan and Manitoba if requested. It has been definitely decided that Social Credit will enter a candidate against Premier Bennett in Calgary West.

SEARCHING FOR GENIUS

It was at the end of August in the year 1600 that the books of the poet Milton were publicly burned by the common hangman in London. Those were the days when church and state united to crush out error lest it corrupt the world. In their laudable efforts they crushed out almost all genius for what was cleverer than themselves must of necessity be evil.

Today we are looking for genius, searching all the far corners of the earth and sometimes mistaking eccentricity for genius. We are ready to worship at the shrine of anything whether in politics, religion, morals or dress. We pay considerable sums to read of the antics of those who cater to the public taste or to witness their gyrations on the stage or in pictures. If we cannot get instruction we are determined at any rate to get amusement.

We no longer advertise a poet by burning his books in public, but we advertise all our freaks and nit-wits in other ways. If man has genius, even if it is only enough genius to enable him to make a fool of himself, he can win the applause and sometimes the admiration of the multitude.

OPINION IN THE EAST

Some of the people in Eastern Canada are looking upon Mayor Gerry McGeer as one of the political saviours of the present day. He is coupled with Premier Hepburn of Ontario as an outstanding man and is ranked also with the leader of the young Liberal movement in Quebec, Paul Gouin.

Evidently the people of Ontario trusted Hepburn and the people of Quebec seem to be rallying behind Gouin. Many British Columbia people are now wondering if the eastern estimate of our own Gerry is correct and will be really cut a wide swath among the hayseeds of Ottawa.

Evidently there is a war in progress between the men who have in the past controlled the finances of the country and the younger men who are grouping themselves together, intent on changing it. It must be remembered that Premier Pattullo was one of the first of Canada's leading public men to declare in favor of socialized credit or using the credit of the country in the financing of big undertakings. That is why he is so disliked by the money powers as represented by one of the Vancouver newspapers.

Ernie will stay over here until next Monday evening and will captain and hurl for the Smithers ball team which will be here for the Labor Day series against the locals.

Teams for the Junior Football game on Monday forenoon in connection with Labor Day sports will be as follows:

The finals for the Myros & Smith handicap cup for men and the W. H. Malkin cup for ladies will be played at Hazelton next Sunday morning when Andy Grant, Walton Sharpe and W. W. Anderson will decide between themselves who shall have the honor of filling the cup. The remaining ladies to play are Miss Ralphena Wrinch, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Turnbull, all others having been eliminated during the past two weeks. There have been many surprises during the tournament and keen interest was shown by all members. L.

Powell, who was eliminated by Bert Chappell in the first round, is still wondering where Bert learned his golf. Allen Gray, for a while, looked like a sure winner but came to grief last Sunday when he lost his match to Mr. Sharpe. The lowest gross score for 18 holes to date was 84 made by Andy Grant and lowest for ladies 117 made by Mrs. Mallison.

DEATH WAS TERRIBLE

Roving Prospector From Dease Lake Tells of Lone Trapper's Passing

Had Arduous Trip

Northland Is Teeming With Wild Life—White Beaver and Moose

(By Anna May Ullman)
HAZELTON, August 30—A roving prospector from Dease Creek has told details of a lone trapper's death last winter up in the Liard country near the Yukon border.
He said that the trapper had run out of grub and was on his way to look at rabbit snares when he died. His body, frozen and lifeless, was found about fifty yards from his cabin. He had cooked and eaten one of his dogs and gaunt skeletons of the other three were found tied to his bed inside the cabin. He had just moved onto the trapline a few months before.

Perhaps he went mad toward the last, from loneliness and hunger, in that country where the snow piles deep and the eerie northern lights flame across the winter sky, and the ghostly hoots of big owls do not sound natural in the white stillness of the northland. Maybe he saw in the shadows the slinking forms of hungry timber wolves that weren't there—baifal animal eyes that watched him as he grew weaker, waiting, waiting. So he brought his dogs in from the imaginary danger.

The prospector, who reported the gruesome find, himself had quite an adventurous trip. He was following a map, which one of his dogs carried, and practically living off the country. This dog got away, so he just had to guess where he was. Lost for seven days, he finally reached Ninth Cabin on the telegraph line, after losing his other dog, and nearly everything he owned in the treacherous Naas River.

The lineman, at Eighth Cabin loaned him his own pack-dog and the prospector proceeded on his way to Hazelton.

Much Wild Life

He said that the country into which George Heimes often takes hunting parties was just alive with wild goats and other game, and there were lots of well-beaten game-trails in those woods.

A trapper once told me that he had seen a white beaver, an albino, up in that country.

An Indian is reported to have shot a white moose some years ago, fleeing in terror from what he thought was a supernatural animal. When some one finally persuaded him to go back and skin the moose, it was found that wolves and other animals had torn up the hide almost beyond recognition, and had been eating the meat.

FROM EVERY CORNER OF THE WORLD to the daily newspaper come flashing the engrossing incidents that are at this very moment making today's history. The whole atmosphere of the daily newspaper is comprehensive action—dealing with things of the moment that have just happened, or are about to happen.

When white paper leaves the printing presses in the daily newspaper office, it is no longer some inert material, but an active powerful force reaching the thousands who thirst for its contents.

Practically every Canadian family reads a daily newspaper.

It is an essential part of daily life and without it all would feel a distinct loss—nothing can take its place.

On the newspaper's pages also are advertisements placed there by thoughtful, energetic and far-seeing merchants and producers. The best traders in Canada—the firms which grow in strength and prestige year after year—know that the daily newspaper is as necessary to them as their raw material. When the fight is hardest—they have often proved this—it pays to strengthen their newspaper lists.

Follow their good example!
