Eight policemen and at least LONGSHORE nine civilians were admitted to LONGSHORE hospitals and scores of others suffered minor injuries.

Following disposal by tear gas in an attempt to march to the pier strikers spread into the adjoining streets where they hurled rocks and other missiles at the police who followed them into alleys and yards. The struggle was bitter with neither side giving quarter. Isolated officers were beaten and strikers suffered the same fate from the police. As the afternoon wore on the police gradually got the upper hand.

Three police officers and five civilians are still in the hospital this morning with Constable Leonard Cuthbert most seriously injured. Sixteen men and one woman are held in custody on various charges.

ELECTION IN MARITIMES

Parties in New Brunswick Have Alternated in Office Since 1908

SAINT JOHN, N.B., June 19: (CP)-Will New Brunswick stay Conservative? The main question now in this province will be answered by the electorate June 27. If Liberals under A.A. Dystart overthrow the government of Hon. L. P. D. Tilley the change will follow the general style of New Brunswick politics since 1908.

Before that year Liberals were in power for a record stretch of 25 years. Conservatives then held office for the period 1908-1917, followed by the Liberals from 1917 to

The present Conservative regime began in August, 1925, when the party was led by Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, now Chief Justice of New Brunswick, defeated the Liberal government of Hon. P. J. Veniot. who later became Postmaster-General and at present represents Gloucester in the House of Com-

A DISTINCT LOSS

The retirement of J. L. Ralston from Parliament will day, the postponed game between asked the musicians to stop. be a distinct loss to the country. He was a statesman Legion and Elks will not be played whose counsels were listened to with respect and whose on that day as had been arranged. opinions were held in esteem in the House of Commons. While his army training sometimes made him a little selfopinionated, he was gentleman enough to respect the opinions and whims of others. If he had been again elected to Parliament he would undoubtedly have been member of Mr. Mackenzie King's cabinet. Unfortunately he has told his Yarmouth constituents that he can no longer represent them but must attend to his own business instead of that of the country.

TEACHING LESSONS

Premier Pattullo says there is an attempt being made to teach British Columbia a lesson. An attempt was also made to teach Premier Hepburn a lesson in Ontario but it has failed. So has the attempt to teach Mayor McGeer a lesson but he also has won out. The difficulty is that these unpleasant delays are hardest on the men who have so long been looking for work and have failed to find it.

THE MARCH ON OTTAWA

So fearful of the British Columbia invasion was the Bennett government that it sent two of the leading members of the cabinet to meet them at Regina and persuade them to stay away. They have agreed to do this but the relief army is still at Regina and is a menace to any policy Elks of laissez faire. Evidently they have the sympathy of the Legion people on the prairies who have been feeding them and helping them on toward their goal.

Model yachting is rapidly becoming an international sport and should a club be formed they might enter a boat in a serious competition.

The ZAM-BUK

Mr. Chas A Berryman, Grocer, Wilson & Emerald Sts. Hamilton, says;

"A badly sprained shoulder put me out of business for a time. The least turn or twist of the body caused torturing pain and I couldn't raise the arm,

"Three different limments were used for bathing and rubbing my shoulder,

but for all the good, I might just as well have used water. At last I tried

Zam-Buk. My wife rubbed this balm well into the shoulder morning and night. In a couple of days I felt great improvement. In a week Zam-Bnk drove out all pain and made the shoulder and rashes, cuts or burns to stubbern cases of eczema, or poisoned wounds,

Zam-Buk gives equally good results.
